TRY IT!

How well we remember in days that are gone,
The feelings we felt as we saw the cork drawn—
The disgust—the recoil
From "Cod Liver Oil,"
Dealt out to poor souls in the days that are gone!
But who could complain
Of this to be ta'en?
It swallows as easy as sparkling Champagne—
Does "Marvins' Deodorized Oil."

CHEAP FARMS! FREE TRAVEL!

Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific Railroad Company.

600,000 ACRES

CHOICE IOWA LANDS.

This Company is now offering for sale about six hundred thousand acres of the most agricultural lands in the West. The Company sells only to actual settlers, and the prices are exceedingly reasonable, ranging from $3 to $15 per acre, the average being about $8. The greater part of these lands are situated along the line of its railroad between the cities of Des Moines and Council Bluffs, and are in the most accessible and fertile region in the State.

Sales made for cash or on credit long enough to enable an industrious man to pay for the land out of its crops.

These lands are held under a title direct from the General Government, and are not mortgaged or encumbered in any way. Full warranty deeds given to purchasers.

For maps, pamphlets, or any other information respecting them, address EBENEZER COOK, Land Commissioner, Davenport, Iowa.

EXPLORING TICKETS are sold at the Company's Ticket Offices, and at all other principal stations on its line, and if the purchaser buys land the amount paid for the ticket is applied on the purchase money.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

THE GREAT EQUIVALENT.—The world may be safely challenged to produce so perfect a stimulation or anything in nature, as

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient

Is of its original, the Seltzer Spring of Germany. The Aperient, based on a correct analysis of the Seltzer Water, is even superior to the manufacture of Nature herself, because it contains all the active medicinal properties of the spring, unalloyed by any of the inert and useless particles found in all mineral fountains. The gaseous article being secured, you have the Seltzer Water of Europe, purified and perfected, and probably the best, the most genial cathartic and antibilious preparation on the face of the earth.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

—The servants in the bathing establishments of Long Branch are spoken of as sousse-maids.

—One of the Cincinnati papers tries to print Scotch poetry, and the intelligent compositor renders it into beautiful English.

—A shark caught off Charleston had a pair of boots, a scalp, two cannon balls and a package of Sunday-school tickets in his stomach.

—Mrs. Fair's remark, "If poor, dear Crittenden were alive he would get me off," is only paralleled by the youngster who murdered his father and mother, and didn't think the Judge "orter hang a poor orphing."—Cincinnati Times.

—The young daughter of a prominent Tammany politician, who glories in the possession of diamond shoe buckles, is much prouder than she was a few years ago, when papa was the conductor of a one-wheeled freight car on an incipient railroad.

—There is a town in this State in which four of the Deacons of its three churches are blind in one eye. This, certainly, is a remarkable coincidence. —Exchange.

Let it be remarkable if you will; and yet it is not half so remarkable as the fact, that in many towns of this State the deacons are blind in both eyes.—Brunswick Telegraph.

—At a meeting of the Spiritualists at Saginaw, Mich., on Sunday evening, Moses Hall, one of the speakers, said that when a little boy he could see faces around his bed every night, and knew they were faces of those in the spirit land. His mother reproved him by telling him to "go to sleep, for nothing ailed him but worms." The Enterprise profanely adds: "We guess mother was right."

—A gentleman from Philadelphia was recently commending a young friend to the notice of a Chicago merchant and closed his appeal by saying, "He comes of a very good family; both his father and grandfather were prominent men in the east." "Were they?" responded the merchant. "That is good, but it is of no account with us here. There is less daddyism in Chicago than in any other place in the United States."

HOW THE CLOTILDE WAS FLOATED. On the 24th of November, 1870, the iron steamer Clotilde, 800 tons carrying capacity, Captain Caleb, left Newcastle, Upon-Tyne, England, for Portland. She had for a cargo an iron steamer built by her owners, and destined for the St. Lawrence river, to run from Montreal with freight in connection with the Grand Trunk Railway. Besides her iron steamer she had a lot of chemicals. The Clotilde was valued at about $75,000; the steamer she carried at $35,000. She went ashore on Wells Beach on the morning of the 13th of December, at 3 o'clock, in the fog. It was then expected to get her off in a few days, upon removing her cargo, but she worked up the beach and buried to the depth of 13 feet in the sand, tons upon tons of which worked into her hull. Finally she was about given up. Then the New York Coast Wrecking Company contracted with the underwriters to save her, the amount they were to receive, we understand, being 60 per cent. of the property saved. This iron steamer, with a large portion of her heavy weight still on board, was found by the wreckers on the 7th of March, over six hundred feet from low water mark, on a beach nearly level to that mark and running out some distance before it made a bold incline. She lay broadside to the water with a list to starboard. On the 17th of that month work was commenced to get her off. Twenty-two wreckers and the Company's steamer "A Winants," Capt. Charles Quinn, have been engaged in the operations from that time till the present. The wreckers first had to cut her round, so that her stern would point off shore. By the aid of two steam pumps, a steam winch of great power, and four anchors weighing 4000 pounds each, one twenty inch and three sixteen inch cables, they turned her and hove her 1000 feet to where she floated. At the neap tides the men were employed discharging the sand, part of the cargo, and pumping her out. In all, over 150 tons of sand were taken out of her. It was impossible to move all the cargo, for as she was but twenty-seven feet beam and twenty-three feet deep they were fearful she would capsize. When they got her down the beach a little way they had to fill her with water during the gales to keep her from breaking up. In this manner they worked away, and on Tuesday evening, June 29th, she was floated. The steamer then took her in tow and carried her to Portland. She leaks but little, and in ordinary weather one steam pump will keep her free. Her hull is in good condition; only a few plates will have to be renewed, some new fastenings done and several ribs doctored. The Clotilde was built in 1863 and will still be a serviceable steamer. The iron steamer which she brings is not much injured and will probably be used for what she was originally intended.—Eastern Argus.

PSYCHOMANCY.—This word is derived from the Greek, signifying the power of the soul, spirit or mind, and is the basis of all human knowledge. Psychomancy is the title of a new work of 400 pages, by HERBERT HAMILTON, B. A., giving full instruction in the science of Soul Charming and Psychologic Fascination; how to exert this wonderful power over men or animals instantaneously, at will. It teaches Mesmerism, how to become Trance or Writing Mediums, Divination, Spiritualism, Alchemy, Philosophy of omens and Dreams, Brigham Young's Harem, Guide to Marriage, &c. This is the only book in the English language professing to teach this occult power, and is of immense advantage to the Merchant in selling goods, the Lawyer in gaining the confidence of Jurors, the Physician in healing the sick; to Lovers, in securing the affections of the opposite sex, and all seeking riches of happiness. Price by mail, in cloth, $1.25; paper covers, $1. Agents wanted for this book. Private Medical Work, Pedantry, Jewelry, &c., sent free. Address T. W. TUESDAY, JULY 11, 1871,

THE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, on the 8th, the address for the removal of Grove S. Stevens, Sheriff of Grafton County, was on motion of Mr. Holbrook laid on the table.

A bill to alter the school boundaries in Newmarket was passed.

REPORTS from New York state that there is great anxiety about the expected attack of the Roman Catholic Irish societies on the Orangemen, on Wednesday, the 12th. The chief of police says the crisis is important, and the whole police force (2000 in number) of the city will be on duty, well armed. The Catholic societies number 60,000, and the Orangemen (Protestants) 5,000. The latter are determined to march, and the former to prevent them from so doing. If the political influence of the Catholics does not lead the city authorities to virtually wink at their violence—for no other measures have yet been taken for maintaining order than calling out the wholly inadequate police force—many people will be agreeably disappointed. These political-religious quarrels are disgraceful and indefensible; but the Orangemen have the same legal right to march in procession that the Fenians have, and the latter have no more right to dictate what Orangemen shall or shall not do than they have to announce that Masonic processions shall not take place. The Catholic clergy are making strenuous exertions to preserve the peace on Wednesday, but it is feared their efforts will avail but little.

THE Portland Press has a new correspondent, who signs himself "Democrat who votes for brains instead of wind." The correspondent's wrath has been excited by a pen sketch of the Democratic candidate for Governor of Maine, Mr. Kimball, in which occurs the following:

To say that he is the most popular man in Maine is only to do him justice.

The irate "Democrat who votes &c." indignantly asks, "Why don't some one let the gas out of this balloon?" then shows by last year's election returns that Mr. Kimball was from 50 to 150 votes behind his party ticket when running for Representative, and closes as follows:

Kimball has run twice for Senator in this county and each time run behind the ticket! "Most popular man in Maine!" Bah! Whose money pays papers and correspondents for such stuff?

DAYTON, Ohio, was visited by one of the most destructive storms on record, Sunday afternoon. One church was demolished, killing four persons and injuring 20; a bridge destroyed, killing two boys and injuring one; a lunatic asylum unroofed, also two schoolhouses and a railroad depot. A terrible storm also passed over Syracuse, New York, on the same day, uprooting trees and blowing down buildings. Considerable damage was done by lightning.

THE accident on the New York & Newark Railroads, Saturday, by which four men were killed and fifteen wounded, resulted from the carelessness of a switchman. The Evening Post demands that he be hung if the offence is proved against him, and the railroad authorities who appointed him be punished as accessories; but this won't be done in New York, where the railroads rule both the State and the Courts.

THE EDITORS on a spree left Boston at 8 1-2 A. M. Monday morning, in a train of new cars dressed with flags, there being 150 ladies and gentlemen of the Massachusetts Associations on board, 20 from Maine and 80 from New Hampshire. About 80 more were taken on board at Lowell, Nashua, Manchester, and Concord.

SENATOR SMITH is charged by leading Democrats, over their signatures in the Concord People, with having made promises to them before his election which he has since broken; and it is reported that they have determined to expel him from the Senate.

THE French ship Souvenance has been totally destroyed on the coast near the Cape of Good Hope. All on board, including a large number of passengers, were lost. One hundred and fifty bodies have washed ashore from the wreck.

THE Count de Chambord is credited with an intention of imitating Napoleon's coup d'etat; the N. Y. Herald's special says he will issue a proclamation calling on the French to rally and proclaim him king. Let him call.

POLITICAL.

The beer and whiskey dealers of Scranton, Pa., have organized against "the alarming increase of priestcraft and religious bigotry, and especially to oppose temperance in every form, and the so-called Young Men's Christian Association." The new organization recognizes the Democratic party as its "natural affinity."

The "champion pardoner" of America is said to be the governor of Georgia, who has granted 346 pardons since August, 1868, including 48 cases of murder. "There is as little lawlessness in Georgia or Alabama, and life and property are as secure there, as in any Northern State!"

—The Radicals in the House also had a good example set them by a Democratic member, who asked leave to refund to the State an excess of mileage money which had been paid him by an error which estimated too many miles from Concord to Unity.

A good example truly; and the coppery sheet from which we copy the above does well to bring it to the notice of the Republicans only, as its force would be wholly lost on the copperhead politicians who are wasting the public money at the rate of "$2000 per day" by their partizan labors in Concord, as nothing is more unlikely than that any of them would disgorge the spoils which they regard as belonging to the victors; the one bright exception deserves a statue to his memory, as the first and probably the last of his kind among the New Hampshire Democracy.

ADVICE TO THE NEW DEPARTISTS.—Alexander H. Stephens, since his accession to the Democratic editorial corps, seems disposed to crack the old plantation whip about the ears of those of his party who do not "keep step to the music of the Union" as it used to be. To those Democrats who are inclined to sink "dead issues," he says: "If any Democrat has changed his opinion and come to the conclusion that the Radical policy was right, then it is not dishonorable for him to say so; but when he does it, the only honorable course for him to pursue afterward is to go and join that party." Mr. Stephens and the other leaders of the Southern wing of the Democracy do not or will not see that their Northern allies, while looking one way are rowing in the opposite direction, and that they will all come out at the same point, however much their ways may at present diverge. If they can only hoodwink the country into the folly of entrusting them again with power. Perhaps this is an honest blindness, or may be he would not care to have his party succeed by false pretences. The new departists have no such scruples. All they want is office and the power which it gives, and they will find no difficulty in evading or setting aside any Constitutional enactment to which they now profess to give their adhesion.

STRIKING THE BALANCE.—The correspondent of the New York Times thus figures up the political results in this State and shows how little the Democrats have really gained:

Now that the entire slate appears, one can see exactly what the Democrats have achieved, with the working majority they so dishonestly obtained. An old Free-soiler and Republican up to the coalition of the Labor Reform faction and the Democrats, has been chosen Secretary of State. A Republican up to the last election and a Republican now, so far as national politics are concerned, has been chosen Treasurer; a politician of no sort, simply a nobody, has been elected Commissary General, and genuine Democrats only to two offices, that of Railroad Commissioner and State Printer. These have been elected by bare majorities, and would not have been elected at all had all the Republicans legally elected been allowed to vote, and the four Democrats illegally elected been withheld from voting. Put by the side of this exhibit the statement that the Governor, having been elected by only a half dozen votes, and having but little sympathy from his official associates, practically has his hands tied, that the Speaker of the House is a co-laborer with Wendell Phillips and Lloyd Garrison, that the majority of the people have had no voice, and you get the full measure of the great Democratic triumph. The officers elected to-day are:

Railroad Commissioner—David Gilchrist, of Franklin, a merchant.

Secretary of State—Hon. John H. Goodale, of Deering, an ex-editor and newspaper correspondent.

Treasurer—L. W. Cogswell, of Henniker, a Colonel of a New Hampshire regiment during the latter years of the war, and a brother of one of the editors of the Concord Monitor, the Republican paper which has indirectly used its influence in the interest of the Democrats during this Legislature, through personal spite for certain leaders.

State Printer—J. M. Campbell, publisher of the Manchester Union.

Commissary-General — Andrew J. Bennett, of New-Boston, who served under Gen. Harriman in the army, and has not been able to define his position politically for some years.

The Democrats have for the past few days been making desperate efforts to gain complete control of the Senate, and have resorted to high-handed means. Their disreputable object has only been frustrated by the brave position maintained by the Republicans.

CASSIUS M. CLAY goes for Greeley for President—and Greeley goes for Cash.

A NEW DEPARTURE. REPUBLICAN advocates in the Concord Statesman a new idea for the Republican party—that in future, in the matter of nominations for office, the following rules should be observed:

No person who has been elected Governor, Senator, Representative in Congress, Councillor, or member of either house of the State Legislature, shall hereafter be declared the nominee of the Republican party for election to any of the above named offices, or for re-election to the office which he has filled, unless he shall receive three fourths of all the votes cast at a regularly called caucus or convention of the party; and any Republican attempting to run as a candidate without complying with this wholesome condition, shall be treated as a disorganizer and a bolter.

All the honors of the party shall thus be deemed to have been conferred by one election to any elective office, and further official service shall only be performed by a nearly unanimous call from a constituency. This three-fourth rule would prevent bolting, and secure the candidate the full vote of his party; and it should be deemed to be indelicate, and intolerable for any United States officer to act as a delegate at any Convention or caucus to nominate candidates for Representatives or Senators in Congress, or for any member of the State Legislature to become a candidate for any office within the gift of the Governor or the Legislature during the term for which the member has been elected.

—The reporters find language inadequate to express their feelings over a little game of ball yesterday, but the Tribune man finds partial relief by shrieking—"The only word to express the play is—damnable!" Apply ice to his head at once! The brain cannot long endure such excitement. —Chicago Mail.

—Daniel McFarland was the sensation at the funeral of Pet Halsted. Let him now be permitted to pay a visit of congratulation to Botts. Sympathy has made them of near kin to one another—"blood" relations, in fact. Two brothers in insanity ought to be permitted to exchange the compliments of manslaughter. —N. Y. Standard.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A fact worth remembering—Five cents' worth of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, given to a horse twice a week, will save double that amount in grain, and the horse will be fatter, sleeker, and every way worth more money than though he did not have them.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find Parsons' Purgative Pills safe; and, in small doses, a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Our Skins are Sieves,

And through millions of orifices oozes the transparent fluid which nature does not need for vital purposes. This is a wise provision of Providence, but excessive perspiration is, nevertheless, extremely weakening. During the heats of summer all hard-working men perspire to an extent that is more or less debilitating. They, of all classes of the community, require a wholesome invigorant at this season. Let them not seek it in the liquors of the bar-room; they will not find it there. A medicated stimulant, pure and undefiled, is what they need; and among this class of remedies, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands alone. No valid plea can be urged against its use, even by the genius of Temperance itself; for even the Maine law permits the sale of diffusive stimuli for medicinal purposes. As a general renovating preparation, the Bitters has no equal anywhere. But this is only one of the merits of this famous invigorator. Its regulating properties give it an immense superiority over all the tonics of the Pharmacopœia. In cases of chronic constipation it is the most useful and certain of all aperients. It creates no violent commotion in the discharging organs, but gently relieving them of their obstructions, leaves them in a healthy, vigorous condition. It seems unnecessary to state, in view of the mass of testimony as to its effects in dyspepsia, that it is a permanent cure for that terrible and but too general complaint.

The numerous "Bitters," under various names, which mercenary dealers endeavor to substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, should be avoided, for their own sakes, by the sick and the public at large. Hostetter's Bitters are procurable in bottles only, and never sold in bulk.

THE WORLD IS IN ARMS

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

proved by time and sanctioned by practical chemists, has become the standard article of its class throughout the length and breadth of the land. It is poisonless, rapid in its operation, certain to produce the required shade of color, and has no equal among hair dyes, either in the United States or Europe. To beautify and soften the hair after dyeing, use

FOR SALE! FOR SALE!

THAT DELIGHTFUL SEASIDE retreat known as the WOODMAN FARM, containing forty acres of land, a commodious, new and imposing house and convenient outbuildings, situated on the easterly side of Great Island, (Newcastle,) within a stone's throw of the ocean, and in full view of the "Isles of Shoals."

Also adjoining the same, "POINT JERRY," embracing ten acres of arable land extending far out into the sea, being the nearest point of land to the "Isles of Shoals," and forming the outside boundary of what is known as Little Harbor.

This is the most desirable spot on the seacoast for summer residence, possessing all the advantages of the world renowned "Isles of Shoals," in bracing atmosphere, deep sea fishing and surf-bathing on one side, while on the other is a smooth, hard beach and still water. There is also upon it a never failing pond of fresh water, an old battery, and a light-house beacon. Roads all way good, and scenery unsurpassable.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, hard surface for years, that can be cleansed with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this Paint in a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day; using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

THE steamer Cambridge takes a large party of Bostonians to the Shoals to-day, on a fishing excursion.

THE Democratic majority in the Legislature, feeling grateful to its allies in Portsmouth, proposes to reward the city.

THOMAS JAMIESON was arrested on Sunday, charged with an outrage upon a daughter of Elvin Newton, at the Shoals. He is a fisherman; the girl is 14 years of age.

THE citizens of Ward Two don't relish the idea of loosing the State Street School and Ward Room, through the Democratic plan of dividing the city, but are willing to give up all the water front to the "great unwashed."

A game of base ball will be played at the Plains this (Tuesday) afternoon between the Resolutes and the Junior Jacksons, both of this city, at 2:30. A very good game is expected. The Resolutes have won six games this season.

IT is suggested that the scheme to change the present ward lines was hatched by the opposition to promote Democratic facilities for voting early and often, as it takes for Ward Three the new State Street Ward Room, in addition to the new and commodious one on Meeting House Hill, already in that Ward.

LUBIN is out-done, and the Cess-Pool nowhere. A contraction of the muscles of the nose, a general expression of disgust and an acceleration of pace was noticeable with the Sunday promenaders, when passing a certain locality in the south part of the city. A general investment in and planting of Magnolia trees might assist friend Bunning in his efforts to neutralize or counteract this odious——there is no name for it.

AMONG the persons, firms and corporations in Portsmouth, who pay a tax of $1000 and upwards, are the following: Kearsarge Mills, $4800; Mark Jones, $2732; Richard Jenness, $1657; Gas Company, $1381; heirs of Sam'l Lord, $1348; Ex-Gov. Ichabod Goodwin, $1292; Alderman C. H. Mendum, $1133; Wm. P. Jones, $1125; Hon. Wm. H. Y. Hackett, 1125; Eliza W. Haven, $1120; Col. Joshua W. Pierce, $1112; Wm. M. Shackford, $1042.

THE COMMITTEES appointed by the Engine Companies met in convention with the Board of Engineers, Saturday evening, to consider the question of holding a general Firemen's Muster in this city, Chief Engineer Marston taking the chair. The meeting voted to proceed in the affair, and Engineer Brackett and Foremen Shannon of No. 1 and Leslie of No. 5, with the Chief Engineer added, were appointed a committee to confer with the City Councils on the subject. A committee of five—Engineer Morrill, 1st Asst. Foreman Whidden of No. 1, Foremen Randall of No. 2 and Moulton of the H. & L. Co., with Mr. Long, Clerk of No. 6—were appointed to wait on the citizens to see what money can be raised by subscription. We hope the committees will meet with a liberal response, as they should, for the Department is entitled to a generous recognition from the public, and if the members are willing to do all the hard work of getting up a successful muster they should not be asked to bear the pecuniary burdens also. The feeling is very general that if the firemen receive the encouragement they may reasonably expect from the citizens, the muster will be a great success. The meeting adjourned to meet again at 8 P. M., July 15.

NAVAL OFFICER A. H. LAFLIN of New York, indicted for perjury, was acquitted on Saturday, the jury returning a verdict without leaving the court room.

THE civil service commission has been reminded of a clause in the constitution which may be construed so as to nullify all their labor.

THE Pennsylvania judges have granted injunctions against several companies for infringement of the mine ventilation law.

C. C. BOWEN was pardoned on Saturday, and left the jail in company with Mrs. Pettigrew King Bowen, his last wife.

REAR ADMIRAL H. R. Thacher has been elected President of the Massachusetts Society of the Cincinnati.

U. S. S. CALIFORNIA has arrived at Callao.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

James Conners, a boy 9 years of age, was drowned at Nashua on Saturday.

Thomas Garvin and William Grant, two young men who were arrested at Lowell on Friday last, on suspicion of larceny, giving a contradictory account of the possession of some $18 in money and $20 worth of fancy goods, acknowledged to breaking into the store of Mr. Clark of Nashua and were taken back there. They escaped from the reform school two years since.

The Portland & Rochester Railroad was opened through its entire length, July 5.

The report of the superintendent of the asylum for the insane shows that for the year ending April 30 there have been under care 398 patients, the women exceeding the men in number by four. 225 are now in the asylum. The largest number under care at any time has been 260, and the smallest 222. The average number has been nearly 243. The number of those in indigent circumstances under treatment during the past year has been 183. Their support has been derived, in part, from the annual grant by the State of $6000, and in part from an appropriation of $6000, made by the trustees from the income of the permanent funds of the asylum.

An extensive conflagration raged upon Davis Island in Lake Winnipiseogee on Friday. The fire caught in brush made by wood-choppers, and consumed two dwelling-houses, four or five barns and several hundred cords of wood.

There are in New Hampshire 52 savings banks, having an aggregate capital of over $22,000,000. The comissioners believe the trustees should give more personal attention to their duties.

A paper mill at Goffstown Centre was burned July 9. Loss $40,000; insured $25,000.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226¾ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—15 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

Morning Chronicle.

THE KU-KLUX INVESTIGATION still goes on. The Committee on Friday examined Joseph S. Speed of Alabama, an ex-Confederate officer, and now a Regent of the State University and Superintendent of Education in Perry county. He testified that the section of Alabama in which he resides was quiet and peaceable until last winter, when bands of armed and disguised men began to commit outrages of various kinds. This state of affairs was continued for a while, but recently, so far as the witness knows, things have been quiet throughout the State. The result of the occurrences above referred had been to excite a general terror among the colored people, and make them afraid to vote. In regard to the education of negroes, he said the only opposition to it came from the lower classes of the whites, the former owners of slaves being strongly in favor of general and impartial education.

The committee also examined Alfred Richardson, a colored resident of Clark county, Ga., and formerly a member of the Legislature. He testified that in January last a band of disguised men whom he believed to be Ku-Klux, came to his house, fired at and wounded him. He returned the fire, wounding one of the assailants mortally, whereupon they retired. He knew no cause for this attack. Whipping and similar outrages still continue in that vicinity, and have created such terror that many negroes living in isolated places have broken up their homes and gone for safety to towns where they have nothing to do and suffer distress.

Ex-Gov. Brownlow of Tennessee, in a letter to a Tennessee paper, brands Fort Pillow Forest's statement before the investigating committee to the effect that there were no Ku-Klux in that State until after Brownlow ordered out the militia, as a lie, and cites Forrest's boasts in the papers, previous to that time, that there were 40,000 of them enrolled, in proof. Forest's evidence is reported to have been "full of contradictions" and "discreditable to him,"—which is a delicate way of saying that he lied like a trooper, and got caught at it. He swore he was not a Ku-Klux himself, but admitted that he was a Knight of the White Camelias, and afterwards retracted the last statement. He also swore he had never known anything about any Ku-Klux, and then confessed that he wrote the accounts of that organization credited to him two years ago, and that the accounts were true. But nothing he can say or do will injure his reputation.

Judge Carpenter of Charleston testified that there had been outrages by the Ku-Klux in South Carolina, but that it was because the State government and courts were so corrupt that no redress of grievances could be procured by fair means. He said the Ku-Klux contained many of the leading men, and was not composed mainly of the lowest class, as has been reported.

TERRIBLE CRIME.—Watseka, Ill., is terribly excited over a fearful tragedy, the parculars of which are as follows; Martin Meara, an Irishman in good circumstances, residing near Gilman, Iroquois county, and who had hitherto borne a good reputation except as to his violent temper, was taken to that place and lodged in jail on the charge of whipping his boy, a lad of 11 years of age, to death. It was charged upon the statement of his wife and other children that he whipped the boy most unmercifully with a black-snake whip, while naked, after having previously laid him naked upon a red hot stove and roasted his back terribly. The boy died in his sick mother's bed-room immediately after the whipping, which took place, on the 14th of June.

The crime was committed in the evening, and the brutal father buried the body in a hedge, and next day went to Gilman and had posted up a notice offering a reward to any person giving information of his runaway boy. This was intended as a blind but it had the contrary effect, arousing the suspicions of his neighbors that he had killed the boy. These suspicions were subsequently fully confirmed on search being made, the roasted and bruised body of the lad being found four feet deep in a secluded part of Meara's premises. The murderer was at once arrested and taken to Onargo, where the indignant citizens threatened to lynch him, but the officers, in order to save him, took him to Watseka.

At 7 o'clock next morning he was taken from the jail and hung by an infuriated mob of 300 armed men, followed by 1,000 men, women, and children. Meara gave the Masonic signal of distress, which was not responded to, and he denounced the craft. He was given an opportunity to speak and pray, and confessed his guilt in an address to the crowd. He refused the benefit of a prayer by a Protestant clergyman, and begged for mercy.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called. "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittant and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawisbtr

The Chronicle.

—Gen. Howard, fighting his first battle at Manassas in 1861, and delivering a Fourth of July oration on the same spot in 1871, shows some of the changes ten years have wrought.

—At the recent overturning of the Androscoggin car at the Freeport railroad accident, the gentlemen gallantly got out through the only car-window left for egress, leaving the ladies to shift for themselves.

—The locomotive Farmingdale, recently destroyed by collision on the Maine Central, was the oldest engine in New England. It was imported from England over thirty-six years ago, by the Boston and Worcester Railroad, and ran upon that road.

—General Butler is described by the Boston Transcript as a great admirer of the Paris Commune, and it asks when elected Governor of Massachusetts, "will he signalize his inaugural by blowing up the State House or pulling down Bunker Hill Monument?"

—The extravagant tendencies of the present generation suggest to a clergyman the inquiry whether it would not be better to devote half of one's energies to learning to live on a very small income than to devote all of one's energies in struggling and waiting for a large income?

—A base-ball club, said to be owned in Chicago, and called, we believe, the "White Stockings," was beaten yesterday by a country club, at the rate of 29 to 14. Chicago really has no interest in the base ball business, and never had any—in fact we don't remember that we ever had a club by that name.—Mail.

—A young man in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, sued a maiden the other day to compel her to keep her agreement to marry him. Before the case was called for trial the father of the maiden offered the discarded lover five dollars to settle matters, which the young man accepted as full compensation for a broken heart.

—A benevolent lady in St. Louis recently made a terrible mistake. It seems that she takes part in the religious exercises in the St. Louis Central Police Stations on Sunday mornings, and she told one of the parties she found there last Sabbath that she was glad to see him sober once, as she could see by his looks he was not often so; and after she had spent some little time in urging him to reform and lead a different life, closed her discourse on being informed that the subject of her solicitude was a minister who had been invited to assist in the exercises of the day.

—A correspondent of the Portland Argus says that Rev. Mr. Bailey, of that city, in making the prayer at the late State Republican Convention, prayed—"Grant, we beseech Thee, that we make no new departure from the principles that have been sealed in blood," &c. That hit in a stump speech or a communication for a newspaper, would be tip-top. The "new departure" of the Democrats, the most sensible thing which as politicians they have done for years, is fair game for an opponent. To introduce the cant term in a prayer is simply abominable. If that stupendous gas bag, Chaplain Newman, had blown off this, no one would have been surprised. But we are hardly accustomed here at the north to punning in an address to the Almighty.—Brunswick Telegraph.

—Mr. Beecher's pulpit is to be supplied during some weeks to come by his son-in-law, Rev. Samuel Scoville of Norwich, N. Y. This rising young clergyman is known, not only for his oratorical abilities of the Beecher order, but also for the wonderful success which has attended his exertions as a muscler Christian. As captain of a base ball nine, and foreman of a volunteer fire company, he has reformed the village green, making the former haunt of swearers, smokers and gamblers, a place where men assemble to worship their Maker, while they develop his perfect likeness in their athletic bodies. It is said that of all his subordinates in the two associations mentioned, there is not now a profane or otherwise immoral man to be found, owing to the practical piety of their chief.—N. Y Globe.

—A few nights since, at a late hour, the speaking tube at the office-door of one of New Haven's popular physicians (and which leads to near the pillow of his bed, in an upper chamber), was used by some midnight wag, to the following effect:—The doctor was in a sound sleep, when he was partially awakened by a "halloo" through the tube, when the following dialogue took place: "Well, what do you want?" "Does Dr. Jones live here?" "Yes; what do you want?" "Are you Dr. Jones?" "Yes." "Dr. Simon Jones?" "Yes—yes! what do you want?" "Why, how long have you lived here?" "Some twenty years; why?" "Why? why in thunder don't you move?" "If you stay there about ten seconds more, you'll find I am moving!" and he bounded out of bed, but the patient was heard "moving" down the street, at a rate that defied pursuit.

PURIFY THE BLOOD AND BEAUTIFY THE COMPLEXION by using HELMBOLD'S

Catawba Grape-Juice Pills

and HELMBOLD'S highly-concentrated

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla.

This is the time to use good blood-renewing, purifying and invigorating medicines. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA and HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT GARPE-JUICE PILLS are the best and most reliable.

ONE BOTTLE of Helmbold's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla equals in strength one gallon of the syrup or decoction as made by druggists, and a wine-glass added to a pint of water equals the celebrated Lisbon diet drink, a delightful and healthful beverage.

The Grape-Juice Pill is composed of fluid extract Catawba grape-juice and FLUID EXTRACT RHUBARB. Useful in all diseases requiring a cathartic remedy, and far superior to all other purgatives, such as salts, magnesia, &c. Helmbold's Grape-Juice Pill is not a patented pill, put up as those ordinarily vended, but the result of ten years' experimenting and great care in preparation.

SAFE FOR AND TAKEN BY CHILDREN; NO NAUSEA; NO GRIPING PAINS; BUT MILD, PLEASANT, AND SAFE IN OPERATION.

Two bottles of the Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla and one bottle of the Grape-Juice Pills are worth their weight in gold to those suffering from bad blood, poor complexion, headache, nervousness, wakefulness at night, costiveness and irregularities, and to those suffering from broken and delicate constitutions it will give new blood, new vigor and new life.

The Catawba Grape Pills are done up with great care and in handsome bottles, and will surpass all those vended in wooden boxes and carelessly prepared by inexperienced men, comparing with the French and English style of manufacturing.

All of H. T. HELMBOLD'S Preparations are Pharmaceutical, not a single one being patented, but all on their own merits. To dispel any impression or prejudices that might exist in the minds of many against my Preparations from the publicity given, through advertising, and that I am and have been a Druggist for a period of 20 years—and more conclusively to prove this—see letter

"NOVEMBER 4, 1854.

I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. Helmbold; he occupied the Drug Store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 12, 1871.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The was a large attendance of prominent politicians from both parties in the Senate, Tuesday, who anxiously awaited in the expectation that Senator Smith would define his position, or that the Democrats would move for his expulsion,—though on what grounds we are at loss to see. Judge Smith has prepared his defence to the published affidavits of George W. Cain and others.

In the House, July 11, the Committee on Elections reported that Ward One, Portsmouth, was not entitled to four Representatives, and recommended that John Pender, the sitting member who had the lowest number of votes at the last election, be unseated. The minority of the Committee reported that in their judgement Ward One was legally entitled to four members, and they recommended to the House that Hon. Horton D. Walker, John H. Hutchinson, John Pender and George W. Pendexter be allowed to continue in their seats.

Mr. Ramsdell of Nashua moved that the report of the minority be substituted for that of the majority.

Mr. Walker made a short address, saying that he sincerely believed that his Ward is entitled to four Representatives. If any one of the four sitting members was to be unseated, he preferred it should be himself, and he then tendered his resignation as a member of the House.

Without taking action on the resignation of Mr. Walker, the House proceeded to a vote on the motion of Mr. Ramsdell, which was defeated by a vote of 139 to 145.

Mr. Wadleigh of Milford then moved that both reports of the Committee be laid upon the table. On this motion the roll was called—resulting in a tie, and the Speaker voting against it.

The resolution unseating Mr. Pender was then carried—144 to 138.

Judge Nesmith then requested Mr. Walker to withdraw his resignation, which he did.

At the request of the Committee on Elections, the Ward Three election case in Manchester was taken from their hands and referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

POLITICAL.

The editor of the Concord Monitor, who has just returned from California, says:—"From what we saw and heard while on our recent trip through the State, we believe the chances of the coming election decidedly in favor of the Republicans."

The fact that the terms of twenty-four United States Senators expire a year from next March lends considerable interest to the elections of the present fall, inasmuch as in eight of the States, viz., Kentucky, California, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Iowa, Maryland, Wisconsin and Vermont, the Legislatures chosen will be elected with reference to the selection of Senators.

FRANCE.—Thiers has written to the Pope asking him not to come to France to live. The government now holds only 15,000 communist prisoners. Elections for the councils general will be held on the 23d of August. It is believed that the legitimist party has been dissolved.

COL. GARDNER BANKS, brother of Gen. Banks, who commanded the 16th Regiment Massachusetts Volunteers during the early part of the late war, died at Waltham, the place of his birth, Sunday morning, the 9th inst., at the age of 41 years.

THE PETITIONS to Gov. Hoffman for the communication of Foster's sentence to imprisonment for life, originated, it is said, among Foster's political friends in the 18th Ward. Some 800 names have been obtained. Speaking of the verdict, Mr. Clinch, who engineers the petition, said to a Tribune reporter;

"It was the clamor of the newspapers which caused the conviction. The principal morning papers of the day on which the case was commited to the jury were permitted to reach the hands of the jurors, and influenced their minds by violent editorials. Foster certainly did very wrong; but he never meant to kill Putnam—he didn't suppose the blow he struck would be fatal. His friends will not stand in the way of his punishment, providing the sentence be made proportionate to the offence, and they think imprisonment for life is enough."

It is conceding a good deal, it seems to us, for Foster's friends to admit that "he did very wrong," and the magnanimity which prompts them to promise that they will not stand in the way of his punishment providing his sentence is commuted to imprisonment for life, is something for New Yorkers to be proud of. We suppose if the sentence is not commuted they will "stand in the way of his punishment." Drunken murderers are getting popular.—Exchange.

ALL sorts of stories have reached us from New York, concerning the threatened Irish war to-day. On Sunday the Roman Catholic Archbishop, McCloskey, advised his followers to abstain from assailing the Orangemen, but said that if they (the Orangemen) do parade they will merit any disaster that befals them. He thus quiets his conscience by requesting, not very urgently either, that the Catholics will remain at home, while he emphatically says that the Orangemen deserve an attack because they are to do just what the Catholics are protected in doing every year. If a later report is true, the New York Catholics have given a more sublime exhibition of intolerant ignorance than ever before, in sending a delegation to Washington to petition Gen. Grant to prevent the parade of the Orangemen in New York. Stripped of all sophistry, the question involves not the Catholic faith, the Protestant faith, or any faith, but the equal rights of every faith, the freedom of religion, under our laws. This is the distinct and only issue, and it cannot be obscured by the fallacies of demagogues who begin by asking the suppression of a peaceful demonstration which happens to offend their followers, and end by falling into the blunder of supposing that the President of the United States has authority to prevent a parade in the city of New York. Another report says the police have prohibited the Orange procession. The Tammany authorities talked bravely for a time about preserving the peace and protecting the Protestant Irish in the exercise of their undoubted rights, but very few persons believed they would dare to uphold liberty and equality against the prejudices of their Catholic supporters; so that the backing down of Tammany and the prohibition of the Orange procession, at the dictation of men who get publicly drunk every year in honor of St. Patrick, and march openly through the streets when preparing to make war on Canadian barnyards and henroosts, excites no surprise. But it is a plain confession that religious liberty in New York is wholly dependant on the will of the Roman Catholic Irish population.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS IN WEST VIRGINIA. The Superintendent of Public Schools in West Virginia for 1870 was Rev. A. D. Williams. Mr. W. was originally from New York or Pennsylvania, was for some time in charge of a church in Lawrence, Mass., then for several years in Minnesota, where he was connected with a Seminary, and after West Virginia became a State, he went there. We give a few items from his Report.

The State has more than fifty counties, and there is a Superintendent of Schools in each county. There are three Normal Schools, which however are but just getting well under way in their work. By the enrolment of the youth between the ages of six and twenty-one years, it appears there are 162,000, of whom 87,000 attended school. The number of school houses is 2,113, of which 68 are brick, 17 stone and 904 log. The schools for the year have been aided by the fund given to the South by George Peabody for the benefit of schools to the amount of nearly $18,000. County Superintendents, in giving certificates to teachers, grade them from 1 to 5; an excellent arrangement, for there is no fairness in giving teachers who just pass examination certificates worth as much and appearing to rank as high as the ones given to those best qualified. Teachers in applying for certificates have to pay a fee, and this whether they pass examination as being qualified or not; it is not stated what the fee is, but it appears that by law it is more than one dollar, as the General Superintendent says it is too high, no other State that has such a fee requiring more than a dollar and some but fifty cents.

There were 23 Teachers' Institutes the past year; and nearly $500,000 were spent for instruction and some incidental expenses and about $225,000 for school property.

John M. Dow, who committed suicide in Madison square, New York, on Thursday, was a native of Dover, to which place his remains were taken. He left a widow, but no children. He lived in Augusta, Ga., for twelve or fifteen years previous to the breaking out of the rebellion, and accumulated an immense fortune, mostly in landed property. Most of this he owned at the time of his death, besides which he was in possession of considerable property in New York city, owning the house in which he lived.

TAD LINCOLN, son of the late President Lincoln, is seriously ill of dropsy at Chicago. His recovery is regarded as very doubtful. His mother is in constant attendance upon him.

ONE of the most singular instances of the epidemic form which recklessness will sometimes assume, seems to have taken its rise with the late Mr. Vallandigham. The latter lost his life while testing his theory that a man shot himself. Then Adam Reemiller, near Hamilton, Ohio, undertook to explain how Mr. Vallandigham shot himself, and in doing it received a fatal wound. Then a man at Fort Wayne, Indiana, undertook to show how Reemiller did it, and himself, did it most effectually. And then a man at Cairo, Illinois, thought it became his duty to discribe the taking off of the victim at Fort Wayne, and he, too, succeeded in the same manner. That epidemic can't last long, and we hope it will not spread eastward.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSIONISTS reached White River junction at two o'clock Monday, and dined at the Junction House. The party arrived in St. Albans, about seven o'clock, in good condition and fine spirits. They were met at the station by the St. Albans brigade band, and forming in procession marched to the Welden House, where the whole party was accommodated, the regular boarders of the house giving up their rooms for the occasion. The railroad arrangements were excellent, and nothing occurred to mar the enjoyment of the occasion. In the evening there was music on the common and a display of fireworks, under the superintendence of Colonel Beals of Boston, who went with the party. Tuesday was spent in looking around St. Albans until 3 o'clock P. M., when the party left in a special train for Montreal.

AT Berlin, Ontario, July 10, a Sunday school picnic taking refuge from the rain in a tannery the floor gave way, precipitating about one hundred scholars into the vats beneath. The scene is represented to have been fearful. Fortunately all were rescued except one little boy, who was drowned.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A fact worth remembering—Five cents' worth of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, given to a horse twice a week, will save double that amount in grain, and the horse will be fatter, sleeker, and every way worth more money than though he did not have them.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find Parsons' Purgative Pills safe; and, in small doses, a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Our Skins are Sieves,

And through millions of orifices oozes the transparent fluid which nature does not need for vital purposes. This is a wise provision of Providence, but excessive perspiration is, nevertheless, extremely weakening. During the heats of summer all hard-working men perspire to an extent that is more or less debilitating. They, of all classes of the community, require a wholesome invigorant at this season. Let them not seek it in the liquors of the bar-room; they will not find it there. A medicated stimulant, pure and unadulted, is what they need, and among this class of remedies, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands alone. No valid plea can be urged against its use, even by the genius of Temperance itself; for even the Maine law permits the sale of diffusive stimuli for medicinal purposes. As a general renovating preparation, the Bitters has no equal anywhere. But this is only one of the merits of this famous invigorator. Its regulating properties give it an immense superiority over all the tonics of the Pharmacopœia. In cases of chronic constipation it is the most useful and certain of all aperients. It creates no violent commotion in the discharging organs, but gently relieving them of their obstructions, leaves them in a healthy, vigorous condition. It seems unnecessary to state, in view of the mass of testimony as to its effects in dyspepsia, that it is a permanent cure for that terrible and but too general complaint.

The numerous "Bitters," under various names, which mercenary dealers endeavor to substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, should be avoided, for their own sakes, by the sick and the public at large. Hostetter's Bitters are procurable in bottles only, and never sold in bulk.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

New Hampshire College of Agriculture. Varieties—Henderson.

We have been shown specimens of "false hair" made of raw silk, which will probably drive the much berated jute from the market and the ladies' heads, as it is much lighter than the latter—lighter than the jute, that is—costs but a trifle more, is a perfect imitation of hair and it is claimed that no "borers" can infest it. A stock of it will be opened in this city shortly by Mrs. M. A. Johnson.

The Canvassers appointed by the Fire Department Committees to wait upon our citizens, to see if sufficient pecuniary encouragement will be offered to warrant them in carrying out the proposed Firemen's General Muster in this city in September next, will commence that duty this day, Wednesday. Our Portsmouth firemen deserve well of the public, and we hope they will receive the recognition to which they are fairly entitled by their uniform efficiency and promptness when called upon to act for the preservation of property from fire. Put your names down for liberal sums, gentlemen, and make the Muster a decided success.

The claims of the Portland Public Library were presented by its President, Hon. Wm. L. Putnam, to the city government of Portland recently, and $1200 was at once voted in aid of the institution, on the grounds that it was a public good and afforded a valuable auxiliary means of education for the young. We believe there was talk, in the olden time, of a Public Library in Portsmouth; and would suggest that some able member of the N. H. Hist. Soc. prepare a paper to be read at the next meeting of that association, regarding the rise, progress and fall of the Portsmouth Library, and a history of the good it accomplished; such a paper would be intensely interesting to the present generation.

Railroad Meetings.—The Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire and the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad held their annual meetings in this city, on Tuesday, July 11. In the first named corporation Directors were re-elected as follows: Benjamin T. Reed, Robert W. Hooper and George M. Browne, Boston; W. H. Y. Hackett and William M. Shackford of Portsmouth. The following were chosen Directors in the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad Co.: George M. Browne, Ichabod Goodwin, W. H. Y. Hackett, Geo. W. Burleigh and Benjamin T. Reed. Hon. Geo. M. Browne was subsequently re-elected President of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Railroad, Jno. B. Parker, Treasurer, and William H. Hackett, Clerk.

On Tuesday evening, while the family of Mrs. James S. Salter of No. 24 Court Street were at tea, about 7 o'clock, some scoundrel fired two shots, probably from a small pistol, into the parlor, one bullet passing through a window and a screen inside and then burying itself in a door on the opposite side of the room, the other ball passing through another window and screen, breaking a case of stuffed birds on the mantlepiece and burying itself in the wall. Had Mrs. Salter been in her accustomed seat in the parlor instead of at tea in another room, she would probably have been seriously injured, if not killed. The person who fired the shots is supposed to have been a boy, as one was seen running away immediately after. The sooner the young miscreant is sent to the Reform School or some other place of safe keeping, the better for himself and others. No possible cause for the outrage can be given.

Communicated.

How do you like it yourselves, gentlemen?

It seems that the Democrats have this year inaugurated a new political principle, viz., that men over 70 years of age, and therefore not paying a poll tax, are not entitled to the right of representation; and the gentlemen in question, some of whom pay a heavy city tax, don't like it! Very well, they known now how the more thoughtful among the female tax payers feel, at being denied the right of representation because they don't pay the poll tax.

"But the women are faithfully represented by the men." Yes, just about as faithfully as these old fellows are represented by Young America who does pay a poll tax. When the old gentlemen are Republicans and the young ones are Democrats, they are apt not to see the faithful representation. Perhaps some of the women feel very much in the same way.

The disappointed democrats of New Hampshire call the Senator from District No. 10 a Black-Smith—a tolerably good assurance that he is not a Copper-Smith.

Freeman Nourse, thirty years of age, was run over at one of the street crossings on the Eastern Railroad at Lynn, Monday, by the five o'clock train from Boston. The flagman attempted to motion him back, but he took no notice of the warning and was instantly killed. He leaves a wife and children.

The person through whose carelessness the recent collision and loss of life on the New York & Newark Railroad occurred, is a boy, and was gathering boards to make a shelter for himself when the trains met! The miserable parsimony which risks murder for the sake of saving a few cents daily in wages, should be punished to the extreme of the law.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas at the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or $500 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

How well we remember in days that are gone,
The feelings we felt as we saw the cork drawn—
The disgust—the recoil

Of this to be ta'en?
It swallows as easy as sparkling Champagne—

Morning Chronicle.

MASSACHUSETTS POLITICS. — The Governorship of Massachusetts seems to be attracting most unwonted attention. The World of this morning gives four columns to it, the Times has a letter from Boston on it, and the Herald an editorial, while the Tribune of yesterday gave more than a column to the same subject. The cause of such unusual interest both outside Massachusetts and in it is at first difficult to determine. There is no new departure in the politics of the State; the last incumbent has performed his duties well, and to the superficial observer there is no reason why the stream should not flow placidly on. But there is a man of active brain and grasping ambition, who lives up in the Old Bay State and his name is Benjamin F. Butler. Benjamin is wide awake to the possibilities of the future. He knows that Gen. Grant retires from the White House in 1877, and his successor will undoubtedly be a man from the East. To those who have studied the ebb and flow of national politics from 1787, to the present day, it seems inevitable that Massachusetts should furnish a candidate for the succession in 1876. Butler knows just as much about the political tide as anyone else, and it is not singular that he should place his bark where he thinks the current will float it into the desired haven. He thinks that, as chief magistrate of Massachusetts, he can catch the current soonest. But there are other men who live in Massachusetts besides the honest Benjamin who are ambitious to be struck by lightning, and here is the milk of the cocoanut. It will not do to let Ben get the lead of the Governor's chair. Hence all the strife and by play. Hence the interest taken in the canvass by outsiders. Benjamin Butler has nominated himself for the Presidency of the United States in declaring his intention to run for the Governorship of Massachusetts. The immediate contest is a preliminary action in which Butler will get his quietus as a Presidential candidate, or his first triumph. The other Presidential aspirants of Massachusetts know this, and so friends and foes are fighting for the future. The result will have much to do with national politics for the next decade.—N. Y. Globe.

NOT SO NOW.—Many years ago, when Judge Robert M. Charlton, of Savannah, Ga., was quite a young man, he, in company with his father, the Hon. U. P. Charlton, spent every summer in the delightful little village of Clarksville, northeast Georgia. One day Robert was passing along the street in Clarksville, and it happened to be election day (members of Congress was then elected by what was called the general ticket system, and not by districts, as they now are), when he was met by a verdant democrat of the mountains, who accosted him thus:

"Mr. Charlton, are you the man that is running for Congress."

"No, sir, I am no candidate—my father is, however. But may I ask why this inquiry?"

"Nothing, only I haven't voted yit."

"If it is consistent with your feelings, I would like if you would vote for my father."

"I would just as soon vote for him as anybody."

Mr. C. thanked him, and thinking perhaps, his friend was seeking a treat, invited him into a neighboring bar room."

"What will you take?"

"I never drink anything, but I see they have some ginger cakes. I would as lief take one of them with you as not."

"Very well. Give us a cake."

"My brother is in town with me."

"All right, take him a cake with my respects."

Another cake was purchased and paid for, and the two friends parted, "Greeny" to find his brother, and Mr. Charlton to join in the merry dance with his young friends in a parlor hard by. "The golden hours on angel's wings" passed rapidly away with Mr. Charlton. His friend was soon forgotton. Late in the evening, when there was a pause in the dance, our verdant friend, very much to the surprise of every one stalked into the parlor, inquiring for Mr. Charlton. Of course all eyes were directed to our friend as he approached Mr. Charlton. Drawing from his bosom a four by six inch cake, he said: "Mr. Charlton, here's your cake. My brother had voted afore I seed him."

—It is related that when Beecher was in the country last summer he lost his hat, and found it in about a week in the barn where he had left it, but with four eggs in it. Beecher had just written a eulogy on the hen; why shouldn't the hen-re-ward Beecher?

—The fleshy owner of a crow-bait span was complaining to some bystanders that he did not know what was the matter with his horses. He had tried everything he could hear of—condition powder and all other specifics—but to no purpose. They would not improve in flesh. A stable boy of Irish persuasion, whose sympathies were aroused by the story, comprehended the situation and modestly asked, "Did yees iver try corn?"

TENNEY, of the Brunswick Telegraph, says he "would go just double the distance John Randolph said he would to kick a sheep, (which was just one mile,) to kick any poor miserable political hack who might desire to be interviewed"—and then goes after a brother editor as follows:—

The printer, or his devil, or the editor, or somebody else, in the Orient, spells pillar pillow, and that way of spelling presents a kind of sleepy David look. But then it is alleged that good spelling is not an accompaniment of the higher branches of learning.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl6

The Great Falls Journal says: "It is getting to be a common occurrence to see females in an intoxicated condition on our streets. Last Sunday a young lady(?) from Dover was riding through the streets in a beastly state of intoxication. A young fellow was with her who acted as though he had been taking a 'drap.' Monday night a woman neatly dressed, was reeling down Market street."

The school in District No. 1, in Salem, has been nearly broken up by measles, which seems to be in almost every house in the village.

The barn of Mr. Joseph Temple of Hillsborough was recently struck by lightning for the fourth time since its erection. The barn and two calves were burned and the other buildings saved by friends. Mr. T. was prostrated by the electric fluid.

W. A. Morse and F. O. Morse, natives of Dublin, are now in charge of the Boston Asylum and Farm School for boys, located in Boston Harbor. Mr. S. A. Sawyer, formerly of Peterborough, is the chief teacher.

Josiah Calef Bartlett of Exeter has been appointed Instructor in Mathematics in the Lawrence Scientific School of Harvard.

The first Pullman car ever at Concord was one on the Vermont Central road July, 11.

Sidney Forrest of Belmont, aged 68, committed suicide July 11 by throwing himself into a factory canal. He is supposed to have been insane.

The wife of Moses B. Goodwin of Franklin accompanied her husband on the editorial excursion as far as White River Junction, when, being ill, she decided to return home, and Mr. Goodwin proceeded on his trip. After the train had left she became frantic, and by her actions drove all the ladies from their room at the station, and insisted on proceeding to Montreal. She was by force put on the afternoon returning train and brought to Franklin, where she passed the night in wild delirium, and was brought to Concord and committed to the insane asylum on the 11th.

Rev. O. J. Hancock of Lynn, Mass., has accepted a call from the Christian church at Manchester.

Nashua has a great deal to say about a "veritable haunted house" in that city.

The formal opening of the Portland and Rochester Railroad took place Tuesday, July 11. Five cars left Portland in the morning filled with guests, among them Judge Dewey of Massachusetts, F. H. Kimicutt, president of the Worcester and Nashua Railroad, and F. Coggswell, president of the Boston and Maine. An elegant collation was served in the town hall at Rochester.

The editor of the Atlanta Constitutionalist, the leading Democratic paper of Georgia, bears the following testimony to the progress in study made by the colored pupils in the freedmen's Universary at Atlanta:

The exercises in the Atlanta (colored) University during the present week have been exceedingly interesting, as they are somethiug novel in this section of country. We were not prepared to believe what we witnessed. To see colored boys and girls between fourteen and eighteen years of age, reciting in Greek and Latin, and demonstrating correctly problems in algebra and geometry, and seemingly understanding what they demonstrated, appears almost wonderful. Some of the most proficient and advanced scholars, strange as it may seem, are genuine coal-black Africans.

The belief which many Southerners formerly expressed, and which there can be no question they honestly entertained that the negro was intellectually incapable of advancement, is gradually giving way before the tangible evidences of progress in learning everywhere seen among the colored population where advantages are offered them. When the whole South becomes convinced that the negro can advance, and will if allowed, the condition of the freedmen and the section in which they live will alike be benefitted.

PURIFY THE BLOOD AND BEAUTIFY THE COMPLEXION by using HELMBOLD'S

Catawba Grape-Juice Pills

and HELMBOLD'S highly-concentrated

Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla.

This is the time to use good blood-renewing, purifying and invigorating medicines. HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA and HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT GARPE-JUICE PILLS are the best and most reliable.

ONE BOTTLE of Helmbold's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla equals in strength one gallon of the syrup or decoction as made by druggists, and a wine-glass added to a pint of water equals the celebrated Lisbon diet drink, a delightful and healthful beverage.

The Grape-Juice Pill is composed of fluid extract Catawba grape-juice and FLUID EXTRACT RHUBARB. Useful in all diseases requiring a cathartic remedy, and far superior to all other purgatives, such as salts, magnesia, &c. Helmbold's Grape-Juice Pill is not a patented pill, put up as those ordinarily vended, but the result of ten years' experimenting and great care in preparation.

SAFE FOR AND TAKEN BY CHILDREN; NO NAUSEA; NO GRIPING PAINS; BUT MILD, PLEASANT, AND SAFE IN OPERATION.

Two bottles of the Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla and one bottle of the Grape-Juice Pills are worth their weight in gold to those suffering from bad blood, poor complexion, headache, nervousness, wakefulness at night, costiveness and irregularities, and to those suffering from broken and delicate constitutions it will give new blood, new vigor and new life.

The Catawba Grape Pills are done up with great care and in handsome bottles, and will surpass all those vended in wooden boxes and carelessly prepared by inexperienced men, comparing with the French and English style of manufacturing.

All of H. T. HELMBOLD'S Preparations are Pharmaceutical, not a single one being patented, but all on their own merits. To dispel any impression or prejudice that might exist in the minds of many against my Preparations, from the publicity given through advertising, and that I am and have been a druggist for a period of twenty years and more, conclusively to prove this, See letter.

[From the largest Manufacturing Chemists in the World.] Nov. 4, 1854.

I am acquainted with Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD. He occupied the Drug-store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business, where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise.

PARIS OUTDONE!

LIBERTY IN NEW YORK!

Full Particulars of the Anti-Equal-Rights Riots in New York City.

AND THE RIBBONMEN'S WAR.

TAMMANY HALL, apparently astonished at the outburst of public indignation occasioned by the absolute surrender by the New York authorities of civil and religious liberty to the New York mob, has again yielded,—is mouthpiece, Gov. Hoffman, having at the last moment issued a proclamation in which he says that "having been only this day (the 11th) apprised of the actual condition of things with reference to the processions," (who believes that stuff? when everybody else in the country has been fully apprised of it for a week!) "the order against the procession is revoked, any body of men desiring to march in peaceable procession will be permitted to do so, and police and military protection will be given to all who ask it." Before this order was made known the Orangemen — in marked contrast to the Catholic societies—had resolved to respect the laws (more than they or anybody else can do for the law makers and non-enforcers,) and abstain from walking, in obedience to the police order.

Very different is the conduct of New Jersey from that of New York, in this matter. The Jersey City Orangemen having determined to parade and the Catholics to attack them if they did, Gov. Randolph of that State speaks out in the language of a fearless official determined to enforce the laws impartially and thoroughly. The laws of the State of New Jersey, he says, guarantee the freedom of assembling for lawful purposes to all citizens, and this right will be enforced at any cost and with the full power of the commonwealth: he enjoins patience and forbearance on the part of the Orangemen, reminds them that "the peculiar occasion of their gathering is deemed an unnecessary revival of an ancient political and religious feud of no general interest to the great body of our American citizens, and that though they are sustained in their right to assemble together, they are by no means sustained, as I firmly believe, by any number of sincerely patriotic and Christian people in the expediency of the exercise of that right," but if they do choose to meet peaceably together they will be protected in so doing with the whole power of the State. This is the language of an upright magistrate. Tammany's excuse is that of politicians trembling before a power which their own policy has called into existence. The Herald, Times, Tribune and Sun denounce the police order as a dastardly and humiliating surrender to mob violence and as destined to do incalculable benefit to the roughs.

Wednesday morning the utmost activity was shown by the authorities in arranging to prevent the outbreak they had previously encouraged by the repressive police order. Nine regiments of the National Guard were assembled at their armories, a battery of U. S. Artillery was landed near Castle Garden, howitzers from the Navy Yard were placed on board the police tug-boats, all the marines at the Yard were placed under arms, (Gen. McDowell proffering hearty co-operation with the State authorities,) and the entire police and detective force of the city was on hand for service whenever required. 150,000 rounds of small-arm ammunition and 160 rounds of cannister for 12-pound howitzers were issued early in the morning, each soldier receiving 40 ball-cartridges and one day's rations. Gov. Hoffman in person superintended the details.

At 11 A. M. the city was in a fever of excitement, it being reported that heavy fighting had begun, that the Ninth (Fisk's) Regiment's armory and arms had been captured by the Fenians, and that the mob was moving to the attack of the police headquarters, which had two companies of soldiers on the upper floor. Harper's building, which was expected to be a prominent point of attack, was guarded by 50 soldiers. Troops were hurrying in various directions to quell rumored riotings, and the glorious days of the draft riots of '63, when the same men who now deny the right of any but themselves to parade the streets were hanging negroes and burning orphan asylums, were brought forcibly to the citizen's memories.

At Jersey City, Gov. Randolph of New Jersey, assisted by his staff, was early preparing to make good his manly promise of protection to all peaceable citizens. In addition to the police force 1000 militia were in the barracks, and 2000 militia and artillery were at Newark, whence a ready prepared train could bring them to Jersey City in a half hour if needed. The police made numerous arrests, but the streets were crowded with roughs, quarrymen and waterworks men, and a stormy time was looked for when the Orange parade commenced, at 1 o'clock P. M. Five hundred revolvers were sold at one store the evening previous.

[By Telegraph.]

At 8 P. M., Wednesday evening, the telegraph reported that Fisk's regiment was attacked by the mob, six men killed and Fisk himself wounded. The soldiers returned the fire and killed 30 of the rioters. In quelling a riot near Stewart's store the police killed 12 men.

9.15 P. M. Fifty persons were killed at the 8th Avenue riot this afternoon by the fire of the troops, which was drawn by shots fired from a window. There is great danger of the Treasury building being attacked and burned tonight. The International Telegraph wires were cut at an early hour, but an office was at once established at 111 Broadway, and the connection re-established. No accounts of the Parade yet at hand.

10 P. M. At 1 o'clock a mob of Irishmen gathered around the Fenian headquarters on Avenue A., and demanded the arms. General Miller refused to give them up. The mob then attacked the Armory, but were driven off by the police and a detachment of the 11th Regiment.

2 P. M. Reported two Ribbonmen were killed early this morning in Prince Street. The troops are said to be firing on the mob on Av. A., and 2 soldiers killed. Harpers' Building was attacked by a mob who were repulsed. The car conductors and drivers on 8th Av. Railroad were impressed by the rioters into their service.

This afternoon an immense crowd gathered at A. T. Stewart's building, corner Broadway and 10th Sts., in anticipation of the Orange Procession passing. A squad of mounted police and two stages filled with patrolmen attempted to disperse them; some resistance was made, when the police horse and foot drew their clubs and made a furious onslaught on the crowd. One young man had his head fractured and was carried away. The 84th Regiment has fired on the crowd. This occurred on the corner of 24th St. and 7th Av. Shots were fired at the troops from the windows; as the Regiment passed the corner two shots were fired by the mob. The 84th faced the crowd and delivered a scattering volley which killed 8 persons, among whom were 2 women, and wounded probably 25 men. The troops also fired at the windows from which the shots came. One Orangeman was wounded by a window shot. The mob tried to break into the lines, and the policemen seizing them by the throat, beat them until their heads were crushed. The Procession was formed on 8th Av. amid most frightful confusion, and the following order taken up and preserved, although temporarily deranged on the road:—mounted police, detachment 9th N. Y. Infantry, Glorious Seventh in holiday costume, with ranks full, Ninth Precinct police, Lodges of Orangemen, about 600 (?) in all, 22d Infantry, 6th, 69th, remainder of 9th and finally the 87th Regiments.

The route was down 8th Av. to 23d St., thence through Madison Square to Cooper Institute. When opposite Fisk's Opera House on 8th Av. shots and brickbats began to fly; a shot from under an awning provoked a heavy return volley from either the Sixth or Seventh Regt., and 16 men and 2 women were killed, and large numbers wounded and dragged away. 8th Av. presented a horrible spectacle; little pools of blood glistened in the hot sun and morsels of bones and brains lay about on the pavements. The 7th Regt. is said to have lost two men. The people killed on 8th Av. were chiefly of the laboring classes.

Several people were killed and wounded on 26th St. The Irishmen seem to have inaugurated a real street war; they fired from behind awnings and chimneys in approved insurrectionary style. The Procession was enthusiastically received by thousands at Madison Square. During the smoke and confusion which followed a fight, the 6th Regt. turned to fire upon the crowd but in their great confusion directed their volley towards the 9th Regt., nine of whom were killed. Fifty of the rioters were captured and taken to police headquarters. The 84th Regt. has been sent to police headquarters as a garrison, as an attack is momentarily expected. The rioters in 3d Av. attacked and captured several Fenian armories.

The excitement in the centre and upper portions of the city is intense, and business generally suspended. The Produce Exchange held a special informal meeting to-day, at which resolutions condemnatory of Hall and Kelso and thanking Gov. Hoffman for his proclamation were adopted, after some opposition, a member using the adage "Better late than Never." In Wall St. many brokers wear orange colors in defiance of the mob.

A demonstration is expected at the 23d St. Ferry, where the Jersey Orangemen will land, but a heavy force is there and the rioters will be repulsed. Rioters threaten to sack or destroy the newspaper offices, but no great fears are entertained, as 10,000 troops can be concentrated in Printing House Square in half an hour. The rioters have moved up town to meet the Parade.

At 28th St. the 9th Regt. charged the mob with fixed bayonets; Several persons were killed and wounded, among them one woman. Col. Fisk was shot through the ankle; Capt. Spencer of the 9th was killed by his own men while firing a volley into the rioters; Lieut. Page of the 9th was mortally wounded. Between 25th and 26th S s. the mob fired three shots at the Procession; the military retured the fire, killing 8 and wounding 13; two boys and a lady were shot. Sixteen citizens and three soldiers were killed coming down the Avenue, at the corner of 23d St., and the 84th Regt. fired upon the mob, killing and wounding 12—one policeman shot dead.

Lieut. Page was manager of Fisk's Opera House. The Procession had two banners, one the Stars and Stripes, another bearing the picture of William of Orange on horseback, and a small one with the inscription "American Freemen, fall in."

The police seized 200 stand of arms at the rooms of the Fenian Hall, Av. A., the mob fled at their approach. About 300 men obtained arms from Hibernia Hall and proceeded towards the west side of the city, no doubt intending to intercept the Orange Procession; a large body of police were sent in pursuit of them.

The Police backed by the 84th Regt., made a raid on Hibernia Hall; the mob ran like sheep. William Hennessey and Patrick O'Grady of the 6th Precinct refused to fight, and their buttons were cut off and the men locked up. The Orangemen dispersed quietly at eight o'clock this evening.

10 P. M. There is great excitement up town, and prospects of more fighting.

11 P. M. The Post Office is now guarded by the 69th Regt., which although Irish stands ready to put down the Hibernians. Just before the Orange Procession formed, 300 Hibernians, all armed, with a loud cheer took possession of 29th St., immediately opposite the police, who stood quietly waiting for orders. When the orders came the street was cleared in two minutes; one detachment marched quickly down 29th St., and two others up and down 8th Av.; and the Hibernians dispersed. No shots were fired, but clubs were freely used, and in a few moments the streets were empty, every shop had its shutters up, and none but police were visible—with the exception of an enterprising photographer, who adjusted his camera to get a nice picture of the row! Gen. Shaler at first advised the Orangemen not to bear banners, but finally told them to carry what they pleased. The Orangemen then gave three cheers for the Stars and Stripes and three for Gov. Randolph. The Master then exhorted the Brethren to keep the peace, maintain their dignity and on no account retaliate for blows or insults while on the march; any Brother behaving disorderly would be expelled the Order.

Gov. Hoffman, accompanied by several officials, drove up the Avenue while the Procession was moving. Soldiers two deep lined the Avenue for 8 blocks. As soon as the riot began the stores in the upper portion of the city were closed, and in other stores valuable goods were moved from the show windows.

The last dispatch states that at the corner of 8th Av. and 23d St. there were 56 killed and 100 wounded.

FOR SALE! FOR SALE!

THAT DELIGHTFUL SEASIDE retreat known as the WOODMAN FARM, containing forty acres of land, a commodious new and imposing house and convenient outbuildings, situated on the easterly side of Great Island, (Newcastle,) within a stone's throw of the ocean, and in full view of the "Isles of Shoals."

Also adjoining the same, "POINT JERRY," embracing ten acres of arable land extending far out into the sea, being the nearest point of land to the "Isles of Shoals," and among the outside boundary of what is known as Little Harbor.

This is the most desirable spot on the seacoast for summer residences, possessing all the advantages of the world renowned "Isles of Shoals," in bracing atmosphere, deep sea fishing and surf-bathing on one side, while on the other is a smooth, hard beach and still water. There is also upon it a never failing pond of fresh water, an old battery, and a light-house beacon. Roads always good and scenery unsurpassable.

WE are informed that the subscription committee of the Firemen find most encouraging liberality among the citizens applied to for aid in getting up the Firemen's Muster.

AT a regular meeting of Damon Lodge, No. 9, Knights of Pythias, held Tuesday evening, July 11, the following officers were installed for the ensuing term: A. C., Thornton Betton; V. C., Edward D. Coffin; G., William Kennedy; I. S., John A. Durgin.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A little son of Mr. Robert J. Churchill of Kittery Point was run over by Mr. Keen's Kittery and Portsmouth stage, on the afternoon of July 11, and died in about two hours. No blame is attached to any one. The boy was six years old.

Two young burglars, named Murphy and Cronan, were caught Monday evening in a store where they had stolen a lot of toilet soap. The police were put in possession of the pair, and through their capture have hunted out a gang of young thieves who have been carrying on business for some time.

THE young ladies of our High School enjoyed a rich treat on Tuesday, the 11th. James T. Fields, Esq., made a visit to the school and read to them an unpublished poem by Longfellow, which the poet had written since his visit to our city this summer. It was entitled "Governor Wentworth's Marriage," and described the old mansion at Little Harbor and other localities of this neighborhood.

PORTSMOUTH is looking up, and may hope to have street railroads and pneumatic tube expresses in time. We have now an Owl Omnibus Line, Mr. Wm. Plaisted having put on his handsome and convenient covered barge (we believe that's the name for it) "Favorite," to run every half hour during the evening, commencing at 7 o'clock, from Market Square through Islington, Middle and Cass Streets and back to the Square, — fare 10 cts. Hurrah for progress!

ANOTHER case of carelessness in the handling of firearms occurred in this city on Wednesday evening. Messrs. Jos. H. Gardner and Daniel Neal were in their respective gardens, which adjoin each other on Washington Street, when a bullet whizzed past Mr. Gardner's head so close as to let him know how the "wind of a bullet" feels, and buried itself in the dividing fence. The missile came from a target-shooting lot of boys on Hancock Street. If this thing is to go on our citizens will need coats of mail or coffins, right away. Send all such boys to New York.

THREE boys, named Murphy, Thomas Hoyt and Isaac F. Brown, have been found to be the pistol shooters who fired bullets into the parlor windows of Mrs. Salter's house on Tuesday evening. Brown was arrested on Wednesday afternoon, and acknowledged that he fired the shots; but states that he only did so after Hoyt had declined to fire the pistol as requested by Murphy, and that the other boys told him it contained powder only. Charity will believe that the affair resulted from careless ignorance rather than design on the part of young Brown, who is but 12 years of age.

ANOTHER instance of the importance of members being in their seats was seen on Tuesday in Concord, on the question relating to the members from Ward 1, this city. Mr. Hackett had filed with the Clerk a written agreement to pair off with the member from Bethlehem, and if present would not have voted. Mr. Ham was not to be found and Mr. Sides was not in Concord, and Mr. Pender losing their two votes was unseated. Had the last named members been in their seats, a different result would have ensued and Mr. Pender's seat remained filled, by the report of the Committee being laid upon the table.

NEGRO outlaws attacked a sheriff's posse in Robeson county, North Carolina, recently, killing three of them. The whole county is aroused in pursuit of the murderers.

THE Spanish Cortes has voted to sustain the ministry in its prosecution of the war in Cuba.

THE EDITORIAL ASSOCIATIONS (numbering 325 persons) arrived at Montreal from St. Albans at 6 o'clock, July 11, and were mostly quartered at the St. Lawrence Hall Hotel. The locomotive on the Vermont Central road was decorated with the American and English flags, and bore on a white banner this device:—

"Don't care what the grade is Where my powerful aid is,
The editors and the ladies."

As the train of ten elegant cars left the St. Albans station, the party received a startling farewell salute by the explosion of a large number of torpedoes laid along the track. The Montreal Mercantile Library Association tendered the party the use of their fine rooms, and the lord mayor gave them a grand reception at his residence on Wednesday. The fire brigade of the city was also called out by a false alarm for exhibition to the visitors.

Our associate "G." writes as follows of the scenery on the Vermont Central route: "We have heretofore considered the scenery on the Northern Railroad unsurpassed in New England, but that along the Vermont Central Railroad to St. Albans is simply magnificent, and to it the Northern must yield the palm. The innumerable streams darting out of the most unexpected sources, the rugged embankments over which the passengers gazes into the depths below, and greatest of all, the magnificent ranges of hills and mountains of every conceivable variety, keep the tourist on the qui vive. Mount Mansfield and Camel's Hump appear in full view, and as we near St. Albans the distant Adirondacks also, between which and the Vermont shore lies Lake Champlain, whose glistening waters by the light of the setting sun, make a picture of splendor on which it is useless to waste words in vain attempt at description."

The party was to go down the Rapids Wednesday morning, and leave for Newport, Vt., this morning.

THE LEGISLATURE.

In the House, July 11, the committee on elections in Ward 6, Concord, in which the seat of Samuel B. Page, democrat, is contested, reported that counted into the republican pile were 27 democratic votes, making Page's majority about forty, and only four short of Judge Fowle's vote, the other representative from that ward.

Mr. Hart (rep.) of Hinsdale moved for a final adjournment on Thursday, July 13.

Mr. Putman (dem.) of Warren moved to lay it on the table, and it was done—140 to 134.

A resolution of address for the removal of Elisha F. Lane, Sheriff of Cheshire County, was carried—145 to 124. [General Wilson said as a member from the county of Cheshire, and living in the village with the gentleman referred to, he never had heard of one cause for his removal either for incompetency or malfeasance in office, or as related to them. As a private citizen he felt it his duty to make this statement.]

A similar resolution concerning Farnum F. Lane, Solicitor of Cheshire County, passed—149 to 138.

IN New York, on the 11th, Thomas Kelly, a laboring man and an Orangeman, was violently assaulted by a party of laborers and so badly injured that he had to be conveyed to St. Luke's hospital.

THE semi-annual meeting of the New York State Temperance Society was held in Syracuse, Tuesday evening.

THE
NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS
RAILROAD COMPANY
Are building a trunk line, connecting New Orleans with Mobile on the east, and giving
THE ONLY RAILROAD CONNECTION
between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.
The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built
To Complete the Entire Road.
It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.
The Company now offer for sale the
Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds
upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.
So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.
The Bonds now offered are of two classes:
FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and
SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,
to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.
The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.
No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.
At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.
The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.
"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."
Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by
First National Bank.
Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

FISHERMEN!
TWINES & NETTING,
MANUFACTURED, BY
WM. E. HOOPER & SONS,
☞ Send for Price-List.] Baltimore, Md.

Morning Chronicle.

We have been at the trouble and expense—the expense of much weariness—of wading through the much-talked-of affidavits of the Assistant Democrats regarding Senator Smith's alleged promises to them, but fail to find proof of any such terrible treachery on the Senator's part as the Democratic press would fain have us believe the sworn statements show. From one end of the affidavits to the other—and that is a very long distance—there is nothing to show that Mr. Smith ever promised to assist the copperheads in partizan legislation, which is all he is now blamed for not doing. Mr. Smith (taking the affidavits as strictly correct) did say that he was in sympathy with and would support the Labor Reform doctrines, and that he would support just measures and good men; that is all. But the Labor Reformers sold out, body and soul, to the copperheads, sunk their own principles—or the principles they professed to hold—entirely out of sight, and advocated in the Legislature the most outrageous copperhead partizan schemes; and Senator Smith, who had not sold out and was still a Labor Reformer in principle, refused to be hoodwinked or frightened into voting for any such villainies. The affidavit-making fellows having thrown aside their quondam pretences to Labor Reform principles, denounce Mr. Smith because he will not throw aside the Labor Reform principles he really holds. The idle talk about "expelling Mr. Smith for his treachery to the Democratic party" is silly enough; we never before heard that faithfulness to any party was necessary to entitle a legislator to his seat. We do not question but what the copperheads would turn Mr. Smith out if they had the power, notwithstanding they have not a shadow of legal or constitutional right to disturb him—for the loud Democratic talk about "legality" and "constitutionality" has never been anything but gas—but they know they have not the power.

Our Boston correspondent, "M," asks:—"Is the example of pure Democracy, as shown in the order forbidding the parade of Orangemen in New York, to be taken as the dicta of this party of great moral principles, of equal rights, of opposition to mob rule? True, the Orangemen are carpet-baggers, and so are the Ribbonmen who so flauntingly parade our streets each 17th of March. ["Beware the Ides of March" has as deep a warning to our country as ever it held for Cæsar.] But the Orangemen are Protestants, and therefore should be suppressed. If the Native American movement is not aroused by this premature showing of hands on the part of the Catholics in the country's metropolis, then the sooner we concede the government of our country into the hands of the Pope the simpler will be our political questions.

Reports from Dayton, Ohio, giving additional particulars of the recent storm, state that it was hardly less destructive in the country than in the city. The storm came from the northwest. It twisted the trees as if they were pipe-stems, and did immense damage to fruit trees, growing crops, corn and timber. A few miles southeast of the city trees fell across a farm house, crushing it and killing two of the inmates. Frightful accounts are given of the injury done to the country. It is impossible to more than conjecture the aggregate loss. Some persons place the loss in the city and country as a little less than a million of dollars, but this is probably an exaggeration. At Crestline several buildings were struck by lightning, and four of five persons were injured.

The bishop of Manchester, England, preached a sermon at Westminster Abbey on Sunday, on the treaty of Washington, praising it in the warmest terms. He highly eulogized the wisdom and prudence which led to a peaceful solution of the important questions involved. The concessions made by Britain were due to America, and he viewed the treaty as the act of a nation willing to rectify a great and conspicuous wrong, recognizing the obligations of conscience, and doing obedience to the dictates of righteousment and justice.

Judge Drummond has rendered a decision in the patent case for an infringement of Tanner's double-acting car-brake, in favor of the Tanner patent upon all the points of controversy. Nearly all the railroads in the United States are infringing Tanner's patent, and the result involves millions of dollars.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
Vinegar Bitters,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,
Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawbi6

The Chronicle.

THE Charleston (S. C.) News published an account of the operations pursued by the wrecking-machine of the Monitor Wrecking Company in Charleston harbor, from which we quote:—

The Weehawken lies due east and west on a bottom of mud, and there is about eight feet of water over her at low tide. In this position she is a dangerous obstruction in the channel, and should be removed if possible. All of her machinery has been taken up, and likewise the iron of her turret and deck. Her interior is filled with mud and garbage, among which human bones are here and there visible. Over 200 tons of iron and various metals have been raised from this ship.

The Housatonic lies in thirty-six feet of water, just over the bar, sixteen miles from the city. She rests on a hard shell bottom, and lies north west and southeast, upright on her keel. The water out there is beautifully blue and clear, and the divers prosecute their work with much less difficult than at the Weehawken. Her deck, masts and rigging have all been eaten away by the worms, and little else is now left of her but the huge, black hull. Her propeller, shaft, chains and anchors and a large portion of her machinery have been hoisted from her by the machine, and also two of the smaller guns composing her armament. The rest of them were taken up by the government several years ago. About twenty feet south of the wreck of the doomed ship lies the hull of her destroyer, the Confederate torpedo-boat. She has been visited by the captain, who reports her to be lying bottom upward, seemingly in good preservation. There are no holes in her hull, and the wings of her diminutive propeller are now in good running order. She did her work effectually. In the hull of the huge ship is a jagged hole large enough to drive a carriage and pair through. The heavy oaken ribs and thick planks are blown in with tremendous power, and the Housatonic must have gone down with but little prepration. Her diminutive but dangerous foe met with a similiar fate, and the two now rest in silence, side by side, at the bottom of the sea.

NECESSITY OF MANURE.—The following extract from an article in the Agricultural Gazette, though specially applicable to English farming, points to the true and indispensable source of profitable husbandry in this and every other country.

Our great crops are obtained at great cost. We work the land harder than we once did. We plough it deeper and crop it faster, and we feed it better. Unless it be so fed our deep cultivation and other operations do not pay. Even our richest land does not long bear our rotations of crops, without being fed by manures obtained directly or indirectly outside the farm. The German professor was not far from wrong when he said to his pupils, "manure is the soul of agriculture." It is almost the one thing needful to the English farmer; all his other processes would fail without it.

Some persons have declared that the earth is inexhaustible. Let them attempt to farm without manure, i. e. all fertilizers. The truth is, plants appropriate the substance of the soil, which is removed with them. The land has no power of continual self-restoration, and therefore, farm it as we will, by plough or by spade, we must constantly manure it. The expenditure for manure is an enormous and apparently an increasing item, in English farming.

HOW TO MAKE SPRUCE BEER.—As the season is at hand when pleasant summer drinks, free from alcholic influence, are frequently brewed by the housewife or the well-brought up daughters, who ought to be taught a little of everything in the way of household duties—we append the following recipe, which is claimed to be excellent: Take three gallons of water of blood warmth, three half-pints of molasses, a tablespoonful of essence of spruce, and like quantity of ginger; mix well together with a gill of yeast; let it stand over night, and bottle in the morning, it will be in good condition in twenty-four hours. It is a palatable, wholesome beverage.

—The Washington Republican cites the following as a rather singular coincidence: Major Wilmer McLean, real estate agent at Manassas (Virginia) has done more to develop this section of the country than any man in the county. The first fight of the late war occurred on his farm; the last fight on his farm at Appomatox."

—A Baptist minister of Springfield was compelled to "baptize by sprinkling," the other day. The subject was a grove that he was dedicating to the use of Sunday school picnics, and they couldn't very conveniently immerse it.

—The Western Watchman, the Roman Catholic organ of St. Louis, is getting into a good deal of hot water for being so far ahead of most Catholics as to denounce the appropriation of public money for sectarian purposes.

This road is now in the dullest season of the year earning more than 12 per cent. net on the amount of its mortgage obligations.

Its 7 per cent. gold bonds are equal for security to Government or any Railroad issue. They command a ready market, and are recommended to buy and sell them at all times. No investment in the market possessing equal guarantees of safety, returns an equal percentage of interest. The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy has given a traffic guarantee and obligates itself to invest in these bonds 50 per cent. of the gross earnings derived from all business from this road. CONSUMPTION,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTION.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, the victim of death, there was no other reason to be given, but unknown and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the drowsiest slumber night while, and they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, from which no one has fallen.

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever simple means are used and the cure by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is neither presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument, it is self-assuring, self-evidencing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in the lungs, and are generally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they are

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are expected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting well at last.

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Digestion is now progressing, without its previous torture. Regular nutritious diet follows, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, nonsecretion of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the great question, is the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until the cure is effected. It is impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and nourishment, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all-powerful. Physicians generally adopt that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they contract cold, they say they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must perish. Good judgment bedetermined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the success of Dr. Schenck's patients.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's medicines adapted to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought I could live a week. I was then like a drowning man catching at straws. I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system, and gradually spread the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow those directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniment than the simple instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once begins to circulate, and the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Free of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1871.

WHATEVER may be said or thought as to the right or otherwise of all dwellers under the Stars and Stripes to meet or walk when, where and how they please when their so meeting or walking does not interfere with or prejudice the civil, political, social or religious rights of others, there can be but one opinion regarding the judicious moderation of the Orange societies of New York under the trying circumstances in which they have recently been placed. They firmly adhered to their proposed march, as they had a perfect right to do,—for the cant about their "having no right to walk when their so doing would wound the prejudice of others" is absurd, and applies with exactly equal force to every Fenian and St. Patrick's procession, to the recent German celebrations over the victories of the Kaiser, and to every political jubilation of either party over a success at the polls. But they made absolutely no beasts of what they would do, published no irritating articles in the papers—in fact, simply asserted their right to walk quietly through the streets of a city all whose laws they obey, and demanded the protection of those laws in the exercise of that right. The exhortation of the Master of the Order, that the members behave with forbearance and propriety on the march and refrain from retaliating for insults or blows, and the announcement that disorderly behavior would cause any member to be expelled, were in perfect keeping with the conduct of the Order throughout. The contrast between their quiet and orderly firmness and the brutal lawlessness of the Hibernia societies and their abettors, is as striking as it is creditable to the Orangemen. One party said, "We obey the laws of the city, the State and the nation, and to those laws we trust for protection;" the other said, "We care for no laws—all laws and principles must yield to our prejudices." The spirit of the Hibernian mob of July 12, '71, was the same that animated the mob of July 12, '70, when unarmed and unsuspecting men, women and children were attacked and slain by armed savages on no provocation whatever—the spirit of ignorant intolerance and brutal lawlessness. If the recent bloody conflict with the New York mob should result in the establishment of liberty and the power of the law in that city, the advantages gained from the lesson will far overbalance the cost.

GOVERNOR HOFFMAN'S action deserves the thanks of every law-abiding citizen. It was a tardy concession to an indignant public sentiment, which had been thoroughly aroused by the shameful course of Mayor Hall and the city authorities. We shall not inquire into the motives which inspired the governor, but, forgetting his past history and his bondage to Tammany, give him full credit for doing his duty, nothing more. His proclamation has the true ring. It is even better than Governor Randolph's, since it does not admit that the propriety or impropriety of the Orange parade has the slightest connection with the question at issue between the officers of the law and the blood-thirsty desperadoes of New York. Mr. Hoffman has once before distinguished himself by his fearless conduct in a crisis which made his political associates tremble. As recorder of the city in 1863, it fell to him to try the rioters of that year, and he performed the duty in a manner which satisfied the highest public sentiment. Governor Hoffman is no friend of ours, but in the present emergency has done a good thing and deserves all praise.—Boston Advertiser.

The telegraphic reports say that "persons claiming to speak by authority say there is positive evidence that Governor Hoffman was in the city Monday and had a consultation with the Tammany leaders, so that the assumptions in his proclamation are false." This probably refers to his statement that he had "only this day (July 11) been apprised of the actual condition of affairs regarding the processions." Our first thought on reading that statement was, "What an enormous lie," as every boy in the land had known of the threatened riot for a week and he could not have been in ignorance of it; and we said so. Gov. Hoffman is no friend of ours, any more than of the Advertiser's, and he did but his duty in this case; but he did his duty, in a manly, determined manner, and that is no small thing for a Tammany creature to do; and a second reading of his proclamation leads us to believe that he referred to the outrageous order of Kelso and Hall, then just issued, (and not to the threatened riot,) as having but just come to his knowledge on the 11th.

So we retract our expressed doubts of Gov. Hoffman's honesty in saying he had only just become apprised of the true state of affairs, and till he is shown to have quibbled shall regard him as having spoken as he acted—in good faith. But we groan in the spirit when we think of the tremendous somersault the Democratic press must make to endorse his conduct, after having so heartily commended the partizan surrender of Hall and Kelso in suspending the laws at the insolent dictation of a foreign mob. If Tammany's first order, which virtually declared that every principle of liberty should be given up on the ridiculous demands of men too ignorant to distinguish between liberty and license, was right, then were Hoffman's stern measures for upholding equal rights wholly wrong. Hoffman stands bolt upright on this question, but the Democratic press must "crawl upon its belly and eat the dust of the earth" in order to get out of the unpleasant dilemma it is placed in. And the Democratic press will do it without hesitation—only we are a little curious to know how they will do it.

THERE were but 200 Orangemen in the Procession on Wednesday, in New York, with one band of music. The ladies connected with the order wished to ride in the Procession, but did not. The police had one side of the street and the soldiers the other, when the procession was forming. On the march the police acted with the greatest spirit, and repeatably cleared the streets of rioters, who however would soon return; but at length half a dozen shots were fired from a window, the 84th Regiment poured in a deadly volley which was instantly taken up by the 6th and 9th, and the procession marched on, leaving behind more than a hundred dead and wounded. The reports say: "No further attempt was made to obstruct the march of the Orangemen and their escort; the riot was suppressed by this single volley, and the most desperate and drunken of the mob could not be induced to resume the fight. The mob sought safety in Seventh and Ninth avenues, and not one of the cowardly scoundrels returned to aid their friends."

Up to midnight the list of known casualties showed 29 men and 2 women killed and 72 wounded. Lieut. Page of the 9th Regt. and advertising agent of Fisk's Opera House, it was said had his head crushed with a paving stone. One account stated that Col. Fisk was shot through the ankle while assisting Page, and another that he had his ankle broken while at the head of his regiment, by a blow from a club.

In Brooklyn all was quiet, although the excitement was terrible. In Jersey City, one hundred and fifty Orangemen marched, escorted by three regiments, and were entirely unmolested. The proclamation of Gov. Randolph, his unmistakable determination to enforce the law at all hazards, the energy of the police and the closing of all liquor saloons, averted the threatened riot and the day passed without any serious disturbance.

The reports from New York, Thursday afternoon, say that 100 is a moderate estimate of the number killed, and that 150 badly wounded are in hospital, of whom many will die; at least 400 are now said to have been hurt. A large part of the killed and wounded were shot in the head or breast. Large numbers have been arrested.

POLITICAL.

The Missouri Democrat (Republican) calls loudly on Senator Carl Schurz to define his position.

The Missouri Republican (Democratic) prints a communication urging Gen. Hancock and B. Gratz Brown as the Democratic candidates next year. The writer admits that "a glance at the field must convince the least sagacious that the Democracy have a hard and uncertain battle before them. The utmost caution, prudence, and sagacity may avert defeat and secure success. The slightest mistake, the least apathy or discord, will render success impossible. Everything consistent with honor must be done to augment our strength, as numbers decide the contest. It will take our whole available force and recruits from other parties to overcome the multitudes of the enemy." For all that, he verily believes that Hancock and B. Gratz Brown "would avert the catastrophe of Grant's re-election." The Kansas City Times goes further, and urges Mr. Brown for the first place on the ticket, as the only man exactly fitted to the New Departure Platform.

Three of the ablest Democratic papers in Pennsylvania still reject the new departure.

MRS. E. G. WHARTON, a wealthy lady of Baltimore, has been arrested, charged with poisoning General W. G. Ketchum, a retired army officer, and Eugene Van Ness, a bookeeper.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSION.

St. Lawrence Hall,
Montreal, July 11.

Left! Left!

(Biddeford Pool—it's all the same,)—
I hope I may get home again
To take the cars for Farmingham.

Thus sang the strange trio who were playing croquet in Welden House at St. Albans, in the hall opposite Nos. 178, 179 and 180, at midnight of yesterday, and with unction opened their serenade at 6 o'clock this morning. A repetition of it here is prevented by strategy.

The St. Albanians did their utmost to made the excursionists feel at home this morning, and the worthy host of the Welden House ably seconded them. The entire party were taken to Bellevue in carriages, and Gov. Smith held a levee at his elegant residence, the views from both places being very fine. Shortly after 3 o'clock, P. M., the excursion train started for Montreal and the St. Albanians closed up matters in peculiar style. They placed enormous torpedoes under the cars, which exploded as the train started, carrying alarm to the uninitiated. A rousing cheer followed as the train bowled out of the depot.

We arrived in Montreal about 7 o'clock this evening, and most of the party are quartered at the St. Lawrence. The trip down the Lachine Rapids is on for 8.30 in the morning, and the entire company will dine with the Lord Mayor of Montreal in the afternoon. At a meeting of the officers of the various Associations this evening it was decided to start for Memphremagog Lake, Thursday morning at 8.30.

A curious individual timed the passage of the train through Victoria Bridge to-day, a distance of nearly two miles, making it just four and a half minutes, at full speed. G.

IN Boston, Wednesday, Mrs. Henry B. Williams was fatally injured by jumping from a runaway team, and died Thursday morning.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A fact worth remembering—Five cents' worth of Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders, given to a horse twice a week, will save double that amount in grain, and the horse will be fatter, sleeker, and every way worth more money than though he did not have them.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find Parsons' Purgative Pills safe; and, in small doses, a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Our Skins are Sieves,

And through millions of orifices oozes the transparent fluid which nature does not need for vital purposes. This is a wise provision of Providence, but excessive perspiration is, nevertheless, extremely weakening. During the heats of summer all hard-working men perspire to an extent that is more or less debilitating. They, of all classes of the community, require a wholesome invigorant at this season. Let them not seek it in the liquors of the bar-room; they will not find it there. A medicated stimulant, pure and unadulted, is what they need; and among this class of remedies, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands alone. No valid plea can be urged against its use, even by the genius of Temperance itself; for even the Maine law permits the sale of diffusive stimuli for medicinal purposes. As a general renovating preparation, the Bitters has no equal anywhere. But this is only one of the merits of this famous invigorator. Its regulating properties give it an immense superiority over all the tonics of the Pharmacopœia. In cases of chronic constipation it is the most useful and certain of all aperients. It creates no violent commotion in the discharging organs, but gently relieving them of their obstructions, leaves them in a healthy, vigorous condition. It seems unnecessary to state, in view of the mass of testimony as to its effects in dyspepsia, that it is a permanent cure for that terrible and but too general complaint.

The numerous "Bitters," under various names, which mercenary dealers endeavor to substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, should be avoided, for their own sakes, by the sick and the public at large. Hostetter's Bitters are procurable in bottles only, and never sold in bulk.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. E. ROBTON, only Agent for selling the

THE Charity Fund of Storer Encampment, Post 1, G. A. R., has been increased by a donation of $25 from an unknown lady friend.

ASTRONOMICAL.—The planet Saturn was in opposition to the sun June 28th, and is now shining at her greatest brilliancy and is visible in the southeast heavens at half past 8 o'clock. This is a favorable time for viewing her moons and rings, with the aid of a common telescope. Venus is still shining with increased brightness, pre-eminently the queen of the West, setting at 9.42 P. M. She will attain her greatest brilliancy August 20th, after the 10th of September be lost in the rays of the sun, and then on December 6th will reappear with renewed splendor as Empress of the East. N. D.

Your correspondent "J." wishes to know why there is so little change in the length of the days for a week previous, and a week subsequent to the Summer Solstice, or, from about the 14th to the 28th of June. In answer to this question, it may be stated that the time of sunrise and sunset depends wholly upon the latitude of the place, and the declination of the sun; and at any particular place, (the latitude remaining fixed) it will depend entirely upon the sun's declination, which remains very nearly the same during this interval of about two weeks. But the question will naturally arise, "Why does the sun's declination change so slowly during this period? The answer to this will require the use of some technical terms which may not be familiar to those who have given but little attention to the study of astronomy.

The path in which the earth travels round the sun once a year is called the Ecliptic. While the earth is really moving round in this great circle, the sun appears to move round the earth in the same time at the rate of about one degree, or nearly twice the width of the sun's disc per day. If the earth's equator were enlarged so as to extend out to the concave surface of the heavens, it would mark out the great circle called the Celestial Equator.

The Ecliptic or sun's path, crosses this latter circle at an angle of about twenty-three and one-half degrees, and at the vernal and autumnal equinoxes in March and September, the sun's motion being across the equator at the above angle, it will change its declination quite perceptibly each day. But as the sun approaches one of the tropics its motion becomes more and more parallel to the equator, and for several days before and after it reaches its greatest distance from that great circle, its motion is so nearly parallel with the equator, that its declination, (or distance from the equator) is but slightly changed each day, and of course the time of sunrise and sunset will be very nearly the same for several days before and after the Solstice. A. M. H.

[Our Contributor "N. D." has also handed us a full and clear explanation of the subject enquired about by "J.," but the above should make the matter clear.—Eds. Chron.]

DR. BLISS, whose expulsion from the Medical Association of the District of Columbia caused a good deal of comment, has been appointed by the President a member of the board of health. This board now contains Dr. Verdi, a homœopathic physician, for associating with whom on the board Dr. Con was refused admission to the society. Dr. Con himself, Dr. Bliss, who was expelled for medical consultation with Dr. Con, and Dr. Langston, a colored doctor, were repudiated by the society, and yet no unusual epidemic has fallen upon the capital.

THE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, July 12, Mr. Barker (Rep.) introduced a resolution to adjourn finally on Friday next. On the passage of the same the vote stood 6 to 6.

The addresses removing the sheriff and solicitor of Cheshire county came up, and the vote stood 6 to 6 on each address.

In the afternoon Senator Smith called up the address of the Senate for the removal of W. H. H. Allen, judge of probate for Sullivan county. He said that it had been alleged that he agreed to go for the removal of Judge Allen. He had been approached on the subject by Mr. Dame and others, who represented Judge Allen as entirely unfit to hold the position; that he was an intemperate man, and many other objections. He had found on inquiry that he was to be removed solely because he was a republican. This, in his opinion, was no crime. He had on a previous occasion moved to lay the resolution on the table, to enable him to make inquiries, and he was now prepared to vote on the question. The question on the resolution for the removal of Judge Allen was then taken up on its final passage, the vote standing 6 to 6.

In the House, Mr. Chase (dem.) of Northfield called up the bill granting $12,000 in aid of the State agricultural college. The house refused to postpone it by a vote of 141 to 156, four republicans voting in favor of postponement and eight democrats against; otherwise it was a strict party vote. The bill passed—149 to 141. A joint resolution granting the sum of $300 to the Prisoners' Aid Society to assist discharged convicts, the Senate bill confirming naturalizations in police courts, and the bill repealing the charter of the city of Keene were passed.

The consideration of the repeal of the act of 1870, regarding the sale of spirituous liquors, came up, the question being on its passage. Mr. Flint of Concord moved its indefinite postponement. The motion to postpone was lost—139 to 77—and the bill as amended was passed—150 to 125.

The Nashua, Acton & Boston Railroad bill went over to the next session —152 to 125.

The bill to aid in the construction of the Dover and Portsmouth Railroad was called up, the question being on the amendment requiring a vote of two-thirds of all legal voters of any town or city voting on the question of authorizing the aid specified. The bill and amendment were discussed all the afternoon, and the amendment was finally rejected by a vote of 169 to 68. The bill was then passed—149 to 49.

DULUTH, at the head of Lake Superior, was visited on the 8th by a tidal wave, which broke from the Lake into the canal, sweeping away a pier and the crib-work and scattering timbers and rafts in every direction. The current ran in at the rate of fifteen miles an hour for half an hour, and then ran out with the same velocity for twenty-minutes, and kept up an oscillation all the morning alternately, carrying rafts and cribs out to sea and back for hours.

AT Toronto, Ontario, July 12, there was a large turnout of Orangemen. Over twenty lodges, numbering 1500 men, with officers on horseback, accompanied by 14 bands of music and 25 banners, were in line. There was no disturbance. There were large processions also at Hamilton and Ottawa.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

TAX PAYERS in the City of Portsmouth are hereby notified that Six per cent. will be deducted from their Tax Bills, if paid on or before July 31, 1871. CHARLES A. SHANNON, Collector.
Portsmouth, June 21, 1871.

Morning Chronicle.

CUNDURANGO, Cuffee and contumacy, with a good deal of latent "lost cause," are quite likely to be the death of the District of Columbia Medical Association. A greater part of the members served in various positions in the rebel army, and they cling tenaciously to the old path. They evidently don't propose to take any "new departure." Congress came very near taking its charter away at the last session. On Saturday it passed a resolution to hold the standing committee responsible should they fail to investigate charges which may be made against members of the association for meeting in consultation any resident licensed and regular practitioner of African descent until thirty days subsequent to the final action of the association upon any such amendment as may be passed at the next meeting in October. The association expelled Dr. D. W. Bliss, a physician of Washington, because he consulted in the case of Vice-President Colfax with Dr. C. C. Cox, who had been refused admission into the association on account of holding a seat in the Board of Health with Dr. Verdi, a homœpathic physician. Some of the members also felt spiteful against him because he believes that cundurango is a curative agent in cancer. What exquisite asses some learned men can make of themselves when they try.

THE first account history gives of paper money being used, was in the year 1483, during the conquest of Granada by Ferdinand of Spain. The Count of Tendilla, a Spanish cavalier, had command of the fortress of Alhama, and having neither silver or gold to pay the wages of the soldiers, issued scrips of paper on which were inscribed various sums, with his signature attached to the same. They were readily taken and used and in course of time were redeemed. This was the first time that alchymy succeeded in turning worthless paper into gold.

—A scouting party from Camp McDowell has just returned, having killed six Indians and recaptured 150 head of cattle.

—A man sixty-five years old murdered his wife at Monongahela, Penn., for giving some of his money to her brother.

—An unprovoked attack made by a Detroit man upon an inoffensive goat resulted in a victory for William in one round, and a permanent stomach-ache for the attacking party.

—People talk about going to Florida in search of health, and yet the books of the Internal Revenue Department show that there is but one solitary lager beer brewery in the whole State.

—The report that Mr. Harry T. Blow, nephew of the ex-Minister, was murdered on the Fourth of July, is denied on apparently good authority; that is, the young man himself insists that he has not been killed.

—Edward Brown of Pitt county, N. C., took to the swamp nine years ago to avoid being drafted into the army. The other day he was discovered, and was greatly astonished at learning the war had been over for six years.

—An Irishman having jumped into the water to save a man from drowning, upon receiving a quarter from the person as a reward for the service, looked first at the money and then at him, and at last exclaimed: "I'm overpaid for the job."

—We were amused the other day, says the Portland Transcript, by a lady friend's account of the manner in which her servant mended her stockings. When a hole appeared in the toe, Bridget tied a string around the stocking below the aperture and cut off the projecting portion. This operation was repeated as often as necessary, each time pulling the stocking down a little, until at last it was nearly all cut away, when Bridget sewed on new legs, and thus kept her stockings always in repair.

—A French physician has investigated the effect of smoking on thirty-eight boys, between the ages of nine and fifteen, who were addicted to the habit. Twenty-seven presented distinct symptoms of nicotine poison. In twenty-two were serious disorders of the circulation, indigestion, dullness of intellect, and a marked appetite for strong drinks; in three there was heart-affection; in eight decided deterioration of blood; ten had disturbed sleep, and four had ulceration of the mucous membrane of the mouth.

—Not long ago a deacon in Boston, who was asked by a Portland acquaintance if a certain common friend was good for a bill of $300, guaranteed for $12 that the bill would be paid. Shortly afterward the debtor failed; the Portland merchant called upon the deacon to pay the bill, and the deacon wrote back in reply that it was unjust and unchristian-like to ask him to fulfil his guarantee, and tendering back the percentage he had exacted. Legal steps have not been taken, but the letter is in the way to be lithographed, and copies will be liberally distributed, to show the difference between the deacon's sharp business scent and his sense of christian obligation.

CHOICE IOWA LANDS.

This Company is now offering for sale about six hundred thousand acres of the finest agricultural lands in the West. The Company sells only to actual settlers, and the prices are exceedingly reasonable, ranging from $5 to $15 per acre—the average being about $8. The greater part of these lands are situated along the line of its railroad between the cities of Des Moines and Council Bluffs, and are in the most accessible and fertile region in the State.

Sales made for cash or on credit long enough to enable any industrious man to pay for the land out of its crops.

These lands are held under a title direct from the General Government, and are not mortgaged or encumbered in any way. Full warranty deeds given to purchasers.

For maps, pamphlets, or any other information respecting them, address EBENEZER COOK, Land Commissioner, Davenport, Iowa.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfeb16

WEEDS IN THE GARDEN.—Gardeners waste a great deal of labor in the war on weeds, in which the weeds too often come off victors. The war is an unprofitable one at best, and should be avoided where possible. This desirable end may be accomplished in two days—by allowing no seed to infest the soil, or if they once obtain possession, destroy the weeds before they come up. We once had the pleasure of walking over the thirty-acre horticultural grounds of a friend, where a dozen weeds could not be found. In answer to an inquiry, he said "The weeds cannot grow here—the soil has been cleared of the seeds, and none are allowed to ripen." This way of management, although attended with considerable labor and close attention at first, he regarded as much cheaper in the end, in more ways than one, the labor of killing weeds was avoided, the crops were not retarded and choked by their presence, and the satisfaction of controling one's own ground was equal to the two other advantages. The most successful farmers are those who eradicate weeds from their fields by not allowing them to grow, and the gardener should adopt the same course, by keeping the ground constantly stirred before the crops are planted, and then by passing over the surface between the plants as often as once a week afterwards, breaking the crust and keeping the whole clean and mellow, without waiting for the small green points of the weeds to make their appearance. A light, fine, garden rake is a capital tool for this work, as it may be run rapidly over the surface, and it accomplishes the two-fold operation of pulverizing the soil, and of breaking and killing the young weeds that are sprouting below. Let any one try this operation, and compare it with the subsequent pulling up of the weeds with the fingers, or even with chopping them off with the hoe, after carelessly allowing them to grow two or three inches and he will be amply satisfied with the great superiority of the practice of keeping the surface clean and mellow by raking, while the rapid growth of the crop will of itself more than repay all the labor. A very narrow and fine rake, made on purpose will work well between garden drills. Country Gentleman.

THE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, July 13, the House bill granting $12,000 to the State Agricultural College was lost—6 to 6.

The House bill appropriating $10,000 to the State Normal School of Plymouth, was amended by substituting $5000 and as amended passed.

The House resolution fixing the final adjournment on Saturday, July 15, was passed and the house was immediately notified, before Mr. Bingham had moved a reconsideration in the House.

In the House the committee on national affairs reported in relation to the national cemetery at Antietam, that while desirous to perpetuate the memory of the fallen heroes, they decided it inexpedient to legislate on the subject.

The House, up to noon, was engaged on the address for the removal of Joshua G. Hall as solicitor of Strafford county. The republicans defended Mr. Hall with all legislative tactics. The democrats accused the republicans of filibustering and impeding the business of the house. The republicans replied that present to their consideration the proper business of the session and they would give their utmost endeavor to expedite the business to a close, but as long as this address business continued they would oppose all they could. On the question on the passage of the resolution for the address the vote stood—yeas 139, nays 118, and carried.

Mr. Bingham gave notice that he should move a reconsideration of the vote to adjourn finally on Saturday the 15th.

THE rioting of the New York mob of Roman Catholic Irish is over for the present; they have found out that though America gives them liberty and equal rights, all the liberty and equal rights are not theirs. The New York papers are full of the details, and denunciations of Mayor Hall and his proceedings are loud and pointed. The exact number killed and wounded will never be known, but the first reports were far too low. Only one or two policemen were found wanting in their duty to the city, and none of the soldiers but the 69th Regt., (Irish) showed the least insubordination.

The 84th Regt., which commenced the firing at 24th Street, has been represented as being hasty; but it is now said that the provocation received was much greater than represented, while the dangerous elements of the mob are represented by the police, who are familiar with such gatherings, as of a most terrifying character. If the troops in their momentary excitement had not fired when they did, it would shortly have been necessary to order a volley of the whole line, when of course the destruction of life would have been much greater than it was. Oakey Hall assumes all the responsibility of Kelso's order, but refuses to state whether Hoffman had a previous knowledge of his intention.

Rufus Hatch, the banker, spoke as follows during the progress of the riot: "I am a Democrat, but I say if this city is to be given over to a set of drunken Irish rioters, it is about time to stop it. Why, it's just as if this set of drunken Irish roughs ran the country. It beats the worst religious outrage of the Commune."

Among the incidents of the day the following are given: A lad while riding on top of an omnibus displayed an orange handkerchief; a shot from a pistol struck him, and he fell from the stage dead. The following is a correct account of the killing of a woman and a little girl, supposed to have been Mrs. York and her daughter, as given by an eye-witness; I was standing looking at the procession and crowd, and there was a great deal of excitement. Directly I saw a women waving her handkerchief at the Orangemen, and I thought she was very imprudent, or had more courage than women generally have. Just at that moment, while she was in the act of waving her handkerchief, a burly ruffian stepped up to her, and, placing the muzzle of his pistol to her ear, fired, and she fell dead. He then turned around, and deliberately cocking his pistol fired a bullet into the little girl, and she fell. I think the little girl must have been 12 or 13 years of age.

The action of Gov. Hoffman continues to be bitterly denounced among the Irish, some of whom assert that he will never live to see another Orangemen's procession.

No policemen were killed. The report that one was shot dead was incorrect. All the police injured were removed to their homes, where they are in a fair way of recovery.

The Tribune, referring to Gov. Hoffman's statement that he had "been only this day (Tuesday) apprised of the actual condition of things," remarks:

Now we have made careful inquiry into this matter, and we learn that Gov. Hoffman was in this city on Monday, and was then fully informed as to "the actual condition of affairs" with reference to the "procession," for he sent an officer of his staff (Gen. McQuade) to confer with the Mayor on the subject at the City Hall! Was he truly or falsely informed? Did Mayor Hall tell him that he meant to protect the Orangemen's procession, or that he meant to prohibit it? We beg to assure Gov. Hoffman that the presumption must be that he learned the facts; and that, if he did not, no man on this continent has so vital an interest in proclaiming it as himself. * * * But there is yet more to be considered. If Gov. Hoffman was deceived by Mayor Hall on Monday evening, he must have had a telegraphic account of the prohibition on Tuesday morning. Yet it was not until after midnight Wednesday morning that he took any action. * * Published on Monday, the Governor's proclamation would probably have insured a quiet parade and saved an awful flow of blood which we have to report; published Wednesday, it was like the World's repudiation of Frank Blair in the crisis of the Presidential canvass—a confession of weakness, an encouragement to the enemy.

The New York Sun calls upon Mayor Hall to resign in the following words:

Mr. Oakey Hall, Mayor of New York, should resign at once. His courage is not equal to his duty, and his blunder is worse than a crime—or rather his terrible blunder is a crime, and worst of all, a crime against religious liberty.

Correspondence.

DEERFIELD, July 11.

In this retired country town there is little to interest the busy world. Our people keep along the even tenor of their way, with no ambition to attract the attention of curious readers. A wedding is a rare occurrence; but infant children begin to be more common in our families.

The ladies of the Congregational church gave a festival on the Fourth of July, which passed off pleasantly.

Crops, excepting hay and apples, promise well; but rain is greatly needed. I returned a few weeks ago from a trip of nearly 3000 miles, through central Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, and back by way of Canada. Wheat in Pennsylvania appeared somewhat injured by the winter. In central Ohio, Indiana, &c., I never saw it look better. But though very tall and thick it suffered from drought while the kernel was filling, and when cut, before the 4th, it proved only tolerably good. If they have not had rains lately, the corn crop must be light. The grass was light. There were showers that passed over narrow strips of the land, but the greater part of the country suffered more from the drought than we have here, in New England.

I send a record of deaths in this town from May 1.

May 7, son of Daniel B. Clark, aged.	5
June 2, Thomas Mathes,	78
July 2, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Sanborn, wife of Sangford Sanborn,	37

During the last 4 1-2 months there have been but half as many deaths as in two weeks of February. J. C.

FROM the manner in which juries are made up in many places, we should imagine that many of the jury system's pretended friends are foes in disguise, trying to see how ridiculous they can make it. In Chicago a whole day was spent in selecting jurors for the trial of a German accused of murder, and when the court adjourned only three men had been found who had not read or heard some account of the affair, and were therefore eligible as jurors. One highly intelligent man, who said he "never took a paper in his life" and had never heard of the murder or the murderer, will probably be foreman of the twelve blockheads after they are caught and put in the pen.

The following item of important information has been going the rounds of the press, particularly the Democratic press:

Wendell Phillips expresses the opinion that the Democrats have an excellent chance of carrying the next Presidential election.

As Wendell has been an outspoken prophet in political affairs for many years, and never yet prophesied correctly in a single instance, the Republican party will not feel wholly discouraged at his anticipation of their defeat.

The Orange demonstrations throughout Ireland, July 12, were attended with little or no disorder. The police constables turned out in force, but there was no military aid lent or required. That isn't a "free country."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

It is reported at Concord that arrangements have been nearly completed for a union, under a republican committee, of the Concord Daily Monitor and weekly Independent Democrat and the Republican Statesman, all published in Concord.

The Nashua horse thief, under the name of David T. Edwards, has been arrested at Athol, Mass., and for want of bail has been committed to jail.

Mr. J. P. Rounseirel of Claremont has recently purchased 37,000 pounds of wool at forty-nine cents a pound.

THE iron steamer City of Port-au-Prince, on the line from New York to West Indian ports, was wrecked off the Bahamas on June 21, but the crew were saved.

THE coroner's jury in the case of a man recently killed by two drunken men in Cambridge, Mass., brought in a verdict for assault and battery!

QUESADA with a body of Venezuelans has landed in Cuba, and an engagement has been fought with the Spanish troops.

FOUR hundred proselytes arrived from London on Tuesday, on their way to Utah.

THREE persons were killed by the explosion of a switch engine at Cleveland.

FREDERICK SCHUSTER, Prussian consul at Savannah, is a defaulter.

Price $2 a year; single copies 5 cents,—in wrappers for mailing, if desired. Six copies for $10 per year, to Clubs—per mail or city carrier.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A FINE CAFE, two billiard halls, elevator, telegraph office, and all modern conveniences, entice the traveller to the AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON. Ones there, he would not willingly change his quarters.

The relaxing power of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment is truly wonderful. Cases are already numerous where bent and stiffened limbs have been limbered and straightened by it. When used for this purpose, the part should be washed and rubbed thoroughly. Apply the liniment cold, and rub it in with the hand.

A crowd of "horse men," and others daily throng the stores in country and town for Sheridan's Cauvalry Condition Powders. They understand that horses cannot be kept in good condition without them, and with them can be kept on a much less quantity of grain.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvest generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant and gentle exhilarant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one of every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in this preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

Ask bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the drum-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

THE WORLD IS IN ARMS

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

proved by time and sanctioned by practical chemists, has become the standard article of its class throughout the length and breadth of the land. It is poisonless, rapid in its operation, certain to produce the required shade of color, and has no equal among hair dyes, either in the United States or Europe. To beautify and soften the hair after dyeing, use

Whereas, His Honor Joseph B. Adams is absent and disabled from the performance of his duties by sickness—

Resolved, that Alderman Albert A. Fernald be chairman of this board, and that he perform the duties of the Mayor during his absence and disability, until otherwise ordered by the Board.

Ald. Marvin and Giddings were appointed a committee to confer with the Firemen's Committee relative to a "General Muster."

The Court Street pump was voted a nuisance, and ordered to be removed.

Committee on Streets were instructed to take means to prevent the escape of foul gases from common sewers in Congress Street.

City Marshal's quarterly report was received. Number of arrests, 240; lodgers, 127; cash received, $362 92; expended, $49.32; due city, $313.60.

MR. JEREMIAH PRESCOTT, for the past sixteen years Superintendent of the Eastern Railroad, has resigned his position and accepted the superintendency of the Northern Pacific road, with head-quarters at St. Paul, Minnesota. Mr. Prescott will carry with him the best wishes of a large circle of personal and business friends, as well as of the travelling public, whose interests and comfort he has faithfully cared for during his long term of service on the Eastern Road. The liberal and attentive Management of that line have placed it in the front rank of well-conducted railroads, and Supt. Prescott's constant and faithful oversight and instant attendance at any point where his presence was required, has had much to do with that result. The Eastern loses a faithful, able and popular officer, and the Northern Pacific gains a Superintendent of energy and experience, invaluable to an old road and indispensable to a new one. We wish him the future good fortune he so well deserves.

BARNUM'S GREAT SHOW.—On Friday, July 21, this celebrated show, comprising 245 men and 270 horses, will pitch its tents in Portsmouth, when our citizens will have an opportunity to witness this last and greatest triumph of Barnum's genius. This colossal establishment embraces a museum of curiosities, a rare collection of wild animals and Costellos' famous circus, exhibited in three immense tents and all for one price of admission, fifty cents. Wherever this grand caravan goes, crowds of people flock to see it. The Boston Transcript thus speaks of the show:

The grand travelling caravan of Mr. P. T. Barnum, which has been turning the heads of the town during the week, is about to take its departure from this metropolis. The bold and original idea of uniting a rare museum of curiosities, a full menagerie, and a well appointed hippodrome in one grand exhibition, has proved a complete and remarkable success. The various wild animals, collected together from different quarters of the globe, are all splendid specimens of their kind; the mechanical curiosities, including automatic performing figures, are the perfection of ingenious construction; while the fine and dashing equestrian feats, the fascinating and thrilling gymnastic and acrobatic exploits, and the innocent, mirth-provoking resources of the large troupe of genuine artists connected with the circus, only serve to heighten the enjoyment of the wonder-seeking public. Dan Costellos, the clown, cleverly "elevates his profession" by studiously avoiding everything that can offend the principles or tastes of the most fastidious, and the stud of beautiful horses introduced in the ring are extremely intelligent and highly trained animals.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSION.

St. Lawrence Hall,
Montreal, July 12.

At 9 o'clock, this morning, most of the excursionists took the cars for a ride nine miles from the city, where we embarked on Steamer Beauharnois for the ride down the Lachine Rapids. The first unpleasant weather of the trip greeted us as the train left Montreal, a drenching rain falling until just before the steamer arrived at the Rapids, when the sun came out bright.

The passage down the Rapids was duly appreciated by the voyagers, none of them being sea-sick. Some of the ladies were frightened by the rolling and pitching of the boat, but the few minutes' passage through was soon over. The novel spectacle of a raft ashore on the Rapids was afforded, some unlucky Indians having succeeded in landing there. They have a hut and provisions on the raft and will probably release themselves without outside aid. The Rapids are not as dangerous as they appear, but are sufficiently so for mutual congratulation that no accident happened.

The trip down the river brought us under the centre of Victoria Bridge, whose immense length is only appreciated from such a standpoint. The scenery from the Rapids to the Bridge includes views of mountain, lake and river, and must be seen to be appreciated.

This afternoon the Fire Brigade of Montreal was called out by order of Mayor Coursol, and thousands assembled to see its prompt working. Miss Green of Rutland, Vermont, gave the fire alarm and in 40 seconds a stream was put on an imaginary fire. The Brigade consists of 33 men, and Councillor Atwater states that since its organization fire risks have decrease nearly 70 per cent. There are eight hose carriages in the Brigade and the water is furnished from hydrants. From the exhibition at Champs du Mars, the excursionists started for Victoria Square, where a fountain was let on in full force, throwing a heavy column of water upwards of sixty feet in height. Carriages were furnished, the party accepting the Mayor's invitation to visit his suburban seat, a short distance from the business part of the city. A couple of hours were spent in walking about the house and grounds, and under the shade of the majestic trees, tables were spread laden with bountiful supplies of edibles. Toasts were drank and responded to and enthusiastic speeches, in which lasting friendship was pledged, were made. The names of Queen Victoria and President Grant were greeted with great enthusiasm. The affair was a fitting close to the liberal arrangements made by the authorities, which have rendered our stay here most pleasant.

The death of the wife of Col. Hogan, of the St. Lawrence Hall, which occurred to-day, caused a change of programme for this evening. A ball was to have come off, but instead a meeting was organized at which the American consul, Hon. Wm. H. Dart, presided. Welcoming speeches were made by Hon. John Young and other citizens and responded to by Gen. Jeff. C. Davis and others. George A. Marden of Lowell read one of his inimitable poems, descriptive of the excursion. At the close, a resolution of sympathy with Mr. Hogan was passed.

We leave for Newport, Vt., at 8.30 A. M. to-morrow; go to the Crawford House, Friday; ascend Mount Washington, Saturday; ride to the Profile House on Sunday and dine on Monday at Plymouth, in season to leave that day and arrive home the same evening.

THERE was a bad break in Wyoming canal at Wilkesbarre, Pennsylvania Thursday. Two collieries were flooded.

THE
RAILROAD COMPANY

Are building a trunk line, connecting New Orleans with Mobile on the east, and giving

THE ONLY RAILROAD CONNECTION

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226¾ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

INTERESTING ADDRESS.

The following address, delivered to the Grand Jury at the opening of the session of the Supreme Judical Court in Cheshire County, april 4, 1871, by William L. Foster, Presiding Justice, is a model in its way, and quite as likely to do the jury good as a long winded speech on some abstruse point of law:

The Colony of New Hampshire, as you know, was annexed to its more powerful neighbor, Massachusetts, by the voluntary act of the people; not as a Province, but on equal terms, as an integral portion of the State, by virtue of a solemn contract executed April 15, 1641. This association was continued to the great satisfaction of all parties, except "a discontended few," till the compact was dissolved by the King, Sept. 16, 1679.

New Hampshire was the first royal government ever established in New England. The King, reserving to himself and his officers a negative voice, engaged to give and to continue to the people the privilege of an Assembly, unless he or his heirs should deem that privilege an inconvenience. But this legislative Assembly, which was inaugurated at Portsmouth early in the spring of 1680, became extremely "inconvenient" to His Majesty, in just two months after its organization, and was dissolved accordingly, by the royal Governor. For it had impudently dared, in words like these, to strike the key-note which sounded so bravely a century later in the Declaration of Independence; "No act, imposition, law or ordinance, shall be made or imposed upon us but such shall be made by the Assembly." The Assembly was dissolved, but the word had gone forth. It was the fiat lux, which laid the foundation-stone of our liberties as a rock on which the waves of oppression should afterwards beat in vain.

The stern piety of our fathers was the first element of their character to which statutory expression was given. The first page and the first lines of their recorded laws open thus: "If any man, having the knowledge of the true God, openly and manifestly have or worship any other God than the Lord God, he shall be put to death." Treason, murder, witchcraft, perjury, and man-stealing, were visited with the same penalty. It was also enacted that "if any person speak contemptuously of the holy scriptures, or the holy penmen thereof, or behave himself contemptuously towards the word of God preached, or any minister of God, he shall be fined twenty shillings or set in the stocks."

Not only was attendance upon the services of public worship on the Sabbath enjoined as a Christain duty, while all sorts of recreation, even walking abroad in the fields, was prohibited by statue, but reverential and decorous behavior in and out of the sanctuary on the Lord's day was enforced by municipal legislation. Thus, we learn that in Portsmouth, at a town meeting held Sept. 25, 1662, it was "ordered that a cage be made, or some other means invented by the selectmen to punish such as sleep or take tobacco on the Lord's day, in or out of the meeting in time of public worship." Accordingly, July 24, 1671, the selectmen contracted with John Pickering to build a cage twelve feet square, with stocks within it, and a pillory on the top, a convenient space from the west end of the meeting house.

Of such doubtful propriety was the indulgence of such frivolous, not to say positively sinful amusements as dancing, that a petition to one of the earliest legislatures for leave to establish a dancing school at Portsmouth, signed by a brother of the Governor and others, encountered a most powerful remonstrance from the friends of sobriety and good order, and the dancing-school was prohibited. Similarly unsuccessful was the attempt to establish a "playhouse," resisted by the remonstrants on the ground that "If this thing be not forbidden, every servant in town will soon turn player; because the players will carry off all the gold and silver in the town; and because the land is poor and that men with difficulty pay their taxes."

Before we pass by our reference to the ancient laws, let me not forget to mention these two enactments: "If any person shall swear more oaths than one at a time before he removes out of the room or company where he soe sweared, he shall pay twenty shillings." "If any person shall lie, with intent to deceive and abuse the people with false news, he shall be punished by fine or the pillory." And by way of indication that these laws were not regarded as dead letters, we learn from a record of court that in 1662, one R. Smith, for lying concerning seeing a whale, was fined twenty dollars.

Among the earliest laws was this: "A rebellious son who shall curse or smite his or her parents shall be put to death, unless it be shown that parents have been very unchristianly negligent of the education of such children."

The means of education, according to the facilities furnished by the schools of those days, namely: no books but the Testament and Psalter were guaranteed by a law whereby a penalty of ten pounds—no small sum in those days—was imposed upon such towns as should fail to provide a school-master for the supply of the town.

The Judges, in those days, were not always lawyers. Two of the four at one period, Farrar and Dudley, were men who never studied the law; and one of them had very little education of any sort, acquired in the simple schools of the day; but they were men of strong practical common sense and inflexible integrity.

The ministers, forced by the scanty salaries provided for them, to resort to various other employments, in addition to their clerical duties, often wrought out the Sunday sermon in the brain while their hard hands held the plow or swung the axe.

Vain and idle superstitions gained no such mastery over the minds of the people here as was the case in Massachusetts. There, Cotton Mather preached and taught—here, Joshua Moody of Strawberry Bank. The one endeavored to support the doctrine of the supernatural power of evil spirits—the other assailed it not only by argument and logic but with sarcasm and ridicule.

Nevertheless our ancient legislators held sufficient faith in witchcraft and in the personal machinations of the Devil, to endeavor to guard the people from harm in that regard by such a law as this: "If any Christian, so called, be a witch yt is hath, or consulteth with a familiar spirit, he or they shall be put to death," and for further guaranty of security the iron horse shoe nailed above the door took the place of the legend which adorned the wainscots of the Old English homesteads.

The death-penalty was never inflicted upon a convicted witch in this State; but Eunice Cole, "a bent and bleary-eyed poor old soul," in her lonely hut on Hampton Beach, fell under suspicion, and, for alleged complicity with evil spirits was for a long time imprisoned by order of the Court.

And Jane Walford was tried in Portsmouth in 1656, upon the complaint of Mrs. Trimmings that being accosted by the said Jane and requested to lend her a pound of flax, she, the complainant, was struck as with a clap of fire on the back, while Jane vanished toward the water-side in the shape of a cat. Genuine witchs' garb Jane wore—"a linen hood tied under her chin; her waistcoat and petticoat were red, she had an old green apron, and a black hat on her head."

Upon her trial, Agnes Paddington affirmed that "Mrs. Evans said she was followed by a yellow cat, wherever she went. John came and saw the cat in the garden and took down his gun to shoot her. The cat got up on a tree and the gun would not take fire." Jane was supposed to be this yellow cat.

We are glad to know that she was not shot by John, nor burned by the officers of the law, as was the mode of execution usually suffered by witches, but was allowed to go her ways, with her red petticoat, green apron and black hat.

And we are not sorry to learn that she brought her action for slander against Robert Couch, for saying that she, the said Jane "was a witch, and he could prove her one," and by the verdict of a jury recovered five pounds damages.

CHOICE IOWA LANDS.

This Company is now offering for sale about six hundred thousand acres of the finest agricultural lands in the West. The Company sells only to actual settlers, and the prices are exceedingly reasonable, ranging from $5 to $15 per acre—the average being about $8. The greater part of these lands are situated along the line of its railroad between the cities of Des Moines and Council Bluffs, and are in the most accessible and fertile region in the State.

Sales made for cash or on credit long enough to enable any industrious man to pay for the land out of its crops.

These lands are held under a title direct from the General Government, and are not mortgaged or encumbered in any way. Full warranty deeds given to purchasers.

For maps, pamphlets, or any other information respecting them, address EBENEZER COOK, Land Commissioner, Davenport, Iowa.

EXPLORING TICKETS are sold at the Company's ticket offices at Chicago, and all other principal stations on its line, and if the purchaser buys land the amount paid for the ticket is applied on the purchase money.

THE GREAT EQUIVALENT.—The world may be safely challenged to produce so perfect a simulation or anything in nature, as

Tarrant's Seltzer Aperient

Is of its original, the Seltzer Spring of Germany. The Aperient, based on a correct analysis of the Seltzer Water, is even superior to the manufacture of Nature herself, because it contains all the active medicinal properties of the spring, unalloyed by any of the inert and useless particles found in all mineral fountains. The genuine article being secured, you have the Seltzer Water of Europe, purified and perfected, and probably the best, the most genial cathartic and antibilious preparation on the face of the earth.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Reconstructor and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawf6b16

INTERESTING ADDRESS.

But though witches kept respectful distance from our borders, content with holding high carnival in our neighboring commonwealth, the Devil himself appeared one night in bodily presence, to vex the soul of Mistress Bailey—at least she said so.

Now this good lady lived not a hundred miles from this place of our assembling, and not so many as four score years has the green grass waved above her. She was not a witch, but in one essential particular she accorded with the habit of Margaret Rule, concerning whom, being charged with witchcraft, Cotton Mather tells us they made ecclesiastical inquiry as follows: "Question — What does she eat or drink?"

"Answer—She does not eat at all, but she drinks rum."

It happened that mother Bailey was returning one evening from the village grocery to her remote and lonely dwelling bearing a jug, filled with her daily sustenance. Whether the burden was too heavy and thus the bearer thereof had indiscreetly lightened it, tradition has not told us; but in the deepening twilight, suddenly, in the middle of her path the devil appeared, with hoof and horns complete, and sulphurous smell, and whatever else, according to popular conception, properly belonged to the Devil, and accosted Mrs. Bailey. He presented a document which sustained the double character. The Devil sought no paltry gold from Mrs. Bailey, but only the influence of her name, and to obtain her signature he placed in her hand a black quill dipped in blood. The good lady's early education having been neglected, she proceeded to signify herself by the sign of the X; when, suddenly in the midst of a blue flame and an infernal smell, the Devil flew, and Mistress Bailey fell to the ground insensible. Upon resuscitation and information given of the affair, an inquest of ministers was held in the good old town of —— in our county of Merrimack, and, after a full and protracted investigation, incredible as it may seem, it was finally resolved that Mrs. Bailey did not see the Devil.

And we are glad to know that, by the timely separation of this Province from Massachusetts, the disgrace does not attach to us of the infliction of the punishment of pressing, upon poor Giles Corey, who, in Salem in 1692, for refusing to plead to an indictment charging him with witchcraft, received the following sentence of the Court, which was literally executed upon him, and by means of which he suffered: "It is ordered that the prisoner shall be sent to the prison from which he came, and put into a mean room stopped from the light, and shall there be laid on the bare ground, without any litter straw or other covering, and without any garment about him except about his loins. He shall lie upon his back, his head shall be covered and his feet bare; one of his arms shall be drawn with a cord to one side of the room and the other arm to the other side, and his legs shall be served in the like manner. Then there shall be laid upon his body as much iron or stone as he can bear and more. And the first day after he shall have three morsels of barley bread without any drink; and the second day he shall be allowed to drink as much as he can at three times, of the water that is next the prison door, except running water; and this shall be his diet till he dies; and he shall forfeit his goods to the King."

This was a hundred and eighty years ago. It is the only instance in America of the infliction of this terrible punishment for "standing mute" or refusing to plead on indictment. This compulsory process was resorted to, because, it was said, that without plea there could be no trial or judgment. In 1772 the English Parliament passed an act to the effect that all persons refusing to plead shall be deemed guilty, as if convicted by a jury. (An alteration, says the editor of the Newgate Calendar, that does honor to modern times.) But in New Hampshire, so early as 1777, it was enacted that upon refusal to plead, the plea of not guilty shall be entered and the trial shall proceed in the same manner as if the prisoner had voluntarily pleaded.

It may not be inappropriate, in this connection, to allude briefly to the manners and customs of a century ago. They are thus sketched in an article published in the Cheshire Gazette of April 28, 1826, and though the article has special reference to the town of Walpole, it will doubtless apply equally to this meridian.

At this time, 1762, there were about twelve or fifteen log houses in the town. The meeting house was unfinished; there was not a carriage in town, the travelling being performed on foot or on horseback. Sometimes three or four children were carried in this way at a time, beside a wife on the pillion, and upsetting a load of this magnitude was not an uncommon occurrence.

Col. Benjamin Bellows was the most considerable man in the town. (Why should he not be? His enterprise and industry, his bravery and integrity were all considerable.)

A remarkable trait in the character of the first settlers was their punc-

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to friends and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has had the opportunity of proving that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times verified in the light of day and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is natural. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the lungs and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It moves from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. The cure is now progressing, without its previous fortunes. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest blessed purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten the consummation. They enters at ones upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is exploded, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, stops forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air is good, but exposing in this season of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course know little of the effects of their cures are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet! they must work about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patient must have a good appetite—he determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

Undoubtedly the most remarkable feature of this, in all the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal experience has taught him even cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week. I then had a cough so incessant, racking at times, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and which made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in the lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, night sweats, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was difficult to satisfy it, for fear of my eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only two hundred pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York. His office is at his residence, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continues to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, crate appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the designing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JULY 17, 1871.

"SAVE ME FROM MY FRIENDS" would be the cry of Tammany Hall, if that august Monarchy could only hear the frantic shouts of its acrobatic Daily organ in this city. Not a word of editorial comment can we find in several of the leading Democratic dailies of the State, regarding the Irish Ku-Klux riots in New York; but the Portsmouth organ of the rioters blazes out with an indiscreet zeal and impudent assurance that would be overpowering if it was less amusing. The Concord Patriot and Manchester Union contented themselves with giving telegraphic or collated details of the actual facts as reported, but not a word has either one said editorially in condemnation or approval of the truckling order of Oakey—or Tammany—Hall, or of the decided but tardy proclamation of Gov. Hoffman. If they have we have failed to find it. Perfectly aware that the more the matter is stirred the worse odor will Tammany and its tools be in, they are content to let bad enough alone, and not make it any worse for their own side by indiscreetly attempting to defend what is wholly indefensible. But the local Lyre makes haste to take up the cudgels in favor of Tammany, and a pretty mess it makes of it, too.

On the 13th, the day after the riots, it announced that the Orangemen and others had "undertaken to get up a demonstration in opposition to and in ridicule of the Catholic church," and after a longwinded attempt to make out that the Republican party and the Orangemen were equally the aggressors and equally guilty of creating the riots, with its customary disregard—not for truth, which is not looked for in that quarter, but for even reasonable probability, coolly adds: "The conduct of the Republican press and the Radical leaders in New York, in relation to this sad affair, is almost universally condemned even by the masses of their own party!" This mendacious assertion is only on a par with its constant statements of having "abundant evidence" (which is never given) to prove its reports and of "numerous Republicans" writing to and flocking into the office of that paper to complain of "how the CHRONICLE is conducted!" [illegible] tradicted by the gentlemen referred to) that "all the delegation from Ward Two agree that the ward is entitled to but three Representatives" and that Hon. Horton D. Walker declared he would not have taken his seat had he known the true state of the case,—so nobody was surprised to read it. The Republicans are a unit in support of the party press on this question, and we cannot—nor can the paper we refer to—name a single man in its ranks who does not feel proud that American liberty was upheld in New York against the mob. We can name several Democrats who are proud of it, in this city.

The day following this notable exposé of the demoralization in the Republican ranks, consequent on the demands of the party press that all liberty should not be thrown to the gutter-snipes of New York, it howls at the papers which charge Tammany with bloodguiltiness, and proceeds "as one having authority"—its usual custom on all questions—to tell all about the cause of the riots, give a full description of the character of the rioters, and absolve Saint Tammany from blame.

It informs the public that the mobs were almost entirely made up of new arrivals from Ireland; but the published lists of dead and wounded show that those injured have been in this country an average of some seven years. It says, "all the prominent Irishmen of the city, the men who act with Tammany, exerted every means in their power to preserve order;" but the Port Warden of New York, placed there by Tammany for no other reason than that he was the great Irish leader, is the head of the Hibernians and was the first to commence organizing for an armed attack on the Orangemen; and Mayor Hall's surrender to the ruffians was as direct an encouragement to them to go on with their infamous work, as the rattling volleys of the soldiery were for them to go off.

In defending Tammany from a charge of having educated the savage hordes to lawlessness and violence, it says: "it (hatred of the Orangemen) is nothing they have learned in this country, it is the outcroppings of a hatred, bred in them from their youth up." True; but we are not obliged to oppress all whom they hate, nor give up our laws for their prejudices; they come here to be our political equals,—not our masters; and had Tammany done its duty one year ago, and punished the bloodthirsty mob of Irish employes of the city—park laborers and street cleaners—who murdered eleven Orangemen in presence of their wives and families, while on a peaceable picnic, there would have been no necessity for ordering out the troops this year. But no one of the miscreants was made to answer for his crime—Tammany must have the Irish vote; and emboldened by immunity from punishment they fancied themselves able to dictate to the State and the nation—tried it, and failed. And it should not be forgotten that up to the last moment, the representatives of Tammany confined their repressive measures entirely to the party which was threatened, and if they did not (as we say they did) encourage, at least tolerated the murderous preparations of the aggressors, even up to the morning of the 12th.

It also charges the Republican leaders with being indirectly the cause of the troubles, by "urging the Orangemen into this demonstration," yet in another place it says: "That the Orangemen had a right to parade no one will deny." That it can be wrong to exercise a right may be Democratic logic, but it is not common sense; and if "the Orangemen had a right to parade," then the men who opposed that right were the only ones in fault, even allowing (what is not true) that the Republican leaders did advise the Orangemen to exercise their "right." The honest man who has his watch stolen in a crowd of thieves is not generally considered guilty of causing a crime, although the thief could not steal it if the honest man did not have it with him; he has a "right" to carry it, and the temptation he puts in the path of the criminal by exercising his right is never considered. The Orangemen had a right to march, chose to exercise that right, and demanded protection of the law as being themselves law-abiding citizens; the men who vote solid for Tammany and immunity for crime, interfered with the others "rights," broke the laws and the peace, and got killed; and the Republican party is to blame for it all!

THE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, July 14, the Manchester & Claremont railroad bill was laid over.

Bills appropriating $6000 to the State reform school and $5000 to the State agricultural college, and a resolution granting $300 to the Prisoners' [illegible] were passed.

The House bill amending chapter 3, pamphlet laws of 1870, repealing the liquor act of that year, was indefinitely postponed. A motion to reconsider was defeated, 7 to 5.

The House bill allowing railroads to take lands for depots, side tracks, &c., was passed.

Senator Holbrook, (Senator Campbell in the chair) presented a resolution of thanks to the president, clerk and assistant clerk, which was passed.

In the House the bill to regulate the sale of medicines and poison was referred to the next legislature.

The Senate amendment making the appropriation for the State normal school $5000, was concurred in.

The bill authorizing the State treasurer to issue bonds assuming the war expenditures of the towns by the State, fixed on the basis of the quota and time of service as provided by the legislation of 1870, was passed. The amount of bonds to be issued under this act will amount to nearly two million dollars, to bear date January 1, 1872, interest semi-annually.

A resolution exempting Gosport from State tax was laid on the table.

A bill allowing railroads to take land for depots, passed 128 to 38.

The State treasurer was authorized to use the surplus funds in the purchase of bonds, not exceeding $200,000.

The resolution appropriating $1500 for fish commissioners was called up and passed.

The further consideration of the bill for the preservation of ballots cast, and the bills in relation to capital punishment and to savings banks, were postponed, and other unimportant bills were passed over.

Judge Fowler introduced the customary resolutions of thanks to Speaker Gove, which met with a hearty response from all parties and passed unanimously.

The House held its final session on Saturday. A message was received from the Senate of concurrence in the House acts and a refusal to concur in the removal of Grove S. Stevens, Sheriff of Grafton county. A committee of ten was appointed by the Chair to wait on the Governor and inform him that they had completed the business. The Governor prorogued the House to the last Wednesday in May next. The Senate also notified the Governor and was likewise prorogued.

THE New York rioters had made no further disturbance up to Saturday evening, and probably have had enough of it for the present, though it is said the regiments intending to accompany the funerals of the soldiers killed, on Sunday, had orders to load with ball cartridges before the start, owing to threats made by the Irish. The list of known dead increases, now numbering 55, and others are dying. The general committee of the Irish democratic union in New York, held a meeting, Friday evening, when several members made speeches condemning Governor Hoffman for allowing the Orange parade. The city papers are almost unanimous in their praise of the magnificent conduct of the police, and it is agreed on all hands that Colonel Fisk did all that could be expected of any one. Funerals of a number of the rioters took place Friday, and several were accompanied by the lodges of Hibernians in full regalia. Crowds of people gathered on the sidewalks to view this significant pageant.

IRISHTOWN, which comprises almost the whole of Ward 5, Brooklyn, and is the most notorious den of illicit whiskey distillers and other criminals in the United States, was raided by U. S. deputy-marshals and a guard of marines, Friday morning; two of the distilleries were broken up and two whiskey manufacturers captured. Three of the party were wounded by pistol shots fired from basements and windows.

THE powder works of St. Maur, near Paris, exploded July 14, and a large number of woman and children were killed and wounded. Many persons were buried under the rubbish.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvest generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant and gentle exhilarant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one of every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop frauds. ASK for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

THE WORLD IS IN ARMS

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

proved by time and sanctioned by practical chemists, has become the standard article of its class throughout the length and breadth of the land. It is poisonless, rapid in its operation, certain to produce the required shade of color, and has no equal among hair dyes, either in the United States or Europe. To beautify and soften the hair after dyeing, use

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

REAR ADMIRAL JAMES ALDEN, chief of bureau of equipment, visited the navy yard on Saturday, and received the customary salute.

CHARACTERISTIC of its enterprise, the Eastern Railroad has just turned out two more new and expensive passenger cars—Nos. 93 and 94—for the route between Boston and Bangor via. Portland. Four others are also being finished, and two of them will be put on the iron next week and the other two on the first of August.

WE published an article a short time since concerning the success of Mr. Philip Whittier of Newton as a sheep raiser, in which it was stated that he realized $50.23 last year from the produce of four sheep, and this year has received $71.29 from the sale of the lambs and wool of five sheep. A Newington subscriber thinks that is very good, but that his town will beat Newton; Mr. Joshua P. Fabyan of Newington owning four sheep from which he has this season raised nine lambs, (one other having died,) which he sold for $63, and the wool of the sheep for $10.30, making $73.30 as the produce of four sheep for one year. He says if anybody can beat this showing, Newington will raise more wool and lambs from a smaller number of sheep, sooner than take a second seat.

OUR Democratic brethren at Concord waxed facetious near the close of their long labors in behalf of their party,—for which the State has to pay "$2000 per diem," according to their own reckoning. At the close of the evening session of the House of Representatives, on Friday last, the Labor Reformers and Democrats were requested to meet immediately at Eagle Hall, where Harry Bingham was presented with a $75 gold-headed cane "in acknowledgment of his services for the party, [it would have been a pity had they stopped at that, and thus deprived us of the rich joke they made by adding] and political economy of the State!" That Harry Bingham has worked hard during the session, for his party and his own prospective elevation to the U. S. Senatorship, no one can deny; that he has worked for anything else no one will suspect—and what service he has rendered the "economy (political or otherwise) of the State" by his partizan schemes, which caused the waste of so much public money, is hard to see. His service as an "economist" may be inferred from the fact that he didn't consider the recent session long enough, and that a reconsideration of the resolution to adjourn, on his motion, was only prevented by the prompt action of the Senate!

SIXTEEN persons set out from Prescott, Arizona, recently, and joining a detatchment of the third cavalry went in pursuit of the Apaches who had attacked Bowen & Co.'s herdsmen. They surrounded them and killed fifty-six before starting for home.

THE Irish Societies of New York, on the night of July 11, (probably after they had completed their preparations for assassinating the Orangemen on the morrow,) adopted an address to the people of America, "repudiating the charge of intolerance made against them for the opposition to the Orange parade. They claim to be loyal citizens, who never by parades or banners insult any portion of the citizens." A significant commentary on this profession is found in the fact that the Hibernian societies which so bitterly denounced the permission given to the Orangemen to exercise their legal rights, and tried to murder them for walking in procession, have since then been attending the funerals of their dead—killed while engaged in an organized attempt at murder—in full regalia!

RUM caused the funeral of Jane Burns, a woman who died in Chelsea, Mass., in a drunken fit on Wednesday night of last week, to be deferred on Friday, the time appointed for it to take place. There were plenty of carriages in attendance, but no coffin and no hearse, and the corpse was lying on the floor with the husband stretched dead drunk beside it. No little indignation was expressed by the assembled mourners at being deprived of their afternoon's recreation. What a blessing is rum! and what free man would not sooner yield up his life than the inestimable privilege of getting drunk when he pleases?

THE editor of the Walnut Valley (Kansas) Gazette having received several threatening letters, his wife was much terrified and excited thereby, and on the 2d inst., seeing her husband in company with several strange men, she became insane from her fears, cut her infant's throat with a razor so that it died at once, and her own so that her life is despaired of.

THE LONDON TIMES makes the New York riot a text for an article upon the condition of affairs in Ireland, which concludes as follows: "If Irish feuds are as implacable in America as they are in Ireland, and more sanguinary, Irishmen must ask themselves whether the Irish nation is not more responsible for troubles in Ireland than England's misrule."

THE BEER QUESTION in Massachusetts was not decided wholly in favor of the brewers. Of the 340 towns in the State, 61 prohibited the sale of beer by voting "No," 242 by not voting at all, and 2 by a tie vote: total number of towns prohibiting, 305. Thirty cities and towns voted to sell, and 5 are not yet heard from.

THE rumsellers of Chelsea, Mass., have subscribed $200 to secure counsel for "Glees" Conners, charged with murdering police officer Wilbur. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

ST. JOSEPH, Missouri, experienced a terrible hurricane on Thursday night, which caused the death of four or five persons and damage to the extent of $200,000.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226¾ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

tuality in attending public worship.

Mr. Leavitt, the minister, like other clergymen of the day, wore a large wig, full powdered, and when he entered the meeting house, the congregation rose to do obeisance to the man in black, who in his turn, always responded with a formal bow. Powder was not worn on the hair by those who were contented with the use of eel-skin, which was considered as adding dignity to the wearer, in proportion to the size and length of the queue. Officers of the militia wore cocked hats. Of the ladies, Mrs. Leavitt took the lead in dress. At church she wore a full suit of brocade lutestring, without any bonnet, holding a fan to shade the sun from her face as was the fashion 'down country.'

Next to her were the daughters of Col. Bellows, and their two half sisters, Jenisons. They wore plain, Quaker bonnets of black silk; white or colored ones were not seen. Home-made durants, camblets and serges full of gay flowers of artificial needle-work were fashionable articles. Stockings of their own knitting and high-heeled shoes with buckles were indispensable."

Of this Col Bellows many good stories are told, for example: In order to make suitable provision for public worship, each settler was taxed seven shillings for preaching, and a vote was passed to meet at the fort or near by on the Lord's day. There, as in Keene, the shadow of the fort was deemed essential to security; and in 1761 it was voted in town-meeting that Benjamin Bellows provide seats and other conveniences for said purpose.

At the next year the fifth article in the warrant for town-meeting was "to agree and provide for some house for to meet in on the Lord's day for the present year;" and in the ensuing town-meeting it was voted, fifteenthly, "that each settler or inhabitant work four days each or pay twelve shillings toward setting up a frame for a meeting house fifty-six feet long and forty-two in width, and that Benjamin Bellows make up the rest."

It is said that the minister having dragged home his negro slave, a woman, who had ran away, by a rope attached to his saddle, Col. Bellows declared that such cruelty should not be tolerated; that he settled Parson Leavitt and now he would unsettle him. It is evident that Col. Bellows was "considerable" of a man.

On the whole, gentlemen, I think we cannot err in the direction of paying too much reverence to the memory of the fathers of New England. Their courage and patience under the disheartening labors attendant upon the planting of settlements in the rough wilderness; their long hard struggles in defence of their homes against the claims of an English landlord; their resistance to illegal taxation and every other form of monarchical oppression; their bravery in the terrible encounters and cruelties of the Indian wars; the quick response of two thousand New Hampshire men to the cry for help sent up from Lexington, in the dawn of the Revolution; their frugality, their simple tastes, their warm, true hearts and manly virtues, their industrious and earnest Christian faith—all these were required, all these supplied to the work of laying the foundations, deep, broad and abiding of our own prosperity and strength. "Show me the walls," said to Sparta," was the demand addressed to a Grecian commander. The General caused his forces to be drawn up like brave Wolfe's, before the city, and pointing to the array exclaimed: "There is the wall, and every man in it is a brick!"

Your own observation, gentlemen, will at once suggest to you, what time fails me to mention, the innumerable changes for the better in the laws and customs of the people, since those days. But before we take leave of the subject, it may be well for us to answer, in our minds, the pertinent inquiry propounded by old Captain Roger Clapp, of Dorchester, Mass., who dying in 1693 left for the benefit of his children a narrative of his experience during the preceding sixty years, wherein he tells them—"You have better food and raiment than was in former days, but have you better hearts than your fathers had? If so rejoice in that mercy and let all New England shout for joy. Sure, all the people of God in other parts of the world that shall hear that the children and grandchildren of the first planters of New England have better hearts and are more heavenly than their predecessors were, will doubtless greatly rejoice and will say 'this is the generation whom the Lord hath blessed!'"

It may not be amiss to mention the names of the children of Roger Clapp to whom this legacy of admonition was bequeathed. They were Samuel, William, Elizabeth, Experience, Waitstill, Preserved, Hope-still, Wait, Thanks, Desire, Thomas, Unite, and last (and appropriately so called) Supply.

So you see gentlemen, times change, and we change with them. What our fathers hoped and labored for, we are fulfilling now in the development of the material prosperity of the country. With the advantages afforded us by the means of universal education, the great career of the nation and of our own State has been rapidly as well as clearly advancing.

Casting off whatever of bigotry, superstition and narrow-mindedness was engendered and cherished under the institution and government of the former days—"not degenerated and drooping to a fatal decay, but entering the glorious ways of truth and prosperous virtue"—great and honorable will be our position in these latter ages, if we but fulfil the purposes of our existence by doing our several duties in our allotted stations. I have no doubt, gentlemen, that you will fulfil yours, on the present occasion.

*I strongly suspect the veracity of this anecdote in all its particulars, notwithstanding it is recorded in the London Punch.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfebl5

The Chronicle.

—Mrs. E. C. Stanton and Miss Susan B. Anthony are lecturing in San Francisco.

—Sigel has a poor opinion of Cabral and remarks, "I could kick that nigger mit one hand."

—Olive Logan says she is thirty-two, and an ungallant editor adds: "Yes, she told us so in 1827."

—Kansas City papers report the "suicide market depressed." Not a single case on Tuesday.

—Some one reminds us that although the Orangemen are all Protestants, the orangewomen are nearly all Roman Catholics.

—A hopeful youth in Fort Wayne, after tearfully accepting a Bible from his aunty, walked off and exchanged it for a copy of Bret Harte's poems.

—A Utica man sat on his umbrella at a lecture to prevent its theft. When he got up it was gone, and he wants to know where and how. Probably it hatched out.

—The annual report of an educational institution in an eastern State mentions the resignation of one of the teachers, a young lady, to engage in domestic relations."

—A young candidate for the legal profession was asked what he should first do when employed to bring an action. "Ask for money on account," was the reply. He passed.

—"What sustained our revolutionary sires during their struggle for liberty?" was what a New Canaan pedagogue asked a boy, and was astonished when the boy said, "their legs, sir."

—It is stated that Dr. Bellows is throwing cold water on the establishment of the contemplated Unitarian theological seminary in Chicago. And well he might. Can any good come out of Nazareth?

—Robert Laird Collier has the credit of saying that "heaven will not shut forever, without a knocker on the door for those who are left behind." Which is just like him. The men who have escaped out of the hell-fire theology deal it the hardest blows.—Golden Age.

—A genuine case of that almost unknown disease, leprosy, is reported from the Essex county (N. J.) almshouse, the victim being a butcher who has been troubled for years with an eruptive disease, which has lately proven worse, and has now developed into leprosy.

—A new-made minister having occasion to marry a couple as his first official act, and there being quite an assemblage present, he determined to strike them dumb with awe, and so in winding up he said, "I pronounce you man and wife, and the Lord have mercy on your sinful souls!"

—A steamer from Australia brings accounts of the recent scare caused there by the report that a piratical expedition was fitting out in San Francisco to make a descent on the island. The colonists expended some millions of dollars, called out volunteers, erected earth-works and improvised a fleet to repel the filibusters, before they discovered that the story was a canard, originating in two joking boys.

—Michael O'Brien, who keeps a hotel up at Conshohocken, in the Schuylkill Valley, is a man of such candor as to deserve more than a local fame. In the window of his bar-room is posted this placard: "Young Men and Boys Are Forbidden to Occupy These Seats. They Will Find Their Way Here Too Soon For Their Own Good." What shall we say for honest Michael? Let Tilton make a note of this placard, in the "Signs of the Times."

—Love actually made one Iowa man mad, which his name is Palmester. About four years ago, when young, handsome and witty, he fell in love-at-first-sight with a young lady on the cars, and followed her to her home in Kentucky. There, after some delay, he obtained an introduction, and learned that she was engaged to another. He then took to liquor, and in a short time lost his reason completely. He now talks of the lady continually, recognizes none of his friends, and looks as if fifty years old. The physicians consider it a very remarkable case.

—It does not seem comely in the Tribune to be forever attacking Gen. Butler. The country owes much to this man, and expects yet more from him. We cannot see why he should be the constant target of so many presses in his own party. His ability in public affairs is undoubted, nor do we know of any just accusation against his integrity. He is supposed to be unscrupulous, but we know him well, and have as much faith in him as in the average moral caliber of American politicians. That he is rude and vulgar in his private tastes and habits, is a slander. He is uncommonly delicate and nice in all his personal ways. Gen. Butler is both a statesman and a gentleman. If he should become Governor of Massachusetts, the state would, in our judgement, honor itself and profit its citizens by the choice.—Golden Age.

Consumption.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that without sufficient nutriment, consumption, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times confirmed by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the mainly is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originated in the digestive organs

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The Coos Republican says: "Maline, wife of Orrin Lombard, of Errol, recently took a new departure' with Isaac York, and Orrin's house has been left unto him desolate ever since."

Two Nashua machinists who were at work in Pepperell on Wednesday, were obliged to walk three miles to get their dinner, Pepperell people being afraid to have them enter the houses for fear of the small pox.

Milford at a recent meeting raised $1500 for schools and $200 to purchase two fire engines.

The post-office at Gonic was broken open a few nights since, and $250 stolen. The thief was arrested.

The late graduating class at the Dover High School numbered 18. The new class just admitted numbers 50.

Charles M. Robinson, Esq., City Marshal of Nashua, has resigned.

The board of police-commissioners of New York have entirely exonorated the 84th Regt. from blame for premature shooting. Governor Randolph was serenaded at Morristown, New Jersey, on Friday night. Reference was made to the riot in many of the New York churches, Sunday, and the funeral of Page and Wyatt was attended by immense crowds. There was no disturbance at the funeral, but Captain Swift and Lieutenant Cardozo of the 71st Regt. while returning from the funeral in uniform, were attacked by a mob who tried to stab them. Lieutenant Cardozo drew a revolver and protected his chief until they reached their homes. No one was injured. John Mahoney, the ringleader, was arrested. Hoffman has sent a letter to Supt. Kelso, warmly complimenting him on the conduct of the police force for their discipline, bravery, intelligence and discretion during the riots.

The Winona (Minn.) Republican says as a sequel to the grand naval fight on the West Wisconsin railroad bridge, at Hudson, between the lumbermen and the railroad companies' pile drivers, the former captured a pile driving machine and towed it up to Stillwater; that the arts of diplomacy were finally employed, and resulted in a compromise, whereby the railroad men agreed to leave ample space between the piers for the passage of rafts, and the lumbermen promised not to interfere again with the bridge.

Two men were mysteriously murdered by some unknown person near Fairburg, Nebraska, recently; Col. John Pence was murdered at Port Calden, N. J., on Thursday; Santanta and Big Tree, the Kiowa chiefs captured at Fort Sill, were shot while trying to escape; and a rumseller in New York murdered a man on Sunday, for not thinking as he did on the riot question. Two men were dangerously wounded by roughs in Boston, Sunday night.

Thaddeus Lincoln, aged 18 years, universally known as "Tad" Lincoln, youngest son of the late President, died at the Clifton House, Chicago, at seven o'clock Saturday morning, July 15, of dropsy of the heart. He was taken ill a few days after returning from Europe. During his illness his mother has been a constant attendant, and she is completely prostrated in her affliction.

The deepening of the Illinois and Michigan Canal was completed July 15, and the dam at Bridgeport cut away. The waters of Lake Michigan and Chicago River are flowing in the direction of Illinois River to the Mississippi. The work of deepening has been in progress about five years, and has cost the city of Chicago over three million dollars.

If the artist who illustrated the Tammany "Big Injuns," in Harper Weekly, could have photographed the Democratic demagogues at Concord last week, he would have obtained a picture equally Nast-y.

There has been a warm debate in the Spanish cortes for several days on the colonial policy of the government. The cortes has voted the budget, and it has been resolved to keep Cuba at any cost.

The grand jury at Baltimore has found a true bill against Mrs. Wharton for poisoning General Ketchum and attempting to poison Eugene Van Ness, and she has been taken to jail.

—Nine stables, one residence, the post-office, six stores and two law-offices in Bellefonte, Penn., were burned on Saturday night. Loss $40,000.

—At Osceola, Missouri, on the 9th of June, Jacob Hensing, charged with the murder of James Hughes, was taken from jail by a party of vigilantes and hanged.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A crowd of "horse men," and others daily throng the stores in country and town for Sheridan's Cosmoline Condition Powders. They understand that horses cannot be kept in good condition without them, and with them can be kept on a much less quantity of grain.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvest generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant and gentle exhilarant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one of every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, it is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

Crisnadero's Excelsior Hair Dye

MONUMENTS AND HEADSTONES.

THE BEST AND CHEAPEST place to buy, is at

PHILBRICK'S,

Pier Wharf, State Street.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS

RAILROAD COMPANY

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $13,500 per mile, and

SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or $200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, as 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come to my knowledge that it has not given satisfaction. It is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep on hand a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINTS, in the City. Also Dealer in

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Varieties—H. W. Mason.
Portsmouth Hair Store—Mrs. Moran.

THE annual meeting of the Piscataqua Agricultural Society will be held this (Tuesday) evening at a quarter to 8 o'clock, at the National House, for election of officers and other important business.

MISS C. H. SNOW, the attentive, obliging and skillful operator of the Western Union Telegraph in this city, was complimented shortly after taking charge of the Portsmouth office by the presentation of a costly and beautiful bracelet, as a token of the esteem in which she was held by the business men of Bath, Me., the city in which she had last been stationed, for her courtesy, promptness and correctness in dispatching the business of the telegraph office there. Like causes have produced a like effect here, in winning for Miss Snow the good will of all who have business to transact over the Western Union line; and our readers have been indebted to her willingness to oblige for many interesting reports which have come over the wires long after the regular hours for closing the office.

A HEAVY SHOWER, accompanied by lightning, passed over this city on Sunday night, about 12 o'clock. One of the first flashes of lightning, which caused a sound as if all the crockery in the world had been shattered in one tremendous crash, struck the house No. 5 Prospect Street, occupied by Mrs. Ira Dixon, knocked that portion of the chimney above the roof into a pile of bricks, descended to Mrs. Dixon's sleeping room on the lower floor, and there bored a hole through the side of the house about eighteen inches above the level of the bed. The bedstead was split, one of the castors thrown into the corner of the room, and the bed and its occupant dropped to the floor; the lady was stunned for a few minutes, but sustained no other injury. The lightning left no traces of its track between the roof and the lower floor, and Mrs. Dixon's daughter, who had just left her mother's room to close the windows in the upper part of the house, felt nothing of the shock. The escape of both ladies was singular and most fortunate.—— Our informant also mentioned a strange freak of lightning brought to mind by the above circumstance, in Rye, fifteen or twenty years ago, when several school boys were killed, the first boy on a long seat being struck and the second one missed, the third one struck and the fourth one missed—every alternate boy being killed. We had wholly forgotten it, (if we ever before heard of it, of which we are not certain,) but our informant is an older man than we are and we have always found his statements correct. Rockingham County lightning appears to be eccentric in its actions.

Communicated.

Messrs. Editors:—Inasmuch as the Opposition sheet has announced that Alderman Hatch introduced the resolution appointing Mr. Fernald Mayor of the city for the time being, it may be well to give your friends the true state of the case. The meeting of the Aldermen was opened by Alderman Fernald being called to the Chair for the evening; Alderman Hatch read a copy of an act just passed by the Legislature, empowering the Board to fill the vacant office. Whereupon Alderman Mendum immediately drew from his pocket and read, the following preamble and resolution:

Whereas, His Honor Joseph B. Adams is absent and disabled from the performance of his duties by sickness—

Resolved, That Alderman Albert A. Fernald be chairman of this board, and that he perform the duties of the Mayor during his absence and disability, until otherwise ordered by the Board.

Alderman Hatch promptly moved the passage of the resolution, and the motion was (of course) seconded by Alderman Wendell; Messrs. Hatch, Mendum and Wendell voting in the affirmative, the resolution was declared passed, the three aldermen above mentioned constituting the majority present. Messrs. Waldron and Marvin having always opposed measures favored or fathered by the gentlemen from Ward Three, did not vote, as the negative was not called for. Thus the Republican aldermen lost the privilege of expressing their preferences in a matter of vital importance. Why was a resolutionary measure substituted for the open and free ballot in the choice of Mayor? Why was the bestowal of this position thrown into the hands of our opponents? Could not the Republican majority of the board have elected Mr. Adams' successor, without rendering him under obligations to Democrats for his elevation?

T. E. O. M.

OUR correspondent "Aunt Betsey," grieved the tender-hearted youth from whose fertile imagination is manufactured the "reliable information" (supported by "abundant evidence") which appears in the columns of the Lyre, by the following paragraph:

It seems that the Democrats have inaugurated a new political principle, viz., that men over 70 years of age, and therefore not paying a poll tax, are not entitled to the right of representation.

And the good lady is informed, "that in making up the list of ratable polls the Democrats did not strike off the name of a single man because of his being over 70 years of age." If the commentator had read Aunt Betsey's letter with an understanding mind, he would have saved himself the trouble of giving her that gratuitous information, as she only charged the copperheads with denying to men over 70 years of age the right of representation; and according to his own statement, in the hearing before the Elections Committee in the Legislature, "it was claimed that men over seventy years of age, not being ratable polls, are by the Constitution and laws not to be included in fixing the basis of representation; 'but the committee find it unnecessary to consider this question' because, including these names, the Ward is still entitled to no more than three representatives."

From their own showing the Democrats did propose to strike from the list of ratable polls, on which representation is based, the names of all men over 70 years of age, even though they pay thousands of dollars in taxes every year, on the score that they had no right there, while they would keep on the lists the names of the numerous copperhead voters who never even pay a poll tax! They furnished lists of the old men's names to the Committee and had men in Concord to swear to their ages, and the Lyre itself gives as the reason why their names were not struck off, not that it would have been a gross injustice, but "because" they could carry their point without it. If that is not denying them the right of representation we don't know what would be; for if every voter in the ward was over 70 years of age, according to that theory there would be no representation, even though there were ten thousand 70-year-old voters. If Ex-Gov. Goodwin and Col. Peirce are still allowed to be represented, as well as Patrick McWhiskey, who has never paid a poll-tax, it is only because the copperheads did not find it "necessary" to their scheme for reducing the representation of the city, to strike them off the list.

In looking over some old copies of the Lyre, to get his own words as above, we came across a statement that the editor is "unable to find room for a half-dozen communications from our Republican friends in this city," denouncing the CHRONICLE's conduct in relation to the copperhead fugling over Wards 1 and 2; followed by a charge against us of "unscrupulous falsehood." We scorn to throw back his own epithets, but will tell him that the reason he didn't publish those "half-dozen communications" from Republicans was not because he was "unable to find room," but because he was unable to find the "communications;" as he never yet received a single one such as he describes, or he would have been only too glad to print it. He has much to say concerning "abundant evidence" which he could give if he was so minded, in support of any absurd statement he advances; but as the public never get any of the abundant evidence, it is commonly regarded as apocryphal. He is also always "receiving letters from prominent Republicans," condemning the CHRONICLE; but as these are never published, they too are looked upon as being chimeras, or humbugs. We would suggest that it would be a good plan for him to print a few of those denunciatory letters from promihent Republicans, with their signatures, and then he may stand a better chance of gaining credit the next time he talks about having "abundant evidence" which he fails to present.

THE body of Mr. Ferdinand Barr, late assistant lightkeeper at Whale's Back, who was drowned about two weeks ago, was found floating on Monday morning last near the lighthouse, but a few feet from where he fell overboard, by Capt. Day, who has charge of the gang of men employed in erecting the new structure there.

THE Catholics of Dover, Great Falls and other places, with a large number from this city, go to South Berwick today on a picnic. Harlow's Band goes with the Portsmouth delegation.

THE annual exhibition of the Girls' High School commences this (Tuesday) afternoon at half past 2 o'clock.

THERE was a heavy hail storm on Sunday night, over a streak of half a mile wide, in Greenland and Newington, by which the growing crops were much damaged. It is said the hail was an inch in depth in some places, after the storm had passed.

MR. G. H. JENNESS announces an open air concert near his Temperance Saloon at Rye Beach, on Thursday evening, July 20, by Harlow's full Band. Mr. Jenness intends to have similar concerts at short intervals throughout the season, and will furnish the visitors attracted by the fine music with all the ice creams, soda water and Ottawa beer they choose to call for, but "no liquor." Here's a good chance for a pleasant evening's entertainment.

WE heard some time ago (and much regretted to hear) that Mr. Stephen W. Clark, Assistant Teacher in the Boy's High School, contemplated resigning his position on account of failing health. We now learn that he did hand in his resignation, but that the school authorities were loth to accept it; his salary has been increased, and we hope the additional inducement and better health on his part may enable us to retain his services, as Mr. Clark is not only a scholar but possesses in a high degree that faculty for imparting knowledge without which complete success as a teacher cannot be attained.

ABOUT two weeks ago a marine was arrested by Officer Jellison of this city, and taken to the lockup for being drunk. Since then the marine has vowed vengeance against the officer; and being on sentry duty at the Navy Yard on Monday, and mistaking a Mr. Spinney for Mr. Jellison, he went for him with his bayonet, but discovering his mistake he did no injury, telling Mr. Spinney that he was not the man he at first thought, and repeating his threats against the officer. Mr. Spinney reported the affair to the marine officers at the Yard, and the sentry was promptly placed under arrest and will be properly dealt with.

THE ANNUAL EXHIBITION of the Boy's High School, Monday afternoon, passed off pleasantly and creditably, the visitors being numerous enough for comfort, though not crowded, and the room ornamented by bouquets and some fine crayon drawings by the scholars. The programme as published by us this morning was fully carried out.

The names of the Graduating Class who have been through the four years' course of study, are—John James Berry, Ira Foss Burnham, Clarence A. E. Clough, William Henry Gardiner, Fred Gerald Moses, Arthur Francis Pfeiffer, William Laighton Sabine, George Treadwell Sheldon, Edward Carrington Stimson, George Herbert Tarlton, and Arthur Willard Walker; and of the three years' course, Charles William Brock, Frank Sidney Brown, Alberto Carter Fernald, Marshall Everett Gammon, Willis Green Myers, William Nowell Parker, and Frank Sides. Nathaniel B. Sides, of the four years' class, died during the last year of his term.

The medals were awarded as follows: in the second class, to W. H. Moore and Gustave Peyser for "Diligent Application, good deportment and general improvement in all the studies pursued;" in the third class, to W. G. Myers for best English composition, R. I. Waldron for proficiency in bookkeeping and mathematics, and to M. E. Gammon for diligent application and general improvement,—and the following pupils in the third class drew for another medal; F. S. Brown, F. B. Coleman, G. A. Holbrook, C. Lewis and A. E. Woods. In the graduating class, medals were awarded to W. H. Gardiner for proficiency in Latin, to A. W. Walker for mathematics and to E. C. Stimson for general excellence.

The dialogue, "Portsmouth in the year 1900," was written by Dr. James R. May for the occasion, and passed off well. The diplomas to the four years' class were presented by Mr. Hatch, to the three-years' class by Mr. DeMeritt, and the medals by Rev. Mr. Adams, with appropriate remarks in each case. Short addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Dinsmore, J. D. Butler, Esq., Rev. Canon Walsh, Messrs. T. E. O. Marvin, Lyman D. Spalding and others. Mr. Marvin, pointing to a handsome crayon sketch of the first train of cars on the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad, said, "Our old men have dreamed dreams, may our young men see visions." Rev. Mr. Alden concluded the exercises with prayer and benediction. On some former occasions there has been more noise in the ante-rooms than was agreeable, but on Monday the most perfect order prevailed.

MR. H. L. HASTINGS of Boston, editor of the Christian, will preach at the Chapel on Hanover St. this evening; the public are invited.

ARRANGEMENTS are in progress to have the Savannah (Ga.) Base Ball Club visit this city on Saturday next, when it is hoped a game will be played between a Portsmouth picked nine and the Georgians, at the Rockingham Trotting Park. The Savannahs are to play the celebrated Haymakers at New York this week, and then visit Boston; and if the proposed arrangements can be perfected, they will arrive here Friday evening and probably remain until Monday. The club is composed of members of most influential families in Savannah, and a tour of such men through the North will do more to restore good feeling between the different sections of the Union than a thousand federal troops or Ku-Klux outrages. The people of the North and South cannot mingle freely without each discovering much that is good in the other, and mutual respect will induce mutual forbearance. We hope the Club will come to this city, and if they do they will certainly meet no lack of courtesy from our citizens.

THE BI-CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION of the North Parish, on Wednesday and Thursday of this week, is to be an extensive affair. The church is being beautifully and appropriately decorated, and large numbers of distinguished persons connected with the Congregational denomination will arrive from abroad, and be cared for by the members of the Parish at their homes. On Wednesday afternoon a historical address will be delivered, and in the evening there will be a collation, followed by a social reunion to which all members of the Parish above the age of 14 will be admitted. Thursday will be enlivened by congratulatory addresses, and the singing of old tunes by the choir and congregation. The historical address will doubtless be intensely interesting, as the records of this ancient Parish contain abundant materials to assist the antiquary in prying into the manners and customs of two hundred years ago; and the early pastors showed all the iron firmness—obstinacy, their opponents called it—displayed by the Puritans and Pilgrims in resisting encroachments on their civil and religious liberties, and were well supported in so doing by their people, for which contumacy the Parish had to feel the weight of royal displeasure. We hope to be able to give the address to our readers, in full.

COMPULSORY VOTING.—The idea is gaining ground in Boston that all citizens entitled to vote should be compelled to vote. Gen. Sergeant, in his Fourth of July oration, held this view, and would visit those who neglected this duty with the "severest pains and penalties." In some States, as Vermont for instance, when a citizen votes for the first time he takes an oath to uphold the Constitution of the State and Nation. It is difficult to see how he can do this, if he absents himself from the polls. The ballot is so free in this nation, and we have had it so long, we fail to appreciate its importance. If we were obliged to struggle for the right to have a voice in the making of the laws under which we live, as many men of intelligence in England are struggling to-day, it is possible we should not throw away our chances of voting so often as we do. One reason why the people neglect to go to the polls, there is altogether too much voting in this country. Every little while the public is called upon to vote for State, or Federal, or other officers. We should reduce our election days as much as possible, never having more than two in a year, one for State and local officials, and one for Federal officers.

Gen. Sergeant would fine and tax all who absent themselves from the polls. This is not enough. We must create a public sentiment in favor of the patriotic duty. As matters now are, we are fast drifting into French political ways. In the manifesto M. Guziot recently addressed to his country-men he made an earnest appeal to men not to abstain from taking part in the recent elections. The indifference and apathy of electors in France has been the source of constant despair to French politicians. When electors absent themselves from the polls, the way is clear for a despotism, for corruption, for the giving of the country over to thieves and demagogues. We agree with Gen. Sergeant that the time is at hand when we must advocate compulsory voting, the same as we demand compulsory education.—N. Y. Globe.

—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, who is traveling with the sub-committee for the investigation of Ku-Klux outrages, writes from Columbia, S. C.: "The city is filled with refugees driven from their homes, and with the wives and children of murdered husbands and fathers. Talk of the horrors of the Commune! From what I have learned in the last day or two, I ventured to assert that in the number of its victims—those murdered outright and in cold blood—the Ku-Klux of South Carolina far exceeds the Paris madmen. Language fails to express the horrible crimes which are occurring every day. Outrages more revolting and cruel than the most diabolical ever conceived in France's social agonies are discussed here as everyday occurrences. The Southern white men are becoming as dead to decency and humanity as they are to country and patriotism. All of the outrages occur in the country districts."

—Some earnest inquirer recently asked Henry Ward Beecher who Cain's wife was. Whereupon that gentleman gives a brief summary of the opinions advanced by two or three of the commentaries, and concludes by asking if there are no questions about Cain. "Does nobody wish to know his wife's name? Does no one wish to know what the mark was which the Lord affixed to Cain? Does no one wish to know when Cain died? Questions must be scarce to let such points go untouched. If Cain is to be raised, he ought to be thoroughly dealt with." Which is manifestly ironical; and if Biblical inquiry is to be snubbed in that way by a clergyman like Mr. Beecher, the days of old fashioned theology are certainly numbered. We entirely agree with Mr. Beecher that "if Cain is to be raised, he ought to be thoroughly dealt with"; but he has castigated the man who raised Cain, which is a decidedly untheological proceeding.—Golden Age.

—The servility of a party press never had a sadder illustration than in the conduct of the democratic papers toward the New York difficulty. Not a man who has the spirit of an American citizen read the Tammany order with other feelings than those of loathing and indignation. Leading democrats denounced it vigorously and shed tears at the city's humiliation. Yet the democratic papers, which should be the first to resent an infringement on popular liberty, stood forth and, with a few bright exceptions, strove to stem the rising tide of anger at the Tammany surrender. The attempt was a woful failure, but the shame remains. There is but one depth of degradation not yet sounded. Let them now publish eulogies on the martyrs of the pavement, for their own party was lessened by just the number of ruffians that bit the dust.—Boston Advertiser.

—Hampton Court chapel, London, was once the scene of a singular epidemic. One Sunday a youthful beauty fainted, and the handsome Sir Horace Seymour carried her out. The next Sunday another young lady was similarly assacked, and Sir Horace with like gallantry sprang to her relief. And thus the epidemic went on. On successive Sundays successive beauties fainted, and the handsome Horace carried them successively out, till he grew tired of bearing such sweet burdens. An announcement was made that in future all swooning nymphs would be carried out of the chapel by the dustman, whereupon the malady rapidly disappeared.

—"One thing," says an old toper, "was never seen comin' through the rye, an' that's the kind o' whiskey one gets now-a-days."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

THAT "NOSEGAY."

One charming evening as I strayed,
Down yonder Avenue,
I sat down 'neath a willow shade,
To see what ailed my shoe.
A nail got through the sole I found,
Which had been quite a bore,
At last it brought me to the ground,
My heel all in a gore.

I said, "now, boy, you've got to go,
No more I'll bear your sting;"
So with a rock, at one fell blow,
I smashed the pesky thing.
Well, I got tired and nervous too,
And laid me down to sleep
Where buttercups and clover grew,
Where none I thought could peep.

Soon I was dreaming of bright bowers
And aromatic values,
Where I beheld the choicest flowers,
And quaff'd the spicy gales.
I saw a little maiden stand
Upon a grassy mound,
With rosebuds in her lily hand
And eyes bent on the ground.

Another maid, with chestnut hair,
With a "nosegay" in her hand,
Came dancing with a joyous air
And my lone brow she fan'd.
Said I, "that is no idle dream,
'Tis little roaming Nell,
With wild flowers, and like stars they seem;
Come, let me have a smell."

She held them to my scenting point,
My—nose if I must say;
And oh! I twisted at each joint,
And tried to run away.
But all in vain, while in a sleep—
"Twas awful—"run I pray;
Girl, leave me or I'll see my feet!
Those poppies take away."

I turn'd and twisted—"oh that smell!
Girl, with your bouquet, run;
I never thought so low of Nell,
I wish I had a gun!"
She vanished with her flow'rets rare,
Much like a fright-d mouse;
I woke, and snuff'd the south-west air,
Oh! 'twas that Slaughter-house.

—Hogs are frightfully like human beings. They have measles and fever and cholera just like we do; and now the hogs of Fulton County, Ill., have betaken themselves to fever and ague. Fervently it is to be hoped that they are not salted or smoked afterward, or that they do not experience a resurrection in the shape of lard. The hog is the worst and most unnaturally treated of all domestic animals, and the wonder is, not that so many are sick, but that so many are healthy.

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of this world is no more required than that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-surfing, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the mischief, the cough, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now performed in the proper structures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an American Physician. The Seaweed, Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased parts in the lungs. In the first gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throw themselves from the system and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and, winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to live. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To disease of the lungs there is evidence of possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement is to the point of the cure he effected in his most words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and which made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter, and I would cough up pints by mere than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, night sweats and pain all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed unbroken health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer discloses the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, let it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is checked. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

PSYCHOMANCY.—This word is derived from the Greek, signifying the power of the soul, spirit or mind, and is the basis of all human knowledge. Psychomancy is the title of a new work of 400 pages, by HERBERT HAMILTON, B. A., giving full instruction in the science of Soul Charming and Psychologic Fascination; how to exert this wonderful power over men or animals instantaneously, at will. It teaches Mesmerism, how to become Trance or Writing Medium, Divination, Spiritualism, Alchemy, Philosophy of Omens and Dreams, Brigham Young's Harem, Guide to Marriage, &c. This is the only book in the English language professing to teach this occult power, and is of immense advantage to the Merchant in selling goods, the Lawyer in gaining the confidence of jurors, the Physician in healing the sick; to Lovers, in securing the affections of the opposite sex, and all seeking riches of happiness. WENESDAY, JULY 19, 1871.

THE Biddeford (Me.) Democrat, as an argument against the Ku-Klux bill, prints in italics the following remark of Gen. Sherman at the commencement exercises of Georgetown (D. C.) College: "I would as soon expect to see an attempt to dissolve this Union in future come from the North as the South." The Democrat then asks, with the bold confidence of one who thinks he has got his opponent in a very tight place, "What will the Radicals say to an opinion so audaciously expressed?" We answer the Democrat's conundrum; "Most of the Radicals will say just what Gen. Sherman does on that point."

The slaveholders' rebellion was inaugurated under more favorable circumstances than can ever occur again. The Democratic party had held full control of the national government for many years, and every means had been employed to strengthen the South and weaken the North with express reference to a dissolution of the Union. The Annapolis Naval Academy had been illegally started and continued, to prevent the admission to the navy of any officers but those whom the South might select; the southern forts were mostly either untenable or commanded by trusty traitors to the Union; the ships of the navy were either at the uttermost parts of the earth, or else in southern ports ready to be seized by the rebels; the man selected by the Democrats to ruin the Treasury as its Secretary had done his duty by borrowing money at ruinous rates, and then stealing it for the Confederacy, and the rebel armies were organized and drilling while the North was playing Mica wber, and waiting for something to turn up. Add to these enormous advantages on the part of the South, that a large party in the North were working and—we nearly added "praying," but that won't do—to destroy the Union and perpetuate slavery, and that England and France were eager to do what neither would be so much in a hurry to do again—lend moral and material aid to any rebellion that promised to overthrow republican institutions in America,—and it is evident that a rebellion started under such circumstances, and yet crushed, can never again be revived by the same men with any hope of success. Besides, four millions of colored people who were then but black cattle, are now freemen and citizens, made so by the Union, and never to be crowded back into bondage again; this is another formidable obstacle to a second Democratic rebellion, for these liberated slaves would be a tremendous power in opposition to it, whereas formerly they were simply nothing at all.

The Ku-Klux bill was not intended to prevent an open outbreak against the integrity of the Union, but as a protection to Southern citizens, black and white, against the violence of men who, recognizing the impossibility of inaugurating another open war for the purpose of destroying the Union, seek to obtain political control by driving their opponents from the polls by a system of organized ruffianism which the State governments will not put down; and Gen. Sherman's conviction that another rebellion will not take place has no bearing whatever on the question.

THE New York papers publish a full list of their city officials, from which it appears that every department of the city government is headed by or under the control of an Irish Roman Catholic, with the exception of the mayor's office. The Times has a startling expose, showing by personal investigation and undeniable facts that the Roman Catholics are steadily expelling the Bible from the public schools, that in several wards of the city it is not read at all, and that the board of education is winking at a plain violation of its laws.

THE latest revised tables at the census office show the following aggregate of population of all the States and organized Territories: White, 33,586,680; colored, 4,879,323; Indian 25,733; Japanese, 55; Chinese, 63,196; total, 38,549,987.

THE distribution of the spoils by the Legislative coalition majority, giving all the good things to the Labor Reformers, would justify the idea that it is better to be an Ass, than a regular Democrat.

YACHT JENNIE has been capsized, with eight members of the Ocean Yacht Club on board, and only one of them has as yet turned up.

SEVEN steamers have been driven on shore or sunk by a typhoon at Hioga, Japan.

THE Ku-Klux investigating committee has heard the evidence of Captain Taliaferro, a native of Virginia, a captain in the confederate service, now a planter near Macok, Miss., who testified that within the past year in that county fifteen colored men were killed and a number whipped. There is an organized band of Ku-Klux in the county. He attended three or four meetings of it, although he has never taken the required oath. The supposition of those present was that he was a member of the Klan, and that he had been invited by the captain of the band, who can swear in members. His friends and neighbors all belonged to the band. The witness gave conclusive details of the organization—signs, grips, etc. On one occasion he went on a raid with the band, and was present at the whipping of several colored men, but after that did not go with them. Their object was to obtain the entire control of the negroes and make them vote as their leaders required. No prosecution has or would be instituted in that county. Nobody dare prosecute. He was a witness before the grand jury at Afford, and on his testimony several members of the Ku-Klux were indicted. A. F. Flowers, colored, justice of the peace in Chattanooga, Tennessee, also testified that about three weeks ago his sister was teaching at a colored school fifteen miles west of Chattanooga. Saturday night, while he was there, a band of disguised men seized him and took him to a swamp, stripped and whipped him, and made him promise to surrender his office. He related several instances where colored men had been killed. These things produced such fear among the colored people that they sought refuge in the towns for safety and were afraid to vote. Bigger, originally from Ohio, said he had served in the army. After the war he was for a few months freedman's bureau agent. Four years ago settled in Clarendon county, South Carolina; opened a store near Manning; bought land, and was agent for leasing land to colored persons; made advances to them on crops; never had any difficulty with any one, until last December, when he was a victim of Ku-Klux outrages; a band of disguised men got a keg of powder, and with it destroyed all his store goods; in March they took him and his clerk to a swamp, where they gagged and bound the clerk and threatened to kill witness; when he gave the Masonic sign of distress, the leader recognized the sign and spared his life, but he was warned to leave in twenty-four hours, which he did, together with his clerk. In the same county, other republicans were driven out since these events, and a colored man killed.

Colonel N. H. Thorney, a lawyer of Alabama, tesified with reference to the Patona disturbances last year, when several colored prisoners were taken from jail and lynched. Thorney admitted the existence of bands of armed and disguised men and the perpetration of occasional outrages in that county, but considered the purpose of their organization to be to keep the peace and prevent the negroes from stealing.

Sheriff Chisolm of DeKalb, Mississippi, testified that disguised men had committed a number of lawless acts in his county, but they were not now frequent. The great majority of citizens of both parties had aided him in putting them down and preventing their recurrence. Just before leaving for Washington, however, he had been told by leading conservatives that the democrats were getting up an organization which would control the colored vote and enable them to carry all the elections.

It is now reported that two Orangemen were severely injured while walking in the procession on the 12th, and that there being wounded was kept secret for prudential reasons. A resolution has been offered in the New York board of police commissioners forbidding general processions in the streets without a permit. The police are now receiving furloughs. One of the great questions of the day is, "did Fisk fight, or didn't he?" Some of the New York papers are in hysterics over his bravery, and others say he wasn't in the fray at all; others again make fun of him, either way. Probably he can stand it. Mayor Hall's friends declare that Hoffman approved the prohibitory order before it was issued.

THERE was a fire among the tenement houses in South Boston, Monday afternoon, by which 80 families were scared out of doors, and 20 of them rendered houseless. Daniel McCann has been locked up for causing the fire.

LIGHTNING struck houses in Melrose, Hyde Park, Milton and Salem, Mass., on Sunday night.

BASE BALL.—At Chicago, White Stocking 7, Eckfords 1; At Washington, Mutuals 16, Olympics 9.

SHIP NAHMOR, from Bombay, bound for Penang, has foundered in the Indian Ocean. Thirty lives were lost.

CORNELIUS V. S. ROOSEVELT, father of Congressman Roosevelt and one of the millionaires of New York, is dead. He was 78 years old.

ALTHOUGH the democratic majority in the Legislature denied the right of representation to aged men, it took every advantage of miss-representation.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A crowd of "horse men," and others daily throng the stores in country and town for Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. They understand that horses cannot be kept in good condition without them, and with them can be kept on a much less quantity of grain.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvest generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant and gentle exhilarant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the invalid or debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one of every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

FORECLOSURE OF MORTGAGE.

BE IT KNOWN, that on the twenty-second day of June, A. D. 1871, I peacably entered upon and took possession of a tract of land with buildings thereon situated in Plaistow, in the County of Rockingham, bounded as follows, viz.: Beginning at a private way near the road leading from Haverhill to Newton, near the southeasterly corner of land of Amos Carleton, thence running northeasterly, northerly and northwesterly by said Carleton's land and land of William Kimball to land of Daniel Brickett, thence westerly by said Brickett's land as the fence stands to land of Moses Marsh, thence southeasterly by the middle of the Great Pond Brook by land of said Marsh to the State line of Massachusetts, thence easterly by said State line to the bound first named, conveyed to me in mortgage by Samuel Manning of Plaistow, in the County of Rockingham and State of New Hampshire, by his deed dated June 28th, 1861, recorded in the Rockingham Registry, volume 391, page 105, for condition broken, and for the purpose of foreclosing the right in equity of said Samuel Manning to redeem the same; and at the same time publicly declared the purpose and object of said entry and possession.

Foreclosure of Mortgage.

THE repairs and alterations on Dearborn S. F. Engine, No. 1, have been completed, and the machine will probably arrive here this week.

BARNUM'S CIRCUS comes on Friday next, the 21st. Wherever it goes the press speaks highly of it, while it is there and (what is much more to the purpose) after it is gone. The entertainment is vouched for as being unexceptionable and unequalled. And if there was no show at all it would be well worth paying 50 cts. to see Barnum, anyway.

THE self-constituted Democratic champion of oppressed Republicans declines to favor us with one of the denunciatory letters we asked for, but still claims to have them, though they are "not for publication." Well, if he says it's so, we suppose it's all right; but if they were "not for publication" wasn't it rather superfluous for him to apologize for not publishing them on the score that he was "unable to find room?"

ON Tuesday we were shown a stalk of maize and a large squash-vine leaf, which were taken from the track of the hail storm on Sunday night. They looked as though a charge of shot had been fired through them, being completely riddled with holes, and the corn leaves made into shoe strings. Mr. N. D. Miller, who took them from his garden, assured us that a large part of the growing crops in his neighborhood had suffered in a similar manner, and that he could have shovelled up a bushel of hail in his yard on Monday morning, some six hours after the storm had passed.

THE ANNUAL EXHIBITION of the Girls' High School took place Tuesday afternoon, and as usual attracted quite as many as could be accommodated. The following was the programme of exercises:

Music, "Again we've met," by the school; Salutatory (in English), Alice Neal; the Sisters (Whittier) A. J. Hanscom; In School Days, C. Barri; Composition, Misses Tucker and Adams; Music, "Every day hath toil and trouble;" Up the Aisle, E. M. Adams; Dorothy Q., (Holmes,) C. E. Rand; Recitation, fourth class; Music, "Be firm;" Among the Hills, C. Hanscom; Common Sense, M. Garrett; Composition, Misses Hanscom and Barri; St. Christopher, Miss Neal; the Bachelor's Dream, (Hood,) E. Marden; music, "When my ship comes in;" Rhymes of the Duchess May, C. Newton; Dialogue, fourth class; Music, "Fare thee well;" Lady Clare, Miss Noble; a new Simile for Ladies, Miss Tucker; Composition, Misses Hanscom and Newton; "A Thought on Education," with valedictory addresses, Miss Barri; music, "Good Night." Presentation of diplomas, award of Haven medals, addresses, prayer, and singing of "Old Hundred."

The graduating class numbered 11, as follows:—Clara Barri, Ella Frances Marden, Mary Frances Garrett, Annabel Scott Tucker, Ellen Amelia Newton, Clara Anna Hanscom, Ellen Metcalf Adams, Annie Lucilla Noble, Clara Eva Rand, Alice Neal and Alice Hanscom. Misses Marden, Garrett and Neal of the graduating class have not once been late in their attendance at school during the four years' term, and Miss Nealneither late nor absent.

The Haven medals were awarded to Misses E. M. Adams, Clara Barri and Alice Neal of the fourth class, Ellen L. Philbrook, Covinda A. Cunningham and Annie Blaisdell of the third class, and Mary E. Prescott and Emma J. W. Magraw of the second class.

The room was ornamented with large numbers of very handsome bouquets, and the exercises were very interesting and pleasing—as were the exercisers also. The City Marshal officiated as door-keeper, and rigidly excluded all non-possessors of tickets, by which means the room was kept from being over-crowded, and only as many visitors admitted as could be accommodated,—and a few more. The singing (under direction of Mr. A. Pearson) was good, and all of the compositions evinced unusual care and ability on the part of the authors; we were especially pleased with two, but where all did well it would be invidious to particularize.

Short addresses were made by Rev. Messrs. Alden and Adams, Rev. Canon Walsh, and Messrs. Marvin, Wendell and Hatch; prayer was offered by Rev. C. M. Dinsmore, and "Old Hundred," sung as a grand chorus by visitors and pupils, brought the exhibition to a close.

BOARD at the new Gosport House at Star Island, Isles of Shoals, is but $14 per week.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSIONISTS arrived home Tuesday evening, much delighted with their extended trip.

IF any evidence was needed to prove that the Rockingham House is a popular family hotel as well as a favorite resting place for the traveller and business man, the crowds of nicely dressed children who may be seen playing about the broad pavement and stone steps in front of the ladies' entrance on any pleasant day, watched with care by nurses and with pride by fond mothers, would convince the most skeptical personage—and him who said when the house was being refitted that "it wouldn't pay," that his prophecy has turned out as prophecies frequently do hind part before.

A LARGE and enthusiastic meeting of the General Committee of the Firemen was held Tuesday evening at the City Rooms, the Committee on the part of the City Council being present. The Subscription Committee reported that they had canvassed about half the city, and had raised nearly $1000; and that hardly any person who had been asked had refused to give, while a general desire had been manifested to have something to enliven the city if possible. The Chief Engineer was appointed Chairman, and Willis L. Hidden, Secretary of the Committee of Arrangements; an Executive Committee of one from each Company was also appointed to arrange details and issue circulars of invitations to firemen throughout New England. The affair will probably take place the first week in September.

MR. REUBEN WILEY, the submarine diver of the river improvement gang, writes us that "the work at the Narrows of the Cocheco River is progressing finely, and we are taking out from three to four cubic yards of stone daily. So far we have resorted mainly to surface blasting with dualin, a substance that acts with great power on the ledge, and frequently throws the displaced rocks high out of the water. Most of our blasting is done at high tide, when the water above the dualin acts as 'tamping' in a drilled hole, and forces the explosive power against the rock. One pound of dualin is about equal to twelve pounds of powder for this work; but it will not burn in the open air any better than shavings, and requires a sudden shock to explode it, which we effect with a small torpedo placed in the can or cartridge. The stone taken out is a very handsome granite, most beautifully colored."

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 168 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Bond, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

How well we remember in days that are gone,
The feelings we felt as we saw the cork drawn—

It swallows as easy as sparkling Champagne—

The Exeter News Letter is in a terrible fix. It published an article concerning "Thomas Dunn, evangelist," which the latter says is "ingerous to my character as a peacher of the gosple," as it charged him with being "of a deceivable character as the word dupedom mean." Under a threat of legal action, the News Letter gives the letter of "Thomas Dunn evangelist" in full, and hopes he is satisfied.

Some five years ago Charles Braly of Danbury married Lydia Spiller of Grafton, who, after living with him a few months, went to Boston and married a second husband, a Mr. Comeran, as Lydia Spiller. With him she lived three years and had a child. Since that time she has been back and forth, neither husband knowing of the other, till recently Mr. Braly learned that she had another one in Boston, but did not mind that, and gave her money to visit her second partner, whither she went on the Fourth of July. During this visit, Mr. Comeran was informed by letter that his supposed wife had another husband. The woman went home to Danbury, Mr. Comeran following, and next day he proceeded to Mr. Braly's and, in presence of witnesses, it was agreed to leave it to the woman and she should choose which she would live with, and the husbands would abide her choice. She chose to go with Mr. Comeran, and forthwith she departed with husband No. two, leaving Mr. Braly lonely and happy.—Mirror.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS.
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdaw&w16

THE CHINESE QUESTION.—George Alfred Townsend writes to the Chicago Tribune, from San Francisco, as follows:—

Our American intellect, aroused upon every subject presented to it, has already made a very respectable literature upon the Chinese. From the profoundest Democratic politician—he who discovered the Darwinian theory fifty years ago, and maintained that the only effect of civilization upon the negro had been to wear his tail off—down to the celebrated journey of Mr. Snip the bootmaker—who travelled with a policeman through four rods of the Celestial quarter, and then proceeded to enlighten his countrymen in an octavo—everybody has instructed us upon "John." The noblest study of mankind is "John."

I am told that a learned newspaper philosopher got as far as follows in the abstruser subject of "Josh."

Proceeding into one of those curious semi-commercial temples, where twelve procelain idols gazed down upon a set of worshippers gambling in such august presence, our friend laid his hand upon the chief idol, and said to a grave Chinaman:

"What you call him?"

The obliging Celestial, nothing offended, answered, after a moment's reflection:

"Josh."

"Oh, yes, I know he's a Josh; but ain't he got some other name? Ain't he a particular kind of a Josh; an almighty Josh, an evil Josh, a William or a Henry Josh? What's his prenom?"

The obliging Celestial, thinking it over a minute, shook his head negatively, but suddenly a flood of light rushed upon him.

"Melikan man," he said, "call him sonny-pitch!"

The Chinaman thus innocently expressed a great international fact. The "Melican man" considers everything of Celestial origin—John or Josh indifferently—as the child of a dog. He picks up some cheap hap-hazzard comment from a Milesian policeman, or a cogitative demagogue, or a frightened Republican politician, who lives for votes, and would rather be Congressman than right. He is filled with deep and funeral meditations upon the subject of the Chinaman's carcass going home to be buried.

"Great heavens!" he says, "does this wretch have his views even upon the alarming question of interment?" The Republic then is truly in danger.

So Snip goes off and writes a book ten times more ignorant than a dead Chinaman's intentions.

In fact, I had a strange psychological experience in San Francisco. Little by little the underneath revolved upward and topmost. The Americans grew to be Chinese and the Chinese became Americans. In place of the liberal and generous nation of men I had supposed my countrymen to be, I saw suspicious, obtuse, despairing gangs of Caucasians going about paradling and protesting against the right of a man to live less extravagantly than themselves or to labor more. I read newspapers edited upon the one keynote of isolating this great, unpopulated continent from Asia. Half of society was in a condition of melancholia upon an issue scarcely yet presented. Hideous brutalities were perpetrated, not by men only, but by boys and school children, upon the inoffensive and struggling stranger within our gates. The California country was going to waste for need of willing hands; there was a dangerous excess of nerve power and no muscle, yet the issue which one political party was pressing home, and the other party was too cowardly not to avoid, was the entertainment of these quaint, adventurous and cheerful children of the same God and Father! The pulpits were silent upon the subject; the very poets sang their satires upon it evasively. I could not shake off the conviction that we were ourselves the Chinese, full of narrow prejudices, prone to brutalities, and wrapped in the heathen conceit of a superiority which we dared not risk.

But he—the pioneer of Asia, the lost brother Shem—took form and character not unlike the ideal and former American. Not a generation old in the land, he walked it like a republican, annoying no one, setting the example of obedience to the law, full of natural dignity, not volatile enough to surrender his traditions for those of men who would then abuse him as a mercenary and a renegade, clad in a dress which is in many respects cleaner, more picturesque and more comfortable than ours, possessing more tact and practicing more arts than any population of elementary laborers among us, and respecting himself and his hosts too much to intrude without parley into their politics, to divert or divide their common school fund, and to set up the great Josh of Tammany in the place of government.

—Two scavengers were quarreling as to their respective working abilities, when one, meaning to silence his mate said, "Well, Bill, you can sweep the middle of the street, but you can't do an ornamental piece of work, like sweeping around a lamp-post!"

Helmbold's Fluid Extract Sarsaparilla

AND HELMBOLD'S

Fluid Extract Rhubarb.

Useful in all diseases requiring a cathartic remedy, and far superior to all other purgatives, such as salt, magnesia, &c.

THURSDAY, JULY 20, 1871.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSION.

Our accounts of the trip left us at Montreal, Wednesday night. Since that time we have been unable to write up the incidents occurring, as many changes kept the party constantly on the move. We left Montreal, Thursday morning, at 8.30, for a dismal ride of 101 miles to Lennoxville, changing cars there for a delightful ride to Newport, Vt., over the Massawippi Valley Railroad, passing along the borders of Massawippi River and Lakes Massawippi and Memphremagog. Arriving at Newport at 4 P. M., a hearty dinner refreshed the excursionists, the St. Johnsbury band furnishing most excellent music. At its close, steamer Lady of the Lake conveyed the party twenty miles down the Lake and returned shortly after 9 o'clock. On the return, the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Association was held and a dozen or more editors were voted in as members—including Messrs. Washington Freeman of the Chronicle and Samuel Dodge of the Journal. The following persons were chosen officers for the ensuing year:—

President—John M. Hill, Concord Patriot.

Vice Presidents—B. B. Whittemore, Nashua Gazette; L. W. Brewster, Portsmouth Journal; George G. Ide, Claremont.

Recording Secretary — George E. Jenks, Concord Statesman.

Treasurer—Thomas W. Lane, Manchester Mirror.

Auditors—J. T. Libbey, Dover Enquirer; E. H. Cheney, Lebanon Free Press.

Executive Committee—P. B. Cogswell, Concord Monitor; William E. Moore, Manchester Union; C. M. Langley, Nashua Telegraph.

After tea, at the Memphremagog House, a meeting of the excursionists passed resolutions among which were the following:—

The combined editorial associations of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Massachusetts, being now about to separate for departure to their homes by different lines of travel, take this opportunity to express, for themselves and for the ladies who have accompanied them, their obligations to the friends who have so generously aided them to this most delightful excursion. Be it therefore

Resolved, That we are under especial obligations to the Concord, Northern, Vermont Central, Vermont and Canada, Grand Trunk, Connecticut and Passumpsic River and Massawippi Valley; and the Boston, Concord and Montreal Railroad Corporations, for the liberality of management which provided without expense to the members of these associations special trains for the entire trip, and for the great excellence of arrangements in all matters of detail which has contributed so essentially to its success.

Resolved, That we also express our hearty thanks to the Eastern; the Old Colony and Newport; the European and North American; the Portland, Saco and Portsmouth; and the Mount Washington Railroad Corporations, for the liberality which has been exhibited by them in passing the members of this excursion over their respective roads during the trip.

Resolved, That we cannot forget the generous hospitality and the liberal terms of our hosts of the American House of Boston, of the Junction House at White River Junction, of the Welden House at St. Albans, of the St. Lawrence Hall at Montreal, of the Memphremagog Hotel at Newport, Vt., of the Crawford, and Twin Mountain Houses, the Sinclair House and the Profile House, and the Pemigewasset House at Plymouth, and of the Center House at Center Harbor; and we express our unanimous wish for their long continued success in catering for the great traveling public.

Resolved, That we have received from the citizens of the various cities, towns and stations on our route expressions of kindness we shall ever remember with delight, and that we hereby thank the citizens of St. Albans and of Montreal, for their manifold expressions of welcome and respect for us and for our profession, and we take pleasure in especially mentioning his Worship the Mayor of Montreal, who so cordially co-operated with the City Government and the people in making our stay in that great and friendly city an event to be freshly remembered for many years by all of us.

A dance closed the festivities of the day, a brilliant exhibition of fireworks having previously entertained the company.

The Memphremagog House was overcrowded and single gentlemen were at a discount. About midnight, we repaired to Room No. 6, in which were six beds and as jolly a set of wags as ever joked. Sleep was next to impossible. William E. Moore of Manchester was searching for "brains spattered on the wall." Ed. Fernald of Great Falls (our esteemed associate gander) was paddling about in quest of the softest mattrass, and Sam. Dodge of the Journal made an ice water speech. One by one the inmates of No. 6 dropped off to sleep, until the entire nine were dreaming of home. Fifteen minutes may have elapsed while Morpheus held us in his embrace and then came in No. 10, escorted by an Irishman, loquacious, audacious and worthy of being embalmed in his favorite poteen. He led the advance, pushed open the door with a bang and being unable to see any one in the dark delivered himself as follows:

"How are yees, b'ys; (some of the "b'ys" ranged upwards of 40 in years;) how many av yees are there? Hould on, sir, while I light the (oath) gas. Did yees iver say sooch matches." Then he turned on the gas and expended a card of matches in vain, the gas escaping into the room. By this time, the nine were awakened and began to "jaw back." The unsuccessful attempts to light the gas provoked a great deal of merriment and badinage, the son of Erin still firing his volley of words at his unseen audience, like a veritable mitrailleuse. Roars of laughter greeted each attempt to light a match and a scattering shower of jokes was interjected as the speaker paused for breath. At last he lighted a card of matches and on applying the flame to the gas, an explosive noise alarmed him, the room was brilliantly illuminated for an instant and then he turned off the gas. Yells of delight greeted this last maneuvre and were responded to with a volley of oaths. Again the gas was lighted and again turned off, the voice of the Irishman being drowned by cries of "Hear! Hear!"

All was still, as he finally succeeded in permanently lighting the gas. Every man in bed was pretending to be asleep, but really looking at the quaint picture before them. There stood the Irishman with unkempt hair, and No. 10 ready to retire. Irish counted the nine "sleepers" and made fifteen of it. This was too much and the nine denied that they were fifteen. An armistice ensued and after Pat had delivered himself of a few more quaint speeches, he started for the door and addressing No. 10 said, "Anything yees want, sir, I'll get yees—shall be up all night." No. 10 mildly insinuated that a few matches might be wanted during the night. "Yis, sir, if yees want any matches in the night, jist call for me and I'll bring thim to yees in the morning," was the reply, and the door closed upon a room-full of bipeds whose cachinatory respirations did not end for many minutes after. We did not see Pat again until morning, when he brought us our valises from the baggage car just as the train started for the White Mountains, saying "Here, sir, will yees plaze take these with yees, av yees plaze."

In the United States district court, of Brooklyn, the steamer Cleopatra has been declared forfeited to the government for violation of the revenue laws, the act consisting in smuggling $400 worth of cigars by employes on board.

The Mutual base ball club of New York were beaten by the Haymakers of Troy, last week, and two of the Mutuals then proceeded to beat the Haymakers with bats and fists. The assailants were arrested.

—Hasty words, as the poor island shepard bitterly proved, like random arrows, often hit a mark they are never shot at; but even solemn slow ones, when shot at a venture, sometimes find "the joints of the harness." At Mull, a messenger having requested a London clergyman to announce "If Dr—— was among his audience he was urgently wanted," the clergyman added from sympathy, "and may God have mercy on the poor patient!" The doctor, in a rage, demanded and received an humble apology.

—A Cincinnati newspaper contains an account of the production of a new play, and says the audience 'sat spellbound. One was deaf, and the other three asleep.'

—The secretary of the Treasury has approved the regulations for the inspection of steamboats agreed upon by the board of steamboat inspectors, and they are now published.

—Two more cases of Lynch law in the West are reported. Governor Palmer has ordered an investigation of the recent affair at Watseka, Illinois.

—Thomas W. Pierce of Boston has sued a St. Louis firm for $70,000 on an old debt settled ten years ago by drafts on John B. Floyd.

—A serious riot was caused at Greenwich, England, on Monday, July 17, by an attempt to mob a man who had been acquitted of murder.

—The magazine of a Greek man-of-war exploded July 3, killing forty of the crew.

—Another fool in Ohio has killed his daughter by lighting a fire with kerosene.

—General Crook has taken the field against the Apaches.

—A religious riot in Vienna is reported.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

A crowd of "horse men," and others daily throng the stores in country and town for Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders. They understand that horses cannot be kept in good condition without them, and with them can be kept on a much less quantity of grain.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvest generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant and gentle exhilarant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one of every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

THE WORLD IS IN ARMS

Crismadore's Excelsior Hair Dye

proved by time and sanctioned by practical chemists, has become the standard article of its class throughout the length and breadth of the land. It is poisonless, rapid in its operation, certain to produce the required shade of color, and has no equal among hair dyes, either in the United States or Europe. To beautify and soften the hair after dyeing, use

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE NORTH PARISH CELEBRATION of the two hundredth anniversary of its foundation opened on Wednesday afternoon, at the church, the body of the house being filled and a sprinkling of people in the galleries, a large number of visitors from abroad, including several former pastors of the North Church and many other clergymen, being present. The services commenced with an organ voluntary by Mr. Pearson, followed by the "Song of Miriam," given by a choir of forty voices, the effect of which was magnificent. Portions of the 77th and 78th psalms and the whole of the 122d were then read by Rev. Henry D. Moore of Cincinnati, a former pastor, from a "Geneva Bible" of 1599, printed before the King James version was published, and brought to this country from England by the first ordained deacon of the church, Deacon Samuel Haines, who was wrecked on the coast of Maine on his arrival, and the bible (as tradition says) saved by being wrapped in a feather bed. The ancient book was sent on from Galena, Ill., by the 7th lineal descendant of Dea. Haines, to be used on this occasion. Rev. Wm. L. Gage followed with prayer; the choir and congregation sang "Oh! 'twas a joyful sound to hear," as a grand chorus to the tune "Mear;" and the pastor, Rev. Geo. M. Adams, then gave the historical address.

As no abstract can do justice to this address, we shall not attempt it. It was a rapid sketch of the events connected with the settlement of the town and the first establishment of religious worship here in 1638, the subsequent foundation of the North Parish in 1671, at a date corresponding to July 20 or 21, New Style, the lives and labors of the various pastors, and the establishment of other religious denominations, down to the present day. Mr. Adams rested about the middle of his address while the grand chorus sang one of Sternhold and Hopkins' version of the psalms, to the tune "Old Hundred;" and on resuming he announced that he was "happy to inform his hearers that he was more than half through," a happiness in which his hearers did not share, if we may judge from the close attention paid by all to the intensely interesting particulars given.

The closing prayer was made by Rev. Dr. Lyman Whiting of Janesville, Wis., a former pastor; another hymn was sung, and Rev. Dr. Adams of New Jersey pronounced the benediction.

The decorations were planned by Dr. E. B. Goodall and carried out under his supervision. On the wall, over the pulpit, was a large inverted anchor of evergreen, surmounted by a cross and wreath, the flukes of the anchor containing two lines of gilt lettering—"North Church, Portsmouth; Founded July 19, 1671;" the shank of the anchor was concealed by a circle, divided into segments containing the names of past ministers, as follows:—"Moody 1671—1697; Rogers, 1699—1723; Fitch, 1725—1746; Langdon, 1747—1774; Stiles, 1777—1778; Buckminster, 1779—1812; Putnam, 1815—1835; Holt, 1836—1841; Clark, 1842—1851; Moore, 1853—1855; Whiting, 1855—1859; Gage, 1860—1863;" and the anchor stock was inscribed with the name and years of service of the present pastor of the church—"Adams, 1863—1871." A large evergreen anchor and wreath suspended from the centre of the ceiling, festoons from the wreath to all suitable points in the church, festoons and wreaths all along the galleries and over the windows, and ivy and evergreen twined around the gas brackets, with numerous bouquets of beautiful flowers in various parts of the church, and a large floral cross on the front of the pulpit, completed the decorations of the building; the effect of the whole was very neat and pleasing, the decorations being in perfect taste and harmony with the interior of the house.

In the evening the adult members of the Parish and the guests from abroad partook of a plentiful and excellent collation at the chapel, the building, large as it is, not being able to accommodate more; and after the collation a social reunion of all in the Parish above the age of 14 years, occupied the time till the evening was gone.

To-day there will be addresses by Rev. Messrs. Moore, Whiting, Gage, Hitchcock, and others, interspersed with singing of old tunes by the choir and congregation.

THE LYRE advises us to rub up our spectacles. They are clear enough now for us to see contradictory and quibbling statements in its columns whenever we look at them.

TAXES.—We understand that the Board of Assessors will hold a meeting on Friday evening, 21st instant, to consider the cases of those who regard themselves overtaxed.

—A gentleman in Canada gives a history of a battle between two swarms of bees a few days ago. One swarm, he says, took forcible possession of their neighbors' barracks, and as the attacked defended their rights, a furious fight commenced, and the battle raged from 4:30 to 9 P. M. Next morning, as the sun appeared, the battle was resumed, the marauders appearing not in good condition, yet showing great pluck. The carnage continued without intermission till 10 A. M., when hundreds of dead bodies lay on the plain. At 11 the battle ended, when there was not one of the attacking party left to the tale.

Such battles between rival swarms of bees, one side trying to steal the other side's honey, are not so very uncommon, although for the aggressors to be defeated, as in the above instance, is very rare. We remember a case of this insect warfare in Newington, many years ago, in which several hives owned by the late Hon. James Pickering were unceremoniously emptied of their contents, the pirates coming a half mile or more on their raid. The assailed swarms made a hard battle of it for several days, during which the air was filled with lively bees engaged in a free fight, and the ground covered with innumerable dead ones; but the raiders conquered at last, and the remnant of the vanquished swarms lost valuable assistance to the marauders in transporting the spoils in their own hives to the victors' homes, and accompanied them when they left the desolated field of war, apparently on the best of terms. The battle we saw; the result was given to us by the late Judge Pickering, who had long studied the habits of bees and informed us that such was almost always the end of their honey-stealing expeditions.

Communicated.

Messrs. Editors:—Allow me through your columns to call the attention of the City Authorities to that intolerable nuisance, the Creek cess-pool. Those of us who were annoyed by it last summer hoped we had finally got rid of it, but now find every breeze from that quarter bringing to us the same old stench, only if possible intensified, causing us to close windows and deprive ourselves of the pure air which is so essential to health. If we must have breweries, cannot somebody oblige those who own them to carry their filth to tide water, and not make one vast cess-pool of the Mill pond? The damage occasioned by beer is enough already, to those who drink it, without afflicting those who don't drink it with an abominable stench.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

TRY IT!

How well we remember in days that are gone,
The feelings we felt as we saw the cork drawn—
The disgust—the recoil
From "Cod Liver Oil,"
Dealt out to poor souls in the days that are gone!
But who could complain
Of this to be ta'en?
It swallows as easy as sparkling Champagne—
Does "Marvins' Deodorized Oil."

—An Iowa woman has begun her suicide by marking the place on her throat where she intends to cut when she gets her courage up.

—Miss Ella M. Liggett of the Newell Institute of Pittsburg, Penn., has recently been made a professor of Washburn College, at Topeka, Kansas.

—A young lady resident of Ozaukee, Wis., who was supposed to be dead the other day, and was sent to Rochester, N. Y., for interment, has since altered her mind, and returned home to look after things as of yore.

—No lives were lost by the capsizing of the Yacht Jessie on Sunday, July 16. The crew were rescued by a passing schooner, and the yacht was picked up and left at Fort Hamilton by the steamer City of Mexico.

—A young woman not wholly unconnected with a New York church choir leaned too far over the gallery, last Sunday, to look at a new bonnet, and now one of the deacons is going around with his head in a sling.

—Thus speaks the Memphis Avalanche of its favorite suicidist: —"Eight times did this courter of the grim monarch's icy embrace attempt to cross the Styx through the medium of the Mississippi. She is a good woman—for items."

—The Illinois Independent, edited by Mr. Steele, says:—"A printer last week proposed to go into partnership with us. His firm name is Doolittle. The firm name would sound very bad, either way you put it—'Steal and Doolittle,' or 'Doolittle and Steal.' We can't join. One of us would soon be in the poor-house, and the other in the penitentiary."

—The following touching epistle was picked up in the streets of Richmond recently, and the Palladium "wants to know, you know," who owns it: "Dearest:—Your boots are in side the garden fence, at the southeast corner, covered with a piece of old carpet. Don't come any more for Heaven's sake, for paswears he'll blow the top of your head off if he catches you around. Your darling."

—A mad wag in a Sharpsville, Pennsylvania, coal mine wanted to frighten a boy who was working near him, and couldn't think of a better way than to hang himself. The trick succeeded to perfection, but the boy, instead of screaming for help, according to the joker's programme, quietly fainted, and when he recovered the hanging had ceased to be a joke. The man was dead.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA
VINEGAR BITTERS,
Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.
WHAT ARE THEY!
THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.
For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.
DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.
They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.
FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.
Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.
PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.
FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.
They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb16

Consumption,

ITS CURE, AND ITS PREVENTION.

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a death certificate bears the sad word, "consumption" being has passed away, for whom death there was no other reason than the origin of Those who have proved and indisputably proved means of curing it, hear and rejoice, while the sick and suffering the dreamless slumber into which, had they only adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

[illegible] wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by its judicious use and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faithful the testimonials are conclusive. Consumption that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-acting, self-evident.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. The Seaweed Tonic, for cure of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the conflict between the Tonic and the setting sun, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and nauseous contents of the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver is aroused, and is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, promotes and assimilates with the food. Chyllification is now proceeding healthfully and healthful secretions. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the bowels. Appetite is keen.

Now comes the great blood Purifier ever yet given by man to afflicted and suffering mankind. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It clears it upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and the rotting throes begin. The expectoration is made easy, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well. It is impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented if a cure is to be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country, is good medicine in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. They have been down quite long enough. Nature knows that comes from their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and if our Sovereign Mother knows they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about just as fast as the strength will bear, to get much and as fast as the blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and to despair of cure is half the battle. It is the worst cases of consumption that are the most hopeful. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and to despair of cure is half the battle. It is the worst cases of consumption that are the most hopeful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement is worth a volume. Many years ago I was confined to my office, and could not walk across the room. Now I can take my whole day's work, and feel no more fatigue than I did before the commencement of my sickness. I was well known to the Faculty of this city, and my cure was in these modest words:

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JULY 21, 1871.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSION.

Leaving Newport, Friday morning, we enjoyed a pleasant ride to St. Johnsbury, where about seventy-five of the party were switched off at the celebrated Fairbanks Scale Manufactory, whose proprietors entertained their invited guests admirably. In company with a majority of the party, we kept on to Littleton and Whitefield, parting at the latter station with our old friend and confrere, Frank W. Miller, and his estimable wife, who went to Lancaster and were soon investigating the grandeurs of Dixville Notch.

At Whitefield, the party took stages for the mountain region, and were soon being drawn up steep hills and down into deep valleys by the six horse power attached to each stage, with experienced drivers and horses trained by constant practice to prevent accident. The dust rose in clouds, the Carroll pines loomed straight upwards 150 feet, bare of limbs two-thirds the distance; conversation led to the discussion of the probable proximity of bears and catamounts in the woods adjoining.

The excursion thus far had been full of incident—an ovation everywhere; agreeable surprises had been successfully carried out. The Weldon House, the St. Lawrence Hall and the Memphremagog House had been places of gustatory interest. And now we were in our own Granite State. We had been feasted in every direction. Rest alone was wanted.

A ride of eight miles brought us to the Twin Mountain House, situated 11 miles from Mount Washington, 9 miles from the Crawford and 18 miles from the Profile. The house is located in a beautiful spot and is convenient to travellers. If any persons know how to keep a hotel, the Messrs. Barron are the ones. The lady attendants were particularly accommodating, and the Portsmouth delegation unanimously agreed that they were better accommodated here than at any House they had entered during the excursion. The tables were scrupulously neat and a hearty dinner was partaken off with great relish.

In the afternoon, we started for the Crawford House by stage. At the junction of the roads to Mount Washington and our destination, two carriages from the latter drove into the road ahead of us and were received with a salute from the "hornist" who was chief blower on this occasion. In the carriage ahead of us we recognized a bridal party from Portsmouth, on their way to the Crawford from a day's experience on Mount Washington.

Quartering for the night at the Crawford, eighteen of the editorial excursionists ventured into the White Mountain Notch for a mile or two and came to grief. One of those sudden mountain showers came down in torrents and when the pedestrians returned, bedraggled, weary and drenched to the skin, they didn't enthuse worth a cent, the ladies being the most cheerful. Bro. Noyes of the Saco Independent was Grand Sachem of the wettees and didn't lose his good nature "for a little thing like that." Those who stopped at St. Johnsbury and arrived at Whitefield in the afternoon, were also caught in the shower, and stayed over night at the Twin Mountain, joining our party next morning at Mount Washington.

A hurried morning walk to the Notch, on Saturday, gave us a glimpse of Silver Cascade, the ladies of our party doing remarkable pedestrianic feats for the sake of seeing its principal attractions. Col. Whipple of Portsmouth went through this Notch as the first settler in 1772. It is 3 miles long, being 22 feet wide at its entrance. Here in sight of the Crawford House are the head waters of the Saco River.

A stage ride of eleven miles brought the party to the base of Mount Washington, and in a few minutes all were aboard the cars for the novel ride to the summit. Each car is propelled by a queer looking engine of enormous power. The passage was an exceedingly pleasant one even to the most timid, and the ascent was made in an hour and a half. An hour or more was spent in visiting the Tip Top House, the depot in which the brave scientists spent the winter of 1870-1, the monument that marks the spot where Miss Lizzie Bourne of Kennebunk, Me., perished of exposure, in 1855, when within hailing distance of the House, and Tuckerman's Ravine, wherein lay an acre of pure snow, notwithstanding the thermometer indicated a temperature of 56 degrees, the warmest day but one for the season. The grand view of hundreds of thousands of acres of mountain, valley, lake and river, the floating clouds over which the party could see mountains beyond presented a picture that will exist as long as memory lasts. Overcoats and underclothing were in demand during the stay. One lady of our party seemed to have a mania for gathering "black dirt" to carry homefor "raising" things. It's at home, now, perfectly safe, and the lady feels satisfied with her bottle of dirt, small as it is, notwithstanding the asseveration of a jocose gentleman that she was "the black-dirt-iest" lady he had ever met.

The descent of Mount Washington was made in about an hour and a quarter, and though but few of the 120 excursionists seemed frightened, especially as the descent was more agreeable than the ascent, there were none who were not glad to find themselves out of all danger from accident.

This iron roadway was begun in May, 1866, the projector, Mr. Sylvester Marsh, having received a charter eight years before. Its formal inauguration took place Aug. 29, 1866. The railway is about three miles in length; its average grade 1300 feet to the mile, though in some places it is more than 1700, or one foot in three; its course is the old bridle-path, cut through the woods a half century ago by Ethan Allen Crawford, the famous giant of these hills. It is built in the most substantial manner. The engine and car are kept on the track by rollers firmly hugging the under side of the central rail. Ascending, the powerful rachet arrangement renders the falling backward of the train as impossible as the winding backward of one's watch. Descending, danger is prevented not only by common friction brakes of immense power, but by atmospheric brakes by which compressed air regulates or stops the motion at pleasure. "Slow and Sure" is the motto of the road. The ascent is made at the rate of a slow walk, and the return is but little accelerated.

Mr. Barron took us from the base of Mount Washington to our favorite Twin Mountain House, and proved himself as skillful a driver as landlord, making the eleven miles in just two hours. At the hands of Mr. Geo. W. Chamberlain, the appetites, of the travellers were soon appeased and a night of rest left us in good condition for a morning ride to the Profile House, eighteen miles. A majority of our party chose to remain over the Sabbath at the Twin Mountain and were handsomely entertained by the proprietors, who furnished a team for the church goers. We were reinforced here by the arrival of J. W. Hildreth, Esq., the popular Assistant Superintendent of the Concord Railroad and family. The ride to the beautiful town of Bethlehem, 6 miles, is pleasant and easy, and the scenery from there to the Profile House is sufficiently enchanting to overcome the disagreeable ascent and descent of the hills on the road. A ride of four hours brought us in sight of the beautiful Echo Lake and another half mile left us at the Profile House, gazing with feelings of awe at the grandest scenery we had yet been favored with—the region of the Franconia Notch. We were agreeably surprised at meeting here, Messrs. John P. Sweetser and N. Dana Whipple, who left next day for the Crawford House and Mount Washington.

Echo and Profile Lakes were visited during the day, the horn blown, the wonderful echoes listened to and the Profile pronounced the most beautiful. "The Old Man of the Mountains" had not deserted his post and there as for centuries past was the "human profile, nose and chin distinct,

Mouth muttering rhythms of silence up the sky.
And fed at evening with the blood of suns"—

On Monday, in company with that prince of good fellows, Ed. Fernald of Great Falls, we climbed Cannon Mountain, reaching the summit at 9.30, an hour and twelve minutes from the Profile House. Descending to the cannon, we found it to be composed of two large rocks, curiously shaped. We were ambitious and desired to stand on the "Old Man's," brow, but in wandering about we failed to find the beetling crag of which he is a part and parcel and the five rocks of which he is composed. We subsequently learned that we were within a stone's throw of the desired spot. Leaving a note under the "cannon" for our Associate to find in August, we descended to the Profile in 49 minutes, meeting an enthusiastic lady in company with two gentlemen, who went to the summit and returned in season for dinner. We had been warned to beware of bears and catamounts, but saw only large caves, wild turkeys or partridges. Ed. wasn't sure which, and beautiful birds; and heard nothing but the horn at Echo Lake, the rehearsal of the 3000 roosters, hens and chickens abaft the Profile House, and what might have been the rattle of a snake or the thumping of—a wood-pecker.

The party from the Twin Mountain joined us at noon. After one of the dinners for which the Profile has a world-wide fame, we took seats in an open wagon for the Flume. Description is unnecessary for those who have seen this great natural curiosity, the cascade, boulder, pool and basin, as well as the dog's head and the trout pond—those who haven't seen them can find no more attractive spot than the Franconia Notch, and no better accommodations than at the immense Profile House, with its splendid quadrille band under the lead of the well known Baldwin, and its noted cuisine.

We had a grand stage ride, Tuesday, through the Franconia Notch, North Woodstock, Woodstock, Thornton and Campton to the Pemigewasset House at Plymouth, arriving there a half hour ahead of the cars, after a drive of five hours. The scenery along the Franconia Valley is magnificent. A nice dinner at the Pemigewasset refreshed us, and then by the B. C. & M. and C. & P. Railroads we arrived home at 7 o'clock, P. M., having ridden 841 miles in nine days, the most unpleasant feature of the trip being the discovery of the loss by theft or otherwise of all the purchases made at Montreal for herself and friends by one of the Portsmouth ladies.

CANES.—Senator Smith of New Hampshire is to have another cane presented to him, which will make three of such valuable presents. The last one is to be golden-headed. There was nothing remarkable about the second one so far as we can learn, but the first one, presented by Lemuel Cooper, was a copper-headed Cain, if we may trust reports. What a splurge because a man has been fit to do as he pleases. If we had a cane every time we acted from conviction our office would be full. But unluckily the manner of presenting an editor with a cane is over the head.—Haverhill Bulletin.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvest generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant and gentle exhilarant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one of every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

THE NORTH PARISH CELEBRATION of its bicentennial anniversary was brought to a close on Thursday. The services commenced shortly after 10 o'clock, A. M. with an organ voluntary, followed by the choir singing "Strike the cymbals," Miss Bufford giving the solo. Rev. Mr. Winkley of Boston then read the 132d psalm from the Geneva Bible once owned by Deacon Haines, and prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Allen. The congregation then joined in singing a hymn to the tune "Lenox," after which Rev. H. D. Moore made an address.

Mr. Moore expressed regret at the absence of Rev. Rufus W. Clark, his predecessor in the North Church ministry and the oldest living ex-pastor, and spoke of his own pastorate and its incidents; referred to the struggle in the minds of the parishioners between a desire to have a new and more commodious church and their affectionate reverence for the old building, and the questions raised after a new church was decided on, whether it was right or not to worship in the Temple while the church was being rebuilt; to the pulling down of the steeple and the half belief of many that there would be no more wind after the old vane was down and that they would not know when to go to dinner after the Old North bell ceased ringing out the hour, and other incidents, closing with an eloquent tribute to the deceased pastors of the church.

Mr. Moore was followed by Rev. Dr. Whiting, who compared the small significance attached to this celebration by the outside world to a view seen through a telescope held "wrong end to"—much reduced in importance by the way it is looked at. He thought a look at the celebration with the telescope held the right way, would give a much larger idea of the real importance of the good done by the 20,000 sermons preached in the North Parish church during the last 200 years, and the faithful work performed by the many men whose first instruction in religious matters was received in that church or through its members. He presented the congratulations of Rev. Dr. Peabody on the occasion and his regrets at his unavoidable absence.

A chorus with obligato solo was then given by Miss Bufford and a select choir, with fine effect.

Rev. W. L. Gage spoke of Messrs. Moore and Whiting as his grandfather and father in the ministry of the church; of the admirable historical address on Wednesday, and the vast amount of laborious research incident to its preparation, which he understood well from having himself been engaged in searching out the life of Rev. Joshua Moody, while here; to the trouble of the fathers of the church in successfully establishing it among a people who came here not to found churches but "to sell rum and molasses;" compared the quiet dullness of Old Portsmouth with the dashing enterprise of the modern city, and the trouble once encountered in putting a new gallery into the church with the prompt readiness with which all projected improvements are now carried out; made an amusing reference to the "Parish of eligible young women" whom he found when he was first settled here, and expressed an opinion that a similar state of affairs existed now, judging from what he saw in the church and at the social reunion at the chapel; spoke of the aged men and women who have passed away since he left; acknowledged (or boasted, we don't know which) that his best sermons were written in Portsmouth, and closed by hoping that the tricentennial of the church will be celebrated by all "at Father's."

Rev. Rufus W. Clark, Jr., claimed to be an older son of the North Church than the preceding speakers, having been here baptized and dedicated to God, and speaking for the membership of the church and not its ministry; his memory went back to those who met 25 years ago, in the old church; to the old ceiling, frescoed by Ream and with a new fresco added by each succeeding shower; testified to the affection of his father for the church and people whose good he labored for so long ago; referred to the old laymen of the church, Langdon, Tappan, Knight and Knowlton; regarded the celebration as typical of the union of all churches, and a rejoicing over the establishment and continuance of a Christian church and not merely of the North Church alone, and closed by urging that an earnest, Christian manhood in the church is as indispensable to religious progress as earnest, Christian preaching in the pulpit.

The hymn commencing "From the third heaven where God resides" was then sung by the choir, after which Dr. Ezra A. Stevens of Boston, or as he claimed, of Portsmouth, addressed the congregation.

Mr. Stevens went back to the days of Dr. Putnam's ministry, when he used to gaze out of the high, square pews at the wonderful ceiling in which was painted the sun, moon and stars, and at the minister in his high pulpit; and owned that in those childish days he had little thought whether the doctrine expounded by Dr. Putnam was orthodox or not, though he often wondered much what would become of the reverend gentleman if the huge sounding-board over the pulpit was to fall down on his head.

No place and no people were so dear to him as Portsmouth and the North Church. He spoke warmly of Mr. Holt, of the ministry of Mr. Clark (during which Mr. Stevens became a member of the Church,) of Deacons Knight and Knowlton as "the holy men of the church" in his boyish estimation, and of the past troubles and present prosperity of the church.

Rev. Edward A. Rand read a poetical account of a "tea-party" in the Old North 100 years ago, when the citizens solemnly vowed they would pay no more taxes on tea.

Remarks were made by Mr. John Stavers, who was followed by Rev. Dr. Adams of New Jersey, formerly Superintendent of the North Parish Sabbath School and leader of the choir. Dr. Adams said that if he could not call himself a son of the North Church, at least he is a son-in-law.

The pastor, Rev. Geo. M. Adams, thanked the speakers, choir, ladies and committees for their kind services; the congregation joined in singing a hymn to the tune "Peterborough," and Rev. Mr. Sanborn closed the exercises with prayer and benediction. In the afternoon there was a communion of the members of the North Parish and other churches. The interest of the proceedings was kept up to the close, and the two days' celebration will be looked back to with pleasure by the participants for years to come.

WE do not understand that T. E. O. M., in his communication regarding the election of Hon. Albert A. Fernald as Mayor, intended to reflect upon that gentleman as deserting the Republican party by accepting the position given him by Democratic schemers, but the manner in which the communication was written may mislead some, and we therefore wish to place matters in their true light. We have known Mr. Fernald intimately from boyhood, and being with him in Kentucky at the outbreak of the rebellion can speak advisedly of his loyalty to the Union. He was one of the most reliable of the Union men of our acquaintance and, being fearless and outspoken, won the respect of the most bitter rebels in and about Pendleton County. Owning property there, he did not truckle to disunionism, and remained during the rebellion as true as steel. His antecedents and that of his family are Republican, as the voters of Ward One well know. Mr. Fernald will make an excellent Mayor, being a man of great energy and enterprise, shrewd in business matters, high minded and honorable. He can never be deceived or cajoled into doing the dirty work of the slimy copperheads who would like to use him. We will vouch for Mayor Albert A. Fernald, as a reliable Republican, every time,—our authority being his past record and a thorough knowledge of the man.

CHARLATANS AND EMPIRICS, or Dentistry as a Learned Profession, is the title of a paper read before the Merrimac Valley Dental Society by A. P. Stevens, D. D. S., of this city. It is a well written and interesting document, taking high grounds in favor of the thorough and scientific education of all persons before entering the dental profession. The theme is a most important one, and the evils of which it treats and the suggestions it makes are of the highest importance to all. The paper is published by request of the Association. Dr. Stevens is a ready and agreeable writer (as well as speaker) and this paper is interesting and instructive to the public generally, as well as the profession.

SAMUEL H. GOODALL, ESQ., planned the beautiful and appropriate decorations of the North Church for the bicentennial celebration, and was the chief engineer in carrying them out. We heard but one opinion expressed by the many who mentioned them, which was that they were in perfect taste and keeping with the church, and just right as to quantity—neither too much nor too little.

THE BASE BALL MATCH at the Fair Grounds to-morrow afternoon between the Savannah Club and a Picked Nine will be well worth witnessing.

A HEAVY EARTHQUAKE SHOCK was experienced in this city, shortly before one o'clock, Thursday morning. We were awakened from a sound sleep by it, the noise being continued for several seconds, being as loud as heavy thunder. In various places about this city, Greenland and Kittery, we hear hat buildings were shaken, windows rattled, plastering shaken down, and door bells rang. No damage was done. The rumble of the shock was a peculiar sound. The shock seemed to pass from North to South. At Great Falls, Rochester, and Centre Harbor two distinct shocks were felt. But one shock was experienced in Boston, Portland, Lowell, Newburyport, Concord, Manchester, Keene, Alton Bay, Lake Village, Brunswick, and Lewiston. It is generally described as the severest shock in New England for many years.

THE RAILROAD GUIDE from Boston to Portland and Ocean Watering Places, over the Eastern and P. S. & P. Railroads, published by A. Williams & Co., Boston, is a valuable handbook. The hundreds of thousand of pleasure seekers who pass over these railroads annually, will find it a very necessary work. It contains descriptions of the various localities of interest on the route, and the running time of the many daily trains. Last year, the Eastern Railroad averaged carrying 14,000 passengers daily and since the introduction of the Pullman trains it is said the travel has increased fully 50 per cent. So much for renewed enterprise.

FIREMEN'S MUSTER.—The firemen of New England are looking forward to a fine time at the proposed muster which is to take place in Portsmouth, N. H., in September next. How would it do for the "Tigers" of this city to take their brooms and go on another sweeping excursion? They swept one hundred dollars into their treasury, the last trip they made; who knows but there is muscle enough left in the company to repeat the joke in New Hampshire? Or perhaps one of our steamers might replenish its money-box by entering the lists. It would not be a bad idea to have Lynn represented in the trial, at any rate.—Reporter.

That's right—come ahead.

AN AGENT for the sale of Lossing's Life of Washington called upon a gentleman of this city, to sell a copy. The gentlemen pointed to a half dozen little children and asked the canvasser if he thought he could afford to pay them $3. The reply was unanswerable. "My dear sir," said the agent, "It looks as if you would need books in your home."

THE MUSTER.—S. F. Engine Co., No. 2, held an enthusiastic meeting, Wednesday evening, and unanimously accepted the report of the committee in favor of the muster. It was voted to use the best means in making the affair the largest ever held in New England.

BARNUM'S CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE comes to-day. About 20,000 people visited the show in Manchester, Wednesday. The performance to-day is on Richards' Avenue. Go early and see the menagerie, first.

SENATOR CRAGIN and family are at Salisbury Beach.

SPEAKING of the result of the lengthy session of the New Hampshire Legislature, the editor of the Manchester Daily Union, Mr. Campbell, says:

We do not propose to say much of the proceedings of this body until we have a detailed statement of its work. Our impression is it was not "a success;" and yet we are not prepared to say that special blame is to be laid at anybody's door, except, of course—Smith's. When we elected Smith to this place we committed a gigantic blunder; and yet, we do not see that reproach should be attached to anybody therefor.

TWINES & NETTING,

MANUFACTURED BY

WM. E. HOOPER & SONS,

Morning Chronicle.

THE KU-KLUX INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE have examined Joshua L. Morris, attorney-general of Mississippi, a native of Tennessee and ten years a resident of Mississippi, and a Confederate judge during the war. He had no personal knowledge of the Ku-Klux, but knew of its existence in the State, the organization being confined to two tiers of the counties on the Alabama line. He said it was almost impossible to convict them, not only for the reason that they are disguised and the people are afraid to testify against them, but because public sentiment in localities where such offences are committed is generally disposed to ignore them altogether. The main purpose of the organization is to intimidate negroes and control the negro vote. The great mass of people of the State are well disposed and orderly, but allow themselves to be influenced by their old leaders, who consider negro suffrage an outrage and have determined to remove it when in power and in the meanwhile to make it as harmless as possible. In the opinion of witness the existence of the Ku-Klux organization will be as plainly apparent in the next election as it was in 1868 and 1869.

THE next New England Fair will be held in Lowell, Mass., on the 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th days of September. The grounds embrace about forty acres and are admirably adapted for the purpose intended. There is a commodious exhibition building on the grounds, two stories high, with a basement under the whole building, giving more than 27,000 square feet of available space for exhibitors. The stalls for horses and cattle, and the pens for sheep and swine, will be amply sufficient for the accommodation of all exhibitors of stock. The railroads will land passengers within a few feet of one of the main entrances, and stock will be unloaded from the cars within the enclosure. The premiums and the expenses of the Fair will amount in the aggregate to $25,000.

THE SECOND ANNUAL REUNION of the Army of the James was held in New York, July 19; address by Gen. Devens, oration by Gen. Terry, poem by Col. John Hay. Gen. Joseph R. Hawley was elected President for the ensuing year. In the evening the annual dinner was given in the St. James Hotel.

A LARGE PORTION of the Kentucky military claim, it is well understood, if allowed, is to be given the prosecuting agent, who will pay it back to a committee, which will use it to pay the expenses of the democratic canvass in Kentucky in the coming election campaign.

THE HARVARD-ATALANTA RACE at Ingleside, July 19, was a sorry defeat for the former, the Atalanta coming in one minute and three seconds ahead in 18:19 1-2.

THE BRITISH MINISTRY has determined to abolish the purchase system in defiance of the resistance of the House of Lords, or failing in this to resign.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants.

They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf&b16

ARRESTING ABSCONDING BEES.—I have never had a swarm to leave a hive and go on, without first alighting. My impression is that the old-fashioned practice of tanging proceeds from a correct idea, that is, that a swarm will always alight when thoroughly alarmed, so as to disconcert them. The past season I used a large mirror and stopped by that means a swarm, which I had hived a few days previously, and which started to go off. I ran after it, flashing the sun's rays among them most thoroughly—the mirror being fourteen by twenty inches square. I stopped them on the last tree in the vicinity, and in five minutes had them nicely hived. I have frequently stopped them by throwing water, chips or dirt among them, when starting to leave; and once when passing overhead, as I was bringing corn home. But I failed once, last summer, with a swarm that had come out and alighted unobserved by me. The first I knew of it, it was taking wing from a tree near my apiary, and I think it must have waited for me over night, for it was quite early in the day for a swarm to come out and then leave. I did as in the other case, but the more I flashed the faster they went. I think it must have been an after-swarm with a young queen, as I found no signs of a swarm having left a hive that had not swarmed before, and found one that had swarmed previously, much more depopulated than it should have been.—Am. Bee Journal.

NOT THE LADY.—A well known minister, walking along the street a few days since, met a lady for whom he recently performed the marriage service. Desiring to renew the acquaintance (for the lady had interested him greatly at the time,) he accosted her with the remark:

"Madam, did I not have the pleasure of marrying you a few days since?"

"I was married a few days since, sir."

"Yes; I thought I was not mistaken; I married you."

"Indeed! well, I thought my husband was a much younger man than you are; but I have not seen enough of him to make his acquaintance thoroughly. By the way, my dear, my chicken is getting smooty; please give me some money to buy a waterfall."

Evidently this was more than the minister bargained for, and with a hasty bow, accompanied by the remark: "No, you are not the lady—I'm mistaken," he took his leave.—New Orleans Picayune.

BLIGHT IN PEAR TREES.—Several nurserymen in Geneva, N. Y., are using salt freely in their pear nurseries, at from 200 to 400 lbs. an acre yearly, and say that it has a wholesome tendency to correct the tendency to blight; also to prevent it for the future. Certain it is where used there have been less indications of its prevalence than in other parts where it was not used. It is believed that salt is to play a very important part in agriculture and horticulture as top-dressing or for mixture with fertilizers. It is now, with lime, the best of all applications to mix with muck and reduce it too a friable condition. Iron shavings, and copperas in solution, have also been used, as also potash manure and been found of special efficacy in restoring the trees to full health and renewed vigor.

—The names of the days of the week were derived from the gods worshipped by our Anglo-Saxon ancestors. On the first day of the week they worshipped the Sun, hence the day was called Sun's day, or Sunday; the second was the Moon's day, or Monday; then they had a god called Tuesco or Twi, and for him they named the third, Tuesday; Wednesday was named for the famous warrior, Woden, whom after death, they worshipped as a god, hence Woden's day, or Wednesday; Thursday was so called for Thor, the god of thunder; Friday for Friga, mother of all gods; and Saturday was Saturn's day.

—A young man says there may have been such a thing as real love in old times, but that now the notion is entirely obsolete, and if you ask a young lady now-a-days to share your lot, she immediately wants to know how large that "lot" is.

—"Grandma," said a shrewd child, "do you want some candy?" "Yes, dear, I should like some." "Then, if you'll buy some, I'll give you half," said Polly.

—"Never listen to flatterers, my dear," said a mother to her daughter. "Why, mamma, how should I know they are flatterers unless I listen to them?"

—A New York paper speaks of a popular steamship commander as a "working old salt," and the New Orleans Times wonders if he beats old "Epsom."

—An Iowa base-ball club has buried its catcher because he stood too near the striker when the latter was preparing for a home-run.

—The game of "bull-gull" is the popular amusement at Nashville.

POLITICAL.

Orange S. Winans, the New York "Leper," announces himself a candidate for re-election to the Assembly from the Dunkirk District of Chautauqua County. He has issued a four-column address, which is of consequence only as showing that neither his temper nor his principles have changed for the better since he became infamous.

The reason why the Maryland State convention did not make a platform was because the leaders were afraid to declare either for or against the new departure.

Gov. Bullock of Georgia, announces himself as a State sovereignty man and opposed to the republican construction of the constitutional amendment.

COLONEL HUGGINS, who served in the army from Ohio during the war, and was afterwards agent of the freedmen's bureau in Mississippi for 18 months, and is now an assistant assessor at Aberdeen, Miss., testified before the Ku-Klux committee that while on an official tour in the vicinity of Aberdeen, last March, he was captured by a band of 120 disguised men, who, after making him promise under threats of death to leave the county and State within ten days, whipped and left him insensible. They told him that their object was to rid the county of judicial officeholders. He knew of other instances wherein the same purposes have been avowed. Subsequently through his efforts some thirty members of this band were arrested and bound over for trial at Oxford, Miss. Several schools had been broken up, one colored minister killed and several white preachers driven away by violence. These outrages had created great terror among the republicans, who in that section are almost exclusively colored, but in consequence of the recent vigorous action of the United States authorities a better feeling prevails at present.

J. C. Morris, formerly of Warren county, Georgia, now a resident of Atlanta, testified before the Ku-Klux committee that he was elected sheriff of Warren county in 1868; served one year, but was compelled to leave the county by an organized band of Ku-Klux. He was once waylaid by disguised men, shot at and badly wounded. He gave an account of the killing of Dr. Dorden, who had been put into jail to await trial for murder. The doctor was taken out by disguised men, who burnt down the jail in order to reach the prisoner. They forced him to surrender to them a pistol in his possession, and led him forth and shot him dead. This was in 1869. While attempting to arrest the guilty parties he was forced to flee from the country. None of the men have been tried or punished. Of seven persons he once sheltered all but one were subsequently murdered by the Ku-Klux. There had been no murders in Warren county since the beginning of 1870. The people, however, are in great terror and fear. A large number of colored men have gone to Mississippi, Louisiana and other States, where they deem they will be more secure.

MR. GLADSTONE has announced in the British House of Commons that the Queen had solved the purchase problem by cancelling the royal warrant legalizing the purchase of commissions in the army. The tories in the Commons and Lords are awful mad, but can't help themselves. Gladstone defied them and challenged them to move a vote of want of confidence in the ministry.

RICHARD HANDELL of Kansas is in danger of being lynched for beating his daughter, 6 years old, to death. His son exposed him, and asserts that Handell's brutal cruelty caused his wife's death also, a short time ago.

AT Maunch Chunk, Pa., a locomotive blew up and killed six men, July 20.

RED CLOUD is on the war path.

THE NEW YORK RIOTERS.—Donn Piatt hits the nail squarely on the head in the following article, published in the Washington Capital:—

The insolence of creatures spawned upon our shores from the pauper-house of England is something intolerable. We are not own ourselves, our nationality is something to be ashamed of and even at all hours to insult. We now ask these Irish permission to exercise our rights as citizens of a country that first gives them recognition as men. No procession shall march through our streets save by their permission. After a time we shall be on our knees petitioning these ignorant and vicious creatures for leave to breathe.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The cars on the Portsmouth Great Falls & Conway R. R. are running almost to Ossipee, and arrangements are being made to have them run to Conway by Sept. 1. The building of this road will create quite a change in the mode of travel through that region. Heretofore the mails, passengers, express, &c., have been transported on stages, but the people will gladly exchange for the quicker method of steam. Six lines of stages will be almost entirely ruined and a number of others injured more or less.

Col. Daniel Hall of Dover has been appointed Superintendent of the New Hampshire State Fair, to be held there during the latter part of September next

William H. Townsend died at the residence of Mr. Thacher T. White, in Dover, on Monday last, from a difficulty of the head, after an illness of nine weeks, aged about thirty-one years. He was a young man of industrious habits, of a most mild and amiable disposition, and was highly esteemed by a large number of relatives and friends. He has heretofore been troubled with a scrofolous difficulty, causing great suffering, but from this he had apparently recovered some months before this attack.

THE EUPHRATES VALLEY RAILWAY. They are talking in Londor about a line of railway, which is to run along the track of Cyrus and his ten thousand Greeks, past the site of the tower of Babel and through the birth-place of the human race, to the Persian Gulf, and eventually to Bombay and Calcutta. The French have dug a canal across the isthmus of Suez. The Russians are marching and counter-marching in Bokhara, and their columns may any day appear in the Punjaub. The East India traffic of England must pay toll to the Mounseers, or take the old route around the Cape of Good Hope; and British troops, if wanted in India must go by water or not go at all. Clearly a railroad through Asia Minor and Mesopotamia is a military and commercial necessity, and a tunnel or bridge across the British channel is a necessary part of the programme. Through trains must run from London to Calcutta without change of cars, as well as from New York to San Francisco.

This may seem wild talk; but it is uttered in sober earnest nevertheless. And if trains are to run through the Alps and over the piles of Venice, in the name of Mammon, why shouldn't they cross the Channel and glide down the banks of the Euphrates? Why shouldn't the Barings negotiate the bonds of the consolidated European and Asiatic railway, and the quotations of these new consols replace the figures which mark the rise and fall of the British war debt?

The Communists are right after all. There is an irrepressible conflict between the old order and the new. They did well to pull down the Vendome column, and it's a great pity they didn't succeed in destroying the imperial library. Calif Omar, who burned the Alexandrian collection, was a benefactor of his species. Who can hope or wish to know all that might be known about the line of the Euphrates valley railway? Of making many books there is no end, and much reading is a weariness to the flesh. Here is Babylon, the mighty, and all the learning of the Chaldeans in the heaps on heaps of wedge-shaped inscription and winged lions galore. Between the two lies Bagdad, and what vast historical changes between Sardanapalus and Haroun Al Raschid!

The Ark floated over these plains, and rested to the northward on the peak of Ararat. Away with the whole confusion of chronologies. Let us forget it. Let us have a new deluge and a clean slate. They call the river El Frat now-a-days. Let it be, for the new generation, the Frat river railroad. What's Xenophon to us, or what are we to Xenophon? Who cares whether Tiglath-pileser was a man, or a demigod, or a Darwinian monkey! Think of Murray's guide-books grappling with the Euphrates valley, and admit that it is best to drop the Assyrian monarchies, and all the venerable conundrums of Layard and Rawlinson for good. Let Nebuchadnezzar go to grass again, and Xerxes and his foolish bridge of boats be forgotten—what did he know about engineering?—Portland Advertiser.

THE GREAT MISTAKE.—Our Democratic and Labor Reform friends in the legislature made one great mistake. They should have got out a writ of habeas corpus and brought old Smith before some competent court, in order to ascertain whether he was compos mentis, an ass, an old fool, a hypocrite and a knave, or under republican duress. We are inclined to the opinion that he was more of the knave and hypocrite. But an inquisition would have shown how the fact was.—Nashua Gazette.

No inquisition is neccessary to decide what the writer of the foregoing is. He is a—Democrat. No one will doubt it.

A NEW LINE FROM TIDE-WATER TO THE LAKES.—The daily increasing importance of Oswego, the second grain port of the lakes and one of the first in the lumber trade, is not likely to be diminished by the immense strides made by the region of which it is the key. Its position in relation to the enlarged Welland Canal, tide-water and New York City, is such as to give it an important influence in the future of the country. The new trunk line of railroad across the State of New York, connecting it with tide-water at Rondout and Kingston Point, will serve its interests greatly, and will be benefitted in return by the immense development of the new Northwest, and of lake commerce.

This line is soon to be completed by the addition of a link of one hundred miles, running from Oneonta to Rondout. This will bring Oswego twenty-five miles nearer to New York than any other route and 107 miles nearer to Boston.

It is needless to say that it will obtain a large local traffic which must benefit the region which it drains. Thirty-six miles are now in operation, and sixteen miles further will be opened by August 15th. Nearly three-fourths of the road is graded, and it is hoped that the whole will be finished in October next year.—N. Y. World.

A CRUEL BUT EFFICACIOUS REMEDY. A newly-fledged Philadelphia doctor recently settled in Havana, Ill., and the first case he had was a boy, who while shelling pop-corn, got a kernel in his windpipe. The doctor examined the case carefully, looked at the patient's tongue, and then told the father of the boy to build up a hot fire. When that was done the doctor told them to take the boy and hold him over the fire until the kernel got hot enough to "pop out." The old man went up stairs and got his gun, but while he was loading it the doctor escaped.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

HOTELS are either overgrown nuisances, or else large families where every wish is gratified by accommodations which a smaller menage could ill support The Messrs. Rice, of the AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON, keep this fact constantly in view, and their hotel constantly increases in public favor.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find Parsons' Purgative Pills safe; and, in small doses, a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

Henry K. Bond, of Jefferson, Maine, was cured of spitting blood, soreness and weakness of the stomach, by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Perilous Season.

Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." Now, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach but half performs the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, an requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathises with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, corrective, and antibilious medicine, is not known and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is considered, both by the people and the profession, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the purest and best vegetable stimulant in the world.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to foist upon the people. Their name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels.

WANTED—TWO BELL BOYS at Rockingham House. je30

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

New Advertisements to-day.

Removal—Mrs. Lovell.

ADMIRAL BAILEY and family are at the Rockingham and will spend the Summer in this vicinity.

MRS. W. H. LOVELL, at 57 1-2 Congress Street, opposite the Kearsarge House, offers a nice assortment of Hair for the ladies, whose patronage she desires.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Thursday evening, the Mayor was authorized to arrange with Aqueduct Co. for supplying cistern in rear of City Building with water.

It was voted to put the city wells in order; the order to remove the Court Street pump was reconsidered, and the Mayor authorized to put the same in order when satisfied he has legal right so to do.

Communication from Chief Engineer, tendering his resignation was referred to Com. on Fire Dept.

Claim of J. W. Nutter for recompense for damage done by dogs, was referred.

The sum of $500 was appropriated for the Firemen's Muster, from contingent fund.

THE PROGRAMME for the Firemen's Muster, to be held in this city, Sept. 7th and 8th, is as follows:—

Five prizes will be played for. One of $100 for the best horizontal play with a steam pressure not to exceed 100 pounds, for 1st class steamers.

One of $150 for the best horizontal play with a steam pressure not exceeding 100 pounds for 2d class steamers.

One of $100 for the second best horizontal play with a steam pressure not exceeding 100 pounds, for second class steamers.

One of $100 for the best horizontal play of Hand Engines without reference to size of cylinder.

One of $50 for the second best play of Hand Engines without reference to size of cylinder.

Each engine will be allowed fifteen minutes to make necessary preparation.

The foreman or some representative of each company will report at the City Council Room at 10 o'clock on the day of trial, to draw their numbers. The column will move at 11 1-2 o'clock, precisely.

The companies composing the Portsmouth Fire Department will not contend for the prizes.

Each engine to draft its own water and play through 200 feet of leading hose, and through such pipe and muzzle as they may select.

Five minutes will be allowed each company after setting their engine, and their best stream within that time shall be measured by the judges.

Two minutes will be allowed each company to replace each length of bursted hose. Each company may choose a judge to assist at its trial only. Officers of companies must see that their engines are ready when their number is called by the judge. Hose will be furnished free to all contestants.

All entries must be made to the secretary on or before Sept. 1st, stating the name of engine, size of cylinder, name of builder, number of men, and what music will accompany them.

Companies, on arrival, will be escorted to their respective headquarters during their stay, and are requested to notify the secretary on what train they will arrive.

Engine, Hook & Ladder and Hose Companies without their apparatus are requested to notify the committee of arrangements at as early a day as possible.

The programme for the first day will probably be the reception of companies, a parade through the principal streets, and an excursion down the river to one of the islands, when a clam bake will take place. The steamboats will then return with the firemen to the city sometime during the evening.

Arrangements will be made for the camping out of firemen in the Squares of the city and accommodations will be made for that purpose, as well as at the halls, &c., in different parts of the city without expense to the visiting firemen. If the weather is unpleasant the companies will be quartered under cover. The second day's proceedings will be the reception of what companies do not arrive on the 6th, a short parade,—and at 10 o'clock the trial of engines will commence on Market Square.

The following committees have been appointed:—

Clam Bake, Messrs. Deering, Moulton and Glines.

On Horses, Ald. Marvin, Messrs. Waterhouse and Moore.

On Water, Chief Engineer Marston and Asst. Engineer Brackett.

On Printing, both Secretaries.

On Tents, both Secretaries.

On Refreshments, General Committee.

On Railroads, the Secretaries.

NEW SEASIDE HOTEL. Many of our summer sojourners by the sea will remember with pleasure the old Winnicumet House, at Hampton Beach, kept by the late Thomas Leavitt, Esq. Some years since it was destroyed by fire. Upon the same spot two sons of the proprietor of the old hotel have just erected a new establishment, "The Hampton Beach House," in which they propose to revive the former triumphs of the old house. The house is elegantly furnished, has also the modern improvements, and is in every way a delightful spot.

BARNUM'S COMBINED CIRCUS AND MENAGERIE caused quite a stir in this city, Friday. The street procession of band carriage, wild beasts' dens and gorgeous, lumbering chariot took place early in the morning, and was attended by a crowd of boys and men; it was a good show, and some of the teams of horses were very fine. The combination had tents enough to fill the slaughter-house field on Richards Avenue comfortably full, and a small army of men and horses arrived there at an early hour; and the pump placed in the spring water on South Street by F. W. Miller, Esq., two years ago, was in pretty constant use all day. Wagons and other carriages poured in from the surrounding country from an early hour in the morning, bringing farmers and their families, and the single-barrelled side-walk on Richards Avenue was crowded with foot passengers about all day. The show was good—better than we expected. The performance was just long enough to prevent its being tedious. The menagerie is well worth looking at. An audience of 5000 people gathered under the spacious tents in the afternoon and about as many in the evening. Hundreds came 20 or 25 miles—so great is Barnum's fame.

—It always pains us to point out typographical errors of our contemporaries. Some time ago Mr. W. R. Wilkins published three sermons, and the Christian Union gave them a cordial endorsement. They had in that paper the wonderful title of "God's Rescues; or the Lost Sheep, the Lost Cow, and the Lost Sow." A more compact title would have been, "The Farmyard Astray." The Union said of them that "they touch those spiritual instincts which it is the business of religion at once to evoke and to satisfy." Curious to see what "spiritual instincts" the "Lost Sow" had gone about to "evoke" and wondering if "evoke" was not a mis-print, for "roast," some one procured the book and found that the sermons were entitled "The Lost Sheep, The Lost Coin, and The Lost Sow."—Hartford Courant.

THE NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY Are building a trunk line, connecting New Orleans with Mobile on the east, and giving THE ONLY RAILROAD CONNECTION between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles. The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 108 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built:

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes:

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or $200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and subscriptions at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

The August number of The Radical has a leading article by Mrs. Edmah D. Cheney, "The Next Step in Popular Education — Labor Schools." Other papers bear the following titles: "The Life which Now Is," "Downfalls of Ancient Paganism," "Of Theism," "The Metal Ages," "The Idea of Immortality." "A Roman Relic at Treves," is the title of a short story. M. D. Conway contributes a letter replying to some strictures on his views of the Bible by Mr. David Plumb. There are poems by Mr. Emerson and others.

The August number of the Atlantic Monthly is out. "Werewolves and Swan-Maidens," by Professor John Fiske, is another exposition of some curious superstitions of former ages. Mr. Howells continues the story of "A Wedding Journey." Mr. Fields favors the public with another batch of Mr. Dickens' letters, giving this time several written to himself in reply to urgings that he should again visit America. Clarence King contributes another paper on Sierra Nevada experiences. "Kate Beaumont" is continued, and Henry Jones, Jr., begins a new story, entitled "Watch and Ward." The second "Encyclical," by H. H., is a lively chat about visiting ruins. "My Father's Shipwreck" is the title of a short story published anonymously. The poetry is by Whittier, Hiram Rich, E. D. Rice and Emily E. Ford.

The August number of Our Young Folks has contributions from J. T. Trowbridge, Josephine Pollard, Helen C. Weeks, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, H. H., Mrs. Diaz and many others, and abounds with excellent illustrations.

Harper's Monthly for August is filled with attractive reading matter. Among its many acceptable things, all calculated to assist the reader to while away a portion of the prevailing hot afternoons, will be found "Children of the Summer," "Count Cavour and the Unification of Italy," "Life in Cuba," "My Castle in Spain," a very neat poem by John Hay, the continuation of "The American Baron," the Telegraph and the Storm," by Prof. T. B. Maury, some more chapters of "Anne Furness," a hitherto unpublished letter of Coleridge's and several other interesting features, including the popular "Easy Chair," "Records" and "Drawer."

BASE BALL DRAMA.—The "sensational-play" carpenter has availed himself successively of the Mississippi steamer, the Erie Railroad train, the bowie-knife, the trip-hammer, the non-explosive kerosene lamp. He has produced marvellous effect in "After Dark" with a real railroad train, in the "Lancashire Lass" with a real ferry-boat, and in the "Long Strike" with a real telegraph instrument. He has gotten up a foot-race in "Man and Wife," a boat-race in "Formosa," and a horse-race in "Flying Scud." His hero has played ecarte in "Money," has cut for hundred in "Society," and held four aces at a critical period in "Kit, the Arkansas Traveller." And yet, we say it to his shame, he has never made baseball a feature of his work, whether comedy, play or burlesque. Considering that about 600,000 Americans annually blister their fingers and break their noses at the national game, and that at least ten times that number aid and abet them as spectators, it would seem that a mine of untold wealth and popularity has been left untouched. Why not erect a five-act play wherein the athletic hero shall fall in love with a lady of fabulous beauty and wealth, whose papa is president of the Invincible B. B. C., by whose judicious victories and defeats he has acquired millions? She is beyond his reach. The haughty sire promises her hand to the lover when he can find a nine to beat the Invincibles. He forms a team, and it is crushingly defeated—13 to 0. He disappears, but in the disguise of a red-headed, bandy-legged short-stop re-appears with the White Stockings. Betting is 100 to 3 on the Invincibles, and he bets $500,000 on the Whites. The game stands 8 to 4 on the last inning, against the Whites, and two hands out. Three men are on the bases, when the hero clears them with a clean home-run and ties. The father trembles and the heroine gasps for breath. The Invincibles have three men on bases and one hand lost. A hot one is sent to the hero at short. He catches it—drops it—O agony! Hardly has it touched the stage than he seizes it, sends it like lightning to the baseman, he passes it to first, and the side is retired on a splendid double play. The White Stockings score 1. The hero crams $16,500,000 into his pocket, tears off his disguise, seizes the fainting maiden in his arms, and waving his cap over his head, exclaims—anything. Now if any enterprising dramatic architect will write this up, call it "The Home Run; or, A Game for a Wife," judiciously interspersed with slang, double entendrepons, railroad collisions, Offenbachian airs, kerosene lamps, nigger minstrels and shapely legs, he will realize a fortune and a reputation. We haven't the time to do it ourselves, and wealth and reputation we have already. But our plot is at the service of the public, without money and without price.—Chicago Republican.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yr&eawfbls

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

The Monthly Novelette is gaining in estimation quite fast, and has a most liberal list of contents, sea stories, adventures, love stories, poetry, history, biography, etc. The August number contains:—The Baronet's Daughter, At Sea, Trapped by a Woman, Homeward Bound, The Bald Ghost, Precious Stones, The First Gentlemen in Europe, Dealings with Mad Dogs, and many other articles. $2 per year; Thomes & Talbot, 69 Congress Street, Boston.

The Galaxy for August has an account of "The Mediterranean Solar Eclipse," very pleasantly written, Mr. Crapsey's seventh sketch of "The Nether Side of New York" has the tenement houses for its subject; and a hard subject it is for any reader who is not very happily constituted to bear the miseries of others. "At Isella," is a story by Henry James, Jr. There are several poems, those by Nora Perry and Louise Chandler Moulton being the best. The number is a good one.

Scribner for August, contains a pleasant illustrated article on Vassar College, by Rev. H. H. McFarland; a paper on life in the Caucasus, by J. S. Headley; biographical sketches of Gray, the painter, and Ward, the sculptor, by Mr. Townly; and an article on the proposed New York Art Museum, by J. R. G. Hassard, with engravings of Beard's designs for the approaches to it; sketches of Trochu, Rochefort, Gambetta, Favre, and other French leaders, by Dr. Mary C. Putnam; a humorous episode of travel, by H. S. Tuckerman; poems by Elizabeth Akers Allen, G. P. Lathrop and Charlotte F. Bates, and interesting editorial matter in various departments.

The American Odd Fellow appears under new auspices. Mr. Orange Judd has taken the presidency of the American Odd Fellow Association. The contents of the current number include several elegantly illustrated articles. Published at No. 96 Nassau St., New York. $2.00 per year.

—In noting the rush of American pleasure-seekers, a contemporary makes one or two calculations of an interesting character. It intimates that during the year between five and six hundred steamers leave these shores with, on the average, eighty first-class passengers to each. Suppose each passenger spends three thousand dollars on his European excursion, and taking the hundreds of expenditures that indefinitely exceed this—the figure is not a high one—a total of about one hundred and twenty millions would be reached. This amount, too, is in specie, gold that is left on the other side of the ocean. The total sum brought here by European immigrants rarely exceeds twenty millions in the course of the year, so that from eighty to one hundred millions of dollars are annully carried by the American tourists to that bourne from whence it never returns.

How very sad! Is it the chief end of man, then, to acquire riches?

—McClellan made a poor show as general, and a still poorer one as politician; but as engineer he has few if any superiors. It is pleasant to have such a man placed among his piers.—Golden Age.

—The Columbus, Ohio, papers don't have any editorials now, the alleged cause being that "thermometer is up to three shirt collars a minute."

—A thing to be Jenner'ly practiced—vaccination.—N. Y. World.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot possibly employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGGART."

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this Office until 1 o'clock P. M., on Friday, the 28th day of July next, for altering and thoroughly repairing the Light-House Tender "Iris," (now at Portland, Maine, where she may be examined at any time,) according to the printed, detailed specifications, and plan of the vessel, which will form a part of the contract, copies of which may be obtained upon application to the Light-House Board, and at the Offices of the Light-House Inspectors at Boston and Portland, and also at the Custom-houses at Portsmouth, N. Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have died.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that however sunken and sickly vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons he employs a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

Professor Young has labored zealously for several years to procure a new telescope for Dartmouth College, and has finally succeeded. The old instrument was mounted on a wooden stand, was but eight feet in length, with an aperture of six inches. The new one is twelve and a third feet in length, nine and a half inch aperture. There are but eight larger in the United States. The iron stand upon which it is mounted was cast at Lebanon. This instrument was manufactured by Alvan Clark of Cambridgeport, Mass., costing $1000. The observatory was erected and furnished some years ago by George C. Shattuck, LL. D., of Boston, and with the addition of the new telescope compares favorably with any in the country.

Messrs. Taft & Greenleaf, proprietors of the Profile House, are erecting upon the site of the Flume House (destroyed by fire last winter) a small but handsome house of modern style, which will accommodate from fifty to seventy-five guests.

MAJOR-GENERAL SHALER, who commanded all the New York troops on the day of the riot, in his official report states that the testimony is abundant to show that long before the troops retaliated firearms were discharged and missiles of all kinds thrown at them from the sidewalks, windows and housetops; and it was not until an officer of the eighty-fourth had been struck down by a missile thrown from a house-top, one of the men shot in the head, another received a flesh wound, two of the men of the ninth had been killed outright, a number wounded and three of the sixth wounded, that a fire was opened upon the mob. It is the opinion of the most experienced officers of the police force and of the military present that the troops did not fire any too soon, but that in a very few minutes more it would have been difficult, if not impossible, to overpower the mob, and that the lives lost at 8th avenue and 24th street saved the sacrifice of a much greater number at some other point. General Varian, commanding the escort to the procession, the officers, soldiers and police are warmly commended for their gallant conduct. General Varian in his report states that he gave his troops specific orders to fire as soon as fired upon.

BRANCH NO. ONE of Father Matthew's Society, the largest in New York city, has unanimously voted to withdraw their delegation from the Hibernia Hall convention on account of its action as to the recent riot.

—Gen. Butler has confirmed the fears of his enemies and the hopes of his friends, by stating that he shall consent to the use of his name as candidate for Governor of Massachusetts in case that Gov. Claflin declines renomination. Moreover, he is in favor of enforcing all laws while they are laws, whether he approves them or not, and thinks the quickest way to get an unpopular statute repealed is to carry out its provisions. Massachusetts politicians generally are opposed to Gen. Butler, who is more than a match for any of them, and perhaps on that account. But we only wish New York could have him as Governor for a couple of years. We believe that in one term he would make life and property as safe in this city as in the Fejee Islands, and render an intelligent American citizen almost as respectable and influential as an ignorant, whiskey-drinking, ballot-stuffing, head-breaking foreigner. It is too bad he lives in a state which has a surfeit of great men, that he is not wanted nor half-appreciated. In fact such a hiding of his candle in sunshine is not constitutional, and if he does not migrate we shall apply to the courts for a writ of Habeas Corpus.—Golden Age.

THE ORANGE SOCIETIES should parade next year without a banner less and no inscription rubbed out. They should not do it on an implied promise that if protected for once they will do it no more. They ought to move through the streets of New York until nobody thinks of molesting them. When that time arrives it will be a matter of no public importance whether the annual procession is kept up or not; but so long as a dog wags his tongue against an Orangemen's procession, or a bewildered magistrate forgets his duty toward them the public good requires their continuance. If the Orangemen of New York fail next year to march through the streets of the city they will betray a sacred duty. By accident they have become the representatives of a principle which lies at the foundation of modern civilization. They do not just now represent a great fact in history, but a living principle; it is not the battle of the Boyne in Ireland, but a question of liberty in New York.—H. W. Beecher.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION in Massachusetts, Sept. 27th.

NINE of the Ku-Klux in Kentucky have been arrested, and one has turned State's evidence. A State Senator was at the head of the gang.

DANBURY, Connecticut, is in an ecstacy of expectation. The other day some one found a fine pearl in a clam, and now the whole vicinity has deserted the certainty of bakes for the prospect of pearls.

DEMOCRATIC papers tell us that the better class of Irish had nothing to do with the New York riots, and that only the roughs and criminals were engaged in it, which may be true, but if so, that is only another reason why the Republican press and party should be indignant that Tammany gave up law and liberty to such scum, for the sake of their votes. They are the men who have kept Tammany in power, and whom Tammany trusts to for a further lease of the same, whether they are the best or the worst of the Irish.

THE NEXT ELECTIONS.—The next State election to occur is that of Kentucky on Monday, the 7th of August. California and Vermont follow on Tuesday, the 4th of September, and Maine on Monday, September 10th. In Texas a special election will beheld for the choice of four Congressmen, to commence on the first Tuesday in October. Ohio, Pennsylvania and Iowa choose State officers and members of the Legislature on the second Tuesday in October. Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and several other States, have general elections on Tuesday, the 7th of November. Illinois has a special election for a Congressman at large in place of Senator Logan.

THE TICHBORNE case (in which an Australian butcher, vulgar and grossly ignorant, claims one of the oldest baronetcies and largest estates in England,) continues to attract much public interest. After much anxious search and advertisement the seamen composing the crew of the Bella, the vessel on which Tichborne is said to have made a voyage to South America, have been found. Much of the strength of the claimant's case hangs on the evidence which these men may give when placed on the witness-stand. Their appearance forms a crisis in the trial which will probably either result in the recognition of the claimant's case as valid and his establishment in the title and estates involved, or else his being branded as one of the greatest impostors of the age.

THE REVOLUTIONARY NAVY.—The war of the Revolution was begun without a single armed vessel. The first in the service were fitted out by Rhode Island in 1775, which were two schooners for the defence of the coasting trade. That State was also the first to recommend to Congress the formation of a naval force, and in December, 1775, Congress commissioned thirteen vessels as a commencement of the navy. In the spring of 1776, Massachusetts fitted out several armed vessels, the flag of which was white, with a figure of a pine or liberty tree, with the motto, "We appeal to Heaven." The first naval battle took place about three weeks after the battle of Lexington, a Captain Wheaton being said to have caused the striking of the first British flag on the ocean. No Congregational laws had been passed for the creation of the navy, and when General Washington undertook to get up and send to sea an expedition of six vessels, he was obliged to address them as "part of the army."

The earliest frigate from Philadelphia, the Alfred, Captain Hopkins, of which Paul Jones was lieutenant, displayed a flag of thirteen stripes of red and blue, with a rattlesnake in a running attitude, mouth open and sting projected, with the motto, "Don't tread on me." This same flag was borne by the Alliance frigate, under command of Paul Jones, when she dashed through a British fleet of twenty-one sail of war vessels in the North Sea, receiving their fire and making her escape.

The London Morning Chronicle of 25th July, 1776, "commends the device of the rattlesnake, and regards it as peculiarly appropriate to our American position and character."

The officers of the first navy were in many respects different from the present. In their dress there was but little show or grandeur. They wore small cocked hats, without lace; hair powdered and curled; coats with ample skirts and foul-anchored buttons, small-clothes, hose and shoes. Their dignity and sternness when they aimed at any, was not before their countrymen, but before the enemy. They had not been bred originally for drawing-room and courtly display; but they had no deficiency in polished circles when called to the exercise of their rules and usages.

—Charley relating his boarding-school experience;

Clara—And when do you have breakfast?

Charley—Just as soon as the parson gets through reading the riot act over the hash.

Clara—Grace-ious.

THE August number of "Oliver Optic's Magazine" furnishes an unusual amount of entertaining reading matter for the young people. The new stories by Oliver Optic, Elijah Kellogg, and Sophie May, are full of lively incidents. There is a capital story for girls, by Oliver Optic, entitled "The Young Minister; or, Our Girls at Play and Work;" an allegory, "The Revolt of the Bees," one of the best of George M. Baker's pieces, and very effective in the exhibition room; an original song and chorus by D. F. Hodges, entitled "Home in the Valley;" editorial correspondence, racy paragraphs and anecdotes, puzzles and headwork of all kinds, &c., &c. It is a model number of a model magazine. Published by Lee & Shepard, 149 Washington St., Boston. Price $2.50 per annum.

AN UNKIND SORT OF REFORM.—We observe in the legislative proceedings, that when the joint resolution to exonerate Gosport from the payment of State and county taxes came up for consideration, upon the ground of the almost total loss of property upon the island by the fire of 1866, the Democratic leaders growled a good deal, and attempted to amend the resolution by providing that the town should be deprived of the privilege of sending a representative hereafter. The Republicans made a gallant fight for the Shoalers, but without success; the representative from Gosport is a Republican, and the resolution to remit the taxes was lost.

How different is this conduct from that which the Democratic representative experienced from his political opponents in 1850. In 1846 a Democratic representative had been elected from Gosport, and attended the session of the legislature, but on account of some informality, was refused hispay and mileage. Dea. John F. Moses, of Exeter, then a whig and now a Republican, offered in the Legislature a resolution providing that the Democratic member from Gosport in 1846, should be paid in full for his attendance of that year. It went through both branches of the Legislature without a question, and a tardy act of justice, and to a political opponent, was thus done, which was worthy of all commendation. Comment on these two opposite fashions of treatment of political opponents, is needless.—Exeter News Letter.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Perilous Season.

Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." Now, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach but half performs the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, an requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, corrective, and anti-bilious medicine, is not known and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is considered, both by people and physicians, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the purest and best vegetable stimulant in the world.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to foist upon the people. Their name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep the season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the SCHR. FREE WIND left New York on Monday and arrived here on Thursday; we think she had a free wind all the way.

THE SAVANNAH BASE BALL CLUB did not arrive here on Saturday, on account of a breakage of machinery in the steamer on which they started from home. They put in at Charleston, S. C., and taking another steamer there kept on to New York, arriving Friday evening. On Saturday, they were to play the Haymakers at Troy, and are expected here next Wednesday.

MR. JACOB H. THOMPSON of the New York Times, formerly of this city and the CHRONICLE, was in town last week; and his many friends here will be pleased to learn that he is now in capital health, and looking better than we have seen him for years. Having "faced the monster death and overcome him," Jake now bids fair to do good service in the editorial chair for many years to come. So mote it be.

PEOPLE who sneer at Portsmouth men as lacking business enterprise, would never again be guilty of it had they taken a look at the field occupied by Barnum's Circus, on the morning after its departure. Fully fifty men and one woman were on the ground by half past four o'clock, hunting in the grass for script or anything else that might have been dropped by the crowd of the day and evening before. One party of Irish gentlemen found a big chunk of bacon and a loaf among the debris of the canvas hotel; a fire was quickly built, the bacon and bread toasted on sticks and the points of jack-knives, and the delicious morsels having been cooked the party proceeded to have a good time eating the same. An hour or two later the boys arrived, but probably did not make much of a haul.

SOME SURPRISE is manifested because Chief Engineer Stephen L. Marston of the Fire Department has tendered his resignation. The cause is explained in the following communication.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 20th.

To His Honor the Mayor and City Council:—Gentlemen:—The board of Aldermen refusing to pay certain bills for services rendered the Fire Department and the men refusing to do the work unless paid, prevents us, (Engineers of Fire Department,) from doing what is required of us in Ordinance No. 21, Sections 2 and 4: Therefore I respectfully tender my resignation as Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, to take effect as soon as my successor is appointed. Very Respectfully, (Signed,) STEPHEN L. MARSTON.

We trust that our efficient Chief Engineer will be retained, especially as the Grand Master announced for September 6th and 7th will require the united energies of the entire Department and the citizens to be successfully carried out.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?—Messrs. Editors:—I saw recently a sad and most distressing spectacle,—a middle aged man suffering from delirium occasioned by excessive use of ardent spirits. The poor victim was writhing in agony, requiring two men to hold him; and I thought, "who is responsible?" It is true that men will continue to gratify their appetite till they cannot control it, and then there are men—or those who call themselves men, who for money or perhaps for some menial service, such as opening their doors and sweeping, will daily supply them with the vile stuff till it brings them to such a condition as I saw that poor man in. I would that every man who deals in rum had been obliged to have cared for that poor fellow, and the question above should have repeated itself till it should have been stamped indelibly upon the brain of each. I suppose this case is not a rare one, but the like is happening every day; and yet people still sell and drink, thinking themselves proof against it; but who has ever conquered rum?

Since writing the above I happened into the Police Station and heard a man begging to be let out, saying he "should die if he remained confined." On inquiry I found him also a victim of rum. The man when sober is very intellectual and gentlemanly in appearance, but possessed of such an appetite for liquor as to be uncontrollable; and I asked again, "Who is responsible?" and I think the question admits of but one answer, "the rumseller" I truly believe that there is not a single rumseller in this city who does not know that the man to whom I now allude cannot resist the accursed appetite, and yet they will sell him that which must bring him to the drunkards' grave; how can they satisfy conscience?

TEMPERANCE.

THE SUMMER TRAVEL is thus far comparatively light, owing probably to the cool weather. The Appledore House at the Shoals and the Bear's Head Hotel at Hampton are doing the best business—there being about 300 boarders at the former place.

THE CURRANT WORM has devastated every current bush in this vicinity, stripping them of leaves. It is as merciless as the canker worm has been in former years. The Bangoreans are sufficiently acquainted with the same miscreant to rejoice over the advent of "a bug about as big as an old-fashioned three cent piece, with wing covers highly ornamented in red and black arabesque patterns," which is devouring the currant worms with as great avidity as the latter devours leaves and fruit.

Correspondence.

RYE BEACH, July 20th.

The season at the Farragut, Atlantic and Sea View Hotels has as we might say fully commenced, while at the others it is always a week or two later. The Ocean, Sea Side, Washington and Surf Houses have been put in thorough repair and refurnished, and most of their rooms are engaged by those who have been visitors before. At the Sea Side House Mr. Isaac P. Barker of Concord has opened a fine Livery for the accommodation of guests, and he will also pitch six tents on the beach for the benefit of those who prefer camp life and fishing. C. R. Edmunds & Son of Greenland have put on their fine teams for the convenience of passengers by the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, making close connections with all trains on this popular line. This evening, George H. Jenness, Esq., formerly an honored member of the "Press Gang," inaugurated a series of six open air concerts in the beautiful grove between his residence and Ice Cream Saloon by Harlow's U. S. Naval Band from Portsmouth Navy Yard. It was a perfect success—a large party being present from Greenland, Rye, Rye Centre and Portsmouth, while nearly all the guests at the various public and private houses were present in carriages or on foot. The parlors and verandah of his splendid mansion and the Sea View House were also crowded with a delighted party. That the season at Rye bids fair to be the most brilliant that has taken place for years no one who is an observer can deny.

THE HEDDING CAMP MEETING at Epping will commence on Monday, Aug. 28, and continue eight days.

MISS SALLIE STICKNEY, circus rider, formerly of Stickney's circus, was killed in the New York riot.

AN AWFUL HURRICANE blew over the coast of Labrador some weeks ago, destroying 325 fishing vessels, 23 dwelling-houses, over 40 stores, and about £30,000 worth of dried fish, fishing flakes and other property. The number of lives already ascertained as lost are 93, while many more are expected to be added to the dismal record.

AT the Union College regatta, at Inglesido, the Massachusetts Agricultural College crew won the university race in 17:47, and the Harvard freshmen defeated those of Brown University. In a single-scull race under the auspices of the Springfield club, Ellis Ward and T. C. Butler won the first and second prizes respectively.

A SHREWD GAME.—The legislature, at its late session, defeated a bill for a railroad from Nashua to Acton, three miles. The Road was to be an extension of a Massachusetts Road. The Nashua & Lowell Railroad strongly opposed the bill and thought its defeat had settled the matter for this year, at least. While the managers of the B. & L. were congratulating themselves over their triumph, the friends of the Nashua & Acton Road secured the passage of a bill granting a charter for a horse railway in Nashua, with the right to employ steam.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING.—We have made great additions to our jobbing facilities—a mammoth Hand Press (the largest in Portsmouth,) new Display Type, Borders of various styles, &c. —and are prepared to execute with neatness and dispatch, all orders for FULL SHEET POSTERS, DATE SLIPS, PAMPHLETS, SERMONS, ADDRESSES, AUCTION BILLS, CONSTITUTIONS, BY LAWS, PROGRAMMES, HANDBILLS, CIRCULARS, ORDERS DANCES, BLANKS, BILL HEADS, RECEIPTS, TICKETS, BUSINESS, MARRIAGE, ADDRESS AND VISITING CARDS, LABELS, TAGS, and in fact PRINTING OF ANY DESCRIPTION, at SATISFACTORY PRICES. Orders received by mail, express, or at the CHRONICLE OFFICE will be promptly filled.

RAILROAD COMPANY

Are building a trunk line, connecting New Orleans with Mobile on the east, and giving

between the former city and the great and most productive State of Texas of the west, the total distance from Mobile to Houston being 475 miles.

The Company is composed of strong Northern capitalists, who have already expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS of their own funds in the construction of the line. They have built about 225 miles from Mobile westward, and secured by purchase of securities and made provision for the thorough repair and equipment of the 100 miles of the Texas division; leaving but 140 miles to be built.

To Complete the Entire Road.

It is believed that no other railroad corporation in the country has ever made so large an expenditure from its own means before offering any of its securities to the public.

The Company now offer for sale the

Eight Per Cent. Mortgage Bonds

upon the Louisiana division of 226½ miles from New Orleans to the Sabine River. This will probably be the most valuable portion of the whole line, as it will be the only rail communication by which the enormous productions of Texas can reach the Southern metropolis.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of its bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The Bonds now offered are of two classes!

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,

to the amount of $12,500 per mile, and

SECOND MORTGAGE BONDS,

to an equal amount, both principal and interest guaranteed by the State of Louisiana. The price of the two classes is the same, and subscribers can take their choice.

The Bonds are only in the denomination of $1,000, or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of eight per cent. currency in New York, or seven per cent. gold in London, at the option of the holder, at the time each coupon is due. Bonds can be registered, if desired.

No better security has been offered to investors. The Bonds are largely profitable, as well as entirely safe. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents.

At the same price, an 8 per cent. currency long bond is far cheaper than a 7 per cent. gold one. Calculating a return to specie payment in three years, and taking the time that the bonds of the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad have to run—45 years—we find that by compounding the interest of each, every six months, at 7 per cent. an 8 per cent currency bond at 90 will give a return of $2,614.18 MORE than a 7 per cent. gold bond, at the same price, or nearly three times the amount of the original investment.

The Bonds are dated May 1, 1871. The first coupon will, therefore, be a fractional one, running from May 1 to July 1. The price is 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from May 1st to date of remittance.

"These Bonds are offered for the present at 90, and accrued interest at 8 per cent. currency from July 1 to date of remittance."

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

SENATOR SMITH. — The conspiracy among the Democratic leaders in the legislature for the expulsion of Senator Smith proved a failure after all, or at least the job was abandoned just as it was about to be consummated, probably through fear of the consequences to the Democratic party. To make some show of reason for removing the obstacle to their success in carrying out the original programme, a batch of affidavits was prepared and published in the Democratic papers, representing that Senator Smith fully committed himself to the support of such measures as the party might require of him, and that he was guilty of treachery in refusing to fulfil those pledges. These affidavits amounted to nothing in the way of impeaching the Senator from No. 10; but as considerable publicity was given them, he deemed it a duty to his friends as well as to himself to reply to the charges, which he did just previous to the adjournment. The following is his speech upon that occasion:—

Mr. President: I rise to a personal explanation, to which I ask the indulgence of the Senate. I hold in my hand some affidavits which I think will justify me in a brief statement of some of the circumstances which brought me here.

The first intimation I had that I was thought of for Senator, was a call at my house by Hon. L. P. Cooper and a man by the name of Cain, some days before the commencement of this session of Legislature. Mr. Cooper said the Labor Reform party held the balance of power, it was thought, in the legislature, and that it had been suggested to him by some of the leading Democrats that if they (the Labor Reform members) would assist in electing Mr. Weston Governor, the Labor Reform party could have things all their own way; and he wished me to be a candidate for Senator, with the understanding that if elected I should vote for Mr. Weston.

I said to Mr. Cooper I did not wish to be a candidate under any circumstances; that I had heretofore taken an active part in politics, but had made up my mind not to enter the arena again. We conversed freely on the subject. When he left he wished me to consider the matter and write him, which I did the week before the assembling of the Legislature. I said, in this letter, that I did not wish him, or any of my friends, to use my name as a candidate for Senator, as my feelings were against serving if elected.

Mr. Cooper called on me the second time. He had not received my letter, and said if he had he should not have called again upon me. I repeated to him that I did not wish to be a candidate.

After my arrival in this Chamber, I was interviewed by Mr. Pecker. Mr. Cooper was present. I remarked that I had not changed my principles in the least for many years. Mr. Cooper said he had not changed his; and, addressing himself to me, said he did not expect or wish me to do anything contrary to my own convictions of duty. As to going into any sweeping measures of removals and changes, he did not wish it done. Were he (Cooper) in my place he should not favor it; and he says truly in his letter to Hon. Edmund Burke that I said, in our interview, "that I should not wish to be bound by a strict party vote, but should wish to be governed by my own best judgment."

In regard to reforms, I have said there was need of them. I should support reform; but reform, in my view, is not "revolution."

As to the conversation reported, in these affidavits, they are, many of them, gross misrepresentation or great misunderstanding of my views. That I should pledge myself to go with any party, blindfold, has not been the habit of my life or my principles. I never have done it, nor never will.

In regard to Mr. Spaulding's interview, I will only say that his only request was that I should vote for Mr. Weston. I said to him, as to all others, that I did not wish to be elected; and that I should not feel at liberty to counteract the expressed wishes of the constituents of Mr. Thrasher on that point. Mr. Spaulding said he had no wish, nor did his party as far as he knew, wish to require of me any pledges on any other subject whatever but the Governor vote.—he expected I would act according to my convictions and judgment on all other questions.

As to my saying I knew Mr. Thrasher, and was well acquainted with him, it is an entire mistake. I never saw the man, to know him, in my life.

I have great sympathy with the laboring classes of men, for I have always been a laboring man myself. But I have no sympathy with mere factions, organized for spoils and office.

As to bribery, I will not only say that I have not been approached by the Republicans, in any manner whatever, with offers of any kind. The report that a clerk-ship at Washington was offered to my son, I never heard or thought of until it was published here in one of the papers. Of the other party I say nothing at this time.

In regard to the charge respecting the habits of Judge Allen, I have only to say that I never heard the first intimation in regard to his intemperance but from Mr. Dame; and it was on the credit I gave to his representations, that I said to him I would go for the removal of Mr. Allen. But when he requested that his name should not be known in the matter, as he was a brother mason, I said to him that he should not put me in a position to compel me to do it; and I should not have done it had he not charged me with violation of my word in regard to the removal of Judge Allen. And when, on investigation, I could find no one that corroborated the charge, I could not justify myself in going for the removal of Allen, although I had said to Dame under the belief of the truth of his representations, that I would do so.

In my past life I have taken an active part in endeavoring to restore our government to the principles on which it was founded by our fathers, of the Declaration of Independence. My feeble efforts from early life, were devoted to that purpose. That being accomplished, my determination was to pursue a quiet, retired life while I remained here. I have been diverted from that determination to my present position very unwillingly. But I still stand upon the same principles, unpledged to any measures but such as in accordance with my own convictions and best judgment. After having lived to the age of 74 years, as, I feel, without having incurred a stain upon my reputation or character, I will trust to the candor of my fellow citizens not to believe I have been corrupted after having outlived the ambitions of political life.

—"And yet he isn't happy!" is the legitimate successor of the phrase, "You know how it is yourself."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!
DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfw8l6

A GIRL six years old was burned to death in Williamsburg, N. Y., Friday evening, by the spontaneous explosion of a kerosene lamp. An analysis of the stuff in the lamp shows that it will explode at 90 degrees Farenheit, and almost all the oil in Brooklyn is of the same character.

THE BOSTON PILOT, Catholic, administers a severe rebuke to the New York rioters and says:—

There are two ways of getting rid of this apple of discord. The first is by an agreement between the general Irish population and the Orangemen foregoing all right to parade, and expressing their determination never to hold processions for Irish political objects alone. This, we may rest assured, will not be easily agreed to. The second one is the best, and the one that must come in the end, when America, tired out and indignant with her squabbling population, puts her foot down with a will and tells them all—Germans, French, Irish Orange—"You have had enough now. There is only one flag to be raised in future in this country, and that flag is the Stars and Stripes."

AN ANECDOTE OF MR. LINCOLN AND TAD.—Mr. Lincoln was very fond of a game of chess, and frequently spent the evening with Judge Treat, a near neighbor, in that pastime. Upon one occasion, when little Tad was alone, the quiet of the game and the loneliness of the room became too trying to his restless nature, and he interrupted the game repeatedly with, "Let go home father." "Sit down, Tad, sit down," said Mr. Lincoln. The child kept quiet for a few minutes but soon broke the silence again. "Presently, my son, presently," said his father. Tad waited as long as he could command his temper, then starting up in a fit of impatience, he tilted the board, throwing the pieces on the floor and bringing the game to an abrupt termination. Mr. Lincoln made a stride or two with his long legs, overtook the little culprit just before he reached the door, gave him a partial turn-over, and raised his broad palm. "Tad," said he, "you little villain, I'm going to give you a good whipping;"—then, pausing, lowering his arm and letting the child go, he added, "that is, if you ever do it again."

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in the City in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface on years, that can be cleaned with hot soap without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this reason a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers, who can expect no disappointment in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had their mis-represented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to them, if they knew it, are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that whatever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalids made no representation that is not at once substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic, Pills and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia, and functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its dreadful symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, life-giving properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, from torpor, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torpors. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no cacodemonia, no dyspepsia. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indigent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the matter of diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration. Behold! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and you, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deale to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility is the worst of sins. As regards my cases, and in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. So astonished was that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of it every morning. Night sweats streaming for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is one hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses: the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in use of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic, $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

TUESDAY, JULY 25, 1871.

THE DEMOCRATS claim than an "honest and economical administration of the national finances" can only be secured by elevating their party leaders to the control of the national government. No one will pretend that all Republicans are honest, any more than that all Democrats are thieves; but the immense reduction of the national debt, of taxes and the expense of collecting them, (while the work is done more efficiently and yields larger returns year by year,) and of the working expenses of the government, will bear the closest scrutiny. But the people are asked to put Tammany in possession of the national purse—for that is exactly what a national Democratic victory means—as an improvement on the present administration; yet all that the present national government is charged with stealing, by its opponents, does not begin to amount to what these same opponents really do steal from a single city, according to their own records!

The New York Times recently published a startling and terrible revelation of fraud, the figures being obtained from the official books in the comptroller's office. It appears that a large number of stables, lofts and rooms are rented for armories to the city by the ring, and that for ten such lofts the amount of $85,500 is charged to the city, while not one of them is used by the city for any purpose whatever, and that for the armories actually occupied $190,600 a year is charged by the ring for what, by a fair valuation, is worth less than $50,000. But the great swindle is not in the item of rent; it is in the items of furniture and repairs. It appears that the following sums were paid for keeping ten armories in repair for nine months—namely, to

A. J. Garvey, for plastering,	$197,339.24
John H. Kersey, for plumbing,	$141,329.71
J. H. Ingersoll, for chairs,	$170,729.60
G. S. Miller, for carpenter work,	432,064.31
Total	$941,453.86.

With reference to these items the Times makes the following remarks:—

All the warrants for the sums specified, or to be hereafter quoted by us, are signed by Connolly and Mayor Hall, who must therefore be privy to the roguery which is going on. The warrants are then handed over to Ingersoll, who draws the money and then divides it between Tweed, Sweeney, Hall and Connolly. The two last, as signers of the warrants, are the "chief" thieves. No one, of course, is so "green" as to believe that the amounts copied above, straight from the controller's book, were actually paid to the persons described. A fractional part only fell to their share—the bulk of it being returned to (that is, stolen by) Hall and Connolly and their colleagues. Thirty-five or forty chairs and three or four tables cost the city $170,729.60! Does anybody believe that Sweeney, Hall and Connolly really paid the amount to any chairmaker? No; they charged the amount to the city and divided the money among themselves. And this, we say, was robbery, and for committing it Hall and his colleagues are thieves. Is that clear enough for them to understand? They cannot say it is loose talk, because the proofs of their dishonesty are plain enough for everybody to understand.

The Boston Advertiser, commenting on the Times' expose of Tammany's "honest and economical administration of the finances," says:

One reading these revelations of shameless villainy can see very clearly why the Tammany managers were so anxious to pass last spring a law placing the freedom of the New York press at the mercy of the ring and its tools of the judiciary. It is currently reported that for several months the ring has been at work to get possession of the Times, but within only a few days all the stock likely to come on the market in any event has been bought by the present managers. Evidently the information they are now dealing out has been waiting the safe occasion, and if the Times will continue the attack in the same spirit in which it has begun, there is hope not only that the honest citizens of New York will be aroused to a successful effort to rescue the city from its plunderers, but also that the people of the whole country will have their eyes opened to the rottenness and infamy of the most influential section of that party which is just now professing divers fair things, hoping by some chance through hypocrisy and intrigue to beguile the nation into its power, that its dishonor and ruin may be made sure.

The New York Times of Saturday continues its publication of alleged city documents, which it has obtained surreptitiously in spite of the vigilance of the authorities by whom they are deliberately and in defiance of law withheld from public examination, and gave half a page to an instalment of accounts which it says were "copied with scrupulous fidelity from Controller Connolly's books." The exhibit is calculated to shock one's opinion even of Tammany. It purports to be a record of warrants issued from the Controller's office during the years 1869 and 1870 for repairs and furniture for the new courthouse. The whole amounts to the respectable sum of $5,668,646.83. In other words, if these accounts are correct, the city government of New York—or more strictly speaking the county government, though we believe both are administered by the same set of men—makes it cost nearly three million dollars per annum to keep the courts repaired and furnished. Of course these are impossible expenditures under the most extravagant government which is honest. The Times puts the case squarely and correctly, therefore, when it says: "Either the figures given on our front pages are correct copies from Controller Connolly's books, or they are forgeries. If they are the former, Hall and Connolly stand being parties to as plain a fraud as was ever committed; if they are forgeries, Hall and Connolly had better come out and say so."

The Times says, in reply to Democratic charges, that it voluntarily gave up the corporation advertising, and that the city authorities, through their agents, have repeatedly made all sorts of liberal proposals to it for the purpose of getting it to suspend attacks upon them. The Times states that the amount paid for work already done on the new court house is nearly ten million of dollars, as it is prepared to prove. The amount paid for carpets alone is $565,731, which at $5 a yard would cover 113,146 square yards.

NO ANSWER FROM THE DEAD.—In our last issue we set forth certain queries and suggestions concerning the late Labor Reform party of this State, and offered the space of a column to any member of it who could reply to them. There is no response, and we did not expect any; for no plausible answer can be made. The cheat long since became too evident for even the most infatuated follower of the new flag to be deceived any longer; and to-day there is no such thing as a Labor Reform party in New Hampshire—or if there is, it consists simply and solely of the seven men who hold office, or held it during the legislative session, by virtue of their control of that organization. The thing shot across our political sky like a comet; and the extreme tenuity of its substance, the shortness of its stay, and the improbability of its return during this generation, offer striking resemblances which might easily be used to ride the metaphor to death. Its tale is told; and the sooner the Republicans who have been following its deceptive light return to their old political paths, the better it will be for them.—Concord Statesman.

THE CHOICE OF INVESTMENT.—So many new railroad projects are being put upon the market, that the would-be investor of surplus funds is frequently puzzled to know which are good and which doubtful. Careful examination should be made, as far as opportunity offers, before putting money into it; but the average investor cannot do this fully when the work is located at the West or South. In such cases, the character of the men who are indentified with it and who are likely to be leading ones in its management, is one of the best tests of its safety. Another requisite is, that the railroad is needed in its proposed location, and that it be supported by the States or communities traversed. The New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Railroad is one of the prominent ones now before the public, and interest is felt in its standing. The company is a very strong one, comprising names known throughout the country as honorable in business, and eminently successful in finance. Some of these names are given in another column. These men have shown that they mean to carry their road through, by already putting into it money enough to furnish a dozen fortunes.

The location of the line seems such as must secure to it an enormous traffic, of which it will have a virtual monopoly for a long time to come, and the very liberal aid given or guaranteed to the road by the State of Louisiana shows how much it is needed, and how heartily is supported by the people.

These and other features, set forth elsewhere in an advertisement of the 8 per cent. bonds of the Company, go to prove their soundness and profit as an investment. The local agents will give all further information which may be desired.

TWO HEAVY FREIGHT TRAINS recently endeavored to pass each other on a single track at Hitchman's Mills, on the Morris & Essex Railroad. The longest train, consisting of 70 coal cars, was running on a down grade, and both trains were going at the rate of 15 or 20 miles an hour. The engineers had plenty of time to jump off, and no one was hurt. The shock of the collision was felt for a mile in each direction, and a fearful whistling was kept up from the time the engineers saw each other, until the engines met. The engine of the coal train recoiled from the first shock and then literally mounted its opponent, with the remains of its cow-catcher elevated at an angle of 45 degrees. Loss, $50,000.

A COMPLETE LIST of the citizens of New York city worth over $250,000, copied from the duplicate returns of 1870 on file in the county clerk's office, has been published. Daniel Drew is the wealthiest citizen, the value of his property being set down at $37,000,000. Next comes Cornelius Roosevelt, recently deceased, with $13,000,000; then W. H. Vanderbilt with $6,500,000, James G. Bennett with $6,250,000 and Elisha Parmly with $5,300,000. These are all over $5,000,000, A. T. Stewart, Peter Gilsey and Elijah Brooks being set down at $3,000,000 each. The whole number of those returning a property of $1,000,000 or more is forty-eight, and the whole number owning a quarter of a million or more is 886. The following comments are made on this interesting exhibit: "Many persons on the list have been generally believed to be worth more than the amount stated, and a number of others thought to be worth at least a quarter of a million each, who do not appear at all. The most notable of the last-mentioned cases are those of the Astor family, who, according to the census, are worth nothing, no figures appearing opposite to their names." Other names not on the list at all are Commodore Vanderbilt, William M. Tweed, Peter B. Sweeny, James Fisk, jr., and August Belmont.

POLITICAL.

The Cincinnati Times says: "If New England must have the Vice-President, what better man is there than Boutwell?"

The Louisville Commercial says: "Never, since 1865, have the Republican prospects in Kentucky been so bright as now. Democrats and Conservatives are coming into our ranks in all directions."

SINCE the publication of the last number of Harpers' Weekly, with the riot cartoons, the firm have received numbers of violent letters, threatening to burn their publication house, assassinate the members and do all sorts of direful things. The Harpers are said to be prepared for all hostile contingencies and to keep a strong nightly guard on their premises.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find Parsons' Purgative Pills safe; and, in small doses, a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Perilous Season.

Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." New, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach but half performs the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, an requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, corrective, and antibilious medicine, is not known and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is considered, both by the people and the profession, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the purest and best vegetable stimulant in the world.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to foist upon the people. Their name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels.

A SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders cannot be otherwise than safe. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successful carrying thro' any work that they undertake.

The

RAILROAD COMPANY

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage

Eight Per Cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or $500 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent., currency, or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. E. D. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator, Hon. Horace A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant Governor, Troy, N. Y.; Hon. Oakes Ames, M. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton, Biles & Co., L. Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Gates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Haven, President Merchants' Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the SAFETY of these bonds. Their PROFIT is equally manifested upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

SKIFF & GAYLORD'S MINSTRELS are coming, Sept 7th.

COL. FRANK B. PEABODY of Chicago, the former law partner of Ex-Gov. Baker in Concord, is at the Farragut House, Rye Beach.

MANY distinguished literary men have visited Portsmouth this season, and Every Saturday brings us the genial author B. P. Shillaber, Esq.

THE FIRST MAN who ascended Mount Washington did so in 1642. The first ladies who did so were the Misses Austin of this city, in 1821.

THE "CALCIUM LIGHT" in use by the city at the North Mill bridge is a decided success, and enables the passers by to see the piles of refuse timber sold by the city at least two weeks ago, which was to be removed immediately after the sale.

AT THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Portsmouth Company, held at their Factory in South Berwick, Maine, on the 20th, the following gentlemen were chosen Directors for the ensuing year: F. W. Hale, Wm. P. Haines, Wm. Hale, E. H. Jewett, Wm. H. Rollins, T. H. Jewett, John Sise.

OUR THANKS are hereby tendered to Mr. W. F. Bowman of the Memphremagog House, Newport, Vt., for promptly forwarding to their owner, the missing articles left there last week by one of the ladies of the editorial excursion party. The package was valued especially as containing mementoes of the trip to Montreal, and their recovery was a very agreeable surprise, as they had been given up as lost. The ladies are more than ever anxious to repeat their pleasant excursion to the Memphremagog and place themselves once more in charge of its courteous host.

A FAITHFUL FRIEND.—Black though she was, "Louisiana" was a model of fidelity. Five years she was in our home, and when she left us, on the nation's last birthday, there was no theft, no lack of affection, no instance wherein she failed of watchfulness, to be scored against her memory. To be sure she had a penchant for harassing all the hens that appeared about the premises, but the idiosyncrasy was fairly acquired at a former city residence where the hens of a neighbor poached upon our manor. Having once learned they were intruders there, she could never be divested of the idea that they were intruders everywhere.

Although unable to speak the English language, she is believed to have understood it very well, as any common behest addressed to her in an ordinary tone of voice was unhesitatingly obeyed. Her portly figure and intelligent face, and the ludicrous gait arising from her lameness were well known to many in Portsmouth. On the latter infirmity she was not at all sensitive, though it raised many a laugh at her expense when she endeavored the accomplishment of feats where such lameness insured a failure.

Her fidelity to her old master was marked, even in a race noted for fidelity. No amount of kind and indulgent care through a series of years ever tempted her to swerve from her first allegiance;—no claims of offspring; no exposure to wet cold or hunger (all of which she cordially detested,) ever caused her to flinch from following her earliest love whenever he visited her new home in the suburbs.

She died on the night of the 3d inst. and was buried on the 4th at noon, amid the ringing of bells and firing of cannon from one side of the continent to the other. It may not be out of place to state that "Louisiana" was a pet dog of the black and tan variety.

A TRAIN on the Central Pacific Railroad was thrown from the track by a water spout near Granite Point, Nevada, on Friday.

AFTER an interruption of some three months, caused by the Bonnet Carre crevasse, the Jackson Railroad is again open to travel.

THE REPORT that a portion of the roof of the Mont Cenis tunnel had fallen in and buried a large number of workmen under the ruins, is unfounded.

THE SALT LAKE CITY COUNCIL has appointed a committee of prominent Mormons to make preparations for the reception of President Grant in August.

AN EXPRESS TRAIN from Montreal, on the Vermont Central Railroad, ran into a freight train going north, about eight miles south of St. Johnsbury, the passenger train being at full speed. Both engines were wrecked and a number of cars smashed, but no passengers were killed and only one severely hurt.

Professor Hitchcock, the State geologist, has made several attempts to measure the ledges forming the "Old Man of the Mountain," but thus far with indifferent success. As the profile is not perceptible to a person on the mountain, and can be discerned only at a considerable distance from the base, the work has to be done by two parties widely separated, communication being had by signals. On the 29th ultimo Professor Hitchcock and his party discovered a beautiful lake about two hundred feet below the summit of Haystack Mountain, of which nothing was previously known. This lake has an altitude of 3787 feet above the level of the sea, and is a parallelogram in form, measuring some eighteen rods in length. It is hemmed in by craggy bluffs and thick foliage.

Miss Christine Nilsson will be at the Profile House in a few days.

On the 15th, a Mr. Flagg and his wife were seen going toward the Merrimack in Franklin, apparently to fish. Since that time the woman has not been seen, and suspicions of foul play are so current that great excitement prevails throughout the town. The woman's father has been to see Flagg, who refuses to tell where she is. Flagg has told a dozen stories about the matter, one being that she had gone to work in a mill at Manchester, which was looked into and found to be false. The Selectmen went to see Flagg and demanded an explanation, but were only insulted for their trouble. Flagg's character is bad and he is said to have another wife living.

Fifty-nine have already entered the freshman class at Dartmouth College, and another examination is yet to be held. Quite a number have entered the scientific school. Professor L. B. Hall has resigned the chair of chemistry and natural history in the scientific department.

In the board of mayor and aldermen of Nashua last Friday evening, eighteen ballots were taken for city marshal, resulting in no choice. The mayor then appointed E. P. Brown, who is a retired merchant, an old line democrat, and was selected by the republican members of the board.

The wooden buildings which were connected with the iron foundry belonging to Henry A. Lowell of Manchester were destroyed by fire on Friday evening.

The late John S. Woodman left $20,000 to the Chandler Scientific Department of Dartmouth College, to accumulate till it reaches $30,000. Though no use is designated for the gift, it will probably be devoted to founding a professorship of civil engineering. Nine scholarships of $1000 each have been founded in the past year, and a gentleman has offered $12,000 toward a new library, in case $50,000 can be raised.

On the 15th, in Colebrook, George, son of Mr. Albert P. Titus of Columbia, aged three years, was thrown from a loaded wagon, which passed over his head, causing almost instant death.

LETTERS from Cuba report several important engagements between the Spaniards and Cubans, in which the latter were successful. One fight lasted five hours and resulted in the capture of 600 Spaniards, while in another 45 were killed and 150 made prisoners. The Cubans control the department of Guantanamo.

FISHERMEN! TWINES & NETTING, [MANUFACTURED BY WM. E. HOOPER & SONS, Send for Price-List.] Baltimore, Md.

Morning Chronicle.

—The Kiowas of Texas are uneasy.

—Phebe Carey is dangerously ill.

—A Maine girl whose lover had lost a limb, replied to her companions' banter, "I wouldn't have a man with two legs—they're so common."

—Has the Prohibition Herald observed that the Democracy of this county voted solid for the repeal of the liquor law in 1870? We commend the vote on this question to the study of all temperance people. It shows how much the cause of temperance has to hope from Democratic success.—Coos Republican.

—Grace Greenwood, writing about the wonderful business activity of Chicagoans, says that even the little children of that city are infected by the prevailing spirit and carry it into their play. "A friend of ours," she says, "had occasion lately to punish her little four-year-old son by a quarter of an hour's solitary confinement in a closet. As she was about to close the door on him, he looked at her reproachfully and said: "You are making me waste my time.'"

—A correspondent of the Glasgow Herald transmits the following curious incident:—"While walking near Falkirk, we observed two bees issuing from one of the hives, bearing with them the defunct body of a comrade, with which they flew for a distance of twelve yards. We followed them closely, and noted the care with which they selected a convenient hole on the side of the gravel walk, the tenderness with which they committed the body, head downwards, to the earth, and the solicitude with which they afterwards pushed two little stones, doubtless "in memorium." Their task being ended, they paused for about a moment, perhaps to drop over the grave of their friend a sympathizing tear, and then they flew away to their hives."

—A Cincinnati dentist, who had become nervous by frequent burglaries in his vicinity, was somewhat startled by having a man come daily at the same hour each evening and sit on his doorstep. He finally suggested that if it would be all the same to him, he would be pleased to have him divide his attentions, and sit on some neighbor's doorstep for a while. "But it wouldn't be the same," shouted the visitor in return, "nor anything like it. You are a dentist, and I have an infernal aching tooth that I haven't the courage to have pulled. I come here every afternoon trying to make up my mind to have it out, and as soon as I come in sight of your house it stops aching, and as long as I sit on your doorstep, where the confounded thing knows it can get pulled if it gives trouble, I have some rest. Now if you want me to go to another dentist, I will." "Oh, no," was the reply, "under these circumstances, stay by all means, my friend."

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, passessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfsb16

GEN. SHERMAN says President Grant "has just got where he can tell a good man at sight," and he ought to be, therefore, and will be, re-elected. Sherman radiated the following good sense during an interview:

What do you think of the Ku-Klux bill?

Good bill, sir! It has already stopped a good many outrages. The fact that the President has power to send troops into any State to quell disturbances, in itself, is enough to frighten the disturbers of the public peace.

But John Quincy Adams says the bill is an absolute surrender of the principle of free government—placing in the President's hands the power, through that and the Election bill, to raise himself to the empire.

All stuff! How ridiculous to talk about a man raising himself to the empire in this country! Such a man, after declaring for the empire, might hold a regiment of soldiers in the White House yard for just one day, and then the people would put him in the Potomac river.

Adams calls the Ku-Klux bill Grant's negro policy, I remarked.

All humbug again! It is simply a law making it possible to arrest and disperse unlawful gangs of rascals, black or white, in any of the Southern States—to imprison them and try and punish them. Grant don't have any negro, nor German, nor Irish policy. His policy is to protect all citizens, remain at peace, economize and try and pay the debt. All this stuff and talk about imperialism in America is a libel on the good sense of the people, and Adams ought to have too much good sense to talk such foolishness.

—The "Double-headed Babe," died on the evening of July 18th, in Boston. The first half, or head, breathed its last at 5 P. M., and the second, shortly after 8 P. M. The child, or children as it would almost seem proper to allude to the phenomenon, had enjoyed excellent health from her birth, nine months ago, until within two weeks, at which time one exhibited signs of illness. This, however, was but temporary. It recovered and was bright and playful. Since reaching Boston, a few days since, the other—or the other half—was taken sick, and died yesterday afternoon, as already stated. The two portions of the body were so intimately connected that the death of one rendered that of the other inevitable. The Boston Post in describing the death says: "The spectacle was equally novel, strange, and unparalleled. Upon one end of the body reposed the head of the dead infant; upon the other that of the live one, with eyes still bright and its lungs in full breathing order. All that medical aid could accomplish was done in the presence of its parents. The corpse presents the appearance of two infants asleep. Apparently they escaped the ordinary sufferings incident to death, for the countenances had the expression of repose. The disposition of the body is not determined upon."

WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 1871.

THE NEW YORK RIOTS are being kept before the people in good style by a portion of the Democratic press, in doing which they are generously assisted by the Republican papers. The New York Star and most of the distinctively Irish papers continue to denounce the Orangemen and Gov. Hoffman in violent terms, calling the latter such pet names as "murderer," "assassin" and "butcher" for revoking Kelso's order and calling out the military. The Republican papers assert that Hoffman was fully cognizant of Hall's intended suppression of the procession before the order was issued, consented to it, or at least did not object, and was only driven to do his duty by the intense indignation aroused by the base conduct of the Tammany leaders, and the earnest remonstrances of influential Democrats; and there is strong presumptive proof that the assertion is correct. The Irish papers say the "murderer" can never again command the Irish vote—but if Tammany tells the Irish mob to vote for Hoffman the Irish mob will obey, for the latter is as well aware that it cannot rule except through Tammany as Tammany is that it cannot maintain its hold on the treasury except by the aid of the mob.

The propriety of Kelso's order is upheld by the denouncers of Hoffman's action, on the grounds that the streets are for public travel and convenience, and that any gathering which threatens to interfere with general travel and business or to occasion a disturbance of the peace is a proper subject for police regulation. The question whether the strictly legal right of any procession to occupy the streets would be supported or denied by the courts, need not be considered at all in this case; for when fundamental principles are at stake legal hair-splitting and quibbling must go to the wall. The Orangemen have the same right—legal or by sufferance—to parade that has been accorded to all other organizations, and the discussion with sticks and muskets in the streets of New York on the 12th of July was over the question as to whether a mob should dictate laws to a city, or be forced to obey the laws. The talk about the Orangemen's parade being likely to create a disturbance was but talk, for no one professed to believe that they would go out of their way to assail any one, in that respect differing widely from their opponents, the Irish Catholics, some of whom left the St. Patrick's procession last March to beat men whose looks they disliked, nearly to death. The St. Patrick's procession is an annual terror, while the Orange procession would trouble no one who did not first trouble it; and when the work of suppressing street parades on the score that they are public nuisances is begun in New York, the Catholic Irish processions will be the proper ones to begin with. In the meantime, what with the rascality of their supporters on the one hand and the N. Y. Times' exposure of their own gigantic rascality on the other, the Tammany misrulers are just now having rather a poor time of it.

THE KU-KLUX of South Carolina have Ku-Kluxed the sub-committee on Ku-Klux outrages, who went to that State to investigate. The committee arrived at Yorkville, and on the first day at the supper-table at the hotel Mr. Stevenson, of the committee, and Mr. A. J. Wallace, representative of the district, were assaulted as they took their seats by Major James Barry, a prominent citizen, and a pitcher of milk thrown over them. Wallace drew a revolver, but Barry was surrounded by friends and left the hotel. At nine o'clock the committee was serenaded by a negro band, and a crowd collected. As the band was retiring an affray took place, and one negro was shot, receiving three wounds. No arrests were made. This practical evidence of the existence of "Southern outrages" is probably more than the committee bargained for.

FEARFUL EARTHQUAKES.—A series of terrible earthquake shocks recently occurred in one of the Philippine Islands. More than two hundred persons were swallowed up, and every one of them was almost instantly killed. Sixty dead bodies have been recovered. The rest of the inhabitants have fled from the island.

The Chesire county musical convention will be held at Keene, beginning on Monday, August 14, and continuing five days. The convention will be under the direction of and assisted by the following talent: Solon Wilder of Boston; W. F. Sherwin of New York; Mrs. J. W. Weston, soprano; Mrs. H. E. Sawyer, contralto; Mr. F. C. Packard, tenor; Mr. W. E. Winch, basso; pianist, Mrs. Martha Dana Shepard; orchestra, Germania band.

More than ten years ago Eastman's White Mountain guide appeared to give information to tourists visiting the mountains of New Hampshire, of what was to be seen on the way thither. It had a deservedly strong sale and became as familiar over the country, as have been the hand books of European travel. The progressive Eastman has recently entered a new field and gives to the public this season, a guide book for the Eastern Coast of New England, describing its attractions, detailing the route to points of interest and interspersing quite enough of the historical in which the whole coast is so rich, to make it a readable book for the traveller or a member of the "cau't-get-aways." With this vade mecum the returned tourist brings back to his home the evidence of things seen, and it doubtless will be perused in after years, in the keen re-enjoyment of the seasons spent in its described localities. For sale by Joseph H. Foster in this city.

A NEW AND EXCELLENT SECURITY. The First Mortgage Bonds of the Vermont division of the Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad trunk line are advertised in another column. The road has been nearly graded, ready for the ties, by stock subscriptions; the amount raised by the sale of bonds is to be devoted to laying the ties and iron, and to equipment; these bonds constitute the only lien on the roads. The local business will be sufficient to pay running expenses and interest on the small bonded debt. The road will form a part of one of the shortest and best lines from the Lakes to the seaboard, and it will be completed next year. The excellence of Portland harbor, the fact that Ogdensburg is the true point for the contract of lake and rail transportation, the enormous amount of business offering, and the shortness and directness of this line, point to it as one of the most promising enterprises now on foot in New England. Already the eastern division of the road has crossed the New Hampshire line, and is entering the White Mountains. The multiplication of lines to the West only serves to stimulate business, and in any case a line which offers so many advantages as this will be certain to take its share of the freight. It would be difficult to find a more promising investment than these bonds. And when we add that Messrs. Fairbanks, the great scale manufacturers, are heavy investors themselves as well as the financial agents, and that the trustees of the bond are gentlemen of eminent standing in the community, we indicate in a few words the great superiority of the security over many others, and warmly recommend it.

ONE DAY last week a man was seen to jump from an express train going at full speed on the Boston & Maine Railroad, about one mile this side of Lawrence. The last seen of him he was making evolutions which would astonish Barnum's best acrobat. A querist asks if when he recovered himself he knew which end his head was on.

A CHILD living in the family of G. C. Murnchinger of Newport, R. I., fell from a second-story window a few nights since, and its night dress caught upon a branch of a tree, and tore until nothing but the hem remained, which fortunately sustained the child until it was seen and rescued by a gentleman in the next house.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find Parsons' Purgative Pills safe; and, in small doses, a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

Henry K. Bond, of Jefferson, Maine, was cured of spitting blood, soreness and weakness of the stomach, by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Perilous Season.

Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." New, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach but half performs the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, an requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, corrective, and antibilious medicine, is not known and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is considered, both by the people and the profession, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the purest and best vegetable stimulant in the world.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to foist upon the people. Their name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels.

BATCHELDER'S HAIR DYE.

This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelder's Hair Dye produces IMMEDIATELY a splendid Black or Natural Brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, and beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all Druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, N.Y.

THE WORLD IS IN ARMS

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

proved by time and sanctioned by practical chemists, has become the standard article of its class throughout the length and breadth of the land. It is poisonless, rapid in its operation, certain to produce the required shade of color, and has no equal among hair dyes, either in the United States or Europe. To beautify and soften the hair after dyeing, use

VERMONT DIVISION

TRUNK R. R. LINE.

We urge upon capitalists and all having money to invest, the most careful investigation of these securities, believing them to combine more safety and profit than any Railroad Bond now in the market. The Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad will be the shortest route by more than fifty miles from the Lakes to the Atlantic.

The Road will have local business enough to pay all its running expenses and to insure the prompt and regular payment of interest on its small bonded debt. It will be the greatest pleasure thoroughfare in the Eastern States, uniting by the shortest route Saratoga and Lakes George and Champlain with the White Mountains, Lakes Memphremagog and Willoughby, Mount Mansfield and the celebrated Mineral Springs of Northern Vermont.

The Road is under the management of some of the most experienced, successful, and widly-known business men in the country, who will insist upon the closest economy and honesty in the administration of its affairs.

The managers of the Road have themselves invested largely in its capital stock, the cash subscriptions being nearly sufficient to complete the Road ready for iron, (thus showing their appreciation of the importance and value of the enterprise.) For convenience of investors the bonds (coupon or registered) are of the following denominations:—

and the interest, six per cent., gold, is payable semi-annually in Boston on the 1st of May and 1st of November. These bonds are offered, until further notice, at 90, and accrued interest in currency.

OUR KITTERY CORRESPONDENT says "politics are very quiet over here, considering the nearness of the election. District No. 9 is partially rebuilding its almost new schoolhouse, and laying out for extensive improvements. The new Universalist chapel will be dedicated August 30."

ON MONDAY AFTERNOON, two young gentlemen of this city, formerly residents of New York, treated some lady friends to a ride to view the country surroundings and the beaches. In their attempts to create a sensation on the road by riding as near stone walls, trees, &c., as possible, without striking the wheels, they came in collision with a flag staff, breaking the wheels of the carriage, dumping them into the road, astonishing no one but themselves and the horses. Thereby hangs a moral.

THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY of the Firemen's Muster Committee has received an order from the Fire and Marine Ins. Co. of Springfield, Mass., on Messrs. Morse & Ilsley, their agents in this city, for a handsome sum in aid of the Muster. Relief Engine Co, No. 5, of East Boston, have entered their steamer, and companies in Springfield, Chelsea, Lowell, Lynn, Salem, Newmarket, Georgetown and other places have taken steps in the matter. Arrangements have been made with the railroads to run at half fare.

THE WATER SUPPLY has been rapidly decreasing of late, and the Aqueduct Company have been obliged for several weeks to pump from the Sherburne spring into their stand pipe at the Fountain at the rate of 25,000 gallons per day. The Fountain spring is nearly a foot lower than in July last, and the water in the reservoir on Dover Street is four feet lower than last year, being eight feet lower than when there is a full supply. There has been great inconvenience in some sections of the city, in consequence, and many have feared a water famine. The Company have negotiated, however, for a hot-air engine, capable of pumping 350,000 gallons in twenty-four hours, and will probably have the machine in working order ere the close of the week. It is thought that it will be necessry to pump but 100,000 gallons daily to secure a full supply for all water takers.

CANON WALSH denounced the New York rioters in a sermon at the Catholic Church on Sunday, and according to the report in the local "organ" of that church, "proved that the opposition to and hatred of the small clan known as Orangemen was a political and not a religious feeling, and that the Catholic church had nothing to do with it," and "dwelt at length upon the fact that Orangemen were none of them naturalized citizens." Authorities seem to differ on this question, for the "organ" referred to stated that the Orange demonstration was got up "in opposition to and ridicule of the Catholic church;" which statement is correct we shall not undertake to decide, but the Orangemen are Protestants and the Ribbonmen Catholics, without exception. Canon Walsh's fact that Orangemen are none of them naturalized citizens is not a fact at all, for we know of six Orangemen in this city who have been naturalized citizens for many years, and good citizens, too.

—A Roman sensationalist has dramatized the Prodigal Son, one of its chief features being a struggle between the gentleman who sustains the title role and the one who does the swine, for a bunch of husks.

MR. BUMBLE AND MRS. CARNEY.—Fourteen-Column Bingham found himself, at the close of the recent session of the Legislature, in a plight somewhat similar to that of the famous Mr. Bumble, a few weeks after his marriage to the matron of the workhouse, Mrs. Carney. Mr. Bumble was a beadle, and in the habit of making frequent visits, in all the solemn majesty with which an English beadle is invested, to the establishment of which Mrs. Carney was the head. In due time he fell in love with Mrs. Carney, as Fourteen-Column did with the Labor Reformers. A courtship ensued. Mr. Bumble took tea with Mrs. Carney, and in due time proposed. Mrs. Carney simpered, and said: "Mr. Bumble, I shall scream." The hard-hearted man, however, paid no heed to the exclamation, "but," says the narrative, "in a slow and dignified manner put his arm round the matron's waist."

To make a long story short, Mr. Bumble was married to the alms-house matron, not however, until he had taken an inventory of her personal property. "He opened the closet, counted the tea-spoons, weighed the sugar-tongs, closely inspected a silver milk-pot to ascertain if it were genuine metal, and, having satisfied his curiosity, put on a cocked hat and danced with much gravity four distinct times around the table;" as did Fourteen-Column after taking an inventory of the Labor-Reform party, so called. But disappointments are inseparable from human life. Parish beadles and political leaders can claim no exemption from them. The famous beadle had a honeymoon of eight weeks; that of Fourteen-Column was not quite seven. At the end of the eighth, the "parochial" beadle soliloquized as follows: "And to-morrow two months it was done," said Mr. Bumble, with a sigh. "It seems a age." Mr. Bumble might have meant that he had concentrated a whole existence of happiness into the short space of eight weeks; but the sigh—there was a vast deal of meaning in that sigh. "I sold myself," said Mr. Bumble, "for six tea-spoons, a pair of sugar-tongs and a milk-pot, with a small quantity of second-hand furniter, and twenty pound in money. I went very reasonable; cheap, dirt cheap?"

THE first meeting of the Trustees of the N. H. Orphan's Home, under the Charter, will take place at 11, A. M., Thursday, Aug. 17th, at White's Hall, Concord, N. H. Important matters will be passed upon at this meeting, and the largest possible attendance is desirable.

A SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders cannot be offered more than safe. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successful carrying thro' any work that they undertake.

The
RAILROAD COMPANY

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage
Eight Per Cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or $200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent., currency, or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. E. D. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator, Hon. John A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant Governor, Troy, N. Y.; Hon. Oakes Ames, M. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton, Bliss & Co., L. Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Haven, President Merchants' Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the SAFETY of these bonds. Their PROFIT is equally manifested upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

NEW PUBLICATIONS RECEIVED.

The Life That Now Is, is the title of a new volume, by Robert Collyer, of Chicago. It is a treasury of wisdom and wit, of the most delicate insight, the most humane sympathy and the most poetic imagination. Rev. Robert Collyer, a rare poetic genius, is one of the rarest prose poets the English race has produced. Price $1.50. Horace B. Fuller, Publisher, 14 Broomfield Street, Boston.

Mount Washington in Winter is the fourth volume illustrating the White Mountain scenery issued by Messrs. Chick & Andrews. The previous volumes were Willey's "History of the White Mountains," by a brother of the unfortunate man who with his family was destroyed by a slide in the Notch in 1826; "Christus Judex," by Edward Roth, a legend of the Old Man of the Mountains; and Starr King's "White Hills." To travellers and sojourners in the mountains, the whole series is almost indispensable, but the latest publication, relating the history of the scientific party, which spent last winter on the summit of the highest peak in New England, has special attractions for all readers who care to know more about the daring adventure which is still fresh in everybody's recollection. It is a record of Arctic isolation and solitary endurance in the very heart of New England and in daily telegraphic communication with the United States and in fact with the world. No situation could be more unique, and the story is well told by the various members of the party. Foster Shores & Co. have it.

The Lady's Book for August has a new feature. The editress of the fashion department announces that she will execute commissions for ladies desiring to purchase jewelry, millinery, &c., charging a small percentage for time and trouble. Orders must be accompanied by checks and addressed to the care of L. A. Godey.

The August number of Good Health contains a large number of articles which will be of great service to people who believe the body is worth taking care of either for itself or for the good of the soul dwelling in it. Published by Alexander Moore, No. 2 Hamilton Place, Boston.

Miss Darling has finished her story, "In the World," and publishes a new poem in Merry's Museum for August. A pleasant feature of the Museum is a graceful piece of music called "a Child's Fancy."

Blackwood's Magazine, (Am. reprint) for July. Contents, Fair to See.—Part VII; Mr. Mill on Land; The Coming Race; New Books; Education, Endowments and Competition; The Minister, the House, and the Country, and A History of the Commune of Paris. Leonard Scott Pub. Co., 140 Fulton Street, N. Y. $4 per year.

The Phrenological Journal for August is richly laden with good reading. John Tyndall, the eminent Chemist; Under the Surface, or the Workings of Universal law; Spiritual Presence; The Beggar and the Banker; Miss Kate Stanton; Dirty Children; The Nervous and the Paralyzed; Street Sights in China, with original "Celestial" Designs; The German School System—what it is; The Chinese labor Question, or a new Guessing of an old Puzzle; Conversation and its Uses; Are we True to Ourselves? Our next President; A Good Wife; Hotel Life in California; The Judgment of Satan; A Picture in Two Lights; The Beautiful Sunshine, a new poem after the style of "Beautiful Snow." $3 a year. S. R. Wells, Publisher, 389 Broadway, New York.

The Little Corporal for August has stories from Mrs. E. D. Kendall, Susan Coolidge, Lucia Chase Bell, and other; the second installment of "Summer Days at Kirkwood," by the editor, Mrs. Emily Huntington Miller; Art, Science, and Natural History, put into fascinating dress by the pens of Marthia Powell Davis, David Rice, M. D., and Olive Thorne, and poems from George Cooper, Ellen Porter Champion, and Mrs. M. B. C. Slade. This number has several fine illustrations, which now form an attractive feature of this popular juvenile. Terms $1.50 a year. John E. Miller, Publisher, Chicago.

Our Young Folks for August is beautifully illustrated, and contains even more than the usual variety of stories, sketches, poems and miscellany of all kinds suited to the youthful reader. Among the contributors are Trowbridge, Miss Phelps, Mrs. Diaz, Helen Douglas, Harvey Wilder, and other well known writers.

A liberal discount will be allowed when 100, 500, or 1000 tickets are purchased in a lot. All orders accompanied by remittances will be promptly attended to, and the tickets returned by mail, registered or expressed, as ordered. A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawbiii

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

—IF SO, USE THE—

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case more than wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid it is a sacred obligation. It is a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is reliable. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach, and respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more fretfulness, no exacerbation of the stomach. Appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country, is fatal during winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; not yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain.

To detail of cures after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in three modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at a straw, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, night sweats and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much for my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was so weak shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton, my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased dose; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the desire be satisfied. Take food and choice. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in (one of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation; while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JULY 27, 1871.

THE WAR ON TAMMANY is continued by the New York Times and other Republican papers. The Times thinks the name "Philip F. Dummey," endorsed on some of the big checks drawn in favor of Andrew J. Garvey, is singularly appropriate. This Mr. Garvey is shown to have received $2,870,464.06 for plastering, in two years, — and $133,187.20 for two days' work at repairing the county buildings, on the 20th and 21st of December, 1869—not bad, for winter wages. The Mayor's paper, the N. Y. Leader, without attempting to disprove the correctness of the damaging statements of the Times, assails the motive which prompted the attack, and blames the "old board of supervisors" for permitting the gigantic stealings, to which the Times replies:

Whenever Mayor Hall is accused of aiding and abetting frauds on the city treasurer, he tries to throw the responsibility on the old board of supervisors —as though he and Connolly were obliged to sign warrants for claims, which they know to be swindles, merely because they once passed the board of supervisors. Now it is well known that the leading spirit of the old board of supervisors was "Boss" Tweed, and whatever stealing was done in that board Tweed got the lion's share. Yet when Mayor Hall made his appointments of heads of departments under the new charter, who did he appoint as head of the department of public works —the department which, above all others, affords the largest opportunities for fraudulent expenditure of the public money? None other than "Boss" Tweed. But the old board of supervisors has been out of existence for nearly a year and a half. The present board is composed of the aldermen and the mayor; the mayor is president of the board, and his single vote can defeat any measure that comes before it. On Hall, therefore, rests the sole responsibility for any and all acts of the present board. Now, we desire to ask Mayor Hall two questions. They are questions which we have already asked twice before, and which have not been answered. Did or did not the board of supervisors, at their meeting on the first or second week in June last, approve and pass a bill of one Kenney, a carpenter, of the Twenty-first ward, for twenty-eight thousand dollars, purporting to be for carpenter-work done in the marine-court room? If yes, then we desire to ask what is the fair value of the work done? We stand ready to furnish twenty respectable carpenters, who understand their business, and who would be glad to do the work for six hundred dollars.

The Tribune takes up the cudgels, and comments on the exposition and Mayor Hall's lame defence, as follows:

We hear it suggested that the stealing—if stealing there was—was the work of the double-headed board of supervisors, now happily defunct. That board, it is said, was composed of six Democrats and six Republicans. So it was originally; but in 1867 two Democrats were elected and no Republicans; so that it was balanced no longer. The board was thereafter composed of seven Democrats to five Republicans. But party names are impertinent. It seems clear that large sums have been taken from the city's treasury without consideration—in short, by fraud. Note the dead silence of the Democratic organs, save the mayor's own Leader, which hits the Times sundry smart raps, but does not meet the issue made by its charges. Those charges import that the public money has been stolen. The mayor responds that the Times was early and prominent in breaking down the safeguards of the treasury. That, if true, is bad for the Times; but how does it prove that the public money has not been stolen? We pause for a reply. Let us patiently work at this mine till we reach the bottom of it. We have honest men in office; the truth cannot harm them. We have scoundrels, also; the truth ought to damage them, and it will. Let us not jump at conclusions, but keep public attention fixed on this matter until honest men and the State prison alike come by their own.

The Standard also gives Tammany some hard hits, but the unkindest cut of all comes from that "representative Democrat," Brick Pomeroy, who characterizes the Tammany city officials as thieves who "mingle together and combine to cheat the people, to twist the laws and rob the public treasury." The present status of the Democratic government of New York city he sets forth as follows:—

At New York they changed in one act the entire nature of the city government. It was once Republican in form. The charter of 1870-71 makes it a despotism, with a man of low origin and a Ring Alderman during the war as a despot. This man, and another of the same class, together with a host of their family relatives and a pack of murderous Thugs at their bidding, control the entire government. They are nominally appointed by the mayor, and hold office for five years. The mayor holds office for two years. He can only be elected upon their nomination, and is consequently their mere puppet. Whoever he may be at the time their offices expire, he must necessarily reappoint them. It is, therefore, a life government — perhaps an hereditary one. Many of the judges, tools of this vile hierachy, are corrupted and corrupting. Justice has its price, and this is quoted in the market. All laws of responsibility and accountability are swept away.

A MISSING REFORM BILL.

Then canst not say I did it.
—SMITH.

It is well known that early in the session of the late legislature a bill was introduced in the House for the reduction of salaries. The bill was drawn with great care by a well known legal gentleman of Manchester, who was the father of pretty much all the astringent but luckless measures introduced during the session. The bill was introduced by one of the Labor Reform twain from Pittsfield, Mr. Tucker, who is entitled by general consent to stand second to Mr. Lawyer Stanley on the roll of great reformers. The bill was printed and then in due course it went to the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform. At the head of this committee was Mr. Messer of Northwood, a retired Boston merchant, worth a round hundred thousand, and well known to be pretty liberal in his notions of public policy, notwithstanding he is a Democrat of the hard shell school. The salary bill was pretty sweeping in its character. It "cut the corners" of nearly every office-holder in the State that could possibly be reached by the legislature. It was particularly severe on the county solicitor of this county. But the closer the bill pruned, the nearer it came to the fulfilment of Democratic and Labor Reform pledges. "Give us the power," said they last winter, "and we will cut down the salaries and save thousands of dollars to the State."

Here was the opportunity to retrench, and the Republicans supposed it would be improved. Although some of the more liberal Republican members thought that our public servants in New Hampshire are paid little enough, still they agreed among themselves not to oppose the bill. While not talking very loudly about retrenchment and reform, they determined to go as far as anybody in the reduction of expenses. They waited patiently for the reappearance of the pet measure of Democrats and Reformers. The session drew to a close. The bill was momentarily expected. The hurly-burly of the last few days of the session was upon them; still the Northwood economist made no report. Several appointments to office by Gov. Weston and his Democratic Council were announced, including a solicitor for Hillsborough county, and still the salary bill remained in the possession of the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform. There it continued until the session closed. Who is responsible? Clearly the coalition party in the House, which made a great ado about retrenchment and reform, and then strangled the most practical measure of the session in committee. Some half a dozen Labor Reformers and as many Democrats have ridden into office on the popular cry of "retrenchment and reform," but the people will observe that they have been mighty careful to allow no retrenchment that would make their salaries a dollar less. They have been careful to keep the promise of retrenchment to the ear, and equally careful to break it to the hope. We shall understand them a little better when they next ask us to vote for them. On the whole we think we like the Republican way better, which exacts from the official a faithful performance of duty but does not require him to find any fault with his salary.—Nashua Telegraph.

THE COUNCIL of the Dominion board of Trade had a conference with the Kingston local board last week with reference to the renewal of reciprocal trade arrangements with the United States. The principal business done was the appointment of a committee representing the provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario, to confer with a similar committee appointed at a private meeting in Boston last June, as to the best means of securing increased commercial facilities and closer relations generally between the two countries. There was much discussion informally at the Kingston meeting upon the merits of special measures of relief, and some difference of opinion as to the ultimate effect of completely reciprocity on the trade of the Dominion. But on the main question of freer commercial intercourse, there was a general agreement that it was eminently desirable for Canada.

A DARING EXPRESS ROBBERY was committed recently on the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, in Hickman county, Ky. Three men got on the train at Union City, and at Moscow when the train halted two of the robbers got off and a confederate remained on the platform. As the train moved from the depot the two jumped into the express car, overpowered the messenger and robbed the safe of $20,000, bolted the door, jumped off and disappeared in the dark.

THE publication of Comptroller Connolly's accounts has created an immense stir in New York, and a movement is on foot among a large number of capitalists, who propose to resist the future collection of municipal taxes until official showing of the city's finances is compelled. Those who are prominent in the matter state that there is every prospect of success in effecting the combination.

—Mr. Jim Clementon, equine abductor, of Minnesota, was lately the victim of a neck-tie sociable.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find Parsons' Purgative Pills safe; and, in small doses, a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Perilous Season.

Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." Now, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach but half performs the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, an requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body in harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, corrective, and antibilious medicine is unknown and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is considered, both by the people and the profession, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the purest and best vegetable stimulant in the world.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to foist upon the people. Their popularity with the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels.

It is poisonless, rapid in its operation, certain to produce the required shade of color, and has no equal among hair dyes, either in the United States or Europe. Whenever any work respecting the Aqueduct is needed, application must be made to the Agent, who will do what is necessary in the premises. By order of the Directors. OLIVER AYERS, Agent.

We urge upon capitalists and all having money to invest, the most careful investigation of these securities, believing them to combine more safety and profit than any Railroad Bond now in the market. The Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad line will be the shortest route by more than fifty miles from the Lakes to the Atlantic.

The Road will have local business enough to pay all its running expenses and to insure the prompt and regular payment of interest on its small bonded debt. It will be the greatest pleasure thoroughfare in the Eastern States, uniting by the shortest route Saratoga and Lakes George and Champlain with the White Mountains, Lakes Memphremagog and Willoughby, Mount Mansfield and the celebrated Mineral Springs of Northern Vermont.

The Road is under the management of some of the most experienced, successful, and widly-known business men in the country, who will insist upon the closest economy and honesty in the administration of its affairs.

The managers of the Road have themselves invested largely in its capital stock, the cash subscriptions being nearly sufficient to complete the Road ready for Iron, (thus showing their appreciation of the importance and value of this enterprise.) For convenience of investors the bonds (coupon or registered) are of the following denominations:—

and the interest, six per cent., gold, is payable semi-annually in Boston on the 1st of May and 1st of November. These bonds are offered, until further notice, at 90, and accrued interest in currency.

Aqueduct Notice.
Irish Moss For Sale.

CHAS. H. JOY, ESQ., has re-purchased the stock of goods at No. 14 Pleasant Street, and will be found ready to fill the orders of his old customers, as heretofore.

IT IS REPORTED that J. Horace Kent, Esq., has accepted a position on the Northern Pacific Railroad and has resigned the office of City Marshal of Portsmouth, to take effect to-day. Assistant Marshal Thomas Entwistle and Ex-City Marshal Frank B. Johnson are candidates for the vacancy. The Aldermen are to elect, this evening.

A NEW SCHOOL HOUSE at Eliot Neck, about two miles above Portsmouth Bridge, was dedicated on the evening of July 20, Rev. L. L. Harmon of this city giving an address, and Rev. Geo. W. Brown of South Eliot and others making appropriate remarks. The school-house has recently been completed in modern style, is two stories in height and arranged for graded schools.

—A representative with the loudest voice, was most difficult to be understood of any in the hall, during the recent session. In the Legislature of 1824 a highly cultivated gentleman, with a thin voice and a slight impediment, could be heard in all parts of the hall, and always had attentive hearers; for he never arose unless he had something to say worth hearing, and always took his seat when he got through. This representative was Nathaniel A. Haven of Portsmouth.—Concord Statesman.

—The express up train over the Concord Railroad was delayed about a half hour this forenoon by the colliding of some cars in the passenger station at Manchester. The Portsmouth train was being switched into the station, but the brakeman did not notice which track they were to run in upon in season to prevent its colliding with the train from Nashua. The cars were tipped up considerably and wedged in, but beyond scarring up the cars but little damage was done, and no person was injured.—Concord Monitor, July 26.

BEING SHORT HANDED on Wednesday, our Weekly-day, we engaged the services of "Roscius," of Brooklyn, one of the New York rioters, as assistant in our mail department. He had seen service as fighting editor of a paper down in Jersey, and having successfully fled from justice was beaming with such good nature that during a flight of lunacy he declared that he had "not (w) rapped so many papers for many a year." "Roscius" now lies at the point of death.

THE PULLMAN TRAINS on the Eastern and Maine Central railroads have been so successful that an addition has been made to the number of trains and cars. A Pullman car is now attached to the 12:15 train from Boston, running through to Portland as a drawing-room car. It is left at Portland and transformed into a sleeping car for the use of Portland passengers eastward. On the arrival of the night train from Boston it is attached to that train and runs through to Bangor.

AN INDIGNANT CITIZEN stopped us on our way home, Monday, and propounded the following conundrums: "Why don't you newspaper fellows pitch into that Creek cess-pool? It's as bad now, in some states of the tide, as it was last year. My house is a good half-mile—wish 'twas ten—away from it, yet last night I had to get up and close all the windows, having been awakened by the abominable smell. Why don't you editors stir it up in your papers? What can be done about it?" To the one query we replied that we really thought the cess-pool needed no stirring up, as it frequently made its existence painfully evident without it, and that whatever its needs we should decline to "stir it up" in the CHRONICLE, as there is one local paper already well established in the dirt-splashing business and we do not wish to interfere with any one's vested rights, besides being disqualified by taste and education for a successful prosecution of any such enterprise, even if we should undertake it. To the last question we unhesitatingly replied, "Don't know"—and we don't. The city had the worst hole filled, last year, but that action only abated the nuisance for a time and postponed it for a year or two. The upper portion of the Millpond is "still water" at all times, and filth and refuse matter once drained into it is never carried away by the imperceptible current. Some day, and the day is much nearer than the millenium, the pond will exert 200 dead-horse power on the dwellers at the West End, and force them to go to fresh lodgings or another world. In the meantime each one can hope the cess-pool breeze will blow towards some other man.

THE Assistant Clerk of the N. H. Senate has a column leader, wailing over the absence of President Grant and other officials from Washington, during the recess of Congress, and says "Under Democratic rule the public servants were scarcely ever away from their offices." How sad! The Assistant Clerk of the Senate (a malicious copperhead and a dweller in a glass cage) was absent from his post nine tenths of the time during the late legislative session, and yet he isn't happy!

THE GENTLEMEN composing the Savannah Base Ball Club arrived here unannounced on Wednesday, owing to some misunderstanding. The day previous they commenced a game at Lowell, Mass., with the Clippers of that city, but the game was interrupted by rain at the close of the third inning, each having scored three runs. Their game here, therefore, was the first since their arrival North, and a ludicrous one it was. About a hundred persons went to the Fair Grounds to see it and were well paid for their trouble. The Picked Nine, made up of players from Portsmouth, Manchester and Dover, couldn't play pins successfully against such odds, and the game was a burlesque on base ball. It was umpired (and well umpired) by a member of the Athletic club of Philadelphia, but his decisions were disputed by members of the Picked Nine; the change pitcher of the latter distinguished himself by good play and child's play; and poor Ira at right field, undertook to catch a fly on his cranium. The game was enjoyable for its many incidents, and rain closed it on the 6th inning, the Savannahs scoring 39 to 6 for their opponents—the latter doing well to obtain six runs. We opine that the Savannahs can play well on good grounds with disciplined opponents, and the Lowells of Boston will have their hands full to win to-day's game. We regret in common with all interested in base ball matters that the reception of the Savannahs in Portsmouth was not what it should have been (and would have been under more favorable circumstances), for a more good natured party never visited us. Success to them.

Correspondence.

RYE BEACH, July 25.

Since my last letter a great change has taken place here in the number of visitors; the hotels and boarding houses are fast filling up, and present a lively appearance. The guests amuse themselves with music and singing, bathing, fishing, croquet and reading, and seem to enjoy it very well. By the 1st of August this splendid seaside resort will be enjoying one of the most brilliant and successful seasons it has ever been favored with. At Straw's Point all the private residences are occupied by their owners and their guests, and at the lower beach the Farragut, Atlantic and Sea View Hotels and many private boarding houses are full. The splendid mansion adjoining the Farragut House, owned by Mr. Edw. A. Abbott of Concord, the celebrated carriage builder, and now occupied by his family and friends, is one of the finest summer residences on the Atlantic coast. No man deserves success better than Mr. Abbott, for no man in the State has done more than he to give its mechanical and manufacturing interests prominence throughout the country.

Near by is the Ice Cream Saloon of G. H. Jenness, where ladies and gentlemen can at all times procure ice creams, cake, confectionery and soda water at city prices. The fine bowling alley connected with this saloon is kept in pretty constant use during the day and evening, by parties sojourning at the beach or making flying visits from Portsmouth and the surrounding country.

Since I commenced this letter large parties have arrived from St. Louis, Mo., Louisville, Ky., Chicago, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Boston, Concord, Manchester and other cities. I feel perfectly safe in saying that every State in the Union is represented here. Of the newspaper fraternity, Messrs. Cummings of the St. Louis (Mo.) Republican and W. Scott Smith of the Washington (D. C.) press are at the Sea View, and the Boston Journal is represented at the Farragut House.

On Friday evening the guests at the Ocean House gave a "tableaux party," which was largely attended by the visitors at that hotel, the Washington House and private boarding houses; it was a very successful and pleasing entertainment. To-day the fine Ocean House band arrives, and hereafter we shall not only have music but trip the light, fantastic toe. N. B. That last expression is not wholly original—I've heard it somewhere before. B. R. K.

CHARLES DYRE, the engineer on Fulton's first steamer, died in New York on Monday, aged 85.

A SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders cannot be otherwise than safe. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successful carrying thro' any work that they undertake.

The

RAILROAD COMPANY

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being, the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage

Eight Per Cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or $500 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent., currency, or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. E. D. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator, Hon. John A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant Governor, Troy, N. Y.; Hon. Oakes Ames, M. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton, Bliss & Co., L. Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Haven, President Merchants' Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the SAFETY of these bonds. Their PROFIT is equally manifested upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual income than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

The two-story farm-house, L, model barn and outbuildings belonging to John Frye, and situated about two miles southeast of the village of East Wilton, were destroyed by fire on the 25th, together with five tons of hay and several hogs. The cattle, horses and a good share of the furniture were saved. It is supposed to be the work of a "firebug." Loss between $8000 and $10,000.

A despatch to the Boston Journal from Franklin, states that officers Judkins and Sargent arrested Flagg at the house of Daniel Kimball, July 25th, and handcuffed him, when he told them that his wife was at home. On arriving at his house, he called to her and she came to the door, and in explanation of the affair said that she had been away, and hearing about the excitement, she thought it best to return home, and did so about midnight on the 24th, making the journey on foot. The mystery of her absence is still unexplained.

GEORGE ALFRED TOWNSEND is "doing" Delaware for the Chicago Tribune. He says it looks like a trigger under the big pistol-barrel of Pennsylvania, and adds that people love good food more than light, and that "a Delawarean with a fricaseed chicken before him is a sight to make Liberty weep."

ON SATURDAY EVENING LAST a large swarm of bees entered the residence of Mrs. L. J. Hodges of Stafford, Conn., at the open door, visited every room and finally massed in the kitchen, where dinner was on the table. After a great deal of buzzing they departed as they came, in a mass so dense as to darken the doorway in their exodus. It is a curious fact that scarcely a fly was to be found in the house after the bees left, though they were quite plenty when they came.

INFANT BUMMER WINDS UP.—A Manchester infant, in gambolling about ancestral residence, lately came upon an open trunk in which was a bottle of whiskey. The precocious infant proceeded to put itself outside of a large share of the liquor, and then had spasms and up and died. If that was to be the way it would have done sooner or later, it is well it should have taken place now rather than in the future.—Concord Patriot.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawf&w16

DR. JOHN D. WOODS, of the Scooba Spectator, took charge of Mr. Stevens, of the Columbus Index, and assumed the responsibility of getting that young gentleman to Winona, on the occasion of the Press Convention there. Aware of the importance of his charge, the doctor tells how he got him to Jackson. One adventure he thus describes: "Like most editors, Stevens' baggage consisted of only one extra shirt, and that one a blue checked one. The baggage man accosted Stevens with: 'Any baggage, sir?'

'S.—'Yes, sir.'

'B. M.—'Let me see the checks.'

'Stevens cautiously unravelled the bundle, and holding up his shirt, asked the fellow if he could see the checks. An umph! in basso continuendo, and the expressman was gone."

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing, his philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two symptoms with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the pulmonal tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the mordic action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest pills—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates now with the food. Digestion is now progressing, without its previous tortures. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more dyspepsia, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to his afflicted child, Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs and in the office of ripening it prepares them for expectoration, and will in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten tissue that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country during the hot and humid season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients sooner than those who are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as far as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits, or be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to gain. To speak of other remedies and their effects upon debility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own case was in these words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption: confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning catching at straws, I was induced to try the preparations which I now offer to the people, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and they made it split up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, night sweats and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was given up by other doctors after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only sixty-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them; first, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, eat it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time all of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in one of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

FRIDAY, JULY 28, 1871.

DEMOCRATIC PAPERS make much ado because, as they say, the Ku-Klux Committee does not examine the kind of witnesses who would certainly tell the truth, i. e., Southern copperheads. But many of the Democratic witnesses summoned to appear before the Committee have become frightened since the examination of Fort Pillow Forrest, and fled to parts unknown. One of this class ran away to Canada, and then wrote the Committee, asking for amnesty, promising to return if they would take no notice of the disappearance. Sixteen other Democratic witnesses have thus far neglected to appear after being summoned, presenting all manner of excuses, or evading the summons altogether. Most of these are regarded as leaders in the Ku-Klux organization.

HON. JAMES B. BECK is stumping Kentucky for the Democracy. He declares that "when the books of the Navy and Post Office, the Interior and other Departments pass into the hands of the Democracy, such an exhibit of rottenness will be made as will astound the world." No doubt of it. When the Democrats had the departments in their hands before, they "made an exhibit of rottenness" that did "astound the world," and led the people to take said departments out of their hands, into which they are not likely to trust them again.

THE BROOKLYN UNION says:—"We have the highest authority for saying that a prominent member of the Ring called upon the principal proprietor of the New York Times, a week or two since, and made a startling offer for the copyright of the paper. He was told there was not money enough in New York city to buy the Times. A day or two after a Tammany republican called on the same gentleman and offered one million dollars on the part of the Ring if the Times would keep silence concerning the frauds it is now unearthing."

NOT LONG SINCE, a New York merchant, who had suffered severely from the runner system, discharged the noisiest man he had, and taking $800 out of the $3,000 he had saved through having one salary less to pay, (to say nothing of the expenses,) he invested it in advertising, and received a return profit from it of one-third more than that hitherto received from a year's work of the drummer. This was his first year (and a very mild one) in advertising.

THE PORTLAND PRESS was unrepresented among the editorial excursionists who did Montreal and the White Mountains, because of the death of one of its esteemed editors—and now rates its more fortunate neighbors for accepting the courtesies of the railroads and public houses on the route of the excursion! For of such is the kingdom—.

RED CLOUD is not on the war path, and Labrador has not been blown to pieces and had several hundred vessels wrecked by a hurricane,—except in the papers.

THE YELLOW FEVER has become very malignant at Para, Brazil.

ON MONDAY, the proprietor of Lake Memphremagog House received a despatch asking that rooms might be reserved for General Sherman and party. It was at once supposed that General W. T. Sherman was shortly to reach this well-known resort. The patriotic landlord and other individuals at once held a mass meeting, and it was determined that the general should be received with all the honors. Unfortunately the best American flag in town had been loaned to the residents of Derby Line. A despatch was sent to bring down the national emblem by the next train. It was also concluded that a salute would be in order, and a piece of artillery was soon brought into position between the station and the hotel. As the train came in, bang, bang, bang, went the piece, to the utter astonishment of the passengers on the train, who at first imagined that a nitro-glycerine explosion had taken place. A succession of bangs followed, which destroyed some thirty panes of glass in the hotel, besides frightening half the horses in town. The hero of this grand ovation alighted from the cars, and when he registered his name as F. T. Sherman of Chicago there was another grand explosion, and some one exclaimed "sold" so loudly that it woke the echoes of the old Memphremagog. They have been laughing all along the line at this grand ovation. The genuine W. T. S. is quitely enjoying himself at St. Albans.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 36.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

ESCORTING THE GOVERNOR was practiced formerly, though we have no account of it in the early history of the people's government of the State; under British rule, however, the Provincial Governors were sometimes escorted with great pomp and display. We have no account of escorts by the militia and cavalcade of citizens when Govs. Langdon and Gilman were in office, though very likely there were such; but in 1809 Gov. Smith of Exeter was escorted home at the close of the session of the Legislature. A party met him on the road, probably at the line of the town towards Epping; it rained fast, and on arriving at his mansion at the west part of Exeter village, all were wet to their boots if not to their skins, and in the disagreeable embarrassment of the occasion the Governor neglected to invite the company in, which was construed as a lack of courtesy, but was probably not intentional. The Governor was a man of great natural and acquired abilities, but of manly independence. He refused to be the tool of cliques, and the next year he failed of a re-election, receiving but 14,477 votes to Mr. Langdon's 16,335.

Gov. Plumer of Epping was in office in 1812, again in 1816, '17 and '18. He was sometimes escorted into Concord, and sometimes, if not generally, home at the close of the legislative session. Of one time we have an account from one who was of the company of cavalry at Epping. He was escorted from Concord to Epsom, to the Inn of Col. Daniel Silley, his brother in law, and a member of his staff. At that place he was met by a company of cavalry from Epping and vicinity, which attended him down by Deerfield Parade and Nottingham Square to the Governor's home in Epping.

Gov. Samuel Bell of Chester was met the first year of his election a little way from Concord. Gov. Woodbury of Portsmouth, in 1823, came from court at Haverhill, he being one of the judges. The ladies, always good judges of personal beauty and comeliness, saw him in the crowd and declared him the handsomest man of all. Gov. Morrill succeeded Mr. Woodbury and was escorted a little way into the capital. We pass Govs. Peirce, John Bell and M. Harvey, as there was not much of a formal escort to them; but in 1834 William Badger of Gilmanton was escorted to Concord by a large cavalcade, most of whom rode horse-back, while the Governor elect was thus mounted. He was a man of commanding person, and riding a little separate from the others in the midst of the large company, was readily known by all.

In 1836 Isaac Hill was called from the U. S. Senate to assume the office of Governor. He was not a man of vanity, yet it was enjoyable to him when met by a committee of the legislature at the line of the town next to Bow. The committee, with a large assemblage of his friends and fellow citizens, escorted him to the seat of government, which was his home. More recent demonstrations of this kind need not be noted, as they are in the recollection of many who witnessed them, or have read accounts of them.

Escorts are well enough as an honor to chief magistrates, and more than this, they impress the people with the majesty and power of civil rulers. This is their chief use. When the authority of James II. of England (the poorest ruler of the unfortunate House of Stuart,) was running low, he would make a "progress," as it was called, to some distant part of his realm, that by being seen and attended by a great escort he might win respect and gain friends.

LEGISLATIVE ANECDOTE.—Hon. Francis R. Chase of Northfield, was the wag on the Democratic side of the House of Representatives during the late session. Though as Chase of Conway he was Speaker many years ago, he is still a young man, and has a keen appreciation of wit, being always in good humor, save when the House undertakes a stampede when he is in the Chair, after a vote to adjourn is carried, but the result unannounced. An old Democratic wheel horse, at the close of the session, meeting Chase, undertook to congratulate him upon the gallant contest and brilliant success of the Democracy in the Legislature. "Yes," said Frank, "we elected the Governor, a clerk in the House and two in the Senate, and the Commissary General. We have secured an excellent man for Judge of Probate in Merrimack, and as soon as our friends in Rockingham settle their hash over the appointment, we shall have one Sheriff; but, I must say with the senior Weller, 'whether it is worth while goin' through so much, to learn so little, as the charity boy said when he got to the end of the alphabet,' is a matter of taste. I rather think it isn't."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Married ladies, under all circumstances, will find Parsons' Purgative Pills safe; and, in small doses, a mild cathartic. They cause no griping pains or cramp.

Henry K. Bond, of Jefferson, Maine, was cured of spitting blood, soreness and weakness of the stomach, by the use of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Perilous Season.

Glorious and delightful as the Summer weather is, its tropical heat is a severe trial to the vital powers. Even the strongest are sometimes prostrated by its effects. The common phrase applied to this condition of the body is "general debility." Now, general debility arises from, and includes a variety of ailments. The liver is more or less affected, the bowels are either constipated or too much relaxed, the stomach but half performs the work of digestion, the appetite is poor, and the spirits depressed. This is what is called general debility. It is a general disarrangement of all the physical functions, an requires as a remedy a medicine that will regulate them all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is specially adapted to this purpose. Its general operation is not confined to a single organ. If the liver is affected, it restores its tone. If the stomach is torpid, it regenerates it. If the nerves are tremulous and weak, it braces and reinforces them. If the mind, which ever sympathizes with the body, is gloomy and despondent, it relieves the difficulty, and soon brings the whole mechanism of the body into harmony with the laws of health.

There is no civilized nation in the Western Hemisphere in which the utility of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a tonic, corrective, and antibilious medicine, is not known and appreciated. Throughout the Tropics it is considered, both by the people and the profession, the standard specific. While it is a medicine for all seasons and all climates, it is especially suited to the complaints generated by the weather, being the purest and best vegetable stimulant in the world.

Beware of the Bitters made of acrid and dangerous materials, which unscrupulous parties are endeavoring to foist upon the people. Their name is legion, and the public has no guarantee that they are not poisonous. Adhere to the tried remedy, Hostetter's Bitters, sold only in glass, and never in kegs or barrels.

BATCHELDER'S HAIR DYE.

THE WORLD IS IN ARMS

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye

proved by time and sanctioned by practical chemists, has become the standard article of its class throughout the length and breadth of the land. It is poisonless, rapid in its operation, certain to produce the required shade of color, and has no equal among hair dyes, either in the United States or Europe. To beautify and soften the hair after dyeing, use

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

We urge upon capitalists and all having money to invest, the most careful investigation of these securities, believing them to combine more safety and profit than any Railroad Bond now in the market. The Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad line will be the shortest route by more than fifty miles from the Lakes to the Atlantic.

The Road will have local business enough to pay all its running expenses and to insure the prompt and regular payment of interest on its small bonded debt. It will be the greatest pleasure thoroughfare in the Eastern States, uniting by the shortest route Saratoga and Lakes George and Champlain with the White Mountains, Lakes Memphremagog and Willoughby, Mount Mansfield and the celebrated Mineral Springs of Northern Vermont.

The Road is under the management of some of the most experienced, successful, and widly-known business men in the country, who will insist upon the closest economy and honesty in the administration of its affairs.

The managers of the Road have themselves invested largely in its capital stock, the cash subscriptions being nearly sufficient to complete the Road ready for iron, (thus showing their appreciation of the importance and value of this enterprise.) For convenience of investors the bonds (coupon or registered) are of the following denominations:—

and the interest, six per cent., gold, is payable semi-annually in Boston on the 1st of May and 1st of November. These bonds are offered, until further notice, at 90, and accrued interest in currency.

Coffin's Iron Paint.

GEORGE PEARL of Rochester, arrested in Rye by officers from this city, charged with being concerned in the robbery of the store and post-office of Henry Locke in Gonic several weeks since, was taken to Rochester by City Marshal Kent on Thursday.

WE are requested by Dr. B. Dearborn to announce that until November next he will be absent from this city every Wednesday and Saturday, in attendance upon the Franciscan Hospital for Diseases of Women, at Boston, in charge of Dr. H. R. Storer. Dr. Dearborn will be at home on the morning and evening of the days mentioned.

PERSONAL.—U. S. Senator James W. Patterson is in town, and visited the Navy Yard in company with Hon. Horton D. Walker, on Thursday. Senator Patterson is the guest of Charles Robinson, Esq.

Rear Admiral Joseph Smith arrived at the Navy Yard in U. S. Steamer Tallapoosa, Thursday, and was received with the customary salute.

IT IS ERRONEOUSLY THOUGHT in some quarters that the coming Firemen's Muster, Sept. 6th and 7th, is to be wholly a New England affair. Several invitations have been issued and among them are many to companies in the Middle and Western States. Why can't San Francisco be counted in? The Muster will eclipse anything of the kind ever held in New England.

MR. EDW. D. COFFIN advertises a new paint for boilers, smoke stacks and any other iron work which it is desirable to protect from rust. Mr. Coffin has been using this paint for some time in his own business, considers it the best protector for iron yet discovered, and that if its merits are fairly tested it will come into general use. It looks well, and has no unpleasant smell. See adv't.

THE KEARSARGE BASE BALL CLUB was organized at Kearsarge S. F. Engine Hall, in this city, on Wednesday evening, by the choice of the following officers:—President, Willard J. Sampson; Vice Presidents, Benjamin Lord, J. Frank Shannon; Secretary, J. Wesley Marden; Treasurer, George N. Jones; Directors, Willis L. Hidden, James H. Hurd, J. Frank Shannon. The first nine is composed of the following persons:—William Hazel, capt. and 1b.; Willard J. Sampson, l.f.; Benj. Lord, s. s.; J. Wesley Marden, r. f.; Charles N. Merrill, c. f.; George N. Jones, 3b.; J. F. Shannon, p.; James H. Hurd, 2b.; W. L. Hidden, c.

PARKER'S DINING ROOMS, Nos. 3 and 5 Ladd Street, continue to gain favor with the public, steadily. Parker is the right man in the right place, keeps that place neat and clean, and his saloon supplies a want long felt in Portsmouth, of a well conducted eating-house where good meals could be procured at all hours, cooked to order on short notice and at reasonable prices. Besides attending to the wants of his regular patrons and a large transient custom, he cooks meals to order to send out,—a great convenience to many housekeepers during the hot weather, as well as to picnic parties. Candidates for membership in the Fat Men's Association can qualify themselves for that honor by getting their meals at Parker's.

"ROSCIUS SPEAKETH."

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 27.

Eds. Chronicle:—I noticed in your valuable paper this morning, an item reflecting on your most obl'd't; I will not tell you villians you lie, as I never make use of the expression, but will say it is a compound inaccuracy. I may have played "the devil" for you for a while yesterday, but my conduct and conversation are always governed by the company I am in. When you say I have "flights of lunacy" I know you are trying to compliment, but I'll be hanged if I appreciate it, although there are Editors among my acquaintances whose lunacy is evident and continued in each issue, and it would be flattery to hang them, and it would require a miracle to raise them to the level of total depravity. If you would let me board with you a week, your mind would be disabused of the idea that I am near "the point of death." Yours is a very vivid imagination, and by this morning, like the colored minister at the funeral of a parishioner, you probably see me "in Heving, jumping from cherry beam to cherry beam." The corpse is not be buried at present. If the justice you speak of should overtake either of us, there would be occasion very quickly for a few first-class obituaries.

Convalescently Yours, ROSCIUS.

THE ALDERMEN on Thursday evening accepted the resignation of City Marshal J. Horace Kent, and appointed Mr. Frank B. Johnson to the position by a strict party vote, 5 to 2.

YACHT WHIP, Snow, master, from Marblehead, arrived at Pier Wharf, on Thursday afternoon, with a party of ten gentlemen from Lowell. The Whip will sail for Portland this morning.

THE CROPS.—The returns to the department of agriculture indicate that the hay crop throughout the country will be small. In Maine, where hay is the leading staple, the yield will not much exceed two-thirds of the average crop. In all the New England and Middle States the condition of clover, timothy and pastures are below the average. In most of the Southern and Western States and in Oregon the pastures are above the average, and the condition of clover and timothy equally good. In California clover and timothy have a fine growth, while the pastures are in a relatively low condition. Frosts in April and May, following the remarkably early opening of spring, greatly lessened the prospect of a good crop of apples. A short crop is indicated in all the States where they most are largely grown—propably three-fourths of the average. The potato crop will be a full average, and that of peaches unusually large.

—A citizen of Colusa, California, thus details his grievances at the hands of his back-woods neighbors: "I was determined," says he, "to keep the Fourth of July; but those Pikes don't understand anything about it. So last year two or three of us took an old anvil down to the river, loaded it up and began to blaze away. By and by I saw a lot of black objects bobbing up and down on the river, always up stream. I thought they were ducks at first, but presently discovered them to be a lot of Pikes swimming the river, with their rifles held out of the water. Soon they came along to us, and the head man, a gaunt six footer in butternut, sung out to me, 'Stranger, whar's the war?'"

—Mr. J. H. McMurdy used to be a Sunday-school teacher in this city, and a promising lawyer. He went to Lafayette, and came near being killed by a livery stable keeper with a stick of cord wood. Then he went to Georgetown, Col., and had a dispute with a man, and they administered lead to each other through tubes. Dear children, let this be a lesson to you never to be Sunday-school teachers and promising lawyers.—Chicago Republican.

—Sir Walter Scott, in his days of law practice, once defended a housebreaker at Jedburg: After the trial the prisoner sent for him, thanked him for his exertions, and said he was sorry that he could not give him a fee; but he would give him two bits of information. First, that a yelping terrier inside a house was a better protection than a big dog outside; and secondly that no lock so bothered a house-breaker as an old rusty one.

—The Chicago Tribune asks and receives twenty-six thousand dollars for a column of advertisements a year. The business men of Chicago are keen to pay it. There is one house in Cincinnati that pays four thousand dollars a week for advertising. There are several in Cleveland, even, who pay as high as ten thousand dollars a year. Somehow these men don't break up; a liberal advertiser never does.—Springfield Republican.

—A faithful old dog who had run with a Louisville fire company for years, and always made it a part of his duty to keep people from standing on the hose at fires, fell a victim the other day to misplaced confidence in a policeman and a piece of poisoned liver. The engine company turned out and gave the old fellow a big funeral; but they did not enjoy it so much as they would if the funeral had been the policeman's.

A SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders cannot be otherwise than safe. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successful carrying thro' any work that they undertake.

The

RAILROAD COMPANY

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage

Eight Per Cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,000 per mile, and are for $1,000 or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent., currency, or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. E. D. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator, Hon. John A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant Governor, Troy, N. Y.; Hon. Oakes Ames, M. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton, Bliss & Co., L. Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Haven, President Merchants' Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the SAFETY of these bonds. Their PROFIT is equally manifested upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

NASBY'S RIOT ON THE 12th OF JULY.

How to Heal the Differences.

CONFEDERATE ✠ ROADS,
(Wich is in the State of Kentucky),
July 15, 1871.

The riots in Noo York affected me terribly. Viewed from any stand pint the occurrence wuz deplorable. Two hundred Dimrocats shot down by the brootal miliary who will never again repeat their votes, no matter how high the price. And all this becoz them noble-minded sons uv Erin insisted on the rite to dictate who shood and who shood not parade the streets uv their city uv Noo York! I hev, however, the consolashen uv knowin that it wont make any difference in our majority in that city. There is ships on the sea briogin more Irishmen, who kin be made voters in four hours after they land, and ef no more comes, them cz is here kin vote oftener. It may be necessary to furnish some uv em hosses and buggies that they may get around to the polls faster, but that will be all.

I hed my little trouble on the same day. It so happened that the children uv our church hed pitched upon the 12th uv July cz the day for their picnic, and it so happened that Pollock hevin a lot uv damaged yeller calico, Deekin Pennibacker bought it to make rousettes for the children, and a sash for myself, who wuz to cheef marshal em. The nite afore we received a letter from Dennis O'Shoughnessy, Patrick O'Brien and Shamus O'Daly, the three Irishmen who live at the Corner's station, that they understood that it wuz the intenshun uv of the Protestants of the Corners to celebrate the battle of the Boyne with an Orange procession. They gave notice that it had better be abandoned, for they wood not hev their feelins injoored. After the warnin, of blood be shed they could not be held responsible.

No one in the Corners—that is the natives—hed ever heered uv the battle uv the Boyne or knowd wot "Orange" meant, and so, takin it as a joke, no attenshun wuz paid to it, for no percesshun had ever been mobbed at the Corners, but nigger percesshuns. But next morning when the percesshun moved a volley of stones greeted us. I was riding proudly at its head on Bascomb's mule, and one well directed rock hurled me senseless to the ground, and ez the shepherd was smitten the sheep wuz scattered, Dennis O'Shoughnessy told us that the feelins uv the Catholic citizens uv the Corners shood never be outraged so long ez he hed strength to handle a club or heave a stun. Some uv our people wuz indignant; but I, the chief sufferer, wuz not. I hed lived in Noo York, wich is mostly Irish, and, knowin ther idiosyncracies, wuz willin to forgive 'em. Ther ain't no better dimocrats anywhere than these men, and no rock kin be throwed wich kin mak me do anything agin that organizashun uv wich these men is the back-bone.

And when I got a paper and read uv the riots in Noo York a lite beamed onto me. Ez the Catholic Irishmen don't like the Orange color on the 12th uv July, I wonder that the three we hev contented themselves with merely heavin' rocks at us. It is not to be expected that they will allow any demonstrashon wich hurts their feelins to be made without an attempt to suppress it. The ardent son of Erin is an impulsive creacher, who delites in hevin' his own way. They hev taken charge uv the government uv the city uv Noo York, and they ought not to be interfered with, nor will they be.

I see but one way to prevent sich difficulties here-after, and that plan I submit to the consideration of the American people, ez follows:—

Let an ordinance be passed by the Common Council uv Noo York, providing for the appointment uv a committee who shel hev sole control uv processions and all public display, said committee consist uv ten Catholic priests, uv Irish birth, and ten Catholic laymen, uv Irish birth. To this committee all these matters shel be referred. They shel hev the power to say wat societies shel, and wat societies shel not parade, and also wat banners, colors and insignia shel be displayed, wat toons shel be played, and on wat days such displays shel be made.

Uv course this committee wood be liberal. They wood never object to the celebrashen of the Fourth of July (for that commemorates a triumph over British tyranny;) perticulerly of the procession wood pledge themselves to carry the green flag and hev ther bands play national airs, only.

The followin, I suppose, be the tenor uv most uv the answers to applications for the privilege uv paradin:—

TO THE SUPERINTENDENT OF ——TH STEETS METHEDIST SUNDAY SKOOL:—

Permission refused. On the route proposed for the procession lives three hundred Catholic families wich wood be offended at it. The committee does not want to be bothered with sich applications, es none uv em will be granted.

His
mark.

This wood save a riot and bloodshed, for of coarse the procession couldn't take place, and the Irish people be offended, onless it wuz at the presumption uv the Methodist in makin this request. Then again.

TO THE COMMITTEE ON PROCESSION UV LODGE NUMBER—, KNITES UV PYTHIAS:—

The committee hevin carefully examined the ritual of sed order, and findin therein nothin offensive to the Irish citizens uv the United States, and nothin peculiarly offensive to the Holy Catholic Church, the sed order is hereby permitted to parade Jooly 12, 1871.

It is suggested that the parade is not intended as an insult to 'em; that the green flag of Erin be displayed above the banner uv the order; that the members uv the order wear green sashes; that an Irishman be employed to act as Marshal, and that the band be instructted to play nothin but "The Wearing uv the Green."

His
mark.

TO THE PRESIDENT OF LODGE NUMBER —, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS:—

It havin come to the knowledge uv this committee that the Ancient Order of Hibernians and also the Young Men's Society uv the church uv of the Immaculate Concepshun intend to cross the streets named ez your route, the order permitten you to parade is hereby revoked. The committee will give you notis uv the first day on wich no body uv Catholics or Irish citizens desire you to yoose the streets that your demonstrashen may take place peaceably.

In addishun to this it might be well to make St. Patrick's Day a legel holiday, the same ez the Fourth uv July, and that our Irish fellow citizens mite not be annoyed, such days ez the church holds servis on mite be made Sundays uv.

Let this be adoptid and no troubles like that of July 12 will never again occur agin in Noo York, unless, indeed, some headstrong Protestants mite question the justis uv it. This plan merely legalizes what hez been practiced in a louse way for ten years. I shel hev this rool adopted at the Corners, for our Irish friends here not only vote viggerous, but they burl stones with wonderful precision.

PETROLEUM V. NASBY,
(which wuz Postmaster).

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetisers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawfeb16

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

Natt Head and his brother make four million bricks annually at Hooksett.

The cotton mills at Milford are idle half the time for want of water.

The State Unitarian Association, at a recent meeting, passed a strong resolution condemning raffles as a means of raising money.

THE CHICAGO RIVER, emptying into Lake Michigan, has for many years been a great source of annoyance to Chicago, in consequence of the intolerable and unhealthy odors caused by the filth drained into it from the city sewers. In 1862, it was proposed to open a passage to the headwaters of the Illinois river by means of the Illinois and Michigan Canal. As the level of the canal, however, was too high to make the desired change of current, the Legislature passed a law authorizing the deepening of the canal, and in 1866 the work was commenced. A few days ago, the deepening of the canal was completed, about three million dollars having been expended in carrying out the proposed plain. At noon on July 15th, the workmen commenced cutting through the clay dam which held back the water of the Chicago river at a height of six feet about the level of the canal. In about three hours, the dam had been swept entirely swept away, and the water had fallen two feet in the river.

The dark yellow water from the clayey bed of the west branch was succeeded by the black and offensive water of the Chicago river proper, and on the second day the blue water from Lake Michigan followed, resting for the depth of two feet upon the denser water of the river. According to the accounts the current of the river could be plainly distinguished running "up" at the rate of a mile an hour. The regular current, it is estimated, will run about three-quarters of a mile an hour, which it is believed will be sufficient to cleanse the river thoroughly and keep it pure and fresh. Although the people of Chicago are highly delighted in view of the complete purification of the river, the persons living along the line of the Illinois and Michigan canal are complaining at the prospect of having the offensive odors of the Chicago river brought to their very doors. After the dam was cut, along the line of the deepened canal the approach of the water was announced by a highly disagreeable smell as the accumulated filth from Chicago was pushed along.

—Chicago doesn't like the milk it gets. It prefers the udder kind.

—Chicagoans attend the theatre in their shirt-sleeves and keep their hats on.

—Florida feeds her prisoners on ham and eggs, and everybody is trying to get into jail.

—The editor of the London Spectator declares that no toil fatigues like reading manuscript.

—It is said that the new singer, Marie Miramon, has "put Patti's nose out of joint," having sung up to E in alt.

—An exchange touchingly pictures "the malevolent potato-bug sitting on Western fence corners and waiting for business."

—Mr. Joseph Jefferson and Mr. William Warren of Boston are reported to be rusticating together at Jefferson's farm in Hohokus, N. J.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JULY 29, 1871.

THE NEW YORK PRESS have pretty much given up discussing the Ribbonmen's riot, being too much engaged in arithmetic to attend to it properly. The Times says Mayor Hall dare not keep his promise to have the city accounts printed in full, as he knows that such a proceeding would expose still greater frauds than have yet come to the light; and the same paper reckons that the court-house carpets, at $4.50 per yard, would reach 70 miles in length, and the chairs furnished to armories alone, at $5 each, would extend 17 miles when placed in a continued line! that is if the money said to be laid out for carpets and chairs was so laid out. Mr. Charles Nordhoff, lately managing-editor of the New York Evening Post, has made an inspection of the new court-house, to behold for himself the magnificence which has cost so much money. He found that the courthouse had 136 good sized windows, and 12 small ones with neither shade, cornice or curtain; so that if Hall, Connolly & Co. paid $108,021.10 for curtains, as their accounts say they did, each of the 136 windows cost about $800 to furnish. Mr. Nordhoff adds:

This, to use Mayor Hall's pretty phrase, is "a large sum, and possibly extravagant." But the bigness of the sum did not surprise me nearly so much as this fact, that, so far as I could ascertain—and my examination included almost every room in the building—there is not a single curtain on any of the 136 windows!

The Times also publishes the facts with reference to a formal application by a committee of the New York city council of reform to Controller Connolly, to be permitted to examine the books of the city's accounts in the presence of the controller or of any person he might appoint, to which a verbal reply was made that he would see about it and answer in a few days. The Times adds:—

This is not the only request of the controller for a sight of his accounts; but it is one of a number, and we quote it here because it shows that all access to those books was refused, even when a body of citizens requested to see them. Here, then, is a direct proof that the mayor departed from the truth when he asserted that no citizens had ever requested to see the books.

THE DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE, through their chairman, have issued a circular in which states that "we (the Democratic majority in the Legislature) have reduced the annual State expenses nearly one half." This is an excellent exhibit, and the only fault to be found with it is that it is not true,—the State expenses not having been reduced a dollar, no change having been made in the expenses of the several State departments, rather more than the usual amount having been appropriated to the various State institutions and at least $25,000 added to the State expenses by the unnecessary lengthening of the Legislative session by the Democrats, for purely partizan purposes. The State tax levy was reduced one-half, but that was rendered possible by the great reduction of the State debt under previous Republican administrations and the sound financial position in which the State is placed in consequence, and had been strongly recommended by Republican governors and papers long before the late Legislature was chosen.

AMONG the stringent provisions of a liquor bill recently passed by the Connecticut Senate, are the following: It renders null and void all business dealings for liquors—enables the purchaser even of a glass of whiskey to recover back the ten cents he pays for it!—declares null and void all sales, transfers, contracts, quit claims, mortgages, attachments, and liens, made in consideration (part or whole) of the sale of any spirituous liquor; makes null and void all leases of premises if liquor is sold on them; punishes by a fine of $100 or a month in jail (or both) the sale of liquor to any minor under eighteen years of age; makes the person who sells responsible for all damages done by drunken men, and permits any taxpayer to sue such seller whenever the drinker abuses his family.

THE BIDDEFORD JOURNAL thinks the wide spread popularity of Biddeford people is shown in the fact that a dozen persons hailing from that city, have been elected to fill vacancies in—the cells of the Lawrence, Mass., House of Correction within a short time.

ALLUDING to the "present-taking" slurs against Grant, the Chicago Post says: "If President Grant takes only what is given or belongs to him, he does something for which Democratic administrations furnish no precedent."

—"We should have done great things for the state, but for Smith." Such is the melancholy refrain that the Democratic circular takes up and repeats after it had well-nigh been played to death by the Democratic newspaper organs. Pray, who elected Smith? Who kept him in his seat? The Democratic party and his assistants. Who asked Mr. Smith to vote for a single measure, not purely political? Not a Democrat. What measure calculated to advance the educational and industrial interests of the state did he fail to support? Not one. How contemptible, in the light of these facts, appears the Democratic abuse of Senator Smith. Here was an old man, already beyond his three score and ten; a life-long Free Soiler and Republican; who had fought the good fight, and only asked to be permitted to pass the remnant of his years in peace and quiet. Elected to the Senate against his wishes, he was expected to yield a ready assent to the demands of the political harpies who boldly boasted that they were sure of him. Having for seventy odd years lived the life of an honest man, it would have been as difficult for Senator Smith to have entered into the Democratic intrigues as for the Democratic harpies to understand why an honest man should not. "Let him go to his grave in peace," says the Democratic chairman, "and let him carry his infamy with him." So little he can easily carry, but when his assailants shall go down to their graves, they will find their load too heavy to take along.—Nashua Telegraph.

MANY YEARS AGO, Gen. Butler was sent to the Massachusetts Legislature by the citizens of Lowell as a temperance man: and employed in making and perfecting that statute which has been found to be invulnerable in all the courts, but which has failed to perform what was designed because it has not been enforced. Mr. Butler says he should very much regret to see that statute repealed until it has been thoroughly tested; and more, if he was the executive the law should be impartially enforced. The Parker House and the Revere House should feel its power just as fully as Pat. O' Brien and Bridget O' Neil.

This pleases a great many people, including a good portion of his personal enemies. They say that the liquor law has been trifled with and believe with him that while it is upon the statute book it should come down upon Boston sinners as heavily as upon the rebels in country towns.

There are some who hesitate and doubt, while others say, give us a man who made an example of rich rebels in New Orleans, to rule Boston one year.

Much interest was manifested by the Boston press in the recent regular monthly meeting of the Massachusetts Temperance Alliance, as it was supposed that question would be discussed and some action taken upon a separate political party.

The reporters were all there and they found their suspicions partly true. The question was discussed freely, but no action was taken upon the subject. It was freely conceded that the present Governor does not enforce this law, and that among the coming candidates only two could be expected to do it. They believe that the ten thousand temperance votes of last year will be greatly increased this fall, and are determined, as are all the organizations, to vote for the man that will enforce the law without reference to his other creed.

P. S. GILMORE has issued a prospectus for a World's Jubilee to be held in Boston next June. The form of the proposed Coliseum on the ground plan is a quadrilateral parallelogram, 422 1-2 feet wide by 822 1-2 feet in length, covering an area of 346,884 feet, or nearly eight acres. The capacity of the structure is to be for a chorus of 20,000, an orchestra of 2000 and an audience of 78,000, making 100,000 in all. There will be balconies or galleries on the two sides, and on one end of the building.

THE EARTHQUAKE IN THE PHILIPPINE ISLAND, May 1, affected in a terrible manner the small island of Camaguin, five miles from Misamis. For some months previously, especially in March, there was a succession of violent shocks, which opened extensive crevices in the earth.

Finally on May 1, the level plain near the village of Catarmin began gradually to subside until the tops of the houses became level with the surface of the earth. This remarkable phenomenon attracted a large number of people, when suddenly some terrible shocks were felt, and before the thundering reverberations had died away the whole level plain fell in, engulfing one hundred and fifty persons.

The plain became the crater of a volcano, 1500 feet wide, and from it smoke, ashes and stones were thrown into the air. A pause until dark succeeded, when there was another explosion, and a rain of fire followed. The woods became ignited, and men and cattle were flying before the flames. The spectacle was frightful in the extreme. The volcano continues to eject stones and earth. The inhabitants have left the island, which formerly contained a population of 26,000. Camaquin produces of Manilla hemp one-tenth of the whole quantity grown.

THE CANADIANS are much exercised in regard to what is termed the "pestilence fly," which they assert is now paying them a visit. It is an insect smaller than the common house fly, jet black on the back and wings, the under side of the latter and the belly being striped with yellow. A Hamilton paper says it is never seen in ordinary years, and was noticed in great numbers previous to the cholera in 1854.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FITTED AND FURNISHED mean a great deal, but most travellers in this country are ready to endorse the statement that the AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON, is fitted with all needed conveniences, and furnished in accordance with the demands of the most exacting.

All the year round, Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders should be given to horses that are "kept up." To horses and cattle that graze in Summer, they should only be given in Winter and Spring.

Officers and Soldiers who served in the army, physicians, surgeons, and eminent men and women everywhere, join in recommending Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to be the best internal and external family medicine ever invented. That's our experience.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Science Advances.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, &c., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length Hostetter's Stomach Bitters made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlighted age has consigned them. There have been many spurious bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while Hostetter's has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration of health.

For many years we have watched the steady progress of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in public estimation, and its beneficial effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation, after years of careful study and sitting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by the valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

THAT DELIGHTFUL SEASIDE retreat known as the WOODMAN FARM containing forty acres of land, a commodious, and imposing house and convenient outbuildings situated on the easterly side of Great Island (Newcastle.) within a stone's throwm of the ocean and in full view of the "Isles of Shoals."

Also adjoining the same, "POINT JERRY" embracing ten acres of arable land extending out into the sea, being the nearest point of land to the "Isles of Shoals," and forming the outer boundary of what is known as Little Harbor.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

NAVAL.—Lieut. Commanding Geo. Dewey has been ordered to Boston Navy Yard. Lieut. Commanding W. L. Johnson has been detached from Portsmouth Navy Yard and ordered to the Worcester.

NEWCASTLE SCHOOLS.—The closing exercises of the summer term of the schools at Newcastle were held on Wednesday. The Intermediate department under the charge of Miss Hattie N. Tarlton, is in a very creditable condition, the teacher sustaining her previous reputation as a disciplinarian and instructor of children. The Grammar department has been under the care of Miss Mary W. Lamprey, who has fully met the highest expectation of all who take a lively interest in the education of the children. The method of discipline has been that of "moral suasion," and has not failed in one single instance; still, the committee do not discourage the use of the rod, when needed, recommending the employment of teachers who possess the requisite power of governing without its use.

On being asked how it was that she succeeded so well, the teacher replied "by interesting and keeping my pupils employed both head and hands." The classes in mental arithmetic were almost perfect. The pupils showed in all branches taught, that their time had been properly employed. The young ladies gave an exhibition in the evening which was very interesting. The readings were fine, the declamations spirited, and the dialogues and charades laughable.

If parents expect a good report from their children at the close of school, they must visit them in the school room oftener—at least as often as they would a person in their immediate employ.

City Councils, Thursday, July 27th.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, the Committee on Fire Department were requested to confer with Aqueduct Company relative to the prevention of the waste of water.

A communication was received from the Committee on Firemen's Muster, asking the City Councils to request the loan of tents from the State authorities, to use for the purpose of lodging the visiting Companies. A vote was passed in concordance with the communication. Aldermen Hatch and Marvin were appointed a special Committee to procure the tents.

A communication was received from J. Horace Kent, resigning the office of City Marshal and recommending the appointment of Assistant Marshal Thomas Entwistle as his successor. The resignation was accepted and the recommendation was laid on the table.

Balloted for City Marshal with the following result, Mayor Fernald not voting:—

Frank B. Johnson, Rep., had 5
Benjamin M. Parker, Dem., 2 and Mr. Johnson was elected.

Voted to lease the reservoir on the land of Fred. W. Rogers for a term of ten years, at $25 per annum.

The Committee on Fire Department recommended that Chief Engineer Stephen L. Marston have leave to withdraw his resignation. On a motion by Ald. Mendum that the report of the Committee be adopted, Ald. Hatch arose to browbeat and cross question Ald. Marvin, who coolly answered each question and wound up the series by remarking to Mr. Hatch, "As a member of the Committee on Fire Department, I venture the assertion 'I know as much about it as you and I together.'" Mr. Hatch in reply to this said: "When I was an instructor of youth [he probably meant a schoolmaster] I did not try to learn a dull boy after it was evident I could not learn him anything. * * * * * I will not permit this vote to pass without expressing my mind." Mr. Marvin immediately took the floor and replied: "It is immaterial whether the gentleman expresses his mind or sends it freight; the 'dull boy' confesses his education was finished long ago, and as it is apparent he is not qualified to teach the Board of Aldermen I call for the question"—which was then put and carried.

The bill for reorganizing the Fire Department was taken from the table and referred to a Committee consisting of Aldermen Hatch, Marvin and Mendum.

The Committee on Streets were requested to prepare a form of license for encumbering the streets for building purposes.

Frank Jones and Charles H. Mendum were given permission to relay sidewalk, corner of Market Square and Market Street.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, a resolution was introduced "that it is expedient to retake the census of the city," which was referred to Committee on Bills on 2d Reading.

GEN. B. F. BUTLER, while stepping from his yacht to a small boat in the Merrimac river, at Newburyport on Saturday, fell overboard and was immersed in the good old style, without the usual services, on the spot so often used by Elder Pike for that purpose. He received a hearty cheer when the smooth part of his head appeared above water, and was soon rescued without much injury except to his clothing.

A RECENT DISCOVERY.—Mark Twain tells us in the August Galaxy that he has discovered who cleans the kerosene lamps in the barber's shop. It is the jour. who shaves him. He had unmistakable evidence of this when the fellow put a finger in his mouth to shave around the corners of the upper lip. He always before supposed the boss did the cleaning.

A SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders cannot be otherwise than safe. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successful carrying thro' any work that they undertake.

The

NEW ORLEANS, MOBILE & TEXAS RAILROAD COMPANY

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage

Eight Per Cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent., currency, or 7 per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. E. D. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator, Hon. John A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant Governor, Troy, N. Y.; Hon. Oakes Ames, M. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton, Bliss & Co., L. Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Haven, President Merchants' Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the SAFETY of these bonds. Their PROFIT is equally manifested upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by

First National Bank.

Information concerning the Company and the Road, and pamphlets containing map and full details of the enterprise, can be obtained of the undersigned or any of the Company's advertised agents.

TAD LINCOLN.

John Hay, in the New York Tribune, writes of President Lincoln's favorite son who was buried last week:

Most of those who read the despatch announcing the death of Thomas Todd Lincoln will never think of the well-grown young gentleman who died on Saturday at Chicago. The name of "Tad"—a pet name given by himself with his first stammering utterances and adopted by his fond parents and the world—recalls the tricksy little sprite who gave to that sad and solemn White House of the great war the only comic relief it knew. The years that have followed, spent in study and travel, produced an utterly different person. The Tad Lincoln of our history ceased to exist long ago. The modest and cordial young fellow who passed through New York a few weeks ago with his mother will never be known outside of the circle of his mourning friends. But "little Tad" will be remembered as long as any live who bore a personal share in the great movements whose center for four years was at Washington.

He was so full of life and vigor—so bubbling over with health and high spirits, that he kept the house alive with his pranks and his fantastic enterprises. After the death of his brother Willie, a prematurely serious and studious child, and the departure of Robert for college, he installed himself as the absolute tyrant of the Executive Mansion. He was idolized by both his father and mother, petted and indulged by his teachers, and fawned upon and caressed by that noisome herd of office-seekers which infested the anterooms of the White House. He had a very bad opinion of books and no opinion of discipline, and thought very little of any tutor who would not assist him in yoking his kids to a chair or in driving his dogs tandem over the South Lawn. He was as shrewd as he was lawless, and always knew whether he could make a tutor serviceable or not. If he found one with obstinate ideas of the superiority of grammar to kite-flying as an intellectual employment, he soon found means of getting rid of him. He had so much to do that he felt he could not waste time in learning to spell. Early in the morning you could hear his shrill pipe resounding through the dreary corridors of the Executive residence. The day passed in a rapid succession of plots and commotions, and when the President laid down his weary pen toward midnight, he generally found his infant goblin asleep under his table or roasting his curly head by the open fire-place; and the tall chief would pick up the child and trudge off to bed with the drowsy little burden on his shoulder, stooping under the doors and dodging the chandeliers. The President took infinite comfort in the child's rude health, fresh fun, and uncontrollable boisterousness. He was pleased to see him growing up in ignorance of books, but with singularly accurate ideas of practical matters. He was a fearless rider, while yet so small that his legs stuck out horizontally from the saddle. He had that power of taming and attaching animals to himself, which seems the especial gift of kindly and unlettered natures. "Let him run," the easy-going President would say; "he has time enough left to learn his letters and get pokey. Bob was just such a little rascal, and now he is a very decent boy."

It was evident that with all his insubordination and reckless mischief the spoiled child was at heart of truthful and generous nature. He treated flatterers and office-seekers with a curious coolness and contempt, but often espoused the cause of some poor widow or tattered soldier, whom he found waiting in the ante-rooms, and it was most amusing to see the hearty little fellow dragging his shaggy proteges into the Executive presence, ordering the ushers out of the way, and demanding immediate action from headquarters. The President rarely refused a grace of this kind and the demands were not so frequent as to lose the charm of novelty.

One of the tricks into which his idleness and his enterprise together drove him, was the occasion of much laughter to the judicious, and much horror to the respectable in Washington. He invested, one morning, all his pocket money in buying the stock in trade of an old woman who sold gingerbread near the Treasury. He made the Government carpenter give him a board and some trestles, which he set up in the imposing porte-cochere of the White House and on this rude counter displayed his wares. Every office-seeker who entered the house that morning bought a toothsome luncheon of the keen little merchant, and when an hour after the opening of the booth a member of the household discovered the young pastrymen the admired centre of a group of grinning servants and toadies, had filled his pockets and his hat with the currency, the spoil of the American public. The juvenile operator made lively work of his ill-gotten gains, however, and before night was penniless again.

Although still a mere child at the death of his father, this terrible shock greatly sobered and steadied him. His brother Robert at once took charge of his education, and he made rapid progress up to the time of his sailing for Europe with his mother. He has ever since remained with her, displaying a thoughtful devotion and tenderness beyond his years, and strangely at variance with the thoughtlessness of his childhood. He came back a short while ago, greatly improved by his residence abroad, but always the same cordial, frank, warm-hearted boy. In his loss the already fearfully bereaved family will suffer a new and deep affliction, and the world, which never did and never will know him, will not withhold a tribute of regret for the child whose gayety and affection cheered more than anything else the worn and weary heart of the great President through the toilsome years of the war.

MULCH AS A MANURE.—An experienced farmer found, by experiment, that where he mulched his wheat land with vetch, he had an increase of crop of 12 bushels per acre: and he invariably found that land which had been sheltered during the previous winter from the action of the atmosphere, frost, cold, etc., was always more fertile than any portion of his adjoining land, even under a high state of cultivation. The time of mulch upon small fruits confirms the theory, for a good mulch invariably increases the production from 15 to 25 per cent., as contributing materially to the size, color, and cleanliness of the fruit. We think that mulching pays.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS.

Hundreds of Thousands Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK,

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," 'Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Root and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. lyrdawf&w1b

The literary contents are of a high and entertaining character, Charles Carroll, Charles Dudley Warner and Annette D. Noble being among the contributors. The Aldine is the best illustrated magazine published in America.

THE FISHERY QUESTION.—The American schooner Samuel Gilbert of Gloucester has been seized on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, near Paraquet Island, by the Dominion cruser La Canadienne, for violation of the fishing law. She was loaded with fresh fish, and was taken into Gaspe, and is now on her way to Quebec for adjudication. The master admits of violation of the law, but says he thought he had a right to fish, since the treaty, in Canadian waters.

Official information has been recieved at the department of State, that the government of Prince Edward's Island has decided not to enforce the fishery laws during the present season and pending the consideration of the treaty of May 8, 1871, by the legislature of that province.

AN ADJOURNED MEETING of the Concord & Rochester railroad was held at Concord recently.

The amendments of the charter, providing for an increase of Directors from seven to nine, and also that the road may be leased before its construction to any other road, were accepted by the stockholders.

The committee reported that the Directors of the Concord railroad had passed the following:

Voted, That provided the Concord & Rochester railroad shall be located to the satisfaction of the Concord railroad, the Concord railroad will lease the said Concord & Rochester R. R., and pay therefor 3 per cent. for five years, and 6 per cent. for twenty years, on the cost of building said road, not to exceed $600,000, subject to the approval of said Concord railroad. The whole matter was referred to the Directors of the Concord & Rochester railroad.

The following Board of Directors was chosen: Nathaniel White, Benjamin A. Kimball, James R. Hill, John V. Barron, Joshua M. Babcock, Eliphalet Foss, John McDuffee, Enoch L. Childs, John H. Pearson.

—At Augusta, Me., they mistook one of Barnum's pictorial posters for a representation of the New York riots. The giant was supposed to be intended for Boss Tweed, the petrified giant Governor Hoffman, the beared lady Oakey Hall, and the clown—the "Kernal" of the 9th.

—There is said to be a town in Minnesota which is trying on names to see if it can find one that will fit. It is wearing Komoka at preset. Contributions of cast-off names will be acceptable.

—The fact of there having been no theft perpetrated in a Tennessee town for six months is explained on the supposition that there is nothing to steal.

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any quantity, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints and have had them misrepresented by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and indisputably proved means of cure. Those near and dear to friends and friends as sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid is made no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Pedophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion begins to assert its power, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of symptoms. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the greatest Blood Purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gschenck's Pulmonic Syrup it expectorates, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that sustained it is prostrated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patients must stay in a warm room, until they get well, if it cannot be possible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it can be prevented or a cure can not be effected. Fresh air and riding out, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients, if their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they go in the house they must not sit down quiet: they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, or else the great point of motion of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the great point to cure.

To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and so confidently in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement to the Faculty of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; coughing and spitting blood; some my physicians thought that I could not live a week; then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and adopted the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. They soon ripened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, my cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to become less, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence even of a child. Follow these directions, and kind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the simple instructions that accompany them: First, create appetite. Of returning health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When it comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are cured forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation: while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills, 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

The Daily Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JULY 31, 1871.

ONE of the vast horde of greedy political cormorants whom the hideously corrupt and shamelessly iniquitous copperhead government of the State has fastened upon it to grow fat on the life-blood of the laboring classes (whom we represent) and draw immense sums of money from the treasury for doing nothing, (the greedy office-holder we refer to is the Assistant Clerk of the Senate,) recently found fault in his paper, after the fashion of his tribe, with President Grant and other national officials for being absent from Washington during the recess of Congress; and then got mad with us because we mentioned that the said Assistant Clerk was absent from his own post during a large part of the session of the N. H. Congress, and said we were trying to dodge the question. The charges against Grant in the coppery press remind us of the conduct of those hard-to-please characters of old, who when one came neither eating nor drinking, said, "He hath a devil;" and when one came eating and drinking, said, "A gluttonous man and a wine bibber." A year ago the Democratic press railed at the President because he did not mix more with the people; now that he mixes with the people they rail at him all the same, for doing so, all of which shows that they are very hard up indeed for any real cause of complaint. But in the issue of the Assistant Clerk's paper next following the one wherein he reproved us for dodging the question at issue in so unseemly (to him) a manner, he defends the Tammany thieves by copying a Brick Pomeroy sort of article, composed of a small suspicion of fact, a large amount of misrepresentation and falsehood and a still greater proportion of bluster and invective, from a paper as reckless and unreliable in its statements as even his own, (and one of the lowest class to be found in New York,—the Sunday Mercury) assailing the honesty of the U. S. Government and the motives of the N. Y. Times. The Asst. Clerk shouldn't oughter dodge the question so.

Really, we don't see what the N. Y. Times' motives in its attack on Tammany have to do with the public. The paper says in plain words that Hall, Connolly and the rest of the Ring are thieves and have stolen millions of dollars from the public, and gives figures in support of its statements. If those figures are correct and the statements are true, then Hall, Connolly and the Ring are thieves, no matter what motive prompted the exposure of the fact. And we don't see what the honesty or dishonesty of the U. S. Government has to do with the question, either. We know, as does every one else, that the copperheads charge the general government with dishonesty, and that nobody has made more noise about it than the copperheads of New York city; but full details of the financial affairs of the nation are published regularly at short intervals, and scattered broadcast over the land for inspection, and yet not one specific charge can be brought against the administration for dishonesty—nothing but "glittering (not so very glittering, either) generalities," wholly unsupported. The Republicans will not turn from the proved charges of wholesale robbery on the part of the leading Democratic organization of the country, to defend the administration from the baseless charges of men whose own books show them to be enormous thieves. Tammany, the copperhead idol, has been for a long time charged with stealing, and is now proved guilty; and even if the general government should be convicted of dishonesty in administering the national finances, the thieves of the Ring would still be none the less thieves. And not all the squeaking of the hangers-on of the thieves about "figures that may be forgeries" and venal motives on the part of others, nor their shouts of "you're another," will serve to blur over the damaging fact that the Democratic leaders have been and are daily being openly charged with wholesale stealing by leading Republican papers, and dare not appeal even to their own corrupt courts for redress—knowing that the charges are true. And even the fearful fact that President Grant has chosen to visit Long Branch with his family will not suffice to wholly justify the thieves, let the copperhead press howl about it as loud as they may.

BENJAMIN LINCOLN stumbled upon a circular saw at Damanscotta, Me., and had a leg severed from his body. He lived only fifteen minutes after the accident.

THAT CHIEF REPRESENTATIVE OF DEMOCRATIC PRINCIPLES, Jefferson Davis, is again the hero of a petticoat arrangement. Arrived at the age of sixty-four years, unhung and unhonored, he vaults again astride of his political folly and encouraged by the "glorious results of the New Hampshire election" imagines the "lost cause" not wholly lost, and issues vainglorious fulminations of exultation at the ignis fatuus of coming victory. His bold utterances alarm his intimate friends and dismay his allies of 1861-65. Their plans, well studied and thoroughly decided upon, are swept away and their hopes are frustrated. The Connecticut election, following closely after the bold utterances of the Mississippi repudiator, shows them the great damage their by-gone favorite is capable of, while his capacity for benefiting his party is seen to be in the ratio of reduction rapidly descending. The valiant warrior who fled ingloriously from Uncle Sam's troops, clad in a petticoat wont to protect the person of Mrs. Jefferson D., or one of her attendants, had unwittingly helped dig a grave in which to bury the schemes of his fellow rebels, North and South. A new departure, led by the redoubtable Vallandigham, was necessary to Democracy, and a new departure was as necessary to its repudiated leader, the over-jubilant and energetic J. D.

A victim of misplaced confidence and doubtful identity in 1865, he became the laughing stock of the world. A victim of o'erweening confidence and zeal in 1871, he resorts to the comforts and consolation afforded by another man's wife, and is again made the contempt and derision of the world by public exposure. He stoutly denies in general terms the crime of which he is accused, but the statement is reiterated on as good, (if not better,) authority as the denial is made.

The Louisville, Ky., Commercial first gave to the public the details of the amour, stating that on Monday night, July 10th, Jefferson Davis was found occupying a berth in a sleeping car on the Memphis & Charleston Railroad with the wife of a Nashville music dealer, a Mrs. Bowers, whose "Joseph" was far away. The denial of the charge by the leader of the "lost cause" is met by its prompt reiteration by Mr. George Trice, a Virginian who served in the rebel army and had been a devoted admirer of Jeff. Davis. He states that a colored porter first reported to him that something was wrong, and that he and another conductor named Haines investigated the matter, and found their suspicions well grounded when they went to collect tickets. Trice has since been offered several thousand dollars to leave Memphis, his home, but refused the bribe, preferring to remain.

The decayed confederate chieftain "lives in the hearts of his countrymen" in a more ludicrous and disgraceful light than ever before. To his deluded followers in rebellion he was a hero and his contretemps of 1865 was disbelieved. How much more fame he would have won adorning the much talked of "sour apple tree" than usurping the rights of a fellow Southerner is a matter for deep reflection! How, "honorably" the leader of an "honorable rebellion" illustrates the "great principles" which actuated him and his fellows is also a matter for serious contemplation.

THE FAMINE IN PERSIA.—The drouth last year and the consequent partial failure of the crops caused great destitution and misery all winter. The failure of the crops in Pharistan was rendered more disastrous, because the other provinces, which mostly raised opium, cotton and silk, depended on it for their grain. The results in Ispahan, Yezd, Kerman and Shiraz were terrible by the end of winter. Wheat at Kerman rose nine times its usual price, and starvation began. The people could get no grain and they ate grass and roots. In Khorassan the people sold their children to the Turcomans to save their lives and in other provinces the people ate their children, after having eaten all the domestic animals and vermin. In Ispahan men were caught digging up corpses to feed their starving families, and the pestilence in consequence committed fearful ravages. One half of Persia is depopulated.

THE LANCASTER REPUBLICAN knows "of no reason why people should not visit" Jefferson. Does our cotemporary know of any reason why they should?

—A Democratic exchange rebukes the Republican for "continually making Presidents for the Democracy." We beg to correct our cotemporary. The making of a President for the Democracy is a task beyond the reach of human ability. The most we can do is to make a candidate; beyond the condition of candidacy no man is likely to get on the Democratic ticket during the present century.—Chicago Republican.

—Hon. Tobinskitawa, Chippewa Chief, was in Chicago lately, and pronounced the weather "big hot."

—A man in Kansas on whose shoulder a lady laid a lash, didn't sue for damages because it was an eyelash.

—English ritualistic clergyman want to exclude female voices from the choirs of all churches. They are unwilling to give women any chants.

—Shrewd business men keep up their trade in dull times by advertising. In such times purchasers appreciate the value of every dime they expend, and scan the papers to see where they can buy to the best advantage.—Washington Star.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

All the year round, Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders should be given to horses that are "kept up." To horses and cattle that graze in Summer, they should only be given in Winter and Spring.

Officers and Soldiers who served in the army, physicians, surgeons, and eminent men and women everywhere, join in recommending Johnson's Anodyne Liniment to be the best internal and external family medicine ever invented. That's our experience.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Science Advances.

As soon as an article purporting to be of utility has been tested, and its merits endorsed by public opinion, unprincipled parties endeavor to replenish their depleted purses by counterfeiting, and substituting a spurious for the genuine article. Some time since, mercury, in the disguise of pills, powders, &c., was given for all diseases of the stomach and liver, while quinine was freely administered for the chills. At length Hostetter's Stomach Bitters made its advent, and an entire new system of healing was inaugurated. The beneficial effects of this valuable preparation were at once acknowledged, and mineral poisons suffered to sink into that obscurity to which an enlighted age has consigned them. There have been many spurious bitters palmed upon the community, which, after trial, have been found perfectly worthless, while Hostetter's has proved a blessing to thousands, who owe to it their restoration of health.

For many years we have watched the steady progress of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters in public estimation, and its beneficial effects as a cure for all complaints arising from the stomach of a morbid nature, and we are free to say that it can be relied upon as a certain relief and remedy. Its proprietors have made the above preparation, after years of careful study and sitting, and are now reaping the reward claimed by this valuable specific, and which they so richly merit. It is the only preparation of the kind that is reliable in all cases, and it therefore demands the attention of the afflicted.

STORMED AND TAKEN!

The last stronghold of the Hair Poisoners surrenders. CRISTADORO'S flag, bearing on its folds the magic words

floats triumphantly over all the deleterious trash with which the market was not long ago flooded. Lead enough to make bullets for an army lies on the shelves of dealers who have speculated in some of the metallic hair coloring preparations. Well, they should have confined their purchases to CRISTADORO'S safe and perfect preparation. So much for "running after strange gods." In the meantime, this famous dye has received a tremendous impetus in the market, and can scarcely be manufactured fast enough to meet the enormous demand.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR PRESERVATIVE

BATCHELDER'S HAIR DYE.

This superb Hair Dye is the best in the world—perfectly harmless, reliable and instantaneous; no disappointment; no ridiculous tints or disagreeable odor. The genuine Wm. A. Batchelder's Hair Dye produces IMMEDIATELY a splendid Black or Natural Brown, leaves the hair clean, soft, and beautiful; does not contain a particle of lead or any injurious compound. Sold by all Druggists. Factory, 16 BOND STREET, N.Y.

Famine has followed on the track of war in the fairest land of Europe, but neither war nor famine is as destructive as neglected or maltreated diseases. Essential as food to the starving, is DR. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS to all who suffer dyspepsia, congestion or torpidity of the liver, constipation or intermittent fevers. To treat these complaints with mineral poisons and acrid alkaloids, while this mild and certain remedy is within reach of all, is little better than moonstruck madness. 1tjy29

Furnished Rooms.

THE ORDINARY GANG at the Navy Yard do their work so faithfully that they are uncovering all the ledges on which loads of gravel and small stones have been hauled for years.

THE FIREMEN'S MUSTER. — Kearsarge steamer of Concord proposes to participate, and having been repaired thoroughly plays a horizontal stream of 250 feet with 70 lbs. of steam.

WE are informed that the Storekeeper, one Clerk and all the Foremen but two in the Bureau of Yards and Docks at the Navy Yard, and the Chief Accountant of the Yard, were discharged on Saturday.

A MAN named McIntire, belonging in York, was run over and seriously injured on Portsmouth Bridge, Saturday afternoon, by an ox team. The oxen were frightened by the approach of the 2.30 train for Portland.

IT IS WELL KNOWN that more Naval officers are on duty than is actually necessary, the only reason being that they may draw more pay from government than if they were waiting orders. The highest pay is given for sea duty and the lowest for waiting orders. The authorities at the Navy Yard have of late established a new system of having a bell struck every half hour as on shipboard, a bell having been recently placed on the corner of the head-house for that purpose. The affair has mystified the workmen considerably, but a wag has solved the vexed question satisfactorily by saying that the Navy Yard has gone into commission and will soon put to sea, that the officers of the Yard may draw full sea-duty pay in the future. It is a mooted question whether, if the Navy Yard did take a new departure, it would not result beneficially to this city.

THE ALGERINES.—Some time ago an article was published in the Newburyport Herald, (and copied by us,) describing the people of "Byfield" or South Seabrook, popularly known as Algerines. That article created a great stir in the premises, and the Boston Post sent a reporter to Byfield, who drew a terrible picture of what he saw—not what he was told, at all. The Post's report was severely criticised and stigmatized as untrue by many papers, scarcely one of whose editors ever saw Byfield, probably. The Boston Traveller boldly asserted that "there is no more of it [depravity] in South Seabrook than in any other similar community, comparatively,"—which is most certainly a correct statement. But the Post and Herald have not had all the denunciation, Rev. Wm. A. Rand, who has labored there (where no minister ever labored before) for a number of years, having been roundly abused, misrepresented, and charged with slandering his parishioners, though he was in no way responsible for the newspaper articles.

The Sunday Courier next had a word to say on the subject, and published a communication (credited by the Newburyport Herald to Hon. George Lunt, who formerly knew Byfield and its people thoroughly,) in which it was said that "the entire population has been sunk for generations in the lowest depths of debasement and vice." We have never "interviewed" Byfield or its people; but we well remember the terror with which a young lady whom we were driving to Newburyport some twenty years ago, heard our announcement that we were in Seabrook, and the evident relief she experienced when we showed her a big double-barelled gun laying in the bottom of the wagon, and assured her that it was well charged with goose-shot. And a lady but a few days ago told us that when a child, and riding through South Seabrook with her father, (a clergyman on his way to Seabrook Village to preach) the latter drew forward the top of the carriage, which had before been thrown back, and cautioned the little girl to sit well back on the seat, as they would quite likely be greeted with a shower of stones if seen by the Byfielders. These little incidents, however, only show that the reputation of the people in question was bad, not that it deserved to be; but the Newburyport Herald has recently given a second article, in which its former statements are reaffirmed, and as the Herald's editor probably knows more on the subject than any one who has written concerning it, and Mr. Rand is a native of and has many friends in this city, we publish it entire:

The Algerines.—On the third day of June we published an article on the people of South Seabrook, and the work that had been done among them by Rev. Wm. A. Rand, a young missionary, who has labored among the people there for four years and a half. The article was written solely with an intention to benefit the people of the place, and to direct notice to a field for benevolence which was being worked and which needed more means to encourage the laborer. The description we gave of the community in South Seabrook, so far from being exaggerated was rather rose-colored, and to people in this vicinity seemed tame and far short of the facts as known to them. To the people of Newburyport and Salisbury, there is no need of defence of what we asserted in that article, as all and much more than all there set forth is known to be true, with the exception of a single misstatement of fact, not affecting the general picture drawn. It is due to Mr. Rand to state that the writer of the article had never seen him until after its publication, and only knew of him and his work from the reports of some of the best men in this city who did know Mr. Rand and what he was doing. Mr. Rand had often been in the counting room of the Herald office, but we had never seen him in the editorial sanctum until he came in to point out the misstatement in the article referred to, which was, that there were no schools in South Seabrook, whereas, before his going there an apology for a school was kept in the place, the building for which, the School Committee of the town declares to be unfit for a second class pig stye.

We had no attention to attack the people of South Seabrook, nor does any person hereabouts look upon it as an attack or misrepresentation. This collection of people, however, was felt to be no credit to the people of the town of Seabrook. It looks as if they had neglected their duties towards their poorer and more ignorant neighbors, and they felt aggrieved at our disclosures. Accordingly "S" has written to a paper in the western part of the State, where the people do not know the facts, attempting to refute our assertions. The Springfield Republican, to which he writes, vouches for its correspondent, as "an experienced physician of eastern New Hampshire, who has practiced for years in the neighborhood spoken of, and can be relied on for the truth of what he states."

The Republican further says, that "the contradiction which he gives to the sensational articles in Newburyport Herald and Boston Post is complete." This may seem so to people unaquainted with this region, but the letter would only be ridiculous to those who know the facts. The "experienced physician" is not so much false in his facts as he is jesuitical in his statement of them. His communication and our article are in relation to different places. We speak of Byfield, a part of Seabrook lying off the main road, and as everybody knows here correctly described by us. He speaks of the town of Seabrook principally, and reckons in churches and schools in parts of that town which we have never before heard included in Byfield or South Seabrook, and the nearest of which is a mile and a half from the settlement we have decribed. It is as if the Springfield Republican gave a description of the armory, and we should deny its truthfulness because the entire city of Springfield is not an armory.

We know how needless is any defence of our former article, here, but it has been misrepresented, and its purpose of calling attention to a community which needs aid, instruction and sympathy has been made to appear a libellous attack upon these people. Even if the articles in the Herald and the Boston Post were "sensational" as the Republican asserts, what could have induced Hon. George Lunt, who formerly lived here, and knew the people of that neighborhood, to write the letter to the Boston Sunday Courier copied by us last week, confirming what had been said by us, and adding reminiscences of his own?—We speak of this letter as written by Mr. Lunt, because the initials and internal evidence render it a matter not doubtful. The "experienced physician" says "that as to the comparative state of morals there has been no evident change." This is his assertion. The records of the courts tell a different story. These show a marked change in the crimes of violence and drunkenness, and the assertion that there has been no evident change is a more slanderous attack upon the people of South Seabrook than anything said by either the Herald or the Post.

The letter of "S" seems as much intended for an attack on Mr. Rand, and in fact more so than it is for a defence of the Byfield people. This is confirmed by another item in the Republican of Thursday, from that part of New Hampshire, which threatens Mr. Rand with expulsion from his mission, if he does not disown all connection with the newspaper articles. This would be worse than the Fiji Islanders, who having left off the habit of devouring their missionaries, allow them to remain among them even though fearlessly denouncing the sins of the people. The work of Mr. Rand is with the young people of his society, and there is a good deal of opposition and enmity to him among the older people. Quite a number of them have called at our office to talk over the subject of our article of June 3d, and we have asked them what there was in Mr. Rand that they did not like. The only cause for dislike which we could discover, was that he preaches against fornication, which they claimed was all right with unmarried people, and against taking wood which did not belong to them, which they deny is stealing. If the people of South Seabrook are to drive away Mr. Rand because of what we have said, they are injuring him entirely without cause, since the writer of the article never saw Mr. Rand until he came in to correct the misstatement above referred to, and the article was not suggested by any person except its author. As the church is held by Mr. Rand and not by the people, he can only be expelled by violence, a curious proceeding to be hinted to them by so respectable a paper as the Springfield Republican.

—The demand for cod-liver oil has led to the use of the livers of all kinds of fish, and even dog fat, in its manufacture at New York.

A SAFE AND PROFITABLE INVESTMENT.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to a limited amount, upon a railroad which is well located for business, and which has been already largely constructed with the funds of its Stockholders cannot be otherwise than safe. This security is increased if the Constructing Company is composed of men of high character, and of ample means for successful carrying thro' any work that they undertake.

The
RAILROAD COMPANY

Offer for sale a bond which combines these advantages to an unusual degree. The route lies between Mobile, Alabama, and Houston, Texas—passing through New Orleans, the New York of the South. Of the whole line of 475 miles, about two-thirds are already built, and the Stockholders have expended nearly TEN MILLION DOLLARS in the work. The bonds now offered are secured by a mortgage upon all that part of the line west of New Orleans, which has an enormous traffic assured to it from the start, this being the only rail connection by which the cotton, corn, cattle and other productions of Texas can reach New Orleans.

So important is this road considered to Louisiana, that the State has made very liberal grants in aid of the enterprise, by direct donations, by endorsement of second mortgage bonds, and by subscriptions to the stock of the Company, amounting in all to over eight million dollars.

The First Mortgage
Eight Per Cent. Bonds

Now offered, are limited in amount to $12,500 per mile, and are for $1,000 or £200 each, interest payable January and July, at the rate of 8 per cent., currency of New York per cent. Gold, at the option of the holder. Bonds registered if desired.

Among the leading Stockholders of the Company are Hon. E. D. Morgan, Ex-Governor and Ex-U. S. Senator, Hon. John A. Griswold, Ex-Lieutenant Governor, Troy, N. Y.; Hon. Oakes Ames, M. C., Massachusetts; Messrs. Morton, Bliss & Co., L. Von Hoffman & Co., J. & W. Seligman & Co., Harrison Durkee, and others, of New York; Benjamin E. Bates, President Bank of Commerce, Franklin Haven, President Merchants' Bank, Boston, and others, also well known.

The above statement of facts proves the SAFETY of these bonds. Their PROFIT is equally manifested upon examination. They are sold for the present at 90, and accrued interest from July 1st. At this price they afford a certain income for forty-five years, of nearly nine per cent. upon their cost. One thousand dollars invested in these eight per cent. bonds will give the purchaser more than seventy-seven per cent. greater annual interest than the same amount invested in the new Government Five Per Cents, while holders of Government Sixes will find a decided profit in selling them at present high prices, and re-investing in the New Orleans, Mobile and Texas Bonds.

Subscriptions will be received in Portsmouth by
First National Bank.

Morning Chronicle.

TEN THOUSAND CAPITALISTS of New York have joined in an insurrection against King Tammany, and signed an agreement to resist the further collection of taxes by city and county officials until a showing of the books has been compelled. The most conservative capitalists support the movement, and those men doing business in New York but residing in New Jersey are contemplating a flank movement in the United States court. So say the New York papers. The Times is persistently following up its attack on the Ring, and intimates that not only have extravagant sums been paid to Tammany's tools for little or no consideration, but that many of the pretended carpet-dealers, builders, &c., are purely imaginary characters. It says:—

Among the fraudulent checks signed by Connolly and Hall, and indorsed by Ingersoll & Co., are eight drawn in the name of "J. A. Smith," and purporting to be for carpets furnished for the county courts and offices. The total amount paid to "J. A. Smith" was $268,131.33. There has been no such name as J. A. Smith, dealer in carpets, in the New York directory, for the last three years, and no such man is known to merchants engaged in the carpet business. We have already printed the letter of J. R. Hennessey disclaiming any sort of identity with the R. J. Hennessey of Garvey's warrants. A search through the City directory for four years fails to reveal the existence, in any of the building trades, of R. J. Hennessey, and from this comprehensive record the name of T. C. Cashman, who is credited with warrants to the amount of $64,000 is also absent. Will somebody tell the public whether Smith, Hennessy and Cashman are anything more than the creations of the inventive brain of ring tradesmen?

The mayor broadly intimates that these payments were "exorbitant;" he only insists that the old board of supervisors is responsible, not the mayor and controller, on whose official order they were paid. This at once raises the question, "Who composed that old board of supervisors?"—and, while none of us may at once recall the names of all, it is notorious that the leader and master spirit of that board was William M. Tweed, now sole commissioner of public works and grand sachem of the Tammany society. His lightest nod was a fiat to that board; and, when it became necessary to abolish it, he found good places for some of its republican members or their sons. To all intents and purposes, that board, for several years prior to its decease, was Tweed, and Tweed was the board. Tweed is reported immensely rich, and recently declared himself one of our largest holders of real estate. If the old board of supervisors robbed the city, he, above all other, is culpable; and he is abundantly responsible.

We are informed that Messrs. Tweed, Sweeny, Connolly and Hall have held long and anxious consultations for the purpose of devising some course by which the public may be induced to forget the ruinous disclosures recently made. Some of their proposed measures have come to our knowledge, but as they are sure to fail whenever they are brought forward, we need not discuss them now. We will only say that any step which would result in further exposures, or have the effect of placing Sweeny, Hall and Connolly in the witness box, will be carefully avoided. If legal proceedings are taken against the Tammany "Ring" they will fall to pieces like a house of cards. The public have even now no suspicion of the corruption and rottenness which characterize this faction; but the leaders know all about it, and dread the first touch of the public hand. They know now that if the public are in earnest they have nothing before them but flight; we do not speak without reason.

The Brooklyn Eagle (Democratic) comments on the silence of the New York copperhead press concerning the frauds, and their attempts to turn public notice from Tammany by attacking the Grant administration, as follows:

In New York, the Times develops frauds of five millions or more, and the other papers, with scarcely an exception, but the Sun and Tribune, profess to be unaware of the facts which all their readers are talking about, and which have excited such general and durable interest as to have submerged even the riots in popular estimation. Such ostrich-like policy is no more wise in a party point of view than in a newspaper point. It is alleged, with explicitness of detail and circumstance, that monster frauds have been committed in the New York county government. The paper that refuses to discuss the matter, either in explanation, denial or condemnation, not merely abdicates its function, but forfeits its own power by forfeiting its readers' respect. Every country paper in the land will say more or less about these charges against Messrs. Connolly & Co. If any city paper thinks it can afford to be silent, and that its readers then will never know the facts, it is utterly mistaken. For good or evil, these facts will enter into State and national politics, and contribute largely to shape public events and the destinies of men and parties, far beyond the limits of New York city. No journal's silence will belittle such facts, but can only belittle that journal's own influence in politics. The path of honor is the same as that of wise policy, in the face of such revelations. The paper that shirks investigating and discussing Ingersoll and Garvey, spikes the guns it points at Grant and Boutwell and Butler. A man is as incompetent a politician as journalist who fancies that his attacks on radical frauds can amount to anything, while he fears to notice grand larceny perpetrated and exposed in the disgraced name of his own party, and right under his own nose.

Tammany is evidently in a bad way, and the Democratic papers that have so landed its fuglers for their "benevolence" and because they had "the secret of carrying elections," evidently feel badly about it; but the Republican press has no room to taunt the Ring with corruption and dishonesty,—for isn't the Republican President with his family at Long Branch? The Radical press had better hold their peace about the stealing of a few score millions by Tammany, so long as the President is at Long Branch.

CHOICE IOWA LANDS.

This Company is now offering for sale about six hundred thousand acres of the finest agricultural lands in the West. The Company sells only to actual settlers, and the prices are exceedingly reasonable, ranging from $8 to $15 per acre—the average being about $8. The greater part of these lands are situated along the line of its railroad between the cities of Des Moines and Council Bluffs, and are in the most accessible and fertile region in the State.

Sales made for cash or on credit long enough to enable any industrious man to pay for the land out of its crops.

These lands are held under a title direct from the General Government, and are not mortgaged or encumbered in any way. Full warranty deeds given to purchasers.

For maps, pamphlets, or any other information relating to them, address EBENEZER COOK, Land Commissioner, Davenport, Iowa.

A GREAT MEDICAL DISCOVERY!

DR. WALKER'S CALIFORNIA

VINEGAR BITTERS,

WHAT ARE THEY!

THEY ARE NOT A VILE FANCY DRINK, Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Boot and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE-GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offspring of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins, cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. ☞ Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs. 1yrdawfeb18

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

There was a snow-storm on Mt. Washington, on Friday. There was also an accident to a steam car on the descent; the car broke down, while in a dangerous place; but instantly the brakeman placed his thumb and finger on the compressed air-brake, and it ceased to move. There were sixty passengers (ladies and gentlemen) on board at the time, all of whom were very much frightened. The car weighed nine tons, and was going at the usual speed.

A business meeting will be held in the afternoon of Sept. 6th, and in the evening there will be a Banquet, at which Lieut. John M. Head will act as Toast Master. The "Old Band," with the inimitable Carl Krebs, will be present. The second day will be devoted to social intercourse, sports, greetings and good-byes.

We regret to learn that Ex-Congressman Jacob H. Ela is ill at Rochester with typhoid fever.

About one thousand people from Rochester and intermediate towns went to Portland, Friday, to celebrate the opening of the railroad.

Wonder if the hornet who stung us in the neck, while on the summit of Mount Washington, hails from Labrador! Theems to us his foot was too hot for a citizen of Labrador. He could discount hot drops, and then sting mildly.

DEMOCRATIC FINANCIERING. — The State of Tennessee has increased its debt $37,527,494 since the close of the year. The Democratic majority at the last election was 65,297. Georgia has increased its State debt to $50,000,000, and gave a Democratic majority of 35,000 at the last election.

NEW JERSEY PAPERS are discussing the handsome men of the State, with a view to nominating one for a political office. A friend at our elbow says Fred. Smyth is the handsomest man in New Hampshire. Is that so, brethren?

—I was presented yesterday, by Captain Robert Ballard, with a sample of green tea, raised in Bedford county, Va., and saw the same tea growing in his yard. What he gave me is fully equal to "store tea," and says it is no trouble to raise. The seed has been in the Ballard family for four generations, and they have made all they used. Why not raise it all over the state, and save the heavy tax for the foreign article?—Cor. Lynchburgh News.

—Tremendous peaches, pairs and apples, cabbages weighing eight pounds, beets weighing twelve to fifteen pounds, onions weighing two and a half pounds, and other vegetable proportions, are boasted of by the interior papers of Texas, while a Florida farmer rejoices in a squash five feet in circumference and weighing seventy-six pounds.

—The Chicago common council are going in a body to spend the month of August at Salt Lake. It is understood that their pupose is to strike a decisive blow at polygamy by distributing Chicago divorces among the Mormons. At the usual fee of fifty cents apiece, they expect to pay their traveling expenses and realize a handsome profit.

ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?

AVERILL CHEMICAL PAINT.

It is Cheaper, Handsomer and more durable than the best of other Paints. One Thousand Gallons of it were sold in this City, in the year 1870, and not one complaint has come from those who have used it; but all speak in its favor; it is mixed ready for application, and is much easier put on than any other Paint, making a smooth, glossy surface for years, that can be cleaned with hot suds without injuring it. It is excellent for walls inside, in the place of paper.

I shall keep this season a large stock of Chemical Paints of all shades on hand, to accommodate customers with any amount, without delay in ordering it. Those who want to use the Chemical Paints that have proved so satisfactory and by those who deal in Lead and Oil, are invited to call and examine my Paints that have been on Buildings two years, and you will find them as fresh as if laid but one month.

I am prepared to do Painting by Contract, or by the day, using the Chemical Paint, or furnishing good experienced workmen by the day at very low wages. B. NORTON, only Agent for selling the

Consumption,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a human being has passed away, for whose death there was no other reason than the neglect of known and insignably proved means, early at hand. Those near and dear to family and friends are sleeping the dreamless slumber into which, had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully efficacious medicines, they would not have fallen.

Dr. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that wherever sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into healthful vigor.

In this statement there is nothing presumptious. To the faith of the invalid there is no representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The success of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self-evident, self-convincing.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two agents with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Simultaneously with this, the seat of disordered liver. With this condition the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here then comes the culminating result, and the setting in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noblest gifts—the Podophillum Peltatum. They possess all the blood-searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND."

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It arouses from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Chylification is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no exacerbation of the stomach. An appetite sets in.

Now comes the grand crisis. The Pulmonic Syrup, given by an indulgent father to suffering man, Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ripens the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the rotten throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, with the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was
